THE site selected for the Veterans' Home in Napa Valley is known as Clark's place, but is now owned by William Gibbs. It is valued at $18,000, and consists of 933 acres, of which 40 acres are planted in grapes, 60 acres in barley and 150 acres in wheat. About 300 acres are used as pasturage, and the remainder is woodland. Its situation is about seven miles from Napa City, near Yountville, Napa County, and is readily accessible by railroad, several trains running daily from Napa City. The improvements on the tract consist of a two-story frame house of ten rooms, and a commodious barn.

Railroad Commissioners.

At the meeting of the Railroad Commissioners on the 28th ult., at which Commissioners Cone and Stoneman were present, the following resolution was introduced by Cone and adopted:

Resolved, That the maximum rate for transportation on all railroads in this State shall be four cents per mile per passenger. Second—In fixing the rate of fare for passengers, the distance shall be estimated at the nearest whole number of miles and the charges shall be estimated at the nearest multiple of five cents. This rate for transportation of passengers shall go into effect on and after November 1, 1882.

A supplementary resolution was adopted notifying the railroad companies to appear and show cause why the reduction in passenger rates should not go into effect.

The Board then adjourned until Tuesday, October 17th.

The effect of this resolution will be to reduce fares in those sections where the rate is now more than four cents a mile, but it will not permit them to be raised to that figure in sections where the fare is already lower.—Oakland Tribune.

THERE is now a gap of a little less than 600 miles between the approaching ends of the Northern Pacific Railroad, and this is being closed up at the rate of nearly four miles per day. A daily line of four-horse stages is running between the two ends of the line, and the schedule passenger time between Chicago and Portland has been reduced to eight days, which is less than the present time between the two cities by way of San Francisco. A force of 8,000 men is employed in pushing forward the road, and the whole line is expected to be completed and in running order early in 1883.

"NINE tailors do not make a man," and, it seems, never did. The original word was "taler," meaning the tally or tale of strokes upon the bells tolling for the dead. One stroke was for an infant; three for a girl; nine for a man. So passers-by would say: "Nine talers make a man;" which, considering that it was the unmaking of the man, was a curious thing to say.

SATURDAY, OCTOBER 7.....1882

JAMES E. PARKER.

THE Texas rangers are said to have done more to suppress lawlessness, capture criminals and prevent Mexican and Indian raids on the frontier than any other agency. They are employed and paid by the State Government. Nearly all are young men. They are enlisted for a year, and are required to provide themselves with a horse, saddle and bridle, a repeating Winchester rifle and a navy revolver. The State furnishes rations and pays $30 a month to each private. They wear no uniform. Each man dresses as his taste or the condition of his finances may dictate; but they all wear broad-brimmed sombreros. Considering their small number—less than 200—they have rendered remarkable service. They are brave, reckless, hardy fellows, swear with great proficiency and shoot unerringly.

THE Secretary of the Interior has decided to reopen for settlement a large tract of agricultural land, embracing about 10,000,000 acres in Northern Dakota, withdrawn from settlement by Secretary Schurz. The tract once formed part of the great Sioux reservation, but was purchased by the Government from that tribe. Portions of it have been occupied by the Turtle Mountain Indians, a roaming band of Chippewas. These Indians presented a claim, urging their right to occupancy, and Secretary Schurz withdrew the lands from settlement pending consideration of the claim. Secretary Teller now decides the claims of the Chippewas invalid, and reopens the land to settlement.

THE State Prohibition Reform Convention nominated the following officers: For Governor, Dr. R. H. McDonald; Lieutenant-Governor, Wm. Sims of Yolo; State Controller, J. M. Rhodes of Yolo; State Treasurer, Adam Bayne of Santa Clara; Attorney-General, W. D. Gould of Los Angeles; Surveyor-General, E. K. Hill of Marysville; Superintendent of Public Instruction, R. A. Grant of Yolo. The managers of the new party are requested to send along some voters for this section, and order the ballots printed at this office—$8 per thousand, cash up.

WHAT shall be done with Arabi is another vexatious conundrum. Shall he meet the fate of a rebel or be treated as a prisoner of war. Public opinion in England is divided on this point, the London Times doubting the propriety of sparing his life, while the Standard demands that he be treated as a patriot General who has failed in his attempt, and as an honest man who boldly opposed himself to English control of Egypt. No one doubts that both the Khedive and the Sultan were in sympathy with Arabi, and sought through his instrumentality to throw off the British yoke.

ONCE, stung a little by the repeated attacks by a leading paper of New England upon his pecuniary honor, Webster wrote a letter of remonstrance to its editor acknowledging his carelessness in what he owed and others owed him, and adding, as regards the latter: "And as an illustration I enclose two notes for money which I loaned your father to aid him in giving you and your brother an education." That newspaper never troubled Webster more on the debt-and-credit impeachment.

A LARGE car for hauling salt in bulk has been added lately to the rolling stock of the Carson and Colorado railroad. It is made after the pattern of the ore dumps, and is to be used for conveying salt from the works of the Nevada Salt and Borax Company, at Rhodes, to the quartz mills.

A LARGE tree on a dry Summer's day throws into the air many barrels of water. This is forcibly pulled from its attachment to the particles of soil and lifted to the extremities, 50 to 100 feet above, using in this fully as much force as would be required to raise the same by mechanical means.

THIS is the way in which the Sacramento Bee congratulates the people of this State upon the destruction of Sells Brothers' circus train: "The Lord tempers the wind to the shorn lamb, sure enough. Yesterday a circus train en route to California was wrecked in one of the Eastern States."

THERE is one rule that never fails, and that is this: When promoters of a mining enterprise are more anxious to market their shares than they are to develop their claim, it is safe to give them a wide berth.

WORK is progressing well on the Nevada and Oregon railroad. Trucks and other material for the road arrive almost daily.

SENATOR JOHN P. JONES, the papers say, will succeed Judge Folger in the Treasury portfolio of the Cabinet.

ROTATION IN REPRESENTATION.

James E. Parker, editor of THE INYO INDEPENDENT, was nominated by the Democratic Joint Convention at Benton as the candidate for the Legislature from Mono and Inyo Counties. Mr. Parker has served one term in the Assembly, and judging from his paper is a man of good abilities. The Democrats of Mono County, however, feel that they should have had the nomination, and if the Republicans nominate the right kind of a man Mr. Parker will be defeated.

The foregoing is from the Bodie Free Press, of the 3d instant. For the fair expression concerning Mr. Parker, as well as for several similar ones preceding it, THE INDEPENDENT is grateful and duly appreciative of the journalistic courtesy. The Free Press, however, is wrong about the position of the Democrats of Mono—at least, of those who are informed on the subject. They do not "feel that they should have had the nomination," for the simple reason that by no recognized political rights or ethics were they entitled to it. During the twentieth session, in 1873-4, there was a general re-apportionment made of members of the State Senate and Assembly, in accordance with the constitutional requirements. It was demanded by the Governor in terms which threatened a small revolution if not complied with. The mining Counties of course suffered, their representation being reduced more than one-half. On the basis of 80 Assemblymen, a population of some 7,000 and over was required to secure one Member of the Assembly. According to the census, Mono and Inyo had only a couple of hundred over 2,000. Yet Mr. Parker, of Tuolmne, Mono and Inyo delegation, managed to get for these two Counties a representation of one member in the House. That was as much as the comparatively great Counties of Tulare and Kern could secure, and then one State Senatorship had to be scattered around amongst Fresno and the four Counties named. Under the well understood principle, Mr. Parker declined re-election for the next session, and Dr. Griswold, of Mono, was nominated, elected and served in 1875-6. In 1877-8, the Assembly following, S. P. Moffat, Esq., a Democrat of this County, was elected. In the next turn—by the same well-understood arrangement—Capt. J. G. Messic, of Mono, was nominated by this County, but he was defeated by Jos. Wasson. Smarting under this and acting under the assurance of Mono men that the next time they could beat Mr. Wasson, the Democrats consented to the nomination, ont of turn, (in 1880-1) of course, of a Mono man—Col. S. B. Ferguson. How he came out everybody knows, and the Democrats of this County did not see fit to waive their rights again. On the part of the Republicans, the history in this matter is precisely the same, except as to names of candidates, and they have an equally well-understood right to to claim and make the nomination of an Inyo County man. It is only just to say in this connection that Mr. Parker had not thought of being a candidate until he was unanimously chosen here by "the Democrats in Convention assembled." Mr. H. Z. Osborne, editor of the Free Press and probably the writer of the paragraph quoted at the head of this, is a Republican aspirant for the position. It remains for the Republicans of this County to decide at their Joint Convention, which meets at Bishop next Monday, whether they will claim their undoubted right to put up an Inyo man or not. Mr. Osborne may be "the right kind of a man," but we doubt if the Republicans will give him a chance this time.

HON. JOHN P. IRISH, late editor of the Iowa State Press has purchased of J. B. Wyman; Esq., a half interest in the Oakland Daely Times and will take editorial charge of the same, commencing on Monday next. Mr. Irish is a thorough Democrat, a genial gentleman, and comes with a good reputation as a journalist. It is not yet decided whether the Times will take up the Democratic fight at once or not. However, it will probably in the near future assume the position of organ for that party.—Oakland Tribune, Sep. 30.

THE other day the largest blast yet fired on the Oregon and California Railroad was set off near Stephens'. The charge consisted of 2,700 pounds of Judson and 3,000 pounds of black powder. It was placed in a sixty-foot drift in the side of the mountain. The effect of the blast was simply tremendous. It tore down the side of the mountain, dammed up the creek for a mile, blocked up the wagon road for half a mile and disarranged some of the canvas tents in Stephens' camp, distant about 900 yards.

PETER SUTTY, JR., who has been confined in the County jail at Aurora, awaiting trial for the killing of Nicholas Gregovich, last winter, met with an accident on Wednesday which resulted in his death on the day following. He was practicing on a horizontal bar, or trapeze, that had been allowed the prisoners in the jail for exercise, and in doing so fell and broke his back, causing his death.—True Fissure.

THE Khedive, with the approval of England, has offered Baker Pacha the reorganization of the Egyptian army. He accepts the task.

AN account of a duel with six cowboys on a side is received from Denver, Col., four men being killed at the first fire.

SCIENCE has made a discovery of a new method of bleaching white goods. It is as simple as it is efficaeious, and is vouched for by German chemists. It consists in dissolving one part of oil of turpentine in three parts of strong alcohol, and placing a tablespoonful of the mixture in the water for the last rinsing. The clothes are to be immersed in this, well wrung out and placed in the open air to dry—not in a room. The bleaching action of the oil of turpentine consists in its changing oxygen into ozone, when exposed to the light, and in this process the turpentine disappears, leaving no trace behind. It is so simple as to warrant one or more trials.

MANY persons who are in the habit of freshening mackerel or salt fish never dream that there is a right and a wrong way to do it. Any person who has seen the process of evaporation going on at the salt works knows that the sali falls to the bottom. Just so it is in the pan where your mackerel or white fish lie soaking; and, as it lies with the skin down, the salt will fall to the skin, and there remain. When, if placed with the flesh side down the salt falls to the bottom of the pan, and the fish comes out freshened as it should be. In the other case it is nearly as salt as when put in.

DIED.

At Benton, Mono County, California, September 30, 1882, WILLIAM FLYNN, aged about 25 years.

NEW ADVERTISEMENTS.

An Important Office.

John C. Irwin, present incumbent of the office of County Assessor and a nominee for the same office, has been engaged in business in various parts of the County since Inyo's early days, and is thoroughly identified with the interests of its people. He was appointed Assessor by the Board of Supervisors to fill the unexpired term of Thomas May; and how well he has performed its duties the following facts will partly show, when compared with the assessment roll of the preceding year: The total amount of assessable property for the year 1881-2 (May's last year) was $1,057,595; the total amount for the year 1882-3 (Irwin's term) is $1,086.831; making an increase of $29,236. The number of statements entered on the assessment book in 1881-2 was 578; the number for this year is 599, an increase of 21. Last year there were found but 219 persons subject to military duty; Mr. Irwin finds over 400, as shown by his returns. The increase in taxable property is not because of higher valuations than the year previous, but because of the fact that vigilance and care were used in assessing all—not letting twenty, or even one person escape a just taxation. That Mr. Irwin's assessment was just and proportional, is evidenced by the fact that the Board of Equalization made but few and slight changes in his assessment, one change being made at his special request. It is also quite certain that our County has lost no small part of its assessable property during the last year, owing to the fact that large herds of horses and cattle have been driven from the County; yet Assessor Irwin has counterbalanced this decrease and gained $29,236 in taxable property, mainly by thoroughly searching and permitting no property to escape its proportionate burden.

Therefore, as Mr. Irwin has been tried and found to be an efficient officer, and being thoroughly identified with the interests of the County, the taxpayers will do well to carefully consider his election—not forgetting his re ord as an officer, in which he has combined energy, thoroughness, equity and honesty, knowing neither friends or enemies in his official acts.

INYO INDEPENDENT.

INDEPENDENCE, CAL.:
SATURDAY, OCTOBER 7.....1882

BENTON.—The old town has a sort of a gone-in-ness appearance at present, many of the puildings being entirely unoccupied. The Diana mill, however, is pounding away on several lots of rich ores taken out by chloriders, and is working over a big pile of tailings with great success. The mill has been almost entirely rebuilt, and appears to work to perfection. The town' is a good point just now for judicious speculation. The railroad will reach that point by the middle of December, when business will spring into life again and things be generally revolutionized. Benton has been second to but two or three silver producing camps on this Coast and certainly has a bright future yet.

THE COMET.—The present brilliant celestial phenomenon is stirring up all sorts of speculation among the scientists and astronomers. A correspondent very irreverently suggests that "it is one of Edison's miracles. It looks like an electric lamp which he may, perchance, have sent out as an advertisement to make it known to those who cannot read the papers. Of course, it saves paying newspaper men for doing the work for him, and his light is free of charge. He must be a thoughtful man, and generous, for it gives light to so many who cannot afford to buy one of his lamps. It is also beautiful to behold to those who can see it, if they are not too lazy to get up these cold mornings."

DIVIDEND.—The Lone Pine Water Company has declared and on the 2d instant paid its first dividend, amounting to 10 cents per share. The Company is regularly incorporated under the California laws: place of business Lone Pine; term of existance, fifty years; present Board of Directars, Jos. Sealy, John Lubken, E. H. Eewards, C. Meysan and M. C. Lasky. The capital stock is $10,000, 2,000 shares, which has been subscribed by residents of the town. But two small regular assessments have been levied upon the stock, and the works are considered complete. Certainly the town and the projectors of this enterprise deserve congratulation.

TEAMS DRAWN OFF.—Jos. Le Cyr informs us that he is about to draw off his two teams from the freighting business between this valley and Mojave. He has taken a contract to haul about 300 tons of mill and mining machinery from the Cahco Station to the mill site of the Oriental Mining Company. After that work is done he expects to get the contract for hauling some 40 or 50 tons of ore per day from the mine to the mill—a distance of about two miles.

GOLD.—Messrs. Burden & VanEpps, at Bishop Creek, received the other day a gold bar worth $178 80, from an arastra being run in Piute Distaict. The Sacramento mine and arastras, near the same point, have produced this season about $900 in fine gold, by the slow arastra process. A good mill is badly needed in the district, and we are glad to state that parties interested are now making arrangements to put one in there.

BAD.—The band of horses belonging to John Hall, at Bishop Creek, has been attacked with the equine plague known as pinkeye. Out of the band, including those in the White Mountains, some fourteen have died—among the rest being the well-known old racer, Black Harry. We should think there would be some organized effort to quarantine the affected animals, to prevent a general endemic.

FOR COUNTY SUPERINTENDENT.—An omission was made last week in not calling attention to the card of Mr. Chas. H. Groves, who respectfully invites the support of Republicans and his friends in his candidacy for the position. Speaking strictly from a newspaper point of view, it would not be a bad idea for other candidates for the various offices to follow his example—"keep your name before the people."

DANCE AND SUPPER.—The ball-goers of Big Pine and several couples of young folks from here met at the Butte Ranch station last euening and enjoyed a pleasant re-union. Curt Ober furnished the music, while Mr. and Mrs. Curtis were superb in their efforts to entertain the party.

STOCK RANCH.—A. Thiebout offers to any cash buyer a chance to become the owner of his fine stock, grain and hay ranch near Camp Independence. With a little capital, and work and time, it can be made a very good property, as it possesses many natural advantages, good range, water, etc.

COUNTY WORK.—The County Clerk will deliver to this office to-night the copy for the new Great Register. It will contain about 650 names, not including those on the supplement to be issued later. For obvious reasons the work will be got through with speedily as possible.

RESTAURANT.—If there are any people in Ioyo who know how to please the inner man with good things to eat, set out in a captivating style, it is our old friends at Bishop, Mr. and Mrs. Charles Kepler. See their new advertisement this week.

PREACHING.—Rev. A. Clark, of Bishop Creek, will hold divine services at the school house here to-morrow, at 11 o'clock A. M., and at 7:30 o'clock in the evening. We trust the reverend gentleman will be greeted with a good congregation.

CLOVER PATCH.—Joe McDermott expects to have his new 10-stamp mill at Clover Patch ready for starting up during the coming week. He has a bonanza in sight, and is bound to make a success.

BOARD OF SUPERVISORS.

Tax Levy for the Current Fiscal Year.

MONDAY, October 2.

The Board of Supervisors of Inyo County met upon the above date, pursuant to law, for the purpose of levying the rate of taxation for the present fiscal year—1882.

Present— C. Meysan, Chairman; D. Olds and E. Robinson.

Without taking any action, the Board adjourned till 1:30 o'clock, at which time it reassembled. It was ordered that a tax of $3 25 on each $100 of the taxable property of Inyo County, as assessed, be levied, to be collected and apportioned to the several funds as follows:

FUND.	AMOUNT.
State	$ .59.6
Interest and Building	.50
Expense	1.10
School	.20
Sinking	.12
Hospital	.20
Road	.10
Total	$3.25.0

TUESDAY, October 3.

Board met in special session, as per notice heretofore given. Full Board present.

The petition of citizens of Township No. 7 (Panamint), asking for the appointment of A. C. Hanson as Justice of the Peace and P. Gallagher as Constable, was granted.

The Board issued an Election Proclamation. [The proclamation is given in the advertising columns this week. It is one week in advance of the regular official publication ordered by the Board, but is inserted in this issue simply for public information.]

The Board then adjourned for the term.

NEW CITIZENS.—In the Superior Court, on the 2d, 3d and 4th instants, certificates of naturalization were issued to the following-named: Pierre Roustaux and Constant Ferry, natives of France; Otto Wagner, a native of Germany.

FOR SALE.—B. Saccocia, in an advertisement on the fourth page, offers for sale his fruit, candy and notion store at Lone Pine. Parties looking for business will do well to inquire into the matter.

GOOD NEWS.—S. L. McNaughton was in town yesterday, on stage business; among other matters he reported that Dan Ashley, of Benton, was getting much better and will recover.

SEND THEM IN.—THE INDEPENDENT office to-day received a ton or more of paper and stationery of all sorts and varieties. Now send in your orders for job work.

IMMENSE YIELD.—On a patch of ground 16x44 feet in extent, Dr. W. H. George, of this town, cultivated 780 squashes. They were the Little Gem variety.

The Methodists.

The following are the appointments made by the Bishop at the Methodist Conference, which closed its session at Reno, last Sunday evening, Oct. 1st;

Bodie—J. H. DeLaMatyr.
Bishop Creek and Independence—Warren Nims.
Coleville and Bridgeport—O. L. Barstow.
Mason Valley and Pine Grove—G.B. Hinkle.

Charles McKelvey transferred to the California Conference; J. T. Codd transferred to Rock River Conference.

Rev. Mr. Ladd was examined and elected to the Presiding Elder's orders. Rev Mr. Barstow was examined and elected to the Deacon's orders. The next session oi the Convention was ordered to be held either at Austin or Truckee, as may be determined hereafter. Bishop Hurst made some very interesting remarks upon the nature and character of church works and preaching. "The times," he said, "demand a more intense denominationalism, not in a narrow sense, but in a broad and catholic spirit. It is not necessary for anyone to make an excuse for preaching. Above all professions the preacher of to-day has a work to do. Wherever sin and sorrow are known, there the preacher is called."

PARTIES who went from Vienna, Idaho, to the Middle Fork of the Salmon river, where the great excitement about placer mines was raised last month, report the diggings a failure and a fizzle. They say of the bar prospected: "Sometimes a panful would go as high as 12½ cents, and again only five cents to the pan." If they call that a failure, we would like a few of that kind in California. Five cents a pan and plenty of water looks just the reverse of a failure.

LUNING is progressive. Along with its other advancements is the organization of a Young Men's Christian Association, of which Deacon Giles has been unanimously chosen President.—True Fissure.

THE LEGISLATIVE NOMINATION.

Joint Democratic Convention at Benton.

Pursuant to the actions taken by the Democratic Conventions of the Counties of Inyo and Mono, the appointed delegates assembled at Benton last Saturday for the purpose of nominating a candidate for Member of Assembly.

At 3 o'clock P. M., on motion of J. L. Bourland of Inyo, Dr. M. Griswold of Benton was chosen Temporary Chairman. Permanent organization was effected by the election of Colonel B. B. Jackson of Bodie as Chairman and Jas. E. Parker of Independence as Secretary.

Upon examinaiion of credentials it was found that the Convention was composed as follows:

MONO.

E. W. Boynton, proxied by Colonel B. B. Jackson.
T. J. Ingram, B. B. Jackson proxy.
Richard Pierce, B. B. Jackson proxy.
B. B. Jackson.
Jos. McDermott.

INYO.

John L. Bourland.
P. W. Forbes, J. L. Bourland proxy.
Jas. E. Parker.

The Chairman-elect took his position, and followed his statement of the object of the Convention with a brief, characteristic speech, advocating democratic principles, pure and unadulterated, and the greatest harmony of action, with the view of ultimate success at the polls. At the suggestion of the Inyo delegation, Dr. M. Griswold of Benton and Mr. W. B. Ryan of Bodie, who were present, were invited to take a hand in the proceedings.

The main business object of the Convention being in order, Mr. J. L. Bourland placed in nomination Mr. Jas. E. Parker of Inyo, and received a second by Mr. Jos. McDermott.

Colonel B. B. Jackson called a delegate to the Chair and nominated Mr. Thos. J. Hill of Mono, stating that such nomination was made under the instruction of Mr. E. W. Boynton, whose proxy he held.

Upon a ballot being taken the vote was found to be:

Jas. E. Parker of Inyo.....6
—Mr. Parker declining to cast his ballot.

On motion, the nomination of Jas. E. Parker for Joint Assemblyman was declared unanimous, whereupon—after some short speeches and with the best of good feeling—the Convention adjourned sine die.

The Baking Powder War.

The Royal Baking Powder Company is still making enemies among those who are manufacturing and selling impure articles for leavening purposes (and their name is legion), and this fact shows that it is continuing its vigorous work in the interests of the public. This Company set out some time ago to expose the character, and so far as possible to break up the sale, of adulterated baking powders. Having found from an examination of a number of specimens procured from grocers that they were generally of an inferior character, some devoid of all leavening properties and many of them actually poisonous, it brought the matter before the public, denounced the makers by name in the press and to the health authorities. The affair was speedily taken up by physicians, boards of health and Leglslatures throughout the country, chemists were employed to make scientific tests of the various powders in the market, and the Government itself directed analyses to be made before it would purchase the supplies needed for army, navy and Indian uses. The result more than justified the charges so boldly made by the Royal Company. Not only were the majority of baking powders in the market found to be largely adulterated, but many of them were ascertained to contain alum and other poisonous ingredients to such an extent as to render them positively unsafe for use in human food. The information spread throughout the country and created a profound sensation. As a result many of these injurious mixtures were driven out of the market, and the sale of all of them seriously interfered with. No occurrence of recent date has been so far-reaching as this in its beneficial influence upon the public health, and the boldness of the Royal Baking Powder Company in the inauguration of such a warfare, and their energy in carrying it forward with such important results, were universally commented upon and appreciated. In making the charges they did not hesitate to enter into competition with every other baking powder in the country, and it is a public satisfaction that in all the tests and analyses made the Royal Baking Powder was placed at the head of the list and declared by Boards of Health and by the Government chemists, Drs. Mott and Love, to be the superior of all others in strength, and absolutely pure and free from all inferior substances.

In continuing this warfare against the adulterated food, more particularly the alum and otherwise impure and inferior baking powders which unscrupulous manufacturers are endeavoring to force upon the market in this locality, the Royal will undoubtedly meet with the old-time opposition and abuse. We are confident, however, that the public will also appreciate, as heretofore, both the object of the "alum men" and the action of the Royal Company, and award full justice to the company that has so fearlessly stood up for its protection from all such adventurers.

BUTTER that has become strong may be sweetened so that it can be used for cooking purposes, as follows: Add a handful of salt and a teaspoonful of soda to two or three pounds of butter; let it come to a boil, pour into a crock and set in a cold place. Take off the top, careful not to disturb the settlings.

How many people would be mute if they were forbidden to speak well of themselves, and evil of others.

GLADSTONE declines to interfere with the operations of the Mormons in England.

Hon. P. Reddy.

The Visalia Della and Fresno Republican claim that Hon. P. Reddy, Democratic nominee for State Senator, is a non-resident of the District. For the purpose of correcting this statement, we here give the facts in the case, and challenge the above named journals to produce evidence to the contrary, Mr. Reddy is a lawyer by profession, and has a law office at Independence, Inyo County, and is in partnership in that County with A. R. Conklin. He is also in partnership with Paul W. Bennett in Mono County in this State, and at Esmeralda County, Nevada. This law firm have an office in Bridgeport, the County seat of Mono County, one in Bodie and another in Aurora, the County seat of Esmeralda County, Nevada. Mr. Reddy has an office in San Francisco, which is required as a necessary adjunct to the business of the firm in order to attend to the appeal cases in the Supreme Court in that city, and to mining and other cases transferred from the Superior Courts of Mono and Inyo Counties to the U. S. Circuit Court at San Francisco. His home is at Bodie, Mono County, where he has his residence. He has been registered there since 1879, and has been a voter and an elector of Mono County since that time, and was re-registered last July in that County. The people of Mono County ought to know whether Bodie ii his home or not, and are as deeply interested in being represented by a resident as those of any other County within the District, and if he is not a resident of Mono County, it is more than likely that the Republicans of that County would suggest his non-residence.—Tulare Times.

IN several of the Western States the Republican Conventions have declared in favor of prohibition, and now Massachusetts falls into line. The tendency of Republican politics on this subject is towards the adoption of that principle in the national platform of the party in 1884. The earnest men who have concentrated all their efforts to force prohibition upon the country will not rest until they make their absorbing idea a national issue, and then, if they succeed in carrying a constitutional amendment, will come the practical trial. While we are a firm believer in temperance principles, and have never failed to advocate them, we are convinced that direct legislation in the shape of prohibition will not accomplish the object. Legislation has never yet and never will make a good man out of a bad one, nor will it control the appetites or desires of those who have acquired a passion for strong drink. The suppression of this evil belongs alone to the moral field, and the only successful work to be accomplished must be done outside of politics. Virtue is not to be legislated into the vicious, any more than you can pound godliness into a man by the bastinado. It is the province of politics to inculcate good morals—of the churches and humanitarians to give them practical effect. If the luw prohibits the manufacture and use of intoxicants, the law will be generally violated, and its enforcement will be rendered impossible. That is the experience in Maine where the matter has been fully tested.—Los Angeles Express.

INDEPENDENCE, CAL.:

A MOTHER'S WEDDING RING.

A simple band of gold;
Though worn with age so thin,
Yet hosts of memories untold
Have hid themselves within.

'Tis old, old-fashioned gold—
You all have seen and know
How childish memories of old
Cling with us as we go.

Alas! and she is dead;
The ring—I have it yet,
And hold it sacred, far ahead
Of all that wealth can get.

Four letters, plain to see,
Its inner surface shows;
They are initials, plain and bright,
Though carved long years ago.

And carved upon my heart,
Are these initials dear;
They never, never will depart,
Though trials grow severe.

Mining Appliances.

When mining first began in this State, with all the genius and enterprise of the American people, no important discovery in the way of machinery for mining was made which had not long been in use in South America, Mexico, or Europe. The same necessities gave rise to identical contrivances for saving labor, and it is sufficiently creditable to our miners to say that, without any knowledge of what others had done, they frequently improved upon the originals. The fact demonstrates very clearly that want of knowledge, even in the preliminary stages of mining, is a source of loss. When the precious metals are easily obtained, and the profits of individual labor are large, less injury results from ignorance than in the subsequent stages of the business, when capital is required, and the processes of reduction are more complicated.

Mining differs essentially from every other branch of industry. Unlike agriculture, there is but one crop in a mine. As the work progresses the stock of mineral is decreased, and can never be replaced by human art. The farmer changes his crop or his system of cultivation, and his lands can be improved and profits be increased by experience. So also in manufacturing and mining. Hence it is important that the experience of mankind should be preserved, so that error may be avoided.

With mining to-day, however, the machinery is one of the most important items in which the question of profit is involved. In California we did little as quartz miners before 1860. There were quartz veins discovered, of course, but little progress was made in working them, and the work was more or less of an experimental nature. The Mexicans, with their arastras, were the only successful quartz miners. Experience in their own country enabled them to realize fair profits upon their labors. Their system of mining, however, was too slow for an American population, to whom large investments of capital were of little consequence, provided there was a prospect of abundant returns.

We have been gradually getting experience in California which has not only been of great value to us, but to other States and Territories. Our practice has been the basis on which others have worked. Our mechanical appliances of mining are known abroad, and our experience is utilized by mining communities everywhere. Our mechanics are acknowledged to be the most skillful and expert in all kinds of mining machinery and appliances. We have learned now by experience, and every detail is one which has been tried and proven. Persons who experiment in quartz machinery without consulting California exberience will find they are working over old ground abandoned long ago.—Scientific Press.

THE practice of calling in an additional doctor, when the one in attendance feels the case becoming grave, has, if the latter is a skillful and experienced man, somewhat the same reasons in its favor as Parliamentary government. The appearance of doctor the second strengthens the nerves of the patient's family, and sometimes, though not always, those of the attending physician. The patient himself is generally startled and alarmed by it. In 99 cases out of a 100 it has not, as everybody knows, any influence whatever on the management of the case. The consulting doctor almost always approves of what the other doctor has done; seldom or never does he suggest anything new. But he makes the other doctor decidedly more comfortable in his relations with the family, and makes the family comfortable in the feeling that they have left nothing in reason untried.—Nation.

A TRAIN was stopped and robbed on the Atchison, Topeka and Santa Fé railroad lately, near Granada.

Unsuspected Poisons.

It seems as though we were bound to undergo a certain amount of poisoning, eat what we will, and it is, upon the whole, perhaps, a happy thing that we are, as a rule, able to submit to it with so little interference with our mental composure. The Pharmaceutical Journal quotes the opinion of an eminent analyst, from which it appears that decided symptoms of poisoning result more frequently than we are aware of from any considerable consumption of potatoes. Among the poorer classes, who live largely on potatoes, such symptoms are common, more particularly when the tubers are very young or very old. Such potatoes, we are told, contain considerable quantities of solanine. The poison was found in very unmistakable quantities in the stomach of a man who had been, for two or three days previous to his death, living on nothing but raw, unripe potatoes, and there seems to have been no room for doubt that this diet accounted for the presence of the poison. It is said to be found chiefly, if not entirely, in the skin of the potatoe, and is soluble in boiling water, and we may we suppose assume therefore, that a very young or a very old potatoe, boiled in its skin, must be to some extent permeated with solanine, and must be unwholesome to an extent that may become serious if partaken of in large quantities.

Another unsuspected source of poison is said to be maize or Indian corn. A disease as fatal in Italy as consumption is in this country, is attributed entirely to the exclusive use of this cereal, which is thought to be especially dangerous if ground in a damaged condition—damaged we suppose by incipient decay, though that is not stated. There is said to be one remarkable fact connected with the disease which is thought to have its origin in this source—the disease known as pellagra. Sufferers from it who commit suicide, always do so by drowning, a fact displayed by the pleasure afforded by the sight or touch of water, which constitutes a symptom of the disorder.

Greeley on Lawyers.

"Mr. Greeley," said Partridge, "this is Mr. Denslow, a young attorney."

Greeley uttered a short grunt of recognition but did not even look around. I, embarassed, shrunk away to one corner and took a chair. He went around the room looking at the pictures and whatnot, and in about five minutes, when his back was turned on me and I thought he had forgotten me, he suddenly, without looking at me, said;

"Hem! So you're an attorney, are you?"

I confessed it.

"I hate lawyers!" he exclaimed emphatically. "I hate lawyers! They do more mischief than their heads are worth."

"I suppose they are a necessary evil," I suggested, deprecatingly.

"Wholly unnecessary," he insisted.

"I suppose you will acknowledge," I said, "that they promote good order and and remove impediments to good government."

"Just the contrary, just the contrary," he squeaked, in his old falsett. "They cause disorder and they are the chief obstacles to good government."

I thought the man was crazy. "Perhaps you can inform me," I suggested, "how debts could be collected without lawyers?"

"Don't want 'em collected! don't want 'em collected!" he squeaked. "If A lets B have his property without payment, I don't see why C, D, E, F, and all the rest of the alphabet should be called on to serve as a police to get it back. No debt should be collected by law—its monstrous! Let a man trust another man at his own risk. Even a gambler pays his own debts that he is not legally obliged to pay, and calls them debts of honor; but men will put their property out of their hands to prevent the legal collection of their grocery bills. Abolish all laws for the collection of debt, and that would abolish most of you lawyers—good riddance."

IT is related that Secretary Evarts was once of a party who were visiting the Natural Bridge in Virginia. As is usual, after tarrying at the top they descended and viewed the wonder from beneath. While there the story was told that George Washington had once stood there and thrown a silver dollar completely over the bridge. Some of the party pooh-poohed this assertion, but Mr. Evarts gravely rebuked them, saying: "You forget how much farther a dollar went in those days."

A BOY paid his first visit to one of the public schools the other day as a scholar, and as he came home at night his mother inquired: "Well, Henry how do you like going to school?" "Bully," he replied, in an excited voice, "I saw four boys licked, one girl get her ear pulled, and a big scholar burn his elbow on the stove. I don't want to miss a day."

A VERY quick child made an observation to his governess the other day, which had a great deal of truth in it. "How is it, my dear," inquired the lady "that you do not understand this simple thing?" "I do not know, indeed," he answered, with a perplexed look; "but I sometimes think I have so many things to learn that I have not time to understand."

TAKING the human race as a whole, says an exchange, it is observed that those living almost exclusively on meat have been the most savage ones. Nothing transforms a human being into a savage as to pay thirty cents a pound for a roast and then find it almost tough as leather.

Jokes on the Clergy.

Even clergymen cannot always hope to meet with the courtesy that draws the line at sharp rejoinders. "If you can't keep awake, when you feel drowsy, why don't you take a pinch of snuff?" "I think," was the shrewd reply, "the snuff should be put into the sermons."

Some years ago, we are told, the Isle of Sheppey being an inconsiderable parish, and the income not very large, the Vicar came there but once a month. The parishioners being much displeased at this, desired their clerk, who was that year church warden also, to remonstrate with him as to his negligence. The clerk told the Vicar the wish of the parishioners, and the reply was: "Well, well; tell them if they give me £10 a year more I will come to see them once a fortnight, and be sure to let me know their answer next time I come." The next time he came he accordingly asked and the clerk answered: "Sir, they say as how if you will excuse them £10 a year in their tithes, they will dispense with your coming at all."

Members of the cloth are not always above severely criticising one another's failings. It is related of that most eloquent of English clergymen, that he once—disgusted by the egotism and conceit of a preacher, who, with a mixture of self-complacency and impudence, challenged his admiration of a sermon—was provoked to say: "Yes, there was one very fine passage of your discourse, sir." "I am rejoiced to hear you say so; which was it?" "Why, sir, it was the passage from the pulpit to the vestry."—Chamber's Journal.

GOOD.

The nomination of an Inyo County man by the Republican Joint Convention at Bishop Creek last Monday is, we consider, a point justly gained for our citizens by this paper. Honestly, we would have much preferred some other candidate than Capt. J. M. Keeler, the gentleman nominated; but as he is of this region and has become more or less identified with its mining interests, his candidacy is in good oader. He is a straight-out Republican, an old Californian, earned his title of Captain in the civil war; is strong on temperance and public morals. He has taken his canvas actively in hand and is now visiting Mono, where we presume he will take the stump.

THE hint which Benjamin Butler gave the Massachussetts Greenbackers, to drop their name, will probably be acted upon. As Butler says, the time is passed when the term "Greenbacker" has any political significance. There is nothing which the party proposes to accomplish in relation to the currency. When the party was formed greenbacks were at a discount, and there was a disposition in financial circles to pay bond-holders in gold and the dues of the Government in legal tender at its market value. There was also a disposition in the same circles to retire greenbacks in favor of National Bank notes. With the appreciation of greenbacks to par with coin, the distinction between greenbacks and other forms of currency disappeared. A gold dollar, a silver dollar, a greenback dollar and a National Bank note for a dollar, are now practically the equal in value in every part of the United States. There does not seem to be any especial reason, therefore, why a party should continue to call itself the Greenback Party. If that party has other issues which serve to keep it aloof from the two great parties, its name should be changed to indicate them.

IF late rumors be true, General Crook's report of the pacific character of the Arizona Indians was not well founded. After visiting most of the tribes, he came to the conclusion that no apprehension was to be felt of any future outbreaks, although there was fear of depredations from Indians crossing into Arizona over the Mexican border. Now, however, news comes from Guaymas which states that the Yaqui and Majo Indians are joining forces to go on the war-path. There number is said to be 15,000. General Crook is believed to have troops enough in his command to make short work of any Indian outbreak that may occur in his department.

JUDGE BLACK is being censured for defending the Mormans, as a lawyer, against the operations of the Edmunds bill. He seems, however, to be conscientious in the matter, for he says that the act is a bill of attainder, and therefore unconstitutional; that it inflicts punishment without trial, and is thus again unconstitutional; and that it is ex post facto in operation, and so a third time unconstitutional.

A TEXAS paper describes an 8,000 acre ranch in that State entirely devoted to the breeding of ponies for children. The breeding stock consists of seven Shetland stallions and forty-five mares, all thoroughbred, and two hundred small spotted pony mares. These little ponies range over the prairies like sheep, and are described as very gentle.

THE Prohibitionists' Convention formulated and adopted a plank against the deposit of hydraulic miners' detritus. It is well that the Convention was thus explicit, and kept in view the distinction between the detritus of miners and the detritus from the mines.

A HUGE POLITICAL FLOP.

The astonishing news from Ohio, not received here until last night, is the interesting topic of to-day. Whatever may have been the varied causes which led up to reducing a Republican majority of 24,000 to a defeat of over 20,000, the facts of such a change being wrought cannot be overestimated as to its political importance and the lesson taught. It shows that no party, however well intrenched in power, can avoid a rebuke by the masses against bossism. In connection with the Republican gains in West Virginia, this Ohio matter will do more to break up sectionalism and the "solid South" than anything else could. It shows an independence of thought on the part of the people—that no political party can hereafter be so intrenched in power as to preclude its occasional overthrow.

In 1872 Ohio gave Grant about 40-,000 majority over Greeley, and in the following year turned around and elected William Allen (Dem.) Governor. In 1875 Hayes was elected Governor, and in 1876 he received a majority of between 6,000 and 7,000 in that State for President. In the following year, however, Bishop (Dem.) was elected Governor on issues quite similar to those involved in the late campaign. He in turn was beaten by Foster (Rep.) in 1879 by over 17,000 majority, and in 1881 Foster was re-elected by 24,000. The Democrats have not carried Ohio two years in succession within the memory of the present generation. Great hopes were built upon the success of "old Bill Allen" in 1873, and upon that of Bishop in 1877, but these hopes were speedily thrown down in the next following elections, when the State turned around and went Republican again.

THE Grand Lodge of Good Templars adopted a platform in San Francisco on the 4th which is substantially the one adopted by the National Prohibition Convention, viz.: total abstinence from all intoxicating beverages; prohibition of license, manufacture, importation and sale of same; the election of good, honest men to administer the laws; persistence in their efforts to save individuals and communities from the scourge of intemperance. The following resolution was also adopted: "That we heartily endorse so much of the platform of the Prohibition Home Party of California as refers to the temperance question." The Grand Lodge of Good Templars held a public meeting which partook of the nature of a Prohibition compaign meeting and entertainment. Grand Worthy Chief Templar Thompson presided and conducted the exercises. Addresses were made by T. A. Bateman, Col. Geo. Babcock, W. E. Swain, Miss Mary Guthrie and Judge N. Searles. These were interspersed with vocal and instrumental music. The large hall was crowded with ladies and gentlemen. The speakers seemed to be in their happiest mood, and were frequently interrupted by applause and laughter.

THE shrinkage of Lake Constance, in Switzerland, owing to the extraordinary dryness of the past winter, has brought to light many interesting relics. Among them there are bone and flint implements, harpoons, pottery, many specimens of which are intact, clubs, baskets, arrows, field tools, and animal remains. Among the latter are skeletons of the bear, the bison, and the moor-hen. The discovery also includes a considerable quantity of oats and wheat in a good state of preservation, and a remarkably perfect and artistically executed stag horn harpoon. The relics have all been removed to Fraunfeld, and added to the collection of the local historical and and natural history society, which is now the richest in lacrustine objects in the Helvetic Confederation.

THE Khedive is just boiling over with gratitude for the defeat of Arabi Pasha and the bulk of his own subjects by the British. He has been giving fetes and bestowing royal orders with a lavish hand, and now he completely slops over and has decided to give every man in the English army, from Gen. Wolseley down to the drummer boys, a medal. Arabi Pasha in his prison after a wretchedly weak fight for his cause is a sufficiently contemptible figure, but the Khedive in his frantic debasement sinks beneath contempt.

GOV. PLAISTED of Maine makes this suggestive little statement: "We have in this country 5,000 persons who own and possess $5,000,000,000 worth of property, mostly accumulated within the past 15 years, and that, too, through unequal laws. Twenty years ago a millionaire in this country was as rare as a prince, and so was a tramp."

JUDGE A. R. CONKLIN, Republican candidate for Lieutenant-Governor, met with a splendid reception at Bodie. He delivered quite a lengthy speech, which was reported in full by the Free Press.

WHAT has become of the proposed independent County ticket? Its about time things were moving, if such is to be done, and the more the merrier.

IN the Gentleman's Magazine W. Mattieu Williams makes a charge upon the ranks of the total abstainers with a new weapon, which he smilingly says he has forged himself from material supplied by Darwin. He holds that drunkenness promotes civilization and the progress of the race. Man has a tendency to multiply too fast, hence poverty and social degradation. In the struggle for existence the inferior is weeded out, while the superior transmit their advantages to their offspring. As brute physical powers are less demanded some means are required for the elimination of the purely animal specimens of humanity, to give room for the survival of the refined and intellectual. Now, if the coarser elements engage in self-immolation by a process pleasurable to them, there is no reason for humane feelings to be called into exercise. The old customs demanding heavy social drinking have passed away, and the drunkards of to-day are the coarse, gross and brutal. Because nearly all criminals are drunkards it does not follow that drunkenness is the chief cause of crime. They go together because they are concurrent effects—alcohol only removes prudence and develops the true character. Hence, those fit to survive will spontaneously avoid intemperance, and all others, by "the happy dispatch" of alcohol, will properly be sifted out. Such, in a nutshell, is his ingenious theory.

ALMOST every country on the globe is represented among the inhabitants of the United States. Even Greenland has sent to us 129 immigrants, Gibraltar 167, Malta 305, and Japan 401. It has been said that, prior to the Dark Ages, Rome had the most composite population of any nation on earth; that in later days Great Britain has had the foremost place in that respect; and that no nation has ever built up and maintained a widely extended empire unless many diverse races were represented in its population. But neither Rome nor Great Britain ever had so strangely composite a population as that of this country. With the colored population representing its African origin, it may be said that nearly half of our people help to bring about the mixture here, and yet the Anglo-Saxon type greatly predominates. The white natives and the immigrants from Great Britain and Germany constitute about 83 per cent. of the whole population, leaving 4 per cent. for other immigrants and 13 per cent. for persons of the African race.

THE Denver & South Park Division of the Union Pacific Railroad pierces the main range of the Rocky Mountains 150 miles southwest of Denver, Colorado. The length of the tunnel is 1700 feet, and its altitude above the sea 11,500 feet. The approaches on either side are described as marvels of engineering skill, laid through scenes unrivaled for grandeur and magnificence. Although the tunnel commences with a sharp curve at its eastern end, so nicely was the engineering done, that when workmen from either side met in the heart of the great snowy range, they found only about one inch variation in the respective bores. This tunnel, said to be the highest in America or Europe, leads to the new silver region of Gunnison.

"DR. YEATS recently presented a case to the Manchester Medical Society (British Medical Journal) where he had, six weeks after an accident, united with four catgut sutures the divided ends of the tendon of the extensor communis digitorum of the middle finger, at the metacarpo phalangeal joint. The skin wound was united by silver sutures. The operation was done antiseptically. The wound healed in four days; and three weeks afterward the patient had perfect control over his fingers, flexion and extension being perfect. At the end of five months the fingers were as strong and useful as before the operation.

This item is very interesting, being as clear as mud. It will wear a little on the nerves of the ordinary reader, though.

AN Albany special is reported as saying that at Albany, on the 11th instant, Sam Tilden was handed a message from Ohio. He was seated in his parlor when the telegram came. The old gentleman read the dispatch, smiled and, turning to a servant, asked for a a glass of sherry wine. Tilden subsequently remarked to a newspaper man: "The good things of life come slowly but surely."

The End of Things.

A prediction comes from London that the comet now visible morning and evening will return in 1883, and that its orbit will then be so near the sun that the smaller body will disappear in the larger. The results of such a union of forces will be, in the estimation of scientific men, such as to dispense with the future publication of the newspapers of the world. The person is not now living who can recall a time when a prediction of a speedy collapse did not hang over the earth. It has come at one time from religious enthusiasts, and again from those who make science the basis of their predictions. The earth, however, has moved on undisturbed. The seasons follow in regular order; the soil gives forth its fruit and husbands the seed; the winters are about so cold and the summers about so hot; people are born and die, but old Mother Earth does not mark enough change in one generation to be perceptible. To a great many people now living the year 1883 will prove as fatal as if the earth were to be drawn into the wake of the comet, and with it serve as fuel for the sun; but that the human family will go on and increase in number for hundreds of years yet to come is about as certain as any future event. The earth is still in its infancy. Its waste places have not been found and improved. Christian civilization covers only a small space on the earth's surface. If there is a purpose in creation, it is as yet unfulfilled. It is worthy of note at this time that when science leaves calculation and resorts to guessing, it is not an especially good guesser. Every one will remember what a commotion there was a year or two ago about an unusual conjunction of planets. It was something that could happen but once in thousands of years, and must seriously affect this earth. There were predictions of such conflict of the elements as this generation had never witnessed. There were to be tempests, hurricanes, cyclones, floods, epidemics, and other forms of evil and agencies of death. But the planets formed their conjunction as was calculated, and dissolved the tangle with no appreciable results to this earth. The last year was a little dry in places, and the crop averaged lower than the preceding year, but this season is good again. There is peace, health and comfort in the land in spite of the planetary conjunction. The London astronomers are now making another guess. Then they had the fixed orbits of planets to base their predictions upon, and their predictions proved false. Now they are speculating upon the possible consequences of an unknown body, with an undefined orbit, obeying a law of gravitation under conditions which are mere guesswork. The only solid ground in the whole case is that a comet is visible in the sky at certain hours. What comet it is, whence it came from, where it is going and when it is going—these are matters upon which astronomers are divided in opinion.—S. F. Call.

A CUTTING AFFRAY.—A desperate fight occurred in this place last Tuesday evening between Charley Jardine and Robert Delahide, during which Jardine stabbed the latter six times with a bowie knife. The circumstances of the affair, as near as we can learn, are these: About 7 o'clock on the evening of the day above stated, Jardine, who was much the worse for liquor, went into Beck's saloon, where several parties were playing cards, and commenced talking to a man by the name of Dugan. A few words passed between them when they clinched and fell to the floor. Friends separated the men. Jardine pulled off his coat as if to renew the fight with Dugan, when Delahide stepped up to him and asked him in a friendly way to stop. The men continued talking for a few moments when suddenly they clinched and fell, when friends stepped in and separated them. Both men left the house. Jardine returned a few minutes later, and was soon followed by Delahide. As the latter entered the saloon the fight commenced with the result above stated. Delahide was not as badly hurt as was at first thought. He will probably be all right in a couple of weeks. Jardine left town shortly after the trouble and has not since been heard of. The men were the best of friends previous to the difficulty.—Homer Mining Index, 7 Oct.

TULARE is the largest county in this (the Fourth) Senatorial district, and is, on a straight vote, Democratic by about 400 majority. It is, however, cut up by all sorts of local issues, and deviations outside the regular parties. On the 5th instant the anti-Monopoly League met at Hanford, and among other things appointed a meeting for Thursday, October 12th, to consider the nominations of the Farmers' Convention at Stockton, to decide if they will call a district convention to nominate a new candidate for State Senator. Mr. Rice, the Republican candidate for Senator, is a citizen of that county, and if he or Mr. Reddy secures the indorsement of this league it will be quite a point in favor of the fortunate candidate. In case a new candidate is nominated it is difficult to say from which party the most votes would thereby be taken.—Free Press.

HON. A. R. CONKLIN left on Friday morning's stage, and to-night (Saturday) speaks at Truckee. The Judge did the Republican party good service in Bodie by his able and eloquent address, and not a few Democrats, who admire him for his manliness and ability, will next month vote for him for the Lieutenant-Governorship, a place which he would fill with exceptional dignity.—Bodie Free Press, Oct. 7.

"MY dear," said Gov. Stanford, laying down his morning newspaper and focusing his great executive abilities upon his breakfast egg, "both political parties are nominating high-priced men; we shall have to economize." "I don't see how we can keep house on much less," was the thoughtful reply. "Can't we sell Pixley?"—S. F. Wasp.

THE LEGISLATIVE NOMINATION.

Republican Joint Convention at Bishop Creek—Capt J. M. Keeler in the Field—Official Report.

BISHOP CREEK, Monday, Oct. 9, '82.

The Joint Convention convened at the office of Geo. M. Gill. Was called to order and elected Wm. Wetherell, Chairman, and R. J. Van Voorhies, Secretary. The Convention then adjourned to meet at 7 o'clock.

Convention met at 7 o'clock. The credentials of the following gentlemen were presented and admitted to joint Convention: A. H. Wemple, D. H. Williams (O. I. Mairs, proxy), and Geo. M. Gill, from Inyo, and Wm. Wetherell and R. J. Van Voorhies, from Mono. Mr. Geo. M. Gill placed in nomination Mr. J. M. Keeler, for the Assembly, Mr. J. M. Keeler was duly nominated. The Convention then adjourned.

Chairman.

R. J. VAN VOORHIES,
Secretary.

New Newspaper Venture.

The following communication explains itself, and is the only information we have upon the subject.

BISHOP CREEK, Oct. 7 1882.

EDITOR INDEPENDENT: Dear Sir—I have succeeded in making arrangements for purchasing the material which was owned by the Bishop Creek Times. I think I shall start the same. I shall establish it on independent principles, favoring neither political party. I also propose to establish the subscription at $3 00 per year, with advertising in proportion. I wish you would please make note. Yours respectfully,

O. B. CROMWELL.

THE MONTEZUMA.—With a force of some sixteen men altogether, Supt. Griswold is now making good progress with the work of getting the new furnace at the Montezuma mine in shape. Captain A. M. Stetson, one of the owners, is in charge as engineer and machinist, with Billy Hedge. Mr. S. D. Woodhull is well fixed with a complete assay office, while the Company has all the usual buildings for quarters. Mr. and Mrs. Saylor of Big Pine have charge of the boarding house. Grading for the furnace site is about complete, and much of the machinery will be put in place next week. The ore chute from the mine down to the road is finished. It is simply a box 16x12 inches square and 450 feet long. We get the foregoing from Billy Lake, who has again returned to the mine.

THE TICKET.—It is difficult to account for the failure, so far, of the Republican County Central Committee to advertise its regular State and County ticket, as the Democrats have done and as both parties have always done heretofore. The cost is trifling when divided amongst the candidates, while the object gained is important in familiarizing voters with the names on their regular tickets.

THE WEATHER.—We have had rains, wind storms and cold-snaps indiscriminately for two or three weeks, sandwiched in with a few pleasant days. There don't seem to have been much more than two months of Summer time, and now the matter of skirmishing around for a good wood pile becomes the most pressing "duty of the hour."

THEY DON'T KNOW.—The local Central Committees appear to be totally uninformed as to the future movements of any State candidates or campaign speakers, so far as they may propose to visit this valley. We have been told, however, that Mr. Reddy will be along just before election, but that it is doubtful if Judge Conklin will get home in time to vote.

A BAD HURT.—While working with his team last week Billy Boyd was struck on the side of his head with the fore foot of one of the vicious brutes. A portion of one ear was cut off and the whole left side of his face blackened and badly bruised up. Soon as he gets able he should lead that horse off somewhere and fix him with a few bullets, properly applied.

AT THE BLANEY.—Dr. M. W. Parsons, Surgeon Dentist, has established himself at the Blaney House, to remain for a few days only. He will go to Big Pine and Bishop Creek next week, for a short stay there. Those needing work in his line should not allow this opportunity to pass.

OFFICIAL VISIT.—Mr. R. J. Van Voohies, of Bodie, the Deputy U. S. Revenue Collector for this division, went southward from this point last Monday, to look after Uncle Sam's revenue affairs. "Van" makes a lot of new friends every trip.

CONCERT.—Prof. Dorrego will give one of his fine entertainments at Mairs Hall to-night, to be followed by a social dance. A good time may be assured. Those who missed hearing the Professor when he was here before ought not to lose the opportunity now.

READY.—The printed copies of the Great Register will be ready for delivery to the County Clerk next Tuesday. The work has necessarily employed most of the force of the office, and hence—the scarcity of reading matter in this issue.

STRUCK IT.—A brief note from Lookout states that Frank Fitzgerald is jubilant over his prospects with the Modock property, having just "struck it rich" in the Bismark mine. We hope for some particulars next week.

FOR SUPERVISOR.—We understand that the citizens of Bishop Creek were to meet to-day to select a candidate for Supervisor from the First District.

BEST BAKING POWDER.

Interesting Tests Made by the Government Chemist.

Dr. Edward G. Love, the present Analytical Chemist for the Government, has recently made some interesting experiments as to the comparative value of baking powders. Dr. Love's tests were made to determine which brands were the most economical to use, and as their capacity lies in their leavening power, tests were directed solely to ascertain the available gas of each powder. Dr. Love's report gives the following:

Name of the Baking Powders,	Strength Cubic Inches Gas per each ounce of Powder.
"Royal" (cream tarter powder)	127.4
"Patapsco" (alum powder)	125.2*
"Rumford's" (phosphate) fresh	122 5*
"Rumford's" (phosphate) old	32.7*
"Hanford's None Such" fresh	121.6
"Hanford's None Such" old	84.35
"Redhead's"	117.0
"Charm" (alum powder)	116.9*
"Amazon" (alum powder)	111.9*
"Cleveland's" (short weight 3-4oz)	110 8
"Sea Foam"	107.9
"Czar"	106.8
"Dr. Price's"	102.6
"Snow Flake" (Groff's St. Paul)	101.88
"Lewis's" Condensed	98.2
"Congress" yeast	97.5
"C. E. Andrews & Co's" (contains alum)	78.17*
"Hecker's	92.5
"Bulk"	80.5

*In his report the Government Chemist says:

"I regard all alum powders as very unwholesome. Phosphate and Tartaric Acid powders liberate their gas too freely in process of baking, or under varying climatic changes suffer deterioration."

Dr. H. A. Mott, the former Government Chemist, after a careful and elaborate examination of the various Baking Powders of commerce, reported to the Government in favor of the Royal brand.

Wire-Drawing.

When the ductility of a metal is brought into play in a certain manner, the result is termed wire. The ancient mode of wire-making was by hammering the metal into sheets, cutting these into long strips, and hammering the strips into wires. The method in use at present possesses the advantage of greater rapidity, and produces much better wire than that produced in the old way. The metal is shaped into rods by being drawn in a red-hot state between groved rollers, and these rods are reduced to wire by being drawn in a cold state through holes in a plate of some harder metal. Rods for wire are usually about an eighth of an inch in thickness, the wire-drawer producing the subsequent reduction. The draw-plates are of hard steel, and are perforated with holes varying by very slight degrees in circumference. These perforations are made with the greatest care and are usually round. The wire rods are drawn through them all in succession, beginning with those of the largest diameter, thus reducing them in thickness by slow degrees. The force required to draw the rods through is effected by means of a draw-bench, drawing-block, revolving shaft, bevel wheels, forceps, and toothed rack. Frequent annealings are required, for the reason that the wire becomes very much hardened by the compression. The coating of oxide, occasioned by the annealing is removed by a pickling in dilute acid. Frequently a lubrication of the parts becomes necessary, to permit the passage of the wire through the perforations of the plate. Wire is commonly made round, but it is also drawn oval, square, half-round and angular shapes. Some of the finer and more delicate sorts of wire, for instance, that for the pendulum springs in chronometers, are drawn through perforations in ruby, the usual material for plates, steel, not being of sufficient hardness for the purpose. Some of the finest work of this kind, made and used in the mechanic arts is seen in the gauge for safety lamps, which frequently has 120 wires each way (making 14,400 meshes) to the square inch.

THE insane often entertain the most ludicrous idea of their own condition. There is a man in an asylum in one of the neighboring States, who became insane in consequence of a failure in business. He explains the reason of his incarceration as follows: "I am here because of a mere mistake in business. I was engaged during the Winter in making mosquitoes' wings, which I expected to sell in the Summer. I had 10,000 of them on hand when the season opened, but unfortunately I had forgotten to make them in pairs. They were all left-hand wings, and consequently I lost the sale of them, and was obliged to suspend payment." He relates this story with a gravity and earnestness which testifies to the sincerity of his own belief in the explanation.

WHAT NEXT?—A distinguished German professor recently announced that if a drop of human blood was placed under a microscope capable of magnifying it twenty million times larger, it would show all the kinds of animals that ever existed, or now exist on the earth. In the blood of a healthy person the animals are quiet; in that of a sick person they fight. From this he draws the conclusion that man has within him all the elements from which the universe was created. He further says that if a dead cat was flung into pool of water and left to decompose, the drops of water would show, when under a microscope, all the animals belonging to the cat species.

PROF. COACH, of Des Moines, Iowa, advises those living in exposed places to provide cellars or caves of refuge for shelter, when the sky looks threatening in the southwest. He says that 1882 is the maximum year of the 11.1 years of sun-spot period, and also the maximum year of two other periods, a long and a very long period; and the same degree of energy that gives the maximum sun-spot period, also gives the American continent maximum rainfall and a marked degree of force in the effects of the storms; and the end is not yet.

Two Sonora boys, Johnnie and Dan Crough, have received the nomination for county offices in Inyo county—John for County Clerk, which position he has filled long and faithfully, and Dan for County School Superintendent, which will be his "first trip." Dan being a teacher, will take pride in the welfare of the schools of Inyo.—Tuolumne Independent.

A MAN in Iowa has invented a new fastening for horse collars. It is lucky the horses' collar does not fasten to a button on the back of his shirt, because if it did, judging from human experience, when it flew off after he had broke his thumb nail trying to crowd it into a new button hole, he would just kick the stuffing out of anything he was hitched to, even if it was a freight car.

THE great iron bridge of the Atlantic and Pacific railroad over the Cañon Diablo, in Arizona, has recently been completed. It is 500 feet long, the cañon being some 240 feet deep. The heighth of the bridge is 240 feet, or 14 feer higher than Bunker Hill monument.

THE Democratic County Convention of Inyo Co. nominated John Crough of Independence for County Clerk, and Daniel Crough of Independence for Superintendent of Schools. A GOOD story is told of a Presbyterian minister who had become mixed up in land speculations. On entering his pulpit recently, he announced to his congregation, at the opening of divine services, that the text would be found in "St. Paul's epistle to the Minnesotians, section 4, range 3 west."

A Sliding Mountain in Oregon.

The government engineers engaged upon the ship canal around the rapids where the Columbia river cuts through the Cascade mountains, and the engineers of the Oregon Railway and Navigation Company, whose railroad runs beside the government canal, have discovered that a point of the mountains, of tremendous height and three miles in extent, is moving down an incline into the river. The fact of a moving mountain is strange, but not incomprehensible. It seems, says an intelligent correspondent of the New York Times, that the great river and the ravines that point to it have cut their way down through a superincumbent mass of basalt into a substratum of sandstone. The sandstone, we will suppose, presents a smooth surface, with an incline towards the river; the river cuts under the basalt into the sandstone, and the natural effect is for the superincumbent basalt, acting like a similar formation of ice in a glacier, to slide down hill.

The same gentleman says, on the authority of Mr. Thielson, engineer in chief of the Western Division of the Northern Pacific Railroad, that when an examination was made a year ago of a disused portage tramway past that point, the track was found to be twisted as much as seven or eight feet out of the true line in some places, caused beyond doubt by the movement of the mountain. It seemed certain to Mr. Thielson that there was a movement of a tremendous mountain spur opposite this piece of road. The correspondent goes on to say:

"It is a fact well known to all river men that above the Cascades, where the river is tranquil, the waters cover a submerged forest, whose trunks still stand with there projecting limbs to attest some wonderful phenomenon. It has been a query in the minds of all as to what convulsion of nature or process of time caused this overflow of waters. Over thirty years ago I saw the dead trunks standing beneath the waves, and the interest in this connection was increased by learning from the Indians that among their traditions was one that ages since the mountains rose precipitously at the river's side, and a great arch of stone spanned the river from shore to shore, and that their canoes passed under it. Tradition further says that in the course of time a great earthquake threw down the arch and blocked the river, causing the cascades as we see them now. It is not often that Indian tradition is so specific in detail. As the records of the aborigines of this region are very transient, it is possible that this story rests on some fact of natural history of not very remote occurrence. Joining tradition and speculation with the discoveries and deductions of science, we must conclude that some convulsion of nature has thrown great masses of rock into the stream sufficient to deaden its flow for eight miles above and to submerge the forests just above the rapids. Mr. Brazee, who has been engineer of the navigation company that owned the Portage road around the falls, informs me that he has watched the movements of the mountain for twenty years, and that it is no myth."

RHEUMATISM is so rare in the earlier years of life as to be hardly ever mentioned by such writers as West and Vogel. Dr. Garden, in the London Practitioner, gives the case of an infant of nine months who caught cold from bathing in cold water. Rheumatism followed, affecting the knee and ankle joints. These were wrapped in cotton, and three grains of salicin thrice daily were prescribed. The patient recovered in a fortnight, without showing any signs of heart complication.

UP in Shasta, Cal., they have a mine called the Afterthought, which is claimed to contain, mixed together in grand confusion, gold, silver, copper, antimony, zinc, sulphur, cinnabar, iron, graphite, etc. The "etc." probably stands for indigo, soap, borax and ivory black.—Virginia Enterprise.

Collecting Taxes from Miners.

It has become a somewhat common custom in the mining regions for people to expect the mining companies to collect debts for them; that is, without absolutely garnisheeing men's wages. They expect the companies to withhold certain sums, or, at least, to remind the men to pay certain debts. This is, of course, not a universal custom, but it is one observed in many places. Another and more common custom noticeable in this connection, is that of collecting poll and other taxes to which non-property holders are liable through the company; that is, the tax collectors expect employers to collect the taxes of their employes, and turn the amounts over to the officials. In many places on this coast this is done not only with mining companies, but with manufacturing establishments.

It is probable, however, that this system has received a check in a decision by Judge Prickett, of Idaho. One of the Wood River papers says that the practice referred to has caused a great deal of ill feeling, and last Summer this ill feeling found expression at Ballion in the refusal of the miners employed there to permit the amount of the poll and hospital taxes to be deducted from their wages. The mine owners, acting upon the advise of James E. Beatty, refused to collect the taxes, and an agreed case was made up and submitted to Judge Prickett at the last term of court, Mr. Beatty appearing for the miners and mine owners, and District Attorney Hawley for the Tax Collector. Mr. Beatty contended that the law under which the Tax Collector is acting is unconstitutional. Judge Prickett decided in favor of the mine owners, and against the Tax Collector. The decision is undoubtedly sound law, but it will cause a radical change and great loss to the treasuries of the various Counties in Idaho. It is said that the loss to Alturas County for this year alone will not be less than $30,000. It seems, however, as if the taxes could be collected from the individuals by the officials without turning their work over to the companies to do it for them. At all events, the miners will get their money in their hands, and not have it paid out for them by others.—Scientific Press.

Light of the Sky.

Captain Abney lately read a paper before the British Association on the light of the sky at high altitudes, based upon observations made in the Alps on the Rifel, at a height of 8,500 feet. His investigations proved that in high altitudes the light of the sky diminishes very much so as to make photography difficult, and that it is only a tenth or a twentieth of that which is found on the surface of the earth. There was a remarkable absence of the rain band spectrum. On the Riffel he only saw it once, and that was during a shower. The solar spectrum was the same on the Riffel as in London. He did not believe that the aqueous vapor was present in the upper regions, at all events in the form in which it exists below. In the red part of the spectrum he found that the benzine and alcohol which had been found to exist in the atmosphere actually increased in strength in the higher regions, and he could only suppose that benzine and alcohol are not of terrestrial formatian but come to us from space. Dr. Glaisher said he had never failed up to five miles in getting a deposition of vapor, and there was no part of the earth's atmosphere probably in which there was no aqueous vapor. At a height of seven miles in a balloon he had seen cirrus clouds still higher, and there was a great difference between the state of the atmosphere in a free baloon and on a mountain side. Professor S. P. Langley, of Allegheny, Pennsylvania, in a paper on the distribution of energy in the solar spectrum, stated that he had investigated the infra-red spectrum at a height of 13,000 feet in a very dry region, and found that it extends very much further than had been mapped heretofore. The wave lengths of the visible parts of the red end of the spectrum are only one-fourth of those in the infra-spectrum, so that three-fourths of the energy were invisible. His observations proved the existance of great gaps in the spectrum, and he was inclined to support Abney's conclusions on the existence of benzine and alcohol in space.—Scientific American.

NERVOUS children often suffer from fear when put to bed alone. No tongue can tell the horrors of a lonesome room to such children. A little delicate boy, whose parents were drilling him to sleep alone, used to cry violently every night, and his father would come in and whip him. He mistook his pertinacity for obstinacy and he thought it his duty to conquer the child's will. One night he said: "Why do you always scream so, when you know you will be punished?" "Oh, father, father!" said the little fellow, "I don't mind your whipping me, if you would stay with me." The father's eyes were open from that moment. He saw that a human being cannot be governed by dead rules, like a plant or an animal.

A SENSATION was created at a funeral at Rochester, Oct. 14. While a methodist minister was preaching a sermon over the remains of John Reynolds a cat jumped out of the coffin and took up a position on the lid. The sexton undertook to remove the animal, when it disappeared within the coffin again. The entire top had to be removed before the animal could be extricated. The wife of the deceased was so excited that she fainted away, and a sister of Reynolds ran out of the church a raving maniac.

At Brigham Young's Grave.

They say that Brigham Young's grave is looking as bare and desolate as a boulevard just now. At first, while her grief was fresh, his widow used to march out there five abreast, and just naturally deluge the grave with scalding tears, and at that time the green grass grew luxuriantly and the pigweed waved in the soft Summer air; but as she learned to control her emotions the humidity of the atmosphere disappeared and grief's grand irrigation failed to give down.

We should learn from this that the man who flatters himself that in marrying a whole precinct during life he is piling up for the future a large invoice of ungovernable woe is liable to get left. The prophet's tomb looks like a deserted buffalo wallow, while his widow has dried her tears and is trying to make a mash on the Utah Commission. Such is life in the Far West, and such the fitting resting place of a red-headed old galvanized prophet who marries a squint-eyed fly-up the-creek, and afterwards gets a special revelation requiring him to marry a female mass meeting. Let us be thankful for what we have instead of yearning for a great wealth of wife. Then the life insurance will not have to be scattered so, and our friends will be spared the humiliating spectacle of a bereft and sorrowing herd of widow, turned loose by the cold hand of death to monkey o'er our tomb.—Bill Nye.

THE latest big tree story comes from Australia. The tree is described as an almond-leaf gum, 430 feet in height, 380 feet to the first branch, and 60 feet in circumference at "some distance from the ground." If that tree continues to grow a few hundred years longer, California will have to take a back seat in the contest for the biggest tree.

JAMES E. PARKER.

THE New York World is energetically following up and making good progress in its exposure of frauds in the building of the Brooklyn bridge. Its reporters are interviewing the persons engaged in its construction, and have greatly embarrassed several of the number, as is gathered from the hesitating and evasive answers given the questions propounded to them. In following out its object, the World has dispatched its reporters into several different States, where parties reside who have heretofore held near relations with the bridge in furnishing granite for its construction, and gaining an accurate knowledge of the inner workings of the ring against whom the frauds are charged.

THE Finnish newspapers record a striking instance of the extent to which the land on the shores of the Gulf of Bothnia is being gradually upheaved. It appears that on June 25, 1755, a land surveyor residing in the parish of Bergo, between the towns of Nikolaistadt and Kasko, made an excavation in the smooth rock at an elevation of two inches above the level of the sea. On being lately measured the present height was found, after a lapse of 127 years, to be six feet five inches above the sea level. Perhaps some phenomenon of this nature is what is happening to the country surrounding Owens Lake.

BRAZIL has just ratified a treaty with China, which opens her doors to the immigration of the Mongols. The Government of Brazil does not propose to take any part in the matter of inviting coolie immigration, but it is presumed the coffee-growers will avail themselves of it to a considerable extent. They are said to be making preparations for the importation of the Chinese in order to try the experiment of utilizing their labor. It is to be hoped they will be satisfied with it, and that the coolies will be so well pleased with this new field of adventure that they will never again entertain a desire to come to the United States.

THE yellow fever appears to have broken out again in Florida with especial virulence. The deaths are increasing, and the people in Pensacola, being cut off from all communication with the surrounding country, are threatened with starvation. One of the saddest cases connected with this epidemic is that of the young wife of the Italian Consul at Pensacola, who survived shipwreck in crossing the Atlantic only to perish by the fever a few days after her arrival. The appeal for aid for sufferers by the scourge ought to meet a generous response.

IN the proper columns of this issue will of course be noted, and muchly read and commented upon, several political speeches from various candidates. THE INDEPENDENT does not propose to discuss any questions arising therefrom. Readers will naturally take them all in, and those to follow, and draw their own conclusions. We may state right here that the same columns are open to anyone, to say what he or they may please, provided it is paid for and that the language used is duly Americanized and suitable for print.

IT is now announced that the gross receipts of the Postoffice Department for the last fiscal year were more than $5,000,000 greater than those of the previous year. Auditor Ela believes that when the returns of expenditures have been ascertained there will be found a net revenue for that year of a million dollars. It now looks as if it will soon be in order for two-cent letter postage.

AND if the comet does raise the temperature so high that one will shrivel up like leather on a red-hot stove, there is a consolation that gives perfect content: there can be no legislation on the subject, and the demagogues can't make an issue out of it for a campaign.

ENGRAVERS are finding it difficult to procure good boxwood. The boxwood forests of Turkey, upon which the bulk of the supply depends, are being wastefully cut, and few new trees are planted.

IN St. Louis one Colonel Slayback, with revolver in hand, called upon the editor of the Post-Dispatch. The editor was in, and the funeral of Colonel Slayback was doubtless largely attended.

THE Tucson Citizen utters this piece of wisdom: "The fact that a man is a good fellow is the poorest kind of recommendation to elect him to an important office."

A COWBOY at Fort Laramie, Wyoming, killed Richard P. Elgin and badly wounded Michael Ryan, and was himself lynched.

THE wheat yield of this year will amount to over 500,000 bushels in the United States.

SOMETHING ABOUT IT.

The French language has a term generally understood by Americans—bête noir. That expression will nearly describe what personal journalism is to us—"a black bear; a bugbear." The editor who verges his personality into his columns goes beyond our idea of a correct and independent newspaper. More especially so if the said editor happens to be a candidate.

It will be understood, moreover, that this paper does not assume the task of advising intelligent men how to vote. Its business is to give the news, so far as it can be obtained in an isolated country without railroad or telegraph, and to fairly represent and support local interests.

It is not and has not been its plan, even by implication, to publish anything derogative to the character of anyone. It will certainly not do so in relation to the candidacy of Capt. J. M. Keeler for the State Assembly.

As a contrast to this evidently fair and square conduct, we will quote some from the Bodie Free Press, as follows:

"Captain Keeler, the Republican candidate for the Assembly, is a gentleman of business capacity."

That may be doubted in this country, but who said anything to the contrary?

"He is temperate in his habits, and is not a bummer and vulgar sidewalk crank."

Who said he was not temperate, and who said he was a bummer, etc.?

"He is a man worthy of the respect and confidence of this whole community; he served in the army and fought on the right side."

Who said he wasn't and didn't?

"What more can the people expect of a candidate for the Legislature?"

Nothing, Mr. Free Press.

"Who is the opponent of Mr. Keeler?"

We will let the Bodie Evening Miner's reply to that slur answer for the present. It says:

"Who is he? Why, James E. Parker, one of the hardest worked men in Inyo County. Who is he? A man who for twelve long years has struggled, and toiled, and by his own indomitable energy has furnished his County with the best mountain paper printed in California. Who is he? A man who, when in the Assembly from this District, secured more effective legislation for the interests of his constituents than all the other representatives from the Distrtct combined, before and since. Who is he? A man who has been for two weeks past, and is now, working sixteen to eighteen hours every day in order to place his business in such shape that he can steal a few days to come to Mono County and meet those people whom he will surely represent in the next California Assembly. Who is he? A man who, in every community where both are equally known, will receive just three votes to Captain J. M. Keeler's one, from all parties. Who is the opponent of Mr. Keeler? As we said before, he is James E. Parker, of Inyo County, who will be in Bodie before the week is out to answer for himself."

OF the 1,447 vessels that passed through the Suez Canal in 1879, 1,444 were British. These figures show that England has a good deal of business that demands the preservation of order in Egypt.

"EVERY man is occasionally what he ought to be perpetually." But is he ever what he ought to be, when he is in the midst of a political campaign as a candidate?

THE London Times publishes a synopsis of some papers on "Tremors of the Earth" by the committee appointed to measure the lunar disturbances of gravity. It is considered proved by the committee that "the land actually sinks and rises under the pressure of the mass of water thrown upon it by the tides the maximum of rise and fall on the Atlantic seaboard reaching five inches. This effect is felt at the bottom of the deepest mine, and may reach for an unknown distance. It follows that the crust of the earth must be of exceeding tenacity, exceeding as a minimum that of granite; and its swayings may be the causes of phenomena hitherto quite unexplained, as, for example, the relation between storm and earthquake." In fact, the earth pants like a living being under the changes always going on above her.

PROF. ROSS and the Danish astronomer whom the World has unearthed at Flatbush, L. I., have a very cool way of pouring contempt upon the old theory—not so very old, either—according to which the sun's heat is kept up, at least in part, by the fall of meteorites and comets upon the central body. They both calmly assert that in time the new comet may be seen to be merged in the sun's light, and that thereafter we shall wait in vain for its reappearance. It is taken as axiomatic that there will be no perceptible increase of heat at the moment of impact. Thus one theory goeth and another cometh, and the scientific man is the maker of them all.

JUST in the nick of time we are in receipt from a firm in Philadelphia of a pamphlet containing a description and samples of several sorts of election goods. A lot of "window books." for list of voter's names are among the wares offerred. A fine frontispiece to the book shows how the operators are supposed to look when they are manipulating such matters. But the slickest thing is the "election stickers." The samples of their wonderful conveniences are simply fine, thin, gummed paper, cut slips—patent "pasters." As the California election law goes, in case of the use of anything of this kind the Boards of Election, upon counting the ballot, are obliged to concentrate their ponderous energy in the labor of removing them and counting the printed name underneath. Page's tape-worm ticket at Vallejo wrought a grand reform in such matters; it caused the framing of the California election law, now generally copied with slight variations by all the Northern States, and it will naturally be followed by the South, where they have had some experience with tissue ballots. The original California law made all ballots uniform, and the intelligent voter was actually compelled to read every name on the ticket, to see whether the candidates were Republicans or Democrats. That was really too bad, and so in '77-8, John F. Swift got up an amendment allowing the parties to adopt a distinctive vignette or heading to their respective tickets. That makes things more convenient, and saves much intellectual effort on the part of the ordinary voter, because he has only to look at the flag, spread-eagle or what-not, and take it straight. The printer who might happen to have his types mixed and get in some other name than those of the regular nominees is guilty of misdemeanor. Such an act should be made a capital offence, because there is no use putting voters to the bother of reading their tickets. As a further provision, this law might be so amended as to prevent "scratching"—it is a good deal of trouble to erase a name and write another. Nevertheless, that is just about what a great many men are going to do this time, and the Republicans will mark up their tickets the most.

THE bridge which is to be erected across the Forth will be one of the greatest scientific achievements of the century. The main girder will be within a few feet of a mile in length. The bridge is to rest on round cylindrical piers, each weighing 16,000 tons, to which must be added 8,000 tons, the estimated pressure on the top of the pier of the superstructure; rolling load, and wind-pressure. This gives a pressure at the base of about 24,000 tons, or about six tons per square foot. The foundation is clay, and is considered excellent. Steel will be used in the construction of the bridge, the amount required being about 42,000 tons, and the estimated cost of the bridge is $7,500,000.

HON. P. REDDY, a Democratic nominee for Senator, arrived in town by the train last evening. He is here for the purpose of arranging for, and canvassing this portion of his district. Mr. Reddy is a man of fine appearance, a forcible and logical speaker, and is well posted on the requirements of the people. We are convinced that he will make this District the best Senatorial representative it has had in very many years.—Expositor, Oct. 13.

Two Chinese were arrested in Philadelphia for gambling. They explained, through a witness, that they were dealers in Chinese products. Certain suspicious-looking cards were records of money deposited, perforated slips of paper were lists of goods sold, watches were on the table so that the proprietors might know when to send their customers home, and dominos was played just for fun. This story was rather elaborate, but the police magistrate accepted it.

A GANG of speculators have bought a large piece of ground north of the boundary line of Washington City, and propose that Congress shall buy it as a site for the new Executive mansion. The old White House is badly delapidated, and all measures for suitably repairing it are defeated by the lobby of these speculators. They spread the reports of malaria and other evils that infest the present site, and by dint of audacity and work may succeed in their efforts.

THE United States Supreme Court, which met on Monday last, had 975 cases on the docket. The end of each session sees twice as many additions as there are clearances to the callendar. Many cases have already become mossgrown with years, with no more prospect of a hearing than in the beginning. To witness the end of a suit in this Court would need the years of the patriarchs.

EX-SECRETARY BLAINE has given $50 to the Benjamin H. Hill monument fund. Accompanying the check was a letter in which he said: "Though politically opposed to Senator Hill, and often engaged in heated controversy with him, our personal relations were always kindly and cordial. I was deeply touched by his sufferings, and by the heroism with which he endured them to the end. I wish to place one wreath upon his grave."

IT becomes a very important question who owns the mortgages on the railroads. Are they residents of this State that they may be taxed, or are they beyond the reach of our tax collectors? It is said that the mortgages far exceed the assessed value of the roads, and that heraafter no railroad will ever pay a cent of taxes because of the mortgages.

A Cheap Man.

It is related of a Brooklyn man that, becoming tired of life, he went to a well-known surgeon and explained his case and added:

"There is no need of throwing my body away. How much money will you give for it, paying the cash over to the Orphan Asylum?"

"Let me feel of your skull," replied the surgeon, as he pushed up his sleeves; "the price will depend altogether on your head."

He thumped, pressed, knocked and twisted the man's head around for two or three minutes and then remarked:

"Can't agree to give over half a dollar, my friend."

"You can't!"

"Can't possibly do it. I have given your skull a close examination, and I find it almost empty. You haven't brains enough there to make a muss on a clean table!"

The cheap man isn't dead yet. He is living to be revenged on that surgeon. —Wall Street Daily News.

THERE is a gentleman living in Coweta County, Ga., who has been working a gold mine 40 years, and for the last three years without any other business, and who has carried out all the dirt from his pits in a sack on his back. One of his pits, he says, is 65 feet deep. Although he has found gold, he has never realized one dime of profit from all his labor, but is yet at work, and sure of success. The same gentleman drove a yoke of steers from here to the State of Arkansas to look out the country, spent a few months looking, has worn out his wagon, had a new one built, was not satisfied and drove the same yoke of steers back to Coweta.—Atlanta Constitution.

THEY say that Swinburne is coming over to give readings and Huxley to give lectures, and that Thomas Hughes feels more hopeful of his American Rugby and is coming back again, and that Robert Browning has had that red cotton night-cap pulled down over his eyes by an American lady and is coming to Philadelphia to settle down; so by and by we will have so much English culture, and the culture will have so much of our money, it will be hard to tell which is which any more.

INTERMARRIAGE between whites and blacks is a penitentiary offense in Texas, and those who break the law usually take care that there shall be no evidence of any ceremony. But Eldred, a Dallas lawyer, made a public wedding on taking a mulatto for his wife, and in consequence is now in jail awaiting trial.

THE Bridgeport Union pledges Mono County to Captain Keeler if the Captain will get away with Jim Parker in Inyo County. When we reflect that Mr. Parker will get about three votes in Inyo where Captain Keeler will receive one, the pledge of the Union becomes silly.—Bodie Miner.

NEW ADVERTISEMENTS.

A CARD.

To The Independent:

The following letter of indorsement was written by Mr. M. Carey, Superintendent of the Indian Queen Mining and Milling Co., and pays a high compliment to the Republican candidate for County Clerk. It is furnished for publication at the request of friends of Mr. Cook, and entirely without his knowledge or consent. It was addressed to a prominent business man of this place.

REPUBLICAN.

Bishop Creek, October 18.

SUP'T'S OFFICE, I. Q. M. & M. Co.,
BENTON, MONO CO., CAL.,
October 5, 1882.

——— ———, Esq., Bishop Creek, Inyo County, California:

DEAR SIR—I am pleased to learn of the nomination, by the Republican Party of your County, of Mr. T. T. Cook, for the office of County Clerk. The selection is good. There is none more efficient and competent in the County than Mr. Cook, having few equals in business qualifications. This I am pleased to attest to from my own personal knowledge, he having had charge of the business of my office for the past six months, and left with a clean record. I hope the 8th of November next will see him placed in a position wherein he can show his sterling worth. It would give me pleasure—were I only a citizen of your County—to render him more substantial aid in the coming election than mere good will. Very truly yours, M. CAREY.

To the Editor of The Independent:

You will please give place to the following: In answer to inquiries by my fellow citizens, I will emphatically state that I am running for the office of County Treasurer, wholly and solely for myself, and not for John B. White or any other man. I want the office to assist me in supporting my large family of small children. If elected I would have to appoint a Deputy. Mr. White would make an efficient one, but I do not know as he would accept the position, and I know he would scorn to do so, if any of my supporters objected to his acceptance of the same. And I would further say, if any of my fellow citizens want to make his or any other man's appointment, or no appointment, a condition of their support, why, then I'm not their man. I want their Suffrage, unpledged in any way, only that of faithfully performing the duties of the office. No high-minded man would have it on other terms. I believe I am entitled to an election at their hands, but of this they must be the judge.

A. N. BELL.

Oak Creek Mills, October 20, 1882.

INDEPENDENT CANDIDATE.

BY THE REQUEST OF MANY, BOTH DEMOCRATS, and Republicans I hereby announce myself as an Independent Candidate for the office of County Superintendent, of Common Schools. And do respectfully solicit the support of the voters in this County at the ensuing election.

A CARD.

The report being circulated, obviously for political purposes, "that I have a large amount of money deposited with banks, while I am paying taxes on a very limited amount of property," has no foundation in truth and I emphatically pronounce it false. I have never, in this County, been so fortunate as to have money to deposit to my credit with any bank.

A Card.

TO THE VOTERS OF INYO COUNTY: It having come to me that reports are being circulated to the effect that I have promised, in the event of my election to the office of Sheriff, the appointment of certain men to the positions of Under Sheriff and Deputies, I desire to say that all such talk is absolutely false and without the shadow of foundation. Although satisfied that my friends do not for a moment credit such statements, I desire to place myself right before the general public in the matter.

Respectfully,

S. G. GREGG.

n645t1

FOR THE ASSESSORSHIP.

TO THE VOTING PUBLIC: My friends and the public generally are hereby reminded that I am before the people for election to the office of County Assessor, and will be thankful for the votes of all citizens, regardless of party. Not having the means to canvass the County. I take this method of addressing the taxpayers, well knowing that all are familiar with my official record during the several terms which I held the position. Yours, respectfully,

J. F. DILLON.

THE NUMBER.—The completed Great Register, with the supplement annexed, contains 721 names. The County Clerk requests us to call the attention of the election officers—Inspectors and Judges—to the names on the last page of the book, the supplemental part, when looking over the list to find a voter's name. The names are numbered consecutively, however, and if the voter sings out his proper voting number there will be no trouble in finding his full description—name, age, nativity, when registered and if married how he likes it so far as he has got.

INCORPORATED.—We quote the following news item from an exchange. It refers to Mr. Griswold's new mining and furnace operation, but the company has not as yet filed the said articlss with the County Clerk here: "The Montezuma Mining and Smelting Company has filed articles of incorporation. The projectors of the enterprise propose to operate mines and work ores in Inyo County, California, with a capital of $1,000,000. Directors—Jos. H. Redmond, W. J. Gray, James Madison, A. M. Stetson and A. H. Griswold."

"MOUNTAIN HARRY."—Henry Carberry, the well-known old mountaineer, met with a rather rough deal a few days ago. He was traveling from Darwin to Bishop, on his war pension business. While in camp on the road between Darwin and the Coso Station he was stung in the face by a scorpion. He became blind and suffered excrutiating agony, alone and without water for two days and nights, until picked up by a passing freight team and taken to Lone Pine. Dr. Colleau fixed him up and he has come out all right.

BIG YIELD.—Dr. W. H. George informs us that a gentleman at Bishop cultivated 2,373 pounds of potatoes, from twelve pounds of seed, on a piece of ground 2x5 rods in extent. This is at the rate of over nineteen tons per acre. The variety is called the "white star," and has but recently been introduced in this valley. Some of our exchanges have been "blowing" about a yield of eighteen tons of potatoes on a single acre of ground in one of the coast Counties. Inyo goes them one ton better.

JUSTICE'S COURT.—In Justice Parker's Court, last Monday, on complaint of O. K. Berry, of Deep Springs District, John Chastine was fined in the sum of $50 for assault committed upon the person of Mr. Berry. On another charge, Chastine was placed under bonds of $500 to keep the peace, N. Rhine and A. Parker becoming his surities.

FOR SUPERVISOR.—A report from Thos. E. Jones, of Round Valley, states as follows: "A meeting was held at Bishop Creek on Saturday, the 14th instant, at which Mr. A. Spencer was unanimously nominated for Supervisor." Further on in his note, Mr. Jones says that he will send in time for next week a full report of the proceedings.

BEVERIDGE.—Supt, McEvoy was in town yesterday, with reports of a clean-up from Keynot ore. Out of 120 tons of ore worked the result was $8,000 gold bullion. After a few days spent in repairing the mill he will set the stamps going again on Keknot ore, which is being delivered at the mill by the three pack trains.

POLITICAL.—In the advertising columns will be found the official notice of the coming of the candidates and campaigners—Gov. Woods for Congress and Col. E. M. Gibson for Railroad Commissioner. The Court House will doubtless be crowded with auditors.

INDEPENDENT.—The card of J. W. Symmes, announcing himself as an independent candidate for School Superintendent, will be found among the individual political proclamations of this issue.

SALE.—A sixth interest in the McNally irrigating ditch is advertised for sale at auction by the Administrator of Samuel Turner's estate. See notice elsewhere.

SCHOOL.—The school at Bishop Creek will open for the Winter term next Monday, with Mrs. M. E. Thresher and Miss M. E. Temple as teachers in charge.

CLERKS in the several departments at Washington City have a high appreciation of the ballot. They go home to vote whenever an important election comes off, no matter how far their place of residence may be from the national capital. In some instances this proves annoying to the clerk, since the expenses of travel have to be borne from his own purse. In addition, he is required to pay Jay Hubbell's political assessments, which makes it a little oppressive for a man on a small salary. There are only two or three elections in October, so that few Government employes absent themselves from their desks. In November, however, there will be a grand stampede of these people for home to vote.

"What is a yacht?" we inquired of a long gaunt coddler, who was lounging about the wharf. "Wot's a yot?" said the fisherman. "Well you gets any sort of craft you please, and fill her up with lickers and seegyars, and get yer frens on board, and have a high old time,—and that's a yot." We thanked him with fervor, for we had long been trying to find out what a yacht really was.

IT is among the political rumors of the day that Mr. Estee has made a bargain, in the event of his election, to lend his aid toward making Mr. Page United States Senator.—Sacramento Record-Union.

A BROOKLYN boy wrote a composition on the subject of the Quakers, whom he described as a sect who never quarrelled, never got into a fight, never clawed each other, and never jawed back. The production contained a postscript in these words: "Pa's a Quaker but ma isn't."

ILLINOIS has a State Board of Equalization, with powers and duties in reference to the assessments of railroads precisely similar to those provided in the Constitution of this State, yet they have never thought of bringing its authority into question.

THE appeal from the decision of United States Judges Sawyer and Field, in the railroad tax cases, will be heard within the next thrse months, and it seems to be a very general opinion that the decision will be reversed.

THE number of yellow fever cases at Brownsville since the beginning of the epidemic is 1,900. The number of deaths is 107.

COURTESIES.—Judge Conklin and Hon. J, J. DeHaven were handsomely treated in Willows. Our townsman, Henry M. Isaacs is an old acquaintance and a former townsman of the Republican candidate for Lieutenant-Governor. Although a Democrat, who has always stood true to the principles which he believes are right, Mr. Isaacs extended all the hospitality in his power to the distinguished gentlemen. He gave them an excellent dinner at the Phœnix Hotel, where nearly one hour was pleasantly and luxuriously spent. After the meeting in the evening, Mrs. W. K. Pendergriss invited the gentlemen to an oyster supper at her restaurant. The invitation was accepted and the party was of the most pleasant character. Messrs. Conklin and DeHaven were well pleased with their visit to Willows. —Willows Journal.

THE Reno Gazette very truthfully says: We like to hear a man refuse to take his home paper and all the time sponge on his neighbors for the reading of it. We like to hear a man complain when asked to subscribe for his home paper that he takes more papers than he reads now, and then go around and borrow his neighbor's or loaf around until he gets all the news from it. We like to see a man run his home paper down as not worth taking, and every now and then beg the editor for a favor in the editorial line. We like to see a mechanic or merchant refuse to advertise in his home paper and then try to get a share of the trade the newspaper brings to town. We like to see this—it looks economical, thrifty, progressive and cheeky.

THE grass is coming up rapidly, and with ten days' ordinary favorable weather there will be good sheep feed. The ground, in some places, is already green with new grass. The present prospects are favorable for more rain, and if it comes it will send vegetation along booming. Mr. Dusy informs us that considerable Egyptian corn that had been cut, and left lying on the ground, has been injured by the rains. He says that the growth of vegetation is very rapid in his neighborhood, and that corn will sprout and grow three inches in a single night.—Fresno Expositor.

GENERAL CROOK has issued instructions to military officers in his department looking to the gradual establishment of civil government among the reservation Indians. He finds among the Indians much distrust of the whites, particularly of the soldiers, and urges upon officers the necessity of strict justice in all their dealings with the Indians, promising they will be held to strict account of their acts.

Gypsum.

We have received from Arizona, a specimen of gypsum in a thin sheet that led its finder to suppose he was sending a piece of isinglass. Our correspondent states that there is plenty of the substance, some of the sheets being 20 inches square. It is really gypsum, and is not of a variety that has any commercial value in this market. The dealers will not buy it, saying it does not make a good plaster. Where this is found, if the prospector will look and see if he can find the amorphous kind, he may get something of value.

The translucent crystalline varieties are known as selenite, (from "selene," the moon in allusion to the characteristic soft luster); the finer, granular, subtranslucent, massive kinds, as alabaster, and fibrous varieties as satin spar. Heated, the mineral gives off its contained water, and becoming opaque falls to a powder, which has the power if moistened, of rapidly setting or assuming again the solid form. Upon this property depends the most extensive application of the mineral in the arts, as plaster of paris is made from it by heating and subsequently heating it into a fine powder. It is also used as a fertilizer, and in the manufacture of glass and porcelain. Alabaster being of greater beauty and easily carved on account of its softness, is extensively used for ornamental purposes.

That variety known as amorphous is the best. It looks like a stearine candle or alabaster.

This and the variety that looks like marble are the kinds that will sell. That which comes in sheets like the specimen we refer to will be useful in Arizona some day for a fertilizer, but at present it is of no use.

It is well for miners to be reminded that the law does not recognise gypsum as a mineral within the meaning of the Mining Act. On the question being once put to him, the Commissioner of the General Land Office decided that lands of the public domain, containing deposits of gypsum, which is of similar formation to limestone, are not subject to disposal under the mining act. It was thought that as limestone underlies a great portion of the territory west of the Missouri river, to reserve such lands as mineral would entirely prevent its developement for agricultural purposes.—Scientific Press.

"HOME, SWEET HOME."—This beautiful ballad, which is a household treasure, was written by John Howard Payne in an attic of the Palais Royal, in Paris, when the author was at the point of starvation. Payne was literally without a home himself, and felt, in his wanderings through the world, how desolate it was to be without one. It was this reflection, doubtless, which inspired him to compose the touching verses which have made his name a pleasant memory. He was born in New York in 1792, and died in Tunis, June 5, 1852. His remains, therefore, repose on a foreign soil, but they will not be permitted to remain there, for a movement is on foot to have them brought back to his native country and interred in the beautiful Oak Hill Cemetery of Georgetown, near Washington City. Mr. Corcoran, the wealthy banker of Washington, has expressed an intention of defraying the expenses of removing the remains. When this is done, the next question to be agitated will be the erection of a monument over the poet's grave.

THERE has seldom been a Sunday prohibition law that the genius of the drinker was not able by strategy to circumvent. The reader has doubtless heard of many curious instances of this kind, but, perhaps nothing more novel than the device adopted in Brooklyn a few Sundays ago to avoid the force of the Excise law. A building was opened called the "Church of Humanity," where the knowing ones were invited to contribute to a "building fund." Every five cents subscribed entitled the donor to a red ticket, by way of certificate, which, on being presented at the bar, entitled the holder to one lager.

Warm Milk a Health Restorer.

Considerable has been lately said in medical journals concerning the value of warm milk as a remedial agent in certain diseases. The Christian at Work, referring to an interesting article on this subject which lately appeared in the London Milk Journal, states, on the authority of Dr. Benjamin Clarke, that in the East Indies warm milk is is used to a great extent as a specific for diarrhea. A pint every four hours will check the most violent diarrhea, stomach-ache, incipient cholera, and dysentery. The milk should never be boiled, but only heated sufficiently to be agreeably warm, not to hot to drink. Milk which has been boiled is unfit for use. The writer gives several instances in arresting the disease, among which is the following:

"It has never failed in curing in six or twelve hours, and I have tried it, I should think, fifty times. I have also given it to a dying man who had been subject to dysentery eight months, latterly accompanied by one continued diarrhea, and it acted on him like a charm. In two days his diarrhea was gone; in three weeks he became a hale, hearty man; and now nothing that may hereafter occur will shake his faith in hot milk. A writer has also communicated to the Medical Times and Gazette a statement of the value of milk in twenty-six cases of typhoid fever, in every one of which its value was apparent. It checks diarrhea, and nourishes and cools the body. People suffering from diseases need food quite as much as those in health, and much more so in certain diseases where there is a rapid waste of the system. Frequently all ordinary food, in certain diseases, is rejected by the stomach, and even loathed by the patient; but nature, ever beneficient, has furnished food that in all diseases is beneficial—some directly curative. Such food is milk." The writer in the journal last quoted, Dr. Alexander Yale, after giving particular observations upon the point above mentioned, its action in checking diarrhea, its nourishing properties, and its action in soothing the body, says: "We believe that milk nourishes in fever, promotes sleep, wards off delirium, soothes the intestines, and, in fine, is the sine qua non in typhoid fever."

We have lately tested the value of milk in scarlet fever, and learn that it is now recommended by the medical faculty in all cases of this often distressing children's disease. Give all the patient will take, even during the period of greatest fever. It keeps up the strength of the patient, acts well upon the stomach, and is in this way a blessed thing in sickness.

A Cheap Oration.

There is yet living in Central Michigan a lawyer who, fifteen or sixteen years ago, was waited on by a committee from a small village for the purpose of engaging him to deliver a Fourth of July oration. When they asked his price he said that he considered $25 cheap enough.

"Mercy on me," declared the Chairman, "but we can't pay no such price as that! That must be for a regular Henry Clay oration."

"Well, yes. I think it will compare favorably with anything Henry got off."

"Oh! but we can't stand it—we must have a cheaper one."

"How cheap?"

"Not over $5. We will give you $5, your dinner and all the lemonade you can drink for the cheapest oration in your head."

"I'll do it," replied the lawyer, and the money was paid him on the spot.

He was on hand on the glorious day, and by and by the procession moved to the grove, the orator took the stand and was introduced, and without any fooling around he walked to the front and said:

"Fellow-countrymen: We whipped England twice and Mexico once. We are a free people. This is the glorious Fourth. 'Give 'em Hail Columbia' and go in for a good time—the end."

He had given them a $5 oration, and every soul in the crowd except one old woman was perfectly satisfied. She followed the orator around until she had cornered him, and then expressed her disgust by saying:

"Seems to me that if you had really desired to please the crowd you wouldn't have chopped that off without a single word about Noah's ark or the battle of Bunker Hill."

A RATHER unusual case of poisoning by nicotine is remarked upon by the Paris medical journals. The victim, a man in the prime of life, had been cleaning his pipe with a clasp-knife, and with this he accidentally cut his finger subsequently; he wound, however, being of a trivial nature, no attention was paid to it. But, five or six hours later, the cut finger grew painful and became much swollen, the inflammation rapidly spreading to the arm and shoulder, and giving such intense pain to the patient as to cause him to take to his bed. Medical assistance was called and the ordinary remedies proved ineffectual. The sick man, questioned as to the manner in which he cut himself, explained the usage to which his pocket-knife had been applied, adding that he had omitted to wipe it after cleaning the pipe. The case was now understood, and, it becoming alarming, removal to the hospital followed. There the doctors decided amputation of the arm to be the only hope of saving the patient's life, and this was immediately done.

A MAN living near Shasta, whose general truthfulness is vouched for by the Courier, declares that his dog fell down an abandoned shaft and was taken out alive after being entombed for fifty-seven days without food or water.

IN order to prevent the skin from discoloring after a blow or a fall, take a little dry starch or arrowroot, and merely moisten it with cold water, and lay it on the injured part. This must be done immediately, so as to prevent the action of the air upon the skin. However, it may be applied some hours afterwards with effect. I learned this when resident in France. It may already be known here, but have met with none among my own acquaintances who seem to have heard of it. Raw meat is not always at hand, and some children have an insurmountable repugnance to let it be applied. I have always made use of the above when my children meet with an accident, and find that it keeps down swelling, and cleanses and facilitates the healing of scratches, when they happen to fall on the gravel in the garden.

INDEPENDENCE, CAL.:

JAMES E. PARKER.

GEN. CROOK has been looking into affairs in Arizona closely and has issued an order which shows plainly that the whites of the Territory, including the military, in his opinion, are to blame for the recent Indian troubles. He instructs the officers under him to deal justly with the Indians, and never to respond to requests for the use of force against them until thew have assured themselves that the Indians are in the wrong. Traders, agents and white rascals generally have no doubt stirred up the Indians to hostility in Arizona, as they have done everywhere else.

FURTHER reports tend to confirm the news of the massacre of the Egyptians at Soudan. According to the latest private advices from Khartoum the Egyptians are preparing for defense by throwing up forts, digging ditches, etc. Their prospects are desperate, the garrison being composed of only 1,000 men, while the prophet will lead the assault at the head of 6,000 men.

THE Great Register of Mono County contains 1,721 names. That of Inyo County contains just an even thousand —less 721.—Bodie Free Press.

That must leave Inyo County with only 279 voters. "Cleave" is simply immense when it comes right down to figures.

ESTIMATES have been prepared for the pay and mileage of the members of the Forty-eighth Congress. There will be 325 members and 8 delegates. For their pay there has been asked $1,665,000, and $25,000 for contestants; for mileage $125,000 is estimated, making a total of $1,815,000.

IT is announced that surveying will commence in the next thirty days to definitely locate the proposed "Bee Line" railroad from San Diego to a connection with the Sonora road from Guaymas. The route is across the northern portion of Lower California and Sonora.

INQUIRY into the recent massacre at Alexandria reveals the fact that it was ordered by Arabi Pasha; that Taulba Pasha was sent for and abused a notable who had been seen to protect and save the lives of certain Christians during the massacre.

THE eloquent, epegramatic epistle of citizen Tom Goodale, elsewhere, will not have much effect in this County in influencing votes against Pat Reddy. It will be noted that we can not, even now, tell whether Mr. Rice is either a rancher, miner, merchant or what-not.

THERE are 42,000,000 acres of land in California still belonging to the United States, 20,000,000 of which are suitable for agricultaral purposes.

THE new Minister from Japan arrived at Washington Saturday evening in 22 days and 9 hours from Yokohama—the quickest time on record.

A TYPHOON destroyed the greater part of Manilla, Phillippine Islands, Sept. 29th, and beached thirteen vessels.

THE President has accepted another 25 miles of the Northern Pacific Railroad in Montana.

BAKER Pasha has been officially appointed to the command of the new Egyptian army.

THE Bey of Tunis and France have concluded a mutually satisfactory treaty.

A SINGULAR story comes from Washington's old home at Mount Vernon. Recently an old clock, which was bought by Washington more than a century ago and has stood for many years in what was known as the "River Room," broke its silence by distinctly striking, it is said, three times. The superintendent of the place says the old clock has not been wound up for more than forty years. In fact, many of the works had been carried away by relic-hunters. The colored servants refused to enter the room, deeming the striking the work of the General's ghost.

WE had the pleasure to-day of meeting Mr. Joseph Wasson, of Mono County, who has been visiting his sister, Mrs. McClure, who resides in the southern portion of the County. Mr. Wasson has been one of Mono's efficient Representatives for several terms in the California Assembly.—L. A. Express, Oct. 19.

BOSTON Transcript: Says Mr. Spurgeon: "The devil does not care for your dialectics and electric homilectics, German objectives and subjectives." His sulphurous majesty certainly has the sympathy of a large share of humanity, in this regard at least.

SAID Tom Marshall to a man whose wife he disliked: "Bill, your wife is an ugly woman!" "Well," said Bill, flushing up, "that's her privilege." "Yes," said Tom, "but she abuses the privilege."

A DISTINCTION without a difference: Brown—"Did you say, sir, that I could lie as fast as a horse can trot? Fogg—"No, sir, I simply said that few horses could trot as fast as you can lie." Brown—"Oh."

A SQUARE APOLOGY.

Instead of some "leading article" THE INDEPENDENT man desires to state the simple fact that almost innumerable matters extraneous to newspaper work has occupied the attention of himself and the whole small force during the entire week. It might have been better for him had he concluded to use this issue to some purpose in his own behalf, politically, but he has determined to even forego all that. His trouble is to get matters so fixed that he can leave for Bodie next Monday, which he intends to do.

SHOULD THE INDEPENDENT fall under the notice of any victim of caucus manipulation, or one whose political aspirations may, in any way, have been nipped in the bud by the "bosses," he may experience a sort of grim satisfaction in reading the following from the Detroit Free Press. It is quite funny to those who have no "sore spots":

"Gentlemen, this caucus will now come to order, and by your leave I will act as Chairman until a bigger man is appointed."

The people, of course, were dumbfounded, but Daniel felt as if he was once more on the heath of the "Old Eighth Ward," and he continued:

"Gentlemen, we have met to nominate three delegates, and it will be in order for somebody to mention the name of Deacon Blank as as the first."

Nobody did, and Daniel's dander began to rise.

"Ah! This is a cut-and-dried affair, then, is it?" he roared, as he gave his hat another slam. "However, I pronounce the Deacon elected, and if anybody—"

Here one of the members arose to make an explanation, or to ask for one, but Daniel declared him out of order, and cleared the room and adjourned the meeting. At the door, as he was going out, he met the Deacon, and giving his hand a wring, he enthusiastically cried:

"I've carried the caucus for ye, Deacon, and the opposition has been mashed so flat that a dozen elections won't wake 'em up. 'Rah! Whoop. It's myself that can pull a candidate through or die a-trying!"

THE Railroad is coming right along. Capt. Keeler reports that they have some 600 men employed and work, surveying and grading has progressed so far as Benton.

Another Overland Road.

Next Wednesday the last spike will be driven connecting the Atchison Topeka and Santa Fé road with the Sonora Railway, completing a through route to Guaymas, on the Gulf of California. A silver spike will be driven, and the day will be celebrated in the most enthusiastic manner. The Mexican Central, pushing towards the City of Mexico, also belongs to the Boston people. When this is completed, the gap of four hundred miles, from San Diego to the southern border of Arizona, to connect with the Sonora road, and the extension of the California Southern from Colton to the Needles, will only remain to complete the southern system of the Atchison, Topeka and Santa Fé Company. This will probably be accomplished within the next three years. In the meantime the Southern Pacific will build short-line connections, and roads from Nevada, Utah and Colorado will no doubt reach connections somewhere in the vicinity of the Needles. A narrow gauge along the coast is also creeping both northward and southward, and it is possible that a few years will see this line extending along the ocean from San Francisco to Los Angeles, and perhaps to San Diego. It is only a matter of a few years when all the important lines affecting Southern California will be completed.—Los Angeles Express, Oct. 23.

THE existence of a prehensile tree in certain islands of the Pacific is reported by Lieutenant Houghton. The branches of the tree send out long, slender tendrils, which touch the ground without taking root and twine about any objects within reach. These tendrils contract after a time so that they do not touch the ground, and in this way they often lift objects of considerable weight around which they have become coiled. The tree seems to be allied to the Banyan, which sends tender fibers from its branches down to the ground, where they eventually become rooted and form new stems, which have the same function; a single tree thus gradually extending into a complete forest, in which the trunks are united to each other by the branches.

THEODORE T. COOK has been nominated for the office of County Clerk of Inyo County. Mr. Cook, who was born in San Francisco, is a thoroughly competent young gentleman and will do the office and himself credit. He is the son of Mr. Cook of the pioneer banking firm of Palmer, Cook & Company, the men who in the early days of California assisted the early pioneers of this State and achieved such an enviable reputation for their business integrity and generosity. Theodore Cook, the nominee for Clerk, was a bookkeeper in the stock business in San Francisco for years. We congratulate the Republicans of Inyo on their choice.—San José Evening News.

ALTHOUGH the press as a rule scoffs in a lofty way at Henry George's theory that private ownership of the land is the bottom cause of the unequal distribution of wealth which results in keeping the great mass of mankind in poverty, the working men of the East show a strong inclination to agree with him. Mr. George arrived in New York from Liverpool the other day and was welcomed by an immense crowd, and he has already received invitations to address labor organizations in that city, Washington and elsewhere.

AN incident at a French medical examination: Professor—What would you administer to a person who had swallowed a large dose of arsenic? Candidate—Extreme unction. He passed.

For State Senator.

BIG PINE, Oct. 25.

INYO INDEPENDENT:—The question is often asked in this county, "Who is G. F. Rice?" From an acquaintance extending over a quarter of a century I think I can truthfully answer the question. He is a temperate, honest and unassuming man, with the intelligence to perceive and courage to do the right. Without intolerance, he maintains his own opinions with dignity and vigor. Without ostentation, he opposes the aggressions of monopoly in any and every form. He is opposed to all subsidies and special privileges, believing them wrong in principle and unjust in results. He believes that all property should be taxed according to its value, whether it be the palace of the rich or the hovel of the poor. He believes that industry, sobriety and education are the best foundation for good government. Manly and upright in all the affairs of life, earnest in the discharge of all its duties, as a man and a citizen he is the peer of any, and will stand the "Jeffersonian test"—honest and capable.

NEW ADVERTISEMENTS.

A CARD.

Since I have made my public announcement as an independent candidate for the office of County Sup't Com. Schools, I find that I am censured on the ground that if I wanted the office or was willing to accept of the nomination that I should have come before the Convention. I have only to say that had it not been for an unforeseen occurrence in the proceedings of the Republican Convention that my name would have been placed before that body for the nomination of School Sup't. It was in this wise: At different times for a number of days previously to the day of the Convention, a few of my friends who knew better about my prospects for getting the nomination for the office of Assessor (for which I was aspiring) than I did myself, plainly told me that I really had no show to get the nomination, and advised me to abandon the idea, for they wanted me for the Republican nominee for School Sup't. And on the day of the Convention, between the hours of 1 and 2 o'clock P. M., Mr. Connelly, in the presence of Mr. Chalfant, says to me: "We want you for the office of School Sup't, and I think you do not stand any show for the nomination for Assessor." I then told him that I would withdraw my name, or, in other words, would not let it come before the Convention for nomination for Assessor, and promised to see Mr. Kispert, the only person that I had ever authorized to place my name before the Convention for the nomination for Assessor, and tell him that I had withdrawn, which I did as soon as the Convention assembled; after which promise on my part, Mr. Connelly gave me to understand that he would place my name before the Convention for the nomination of School Sup't, but, as all are aware, Mr. Connelly withdrew from the Convention, and my name was in consequence not brought before that body, as I confidently expected it would have been. Nevertheless, Mr. Ezra Goodale would have placed my name in nomination if the business of the Convention had not been rushed through as fast as it was, for he left his seat and came to me, and when he had received my consent, returned to his seat, and before he had time to announce my name the present nominee (Mr. Groves) had paid his $5, and the motion wss put whereby he was made the nominee for School Sup't, the Chairman not having asked the usual question if there were any further nominations. All the foregoing I can prove if any person so desires. I also wish to correct an erroneous opinion that is and has been in circulation, to the effect that a person must hold a first-grade certificate in order to be eligible to the office of County Sup't of Com. Schools. There is nothing in the Constitution of California to that effect, and there has not been anything in the statutes of this State to that effect since its repeal over eight years ago. And though justified by the foregoing facts, I have only yielded to the emphatic solicitations of some of the best citizens of both parties to come before the public again as the long-tried and many-times-approved candidate for the office of County Sup't of Common Schools. J. W. SYMMES.

INYO INDEPENDENT.

INDEPENDENCE, CAL.:
SATURDAY, OCTOBER 28.....1882

PERSONAL MOVEMENTS.—We had the pleasure of calls from several old Inyoites during the week. Mr. Geo. T. Hawley, the San Francisco merchant and principal owner of the mill at Keeler City, accompanied by Supt. Wheeler, were among the number. Mr. Hawley made this trip to Inyo via. the C. & C. road, from thence in a buggy, accompanied by his wife, who enjoyed the trip famously. We understand that Mr. Wheeler has perfected arrangements with the Company whereby he will continue working the mill on ore from the Palma....Capt. J. G. Messic, well known in this County from his long career as Superintendent of the old company's works at Panamint, suddenly dropped in the other night, and was warmly greeted by many old friends. The Captain has a fine home in Santa Clara, but is bent on some good business schemes here and in Mono....Chris. Crohn, after having purchased a new home in Lake County, has returned to Cerro Gordo, where he will look after his mining interests for a few months more....Steve. Gregg and Johny Irwin have been "doing" all southern Inyo, fell bent on politics....Sher. Stevens "took in" Bishop Creek and Round Valley, on the same lay, and now Johny Crough has gone up there....'Ted' Cook, accompanied by Constable Geo, Drake, was around here and Lone Pine making new friends and acquaintances. ....Sheriff Smith is on an election tour to the southward...."Pete" or rather J. B. Swearengen and wife have been here for a week or more, detained by the serious illness of Miss Josephine Hughes. She is now rapidly recovering.

PERSONAL.—S. D. Woods, Esq., was in town on Wednesday last, on his return from Deep Spring Mining District and the regions roundabout, where he had spent some ten days in an examination of the mining propositions of that section. Mr. Woods came here April last for the purpose of making a close and critical examination of this country in the interest of parties who desire to invest here if propositions are found which will warrant. He has spent his time since in saddle and camp, not only carefully inspecting points easily accessible, but penetrating remote and not often visited regions. He expressed himself as greatly pleased with many features of this country and said that the more he sees the more he is impelled to think this a most remarkable mineral region which must have a sure and brilliant future when the railroad shall bring it into close communication with the outside world. Mr. W. has made extended visits into Death Valley, the Mojave Desert, and the mountainous districts lying in the south and east of the County, and has become very familiar with that portion of the country. He is now making a patient examination of the remaining portions of the County and says he feels sure that he shall ere long find what he wants. Articles from his pen are found from time to time in the San Francisco Chronicle, for which paper he notes down the features of the country as they strike the tourist eye, leaving to his reports made to his principals his opinion of the material resources and value of the County as a field for investment.

A SINGULAR SHOOTING.—In the entire absence of any report direct from the scene, we can only give the following brief mention of a somewhat remarkable accident, in which Mr. S. L. McNaughton, of the Belleville and Independence Stage Line received about as close call for his life as can well be imagined. "Dick," as he is generally known, was on Sunday evening last just arising from the supper table, at the residence of Mrs. Clausen, in Benton, when a bullet cracked through the window and lodged in his neck. As is said, it struck just above the right clavacle, or collar bone, passed around in the flesh on the back part of his neck and lodged on the left side just under the skin, where it was extracted. The wound is serious enough, but is not considered dangerous. His escape from instant death seems almost miraculous. Report says that a young lady present would certainly have received the ball except that for the instant Mr. McNaughton happened to be between her and the window. The missile, it transpired, came from a pistol in the hands of one of two Chinamen who were fighting in the street. We have not heard what was done with the heathen, but are very much mistaken in the temper of the people of Benton if they (the said Chinamen) shall ever again be able to shoot much.

ARRIVED.—Mr. W. T. Field and family arrived here from Texas last Thursday. The gentleman is general manager and one of the contractors for the Caliente and Independence mail line. Mr. Field intends to make this place his residence and general headquarters. We are glad to state that he has good reason to believe that the Department will soon authorize him to run direct to the railroad at Mojave instead of by the present tedious and uselessly roundabout way. He intends to draw off the buckboards and cart business altogether, and put on eight light five-passenger "jerkey" wagons. He intends running by the old route via. Darwin and the east side of the lake, and thinks that the stages will arrive here about noon instead of about ten hours later as at present. Mr. Field is accompanied by Capt. McLamore, who will act as general agent of the road.

FOR CLERK.— Although Mr. Cook is making a good effort now, he will not, nor do we believe that he can, expect to defeat Johny Crough for County Clerk for the ensuing term. Both are good men, undoubtedly; but Mr. Crough has in his time as an Inyo boy made so many friends in his work that no one can defeat him this time, whatever may happen in the future.

POLITICAL MEETING

At the Court House Last Wednesday Evening.

In accordance with the published announcement that Messrs. Woods and Gibson would address the citizens of Independence and vicinity last Wednesday evening, people came from a distance of twenty miles. When the hour for speaking arrived, the distinguished speakers had not put in an appearance. Consequently the meeting was not called to order until after the arrival of the stage from the south, the supposition prevailing that Messrs. Woods and Gibson would come on that conveyance; and much disappointment was expressed when the stage arrived without them. However, Captain Keeler, Republican nominee for Joint Assemman, was prevailed upon to entertain the people with a speech. Accordingly an audience of about 125, including a number of ladies, assembled at the Court House. At 9 o'clock Mr. V. G. Thompson, Chairman of the Republican County Central Committee, called the meeting to order, and introduced Mr. Keeler to the audience. He was greeted with applause, and began his remarks by expressing regret at the non-appearance of the advertised speakers. Referred to the period when our forefathers were struggling for freedom; "a nation to be free has but to will it." Praised the late Czar of Russia for freeing the serfs; "all Europe now believes in the Czar." Asserted that this Government is a temple of liberty cemented by blood; when the war was closed the temple of liberty was finished. Since the war the prosperity of the South has exceeded that of the North. Characterized the present time as the day of the almighty dollar. "The power of corporations exceeds the power of all the guns ever shouldered in the land." Attacked the railroad companies; censured dishonest representatives in Congress, and explained how corrupt bills were made laws; "if this goes on and we are not able to check it, we are a race of slaves." The blame lies with the people—they should elect better men. The speaker stated that a nomination could not be secured in San Francisco without the aid of such men as Higgins and Gannon; that "they feed thousands of men from the proceeds of their villainy." "Politics should be taught in our schools; there is no higher study." Attributed the fall of ancient republics to extravagance; censured the ladies, also, for too much extravagance. Mr. Keeler was a federal officer in Oregon during Mr. Woods' administration as Governor; he denied the charges made by the Democratic press against the Republican nominee for Congress; said Woods did all in his power to check the acts of guilty parties and asked his (Keeler's) advice in regard to certain matters. "Estee is a man; the highest praise is to say he is a man." "Conklin has always been a kind man, possessed of a worthy spirit;" considered his nomination an honor to the County. Praised the entire State ticket as a whole. The speaker asserted that he "would rather be a citizen of this glorious Republic than be a king, because here every man has a vote." Referring to his own candidacy, Mr. Keeler remarked: "There is another little thing that I want to speak about," and then told how a man was nominated by a convention at Bishop Creek; that the said nominee paid a visit to Mono County and was well received by both political parties. "The papers do not always tell the truth; one said he had made some friends in Mono." At this point Mr. Keeler brought his remarks to a close.

A loud cry was raised by the audience for Mr. Jas. E. Parker, Democratic nominee for Joint Assemblyman. He went forward and, after apologizing for his presence at a Republican meeting, made about a five-minutes talk in which he briefly outlined his course of action in case he was elected. Said his labors would be solely in the interest of Inyo and Mono Counties. Referred to his legislative record, and stated that he introduced eighteen bills which became laws during the session of which he was a member. He thought the salaries of some of the officers of this County were too high, as compared to the enormous bonds which the present law and system exacted, and he would endeavor to have them reduced. For instance, the Superior Judge and County Treasurer should each receive $1,000 less per year; also, that he thought Mono could reasonably get along with one Superior Judge, etc. He gave assurance that if he went to Sacramento he would return to Inyo County to his family and business.

The meeting then adjourned.

WHY THEY DID NOT APPEAR.

Thursday evening the following telegram reached Independence:

SAN FRANCISCO, October 23.

S. D. Thurston, Secretary Republican County Central Committee:

Woods and Gibson have been delayed and cannot fill Inyo County appointments. Regret failure.

JAS. R. FINLAYSON, Sec'y.

CHANGE OF BASE.—People generally will note with great concern and regret the notice elsewhere by W. H. George, which says that he contemplates removing from his practice here. It seems to be the town's bad luck—only to get well acquainted with a fine surgeon and physician when he moves off to Bishop Creek and then finally leaves the County—as did Dr. Bicknell. Independence must be a remarkably healthy place, else the population is too limited to support a good doctor.

A CARPET-BAGGER.—Some one started the story at Bishop Creek that Sher. Stevens was a "Carpet Bagger." Sher. says he has been here sixteen years and never owned a carpet bag in that time and does not desire to put his clothes in one and go naked.

SOLD OUT.—By notice elsewhere this week Mr. W. B. Harvey announces that he has sold out his butchering business at Lone Pine, and wants all parties indebted to him to come forward and settle soon as possible.

Political Meeting at Bishop.

EDITOR INDEPENDENT: A political meeting was held at Bishop Creek on the 14th instant, the principal object being to nominate the next Supervisor for this District.

Mr. C. Wonacott was elected Chairman and Mr. C. C. Wainright, Secretary.

Mr. A. Spencer was unanimously nominated as the Republican nominee for Supervisor.

Quite a sprinkling of noble Democrats as well as many tough Republicans were in attendance, and several brief, spirited speeches were delivered on various topics by members of both parties.

A resolution was passed to have the proceedings published in THE INYO INDEPENDENT, hence you will gracefully submit and insert the same, even should it slightly "swamp" your columns.

The nomination of Mr. Spencer was warmly endorsed by Mr. Furbee, Mr. Rowan and others, who stated that he (Mr. S.), being one of the heaviest taxpayers of the County, also a shrewd financier and vigilant, they were fully convinced of his ability to supervise wisely and economically.

Mr. Spencer responded. He did not seek the office—didn't want it; felt himself "growing old" to perform the functions of such an important position. However, having been solicited, time and again, by prominent citizens of both parties, he finally consented to accept, and was determined to do his best for all—groaning taxpayers particularly. Being that the Legislature will soon convene, Mr. S. deemed it advisable to make known our wants immediately to our representatives. Some legislative enactments were essential for the future prosperity of this comparatively new mining and farming region.

Mr. Bourland, by request, made a few pertinent remarks. He was not conscious of his ability to enlighten his present audience; would, however, boldly assert that the people generally did not take sufficient interest in politics; good, honest, practical, commonsense, hard-working men, such as were present at this meeting, should take active part; that we should meet often, consult and exchange ideas for our mutual benefit, politically and otherwise; what is everybody's business is nobody's; that, particularly, our Supervisors should be assisted—armed and equipped with facts and figures in order to more efficiently perform their duties. To this end Mr. Bourland's motion prevailed, to-wit: That an Advisory Council be appointed at this meeting to confer, etc., with the Supervisor.

On motion of Mr. Eldred, the Chairman was empowered to call, at will, meetings of Council; also, any taxpayer is allowed to attend.

Mr. Olds nominated Mr. Eldred as Secretary, which was carried.

Mr. Furbee thought that some measures should be taken to prevent the fearful destruction of timber in the mountains, which is supposed to be the incendiary work of sheep men every year.

Mr. Olds strongly urged stringent measures; that those insipid, thoughtless, sheepherders ought to be choked off; that they should not be allowed at all to invade our majestic mountain realm, where they seem to delight in burning up thousands of acres of very fine timber, which, in the near future, would be a source of wealth.

Other parties—Forbes, Phillippay, and Symmes of Independence—participated in the speaking.

Several expressed the desire to have Mr. Symmes' name flourish again as candidate for School Superintendent. He frankly informed the meeting that his name would appear and wished their support.

JENKINS.

THE MONTEZUMA.—Mr. S. D. Woodhull writes some brief notes from the Montezuma works, as follows; "We are getting along finely with the furnace. Stetson and Hedge have got the boiler and engine nearly ready to get up steam. I have got the furnace foundation up and nearly ready for the jacket. Ten days more will come pretty near completing the thing. We have a working force of fourteen men, and all works smoothly so far. Assay office complete."

LEFT US.—Dr. C. C. Wainright, the well-known practitioner and druggist of Bishop Creek, has sold out his property in that place, and last Thursday passed through here en route to Los Angeles, where he intends to permanently locate. He was traveling with Hypolite Galeron's carriage and family. A host of friends in this County will wish the Doctor every possible success in his new field.

CORRALL THEM.—The dozen or so of small boys who make the night hideous with their noise and racing up and down the sidewalks until a late hour at night should be corralled, at least about 9 o'clock P. M., if not sooner. Parents should haul them in, so to speak, and save many complaints from families living near the boys' playing grounds.

NOMINATIONS.—At a meeting of representative Republicans, held at this place last Saturday, John Kispert, Esq., of George's Creek, was regularly placed in the field for Supervisor for this District; Thomas Parker for Justice of the Peace for this Township; W. L. Fuller for Constable and Fred. Schabbell for Road Overseer.

REGISTER.—Those who are not yet registered can have their names placed on the supplemental Great Register by making application to the County Clerk previous to Monday evening.

Superintendent of Public Schools.

MR. EDITOR: It is important that voters should understand the qualifications of candidates before exercising the right of suffrage. It is more particularly so in those offices requiring especial and peculiar qualifications of both head and heart. The office of Superintendent of Public Schools is such an office. It is a well-known fact that all the Superintendents at present holding this office in the State (Inyo excepted) are legally qualified teachers. Why should not Inyo keep pace with the balance of the State in a matter of such importance as its educational facilities? None but the experienced can understand the intricacies of "teaching public school." When a Superintendent visits a school, it is his duty to question the pupils, examine the register, and offer such remarks of encouragement as he may think proper. Who can do this in its proper spirit so well as an experienced teacher? Certainly not Mr. J. W. Symmes, who, by the good nature of the people has been, without regard to party, heretofore kept in that position, and who now, after being ignored by his own party convention, seeks a re-election as an independent candidate for that position. Mr. Symmes never in this County has been a teacher, and, so far as is known, nowhere else. It remains to be shown that he is in any particular competent to teach a common school, even in the remote County of Inyo. If incompetent to be a teacher, is he competent to be at the head of the public schools as a Superintendent, or a leader in the education of the rising generation? Can he suggest questions to applicants upon their examination for teachers' certificates? Is he competent to suggest such reforms in manner or mode of teaching as will tend to the better advancement of the pupils? Can he inculcate in teachers that standard of educational discipline requisite in order to place our County, with its children, upon a plane with the other Counties of the State? Does he not, instead of being a leader, by his incompetency become a follower of the teachers, subject to their caprices, and without that requisite knowledge to enable him to determine as to their fitness for their several positions? A Superintendent should be the equal if not the superior of those employed as teachers of the schools over which he has the superintendency. Has Mr. Symmes these qualifications? If not—and all who know him know he has not—then who among those seeking the position has? The question suggests the answer. Daniel Crough, the Democratic nominee, was educated in the public schools of California; received his diploma as a teacher from the State Normal School; has been a teacher for eight years, five of which have been in Independence and Milton Districts, in this County; and, as an educator, is acknowledged on all hands to be at least the equal of any. Under his superintendency the schools of this County will receive a new impetus and new life. From thorough training and his known ability, new life will be infused, not only in the pupils, but in the teachers, also. And teachers' institutes will be demanded by him, as in duty bound, and ideas of the best modes and methods for the advancement of pupils exchanged and conclusions arrived at. The question is an important one, and voters are asked to consider well the matter, for upon intelligence rests the entire fabric of our form of government.

Yours, for POLITICAL RIGHT.

Process of Smelting Ores.

In the treatment of gold and silver ores containing copper, the object is to obtain a matte, or regulus, which shall contain all the valuable metals. It is, however, found that usually the slag carries off some of the gold and silver which is lost. To obviate this loss, by insuring a more complete separation of the precious metals, many experiments have been made and many processes been invented.

A man named Pearce, of Denver, Col., has devised a method of precipitating the particles of gold and silver held in suspension after the smelting is completed in the usual manner.

An ordinary reverberating furnace is used, and, being charged with mixed ores, the ore is melted in the usual manner. The usual method would be then to draw the slag, and necessarily, the precious particles held in suspension would pass off with the slag. In place of that, Pearce's method consists in throwing upon the slag, as soon as the charge is pesfectly smelted, fine-powdered oxide of copper, then closing the furnace a short time befor drawing the slag.

The effect of this application is, that a reaction takes place between the oxide of copper and particles of gold and silver, in whatever combination they they may exist, and a rich, heavy matte is formed, which descends and carries with it the precious metals. For a charge of about three tons of ore about 30 lbs. of the oxide will serve the purpose, and on using it care has to be taken to scatter the oxide over a whole surface of the slag. In place of oxide of copper, any rich oxidized copper product may be used.—Scientific Press.

YESTERDAY the Appeal reporter was shown a bullet which had been taken from the dead body of an express robber in Arizona. When shot he had twenty rounds of Henry rifle cartridges in his belt and all the bullets were alike. They were of the explosive kind and made by the imbedding of a small-sized 22-caliber cartridge in the end of the bullet of the Henry cartridge, point downward. It is done by boring a hole in the point of the ball and pressing the small cartridge in. When the point of the big cartridge strikes a hard resisting object, the percussion explodes the cartridge, and this splits the big ball as well as causing an explosion of powder inside of a wound, provided a bone is struck. It is a dangerous and devilish invention, and the Wells-Fargo guards should lay in a good supply of the same kind to shoot express robbers with.—Carson Appeal.

MR. PLANT, of Stonham Aspel, Suffolk, writes to the Suffolk Chronicle, about an antidote for wasp or bee stings, and says: "During my life I have heard of many persons having been stung—some even to death—by wasps, etc. I have shared in the suffering to a great extent. On one occasion I was dreadfully stung on my tongue and arms. I have invariably found the earliest application of hot water to instantly nullify the sting and prevent further suffering. I am happy to say many others who have tried this simple thing have found a perfect cure."

IT is said the Supreme Court of the United States has 975 cases on its docket, with a steady increase—enough to discourage that body in its labors. Congress is apprised of the impossibility of the Court, as at present organized, getting along with its business so as to give satisfaction to litigants, but has done nothing as yet to relieve it of its pressure. Several propositions have been under consideration having that object in view. It rests with Congress to provide the remedy, and if it fails to do so at its next session it will be remiss in its duty.

ILLINOIS has a State Board of Equalization, with powers and duties in reference to the assessments of railroads precisely similar to those provided in the Constitution of this State, yet they have never thought of bringing its authority into question.

A CARD.

The report being circulated, obviously for political purposes, "that I have a large amount of money deposited with banks while I am paying taxes on a very limited amount of property," has no foundation in truth and I emphatically pronounce it false. I have never, in this County, been so fortunate as to have money to deposit to my credit with any bank.

INDEPENDENT CANDIDATE.

BY THE REQUEST OF MANY, BOTH DEMOCRATS and Republicans I hereby announce myself as an Independent Candidate for the office of County Superintendent of Common Schools. And do respectfully solicit the support of the voters in this County at the ensuing election.

A Card.

TO THE VOTERS OF INYO COUNTY: It having come to me that reports are being circulated to the effect that I have promised, in the event of my election to the office of Sheriff, the appointment of certain men to the positions of Under Sheriff and Deputies, I desire to say that all such talk is absolutely false and without the shadow of foundation. Although satisfied that my friends do not for a moment credit such statements, I desire to place myself right before the general public in the matter.

Respectfully,

S. G. GREGG.

Thanksgiving Proclamation.

The following thanksgiving proclamation has been issued by President Arthur:

In conformity with a custom, the annual observance of which is justly held in honor by this people, I, Chester A. Arthur, President of the United States, do hereby set aside Thursday, the 30th of November next, as a day of public thanksgiving. The blessings demanding our gratitude are numerous and varied—for the peace and amity which exist between this Republic and all nations of the world; for the freedom from internal discord and violence; for the increasing friendship between different sections of this land of liberty, justice and constitutional government; for the devotion of the people to our free institutions, and their cheerful obedience to the mild laws; for the constantly increasing strength of the Republic, while extending its privileges to our fellow men who come to us; for the improved means of internal communication and increased facilities of intercourse with other nations; for the general prevailing health of the year; for the prosperity of all our industries, the liberal return for the mechanic's toil affording a market for the abundant harvests of the husbandmen; for the preservation of the nation's faith and credit; for the wise and generous provision to effect the intellectual and moral education of our youth; for the influence upon the conscience of a restraining and transforming religion, and for the joys of home. For these and for many other blessings we should give thanks. Wherefore I do recommend that the day above be observed throughout the country as a day of national thanksgiving and prayer, and that the people, ceasing from their daily labor and meeting in accordance with their several forms of worship, draw near to the throne of Almighty God, offering to him praise and gratitude for the manifold good which he has vouchsafed to us, and praying that His blessings and mercies may continue; and I further recommend that the day thus appointed may be made the special occasion for deeds of kindness and charity to the suffering and needy, so that all who may dwell within the land may rejoice and be glad in this season of national thanksgiving.

In witness whereof, I have hereunto set my hand and caused the seal of the United States to be affixed.

Done at the city of Washington, this twenty-fifth day of October, in the year of our Lord one thousand eight hundred and eighty-two, and of the Independence of the United States the one hundred and seventh.

CHESTER A. ARTHUR.

By the President:
FREDERICK T. FRELINGHUYSEN,
Secretary of State.

IT is not always the big mining company, with its complete outfit of mill, hoisting works, superintendent, etc., that makes the most money for its owners; nor is it always the mine which figures in the list of bullion shipments most frequently that ships the most bullion. The small mines here and there that are being worked successfully by a few men pay far larger profits to the individuals, as a general thing. There are in this State, for instance, hundreds of mines that largely swell the aggregate bullion production of California, but which people never hear of. The owners, working them quietly for what they are worth, do not care for any publicity, and are averse to publishing the results of their labor. Some of these are worked for years, yet few people, except in the immediate vicinity, have ever heard of the name of the claim or know of its existence.—Forest City Tribune.

THE only things Napoleon I. was afraid of were, first, Mme. de Stael, whom he got out of Paris as soon as he could, for fear that she would ridicule him so much that he would have to leave it himself, and, second, newspapers, of which he once said: "Four hostile newspapers are more to be feared than a thousand bayonets."

The Solar Constant—Boiling Water by Direct Sunlight.

Professor S. P. Langley has submitted to the Chief Signal Officer an abstract of the results of the Mount Whitney Expedition to determine the amount of heat the sun sends to the earth, in technical terms, the solar constant. Mount Whitney, in Southern California, was selected for the observation because it combined the advantages of great elevation, extreme dryness of atmosphere, and abrupt rise from the plain. The party of observation consisted of Capt. O. E. Michaelis, United States Army; two non-commissioned officers of the Signal Service, six soldiers acting as an escort, four civilian assistants, and Professor Langley. Systematic work did not commence until the last days of August, 1881. Professor Langley summarizes the results ascertained as follows:

"The approximate estimate of the solar constant is from 2.6 to 3.0 caloric, by which is meant that the direct solar radiation before absorption by the earth,s atmosphere, would in falling, for one minute, normally upon an area of one square centimeter, raise the temperature of one gramme of water 2.6 or 3.0 centigrade. This implies its ability to melt annually a crust of ice covering the whole earth over 150 ft. thick. This amount is one-half greater than the received value of Poullet, and greater than the latest determinations of Messrs. Crover and Violle."

On the summit of Mount Whitney an ordinary black bulb thermometer in vacuo rose to 130° Fahr., while the temperature in a blackened copper vessel, covered by two sheets of common window glass, rose above the boiling point. With such a vessel water could be boiled among the snowfields of Mt. Whitney by the direct solar rays.

While the direct influence of the atmosphere is to shut off from the earth's surface a considerable portion of the sun's heat by absorbing it, the capacity of the air is to store heat and prevent its radiation into space serves to make the earth habitable. Otherwise, in Professor Laugley's opinion, the surface temperature, even under the tropics, would be lower than the lowest recorded degrees of Artic cold. Another effect of the selective absorpsion of the atmosphere is to change the apparent color of the sun. In a transparent atmosphere the now "golden sun" would appear blue.—Scientific Press.

PROTECTION FOR THE MINERS.—The following is the law: "Any person, corporation or association, or the agent of any person, corporation or association, engaged in the milling, sampling, concentrating, reducing, shipping or purchasing of ores in this Territory, who shall, in any manner, knowingly alter or change the true value of any ores delivered to him or them, so as to deprive the seller of the correct value of the same, or who shall substitute other ores for that delivered to him or them, or who shall issue any bill of sale or certificate of purchase that does not exactly and truthfully state the actual weight, assay value, and total amount paid for any lot or lots of ore purchased, or who, by any secret understanding or agreement with another, shall issue a bill of sale or certificate of purchase that does not correctly and truthfully set forth the weight, assay value and total amount paid for any lot or lots of ore purchased by him or them, shall be deemed guilty of a misdemeanor, and on conviction thereof shall be fined in a sum not exceeding $1,000 nor less than $100, or imprisonment not more than one year, or both, at the discretion of the court."—New Mexico Exchange.

AN Austrian engineer has discovered a new method of disintegrating rocks. The chief feature of this system is to employ a hollow cylinder like a gas pipe, and to place a dynamite cartridge, not as hitherto in a hole bored into the rock to be blasted, but into the cylinder in question. The cartridge only touches the surface of the rock which it is desired to shatter. The explosion of the dynamite is effected by means of electricity, and the effect is said to be greater than from the usual cartridge in a hole in the rock. The rock is shattered into fragments so small that a fair stream is able to wash them away without help, whereas in the case of gunpowder the rock is only split up into blocks more or less troublesome to remove.

A DISTINGUISHED German professor recently announced that if a drop of human blood was placed under a microscope capable of magnifying it twenty million times larger, it would show all the kinds of animals that ever existed or now exist on the earth. In the blood of a healthy person the animals are quiet; in that of a sick person they fight. From this he draws the conclusion that man has within him all the elements from which the universe was created. He further says that if a dead cat was flung into a pool of water and left to decompose, the drops of water would show, when under a microscope, all the animals belonging to the cat species.

THE ponds in the garden of Emanuel College, Cambridge, England, contained a carp that had been an inhabitant of that pond more than seventy years. And Gessner has mentioned an instance of one living to be 100 years old. Mr. Hessell says that there are specimens to be found in Austria 140 years old; and Professor Baird says he has evidence of them living to be 200 years of age. They are very tenacious of life, and will live for a considerable time out of water.

THE Prince of Wales is said to be $3,000,000 in debt. He must have been trying to run a newspaper in some remote corner of his mamma's empire.

OLD Winnemucca, Chief of the Piutes, died near Coppersmith's ranch in Surprise Valley last Friday. The Reno Journal says that after the funeral ceremony was over, the women returned to camp and relieved their troubled hearts by stoning to death the young wife of the dead chief and her three-year-old child, both of whom have been prisoners for two months awaiting the death of the chief. The whites were kept in ignorance of this frightful business until after it had been accomplished. On several occasions within the past two weeks the unfortunate squaw, knowing the fate that awaited her, attempted to take her own life and that of her child, but was prevented by the guard that was constantly kept over her.

THE accumulator over the new Eureka Con. shaft burst Monday afternoon at 3 o'clock with a tremendous noise. It was heard in Eureka, two and one-half miles distant. The shaft was shattered to pieces from top to bottom, a distance of 75 feet. The explosion tore away the eastern side of the works and pieces were hurled through the air far away. One piece of casting weighing about a ton struck New Town a quarter of a mile off, but fortunately did no damage. A piece weighing 300 or 400 pounds struck the cabin of Wm. Lowry, 300 yards off, took off one end of it and passed within a foot of the miner's body. The missile then ricochetted through a chicken coop and buried itself in the ground. Smaller fragments filled the air and fell like hail on the housetops in the neighborhood. The entire eastern part of the immense new and substantial building was shattered and is a mass of ruins. The great iron roof was crushed like an eggshell and rattled about with a deafening noise. A gale was blowing at the time. One large piece of the accumulator was hurled in the air and struck near the pump engine, going through the floor near the engineer. The loss is about $2,500.

IN regard to forming a new county out of southern Inyo and northern San Bernardino the Calico Print says: "The new county will be prepared to pay its proportion of the debt of both San Bernardino and Inyo counties according to taxable property and territory we receive, though we are not so much stuck after territory, but we have about two hundred and fifty miles of railroad and more taxable property to start in with than Inyo county has at present. The matter of a new county along the Mohave is yet in an embryotic state, but with the advent of the railroad taxable property and population are so rapidly increasing that we will soon have the constitutional requirements and wealth sufficient to carry out such a desired object, if we so elect."

THE newly elected Senator in Oregon, Joseph N. Dolph, who is to succeed Senator Mitchell, is a native of New York, was born in what is now Schuyler County, and is forty-seven years old. He has been a resident of Oregon twenty years and is the first lawyer of the State. He is Vice-President of the Villard railroads and the chief man of those companies in Oregon. His income is probably $30,000 per year.

IT will cost three cents for one of the new postal money orders for a sum less than five dollars, and the service is so extended as to raise the limit of orders from $50 to $100. Persons will not be required to fill out a blank, but will receive an order payable to the bearer at any desired money office.

THE Eureka (Nev.) Leader contains a displayed advertisement announcing that "pools will be sold on the different candidates at the —— —— saloon, on Tuesday evening, November 7th." Why send missionaries abroad while Nevada stands so much in need of their services?

THE Washington monument is now 300 feet high and is rising at the rate of one foot per day. The workmen are protected by a strong netting which surrounds the top of the monument. Already the net has saved one workman, who was blown from his place by a gust of of wind.

IN a late issue of THE INYO (Cal.,) INDEPENDENT, we see the fact announced that Mr. Charles H. Groves, of Independence, is the nominee for Superintendent of Schools in Inyo county. Mr. Groves attended the Zanesville High School for three years, taking a five-year course. His class, of which he was valedictorian, graduated in 1881, when Mr. Groves returned to his western home. He received his nomination before his twenty-first birthday, which occurred on October 8. This is an honor rarely, if ever accorded before. Mr. Groves is well qualified to teach, having received a certificate from this county when only fourteen years old, and also one of the highest ever accorded in Inyo county. We congratulate the Republican party on its wise choice, as we feel that Charley could be elected on any ticket whatever.—Zanesville Morning Times.

OUR NEXT REPRESENTATIVE.

The voters of Mono and Inyo have one, and we may say, but one, issue in common to decide next Tuesday. This is as to the choice of their Joint-Representative in the next Legislature. The choice lies between Capt. J. M. Keeler, Superintendent of the Owens Lake Mill and Mining Company, and James E. Parker, editor and proprietor of this paper. To avoid any misconstruction of facts, let it be understood that Mr. Parker is now, and for the past week, has been, absent from home, and is in no degree responsible for what is here written in his behalf. The editor, pro tem., takes it upon himself to say that, in his own opinion as well as in accordance with that of all who have given expression to their candid sentiments on the subject, Mr. Parker has certainly as fairly earned the right to again represent these two counties in the next Assembly as any ex-member of that body who may be returned to it, come whence he may,

But for him Mono and Inyo counties would not at any time in the past eight years have had a Joint-Representative in the State Legislature. But for his individual exertions, influence and tact, the two counties would, in matters legislative, have been but the mere tail-pieces to distant cow-counties with which neither had any local interests in common. No member of the 20th Session effected as neat a bit of legislation in the political behalf of his constituents as did Mr. Parker in this particular matter; a fact that will not be denied by anyone acquainted with the peculiar obstacles he had to overcome to secure the desired result. This alone surely entitles him to a majority vote in every precinct in both counties.

Inyo county is indebted to him for the passage of the bill founding the "Expense Fund," through which the county has been saved a direct loss of not less, approximately, than $30,000 since that law went into effect.

He accomplished even a more substantial service to this county in particular and the State in general, through bills, and especially in Committee work, in his efforts to break up the wide-spread and notorious Swamp Land swindles.

He expended a considerable amount of his own funds (and without ever having asked or received a cent in return) while endeavoring to procure Congressional notice and action in behalf of the settlers on the Camp Independence Military Reserve.

In short, a glance at the index of the Journal of the Assembly of the 20th Session, page 1362, shows he presented no less than twenty-four bills, resolutions and petitions, nearly every one of which received favorable action, showing an almost unparalleled zeal in behalf of his constituents and persona industry as a legislator.

As proven by his record, both as a legislator and as a journalist, during a thirteen years citizenship in this county, he has ever worked for the general welfare of the section and people with which and with whom his fortunes have been so long identified.

Partisanship, simply, never has, and it may be safely asserted, never will, sway him a single inch in his acts or obligations to the people he represents or, in any narrow way, for or against any individual among them.

The next Legislature, among other important things, is to re-district the State for Legislative, Congressional and other purposes. It will never, through Mr. Parker's vote or efforts, be so re-districted for any purely partisan purpose whatever but solely in the interest of the section he ought again have the honor to represent.

The foregoing is offered as a reminder due, yet as a mere synopsis of recorded facts that should not, in justice, be overlooked or forgotten; and with this the question is submitted.

INYO CONSOLIDATED.—This company—of which H. A. Gildersleeve is President; N. G. Fairman, Secretary; M. T. Brown, Treasurer; and G. M. Pinney, General Manager—has recently increased its capital from 100,000 to 200,000 shares, par value $5. A prospectus has been issued recently which gives some details concerning the prosperity of the company. Abstracts are given of what appear to be earlier reports by Mr. C. A. Stetefeldt, and a later report by Mr. H. S. Craven. The mine is situated in Surprise Cañon, Inyo County. The mill has twenty stamps and a Stetefeldt furnace, a rope tramway a mile long, etc., and is estimated to have cost originally $350,000. The only new statement which the prospectus contains, so far as we can see, is that of Mr. T. B. Pheby, M. E., Superintendent, who writes, under date of October 10th, that he has extracted and now has on hand 500 tons of ore of an average value of over $100 per ton; that he has exposed large bodies of ore in the Ida and Wall Street; and that the repairs of the mill are completed, and that further expenditures on it will not be necessary for a long time. The mine shipped $12,000 in September and $46,421 since the 1st of January, 1882.—N. Y. Eng. and Mining Journal.

The ball struck Glover above the ear, fracturing the skull and coming out at the back of the head. The two men are now in Bishop Creek. No arrests have been made. INDEPENDENT Office, October 4, 1882.

TO THE PUBLIC.

MALONE'S RANCH, October 25, '82.

MR.——: I walked to town to-day and had my name placed, upon the Great Register. So far as voting is concerned, I never voted but twice in my life. I intend to vote for the "boy Superintendent" (Groves). I think Mr. Symmes has held the office long enough. Had he been placed on the Independent ticket for the office of County Assessor, things would look a little better. His chances for County Superintendent are very slim. I expected every week to see Jacob Vagt's name in the paper for Supervisor. He is an old resident of the County and is as much entitled to it as anybody else. Yours, respectfully,

JAMES MALONE.

Mr. Vagt's Reply.

To the Voters of Supervisor District No. 2:

It becomes my duty to answer the reference to myself contained in the above letter, in regard to Supervisor. I will state that, for some time previous to the day of the Republican County Convention, prominent citizens came to me repeatedly, asking me to run for Supervisor. My answer was that, if it was the wish of the people I would do so. It appeared then and until the day of the Convention that there was no other candidate for the position. In the belief that the nomination for Supervisor would be made by the Convention, I inquired of the several delegates if they had any objection to my filling the office, stating at the same time that I had been requested to become a candidate and was willing to do so. All seemed to favor the proposition, until the Convention proceeded to business, when I was accosted by a citizen, who said: "Not that I want to injure you, but I am told that Mr. Kispert can be induced to accept the nomination. Don't you think that he stands a better chance than yourself to defeat Mr.——?" This led me to believe that some opposed my candidacy, and I declined to answer the question, it then being too late to make any change. It was then understood that the selection would be made by the delegates. After the Convention adjourned, and as the delegates of the several Supervisor Districts had, for some reason or other, failed to nominate Supervisors, it remained for the voters to decide the matter. No one has any right to patch up a ticket, unless a meeting of citizens is called, when every interested voter can have a voice in the nomination. This was not done, and therefore I kept quiet and left it to the people. But according to the last issue of THE INDEPENDENT, the matter seems to have been decided. It appears that on Sunday, the 22d of October—on the day of rest, when nobody is expected to be in town for the transaction of business or otherwise—a few men came together in some nook or corner and put their choice for Supervisor in the field. It remains to be seen whether he is really the choice of the people or not. To my mind it is, providing the people are governed by a few. I am informed that there were only two or three discharged delegates and a half-dozen citizens present on the occasion. In my opinion each voter should decide for himself whom he would place on the ticket; and if there were a dozen candidates in the field, so much the better—there would then be a variety to choose from. For such an important office as Supervisor, not only this district but the whole county is interested in the matter. Therefore it is neither for Tom, Dick nor Harry to say who the nominee shall be. Let them vote their own tickets as they wish, and give others the same liberty.

Respectfully, JACOB VAGT.

A CARD.

Inasmuch as the Republican County Convention honored me by nominating me as a candidate for the position of Superintendent of Schools, I deem it my duty to make a few remarks in regard to the office to which I aspire. The office of Superintendent of Schools being neither political nor eccle-iastical, but rather in the interest of social progress, is one of the most important in the County, inasmuch as it places the incumbent in the position of a trusted guardian over the highest interest of all—the school children; hence I think the election of a person to that office should be an act based upon mature deliberation, influenced neither by political bias nor sectarian prejudice. I believe that the people will denounce as un-American and unbearable the system of political bossism, whereby any man or set of men can force candidates upon the people for their suffrages, who are obnoxious to them by reason of their subserviency to the bosses and their desire to hold office for the term of their natural lives. And I ask the people, irrespective of party, to resist at the polls this outrageous infraction of their political rights. Let us have, if possible, an active teacher for our next School Superintendent; a man who, when he makes his professional (also compulsory) visits to the various schools in the County, can be able to say something for himself and to give some word of instruction and encouragement to the pupils as well as to the teachers. Should this trust devolve upon me, I do sincerely promise to discharge my duties faithfully to the extent of my ability. With this I submit my candidature to the judgment of an intelligent public.

CHAS. H. GROVES.

INDEPENDENCE, CAL.:
SATURDAY, NOVEMBER 4.....1882

AN F. & A. M. DEATH VALLEY RELIC. Mr. J. W. Murphy returned here last evening from a trip into Death Valley region, particularly that spot, so fraught with sad memories, on Furnace Creek, where perished that most unfortunate party of '49 emigrants. While searching about among the bits of wagon-irons scattered about in the sands and rocks, Mr. Murphy found one relic of very peculiar interest. This was a Masonic emblem—the square and compass. It was lying on the top of the largest rock in the immediate vicinity, where, without question, it was carefully placed by some dying and unknown hand a full generation ago. In size, the emblem is 3¼ inches from point to point of both the square and compasses. Though apparently composed of iron, it is in an excellent state of preservation, being covered with but a slight coat of rust, as might well be the case owing to its having lain on the dry rock, instead of in the sands where it would have long since gone to dust. Though in proper shape and proportions, well and strongly made, yet it evidently originally lacked the finish suitable for a W. M's. jewel, but which doubtless it was intended to represent. As a mere conjecture, it may be assumed that the members of the fraternity with that and other trains, perhaps while so long in camp at Salt Lake, organized a "Mountain and Valley Lodge," and for that purpose extemporized jewels of iron, or other material, as best they could, of which this for the Master alone remains, a memento of work begun by true hands, and held true to the last, since the wearer's last thought seems to have been for the preservation of his jewel. The relic in question is now in this office, but, by Mr. Murphy's request and desire it will in due time be sent to the State Mining Bureau, where, it is to be hoped, its presence may awaken the recollections of some old pioneer, through whom its history may be brought to light. Mr. Murphy says a slight blow on any of the bits of wagon irons scattered about will cause them to fall to pieces—into "crystals" as he describes it.

WARNING.—At different times within the past year or two, cattle, horses and hogs, near a dozen head in all, have been shot and maimed for life or killed outright, the most of them while inside enclosed fields belonging to their owners, and all within the immediate vicinity of this place. The frequency of these shootings, coupled with the fact that some of the animals killed were powder-burnt—proving that the gun was held almost against their bodies—makes it clear that for the most part, if not in every case, it was not accidental but the deliberate work of some maliciously-disposed person, taking that fiendish and cowardly method of avenging some real or fancied wrong. Of those who have lost stock in this manner we may mention P. Reddy, Jonathan Brown, Thos. Webb and John Baxter, the latter being the heaviest loser, and who, as a matter of self-protection, through an advertisement elsewhere in this issue, gives warning that any person found shooting within his enclosures will be prosecuted to the full extent of the law. From the generally expressed sentiment on the subject, it is safe to say that any person actually caught in the act of shooting stock in or near the fields of any of the parties named, will get cured of the habit for all time to come. The "pitcher that goes oft to the well is sure to be broken at last."

RELIGIOUS.—Rev. Warren Nims and wife arrived here on Thursday, and Mr. Nims will begin his assigned work on this circuit with services at the school house in this place at 11 o'clock to-morrow forenoon, and also in the evening. Regular services will also be held at Lone Pine, and elsewhere in the valley, in pursuance of appointments hereafter to be arranged and announced. Mr. Nims, while Elder in charge, has visited this region on former occasions, being accompanied each time by his highly-esteemed wife, so that neither are strangers to the community, while both will receive unaffected welcome by many warm friends. Both are heart and soul in their appointed work, and Mr. Nims himself is known as a preacher of decided ability and marked energies in whatever he undertakes. They will make their home in the parsonage at this place and that at Bishop Creek, alternately, as will best suit the requirements of appointments for the two localities and respective surroundings.

FATAL CATTLE DISEASE.—G. W. Watson and F. G. Powers, farmers residing between Big Pine and Bishop Creek, have each recently lost a number of valuable young cattle through a strange and peculiarly fatal disease. It seems that its ravages are exclusively confined to calves, and is, perhaps, the same that is destroying hundreds of young stock in Oregon, where it is known as the "cattle diphtheria," though it is not supposed to be contagious. A peculiarity about it is that a calf will be attacked and fall dead in less than half an hour from the time when it appeared to be in perfect health in all respects. After the attack is manifest no blood will flow from cutting the tail or other ordinary bleeding operations. Post mortem examinations show a highly-congested or mortified condition of the organs near the heart, especially the lungs. The attack is invariably fatal. It is surmised that it is caused through feeding alfalfa hay, but this is only mere surmise.

THE MONTEZUMA.—Billy Lake came down from the Montezuma mine yesterday. He reports that the machinery of the new smelter is all placed, and that the furnace is nearly completed. Teams are delivering coal and ore, and it is the intention of Superintendent Griswold to begin smelting operations on or about the 15th inst.

Superintendent's Report.

LOOKOUT, November 2.

EDITOR INDEPENDENT: Following is a general résumé of operations since my last run: Ore extracted from Modock mines, 71 tons; from Black Warrior (my own mine), 119 tons; which, together with 102 tons of flue dust, make a total of 292 tons to date. Average samples taken daily from the Black Warrior give 113 ozs. On the 40-foot level, have a 14-inch streak of soft carbonate ore, which is improving every shift. On the 80-foot level, am stoping from 3½ to 4 tons daily of very high-grade ore. On the 150-foot level, started prospect drift 12 days ago; tapped ore body last night; average of face of drift, 69.27 ozs. Don't know as yet the extent of the strike, but will let you know next week.

Davis & Mitchell are hauling coal, wood and iron. Will start up furnace by the 25th instant if my supplies will justify me in doing so.

Have discontinued work on all the company's mines until after this next run. Out of a force of eight men working in the Lookout mine, six are now sick from lead poisoning, including our friend Martin Mee.

FRANK FITZGERALD.

PERSONAL.—Mr. Abel Eudey arrived here a few days ago direct from England and is now stopping with his relatives, Mr. John Reynolds and family, at the Brown Monster mill. Mr. Eudey was a shareholder in the old Eclipse Mining Company, and spent several months here while that company was operating on the property, this being his third visit to this country....Tuesday last Jas. E. Parker departed for Mono County, where he will probably remain until after the election.....William Walker, of Olancha, is in town....J. W. Murphy came up from the borax region last evening....Sup't Wheeler, of the Hawley mill, is en route to San Francisco....John Broder came in from Monache Valley the fore part of the week.

THOSE SPECIMENS.—Prof. Henry G. Hanks, under date of October 27th, writes as follows in regard to the Death Valley curiosities recently sent from this office to the State Museum: "The peculiar specimens from Death Valley are fossiliferous limestone, which are etched by the natural sand-blast caused by the drifting sand of the desert. Aside from this they are interesting for the fossil corals(?) contained in them, which I have not yet found time to carefully examine. The piece of iron left with you by Mr. Hunter will be an interesting addition to the Museum and I hope you will send it forward. I have received the sample of Owens Lake water sent by Mr. Woodhull, of which I intend to make an exhaustive analysis."

PAT. SHEA.—We are in receipt of a request desiring a description of the Pat. Shea who, as mentioned in these columns some weeks ago, was the surviving party in the "Tragedy on the Desert," out at Bennett's Ranch near the Colorado, in which Gordon Ellis was killed and Shea three times wounded. The request comes from an "anxious mother, father, brother and sisters," and is signed "Catharine Shea, No. 33 Way street, Boston, Mass." As we are entirely unable at present to furnish the desired information, we would be glad to have any one acquainted with the Shea in question to forward to this office, or the address above given, a description sufficiently exact to satisfy the anxieties of a distressed mother.

PANAMINT.—Superintendent Pheby sends us the following: "Our mines are all looking first rate. Have nine chloriders here now, who help to keep the mill running almost constantly. The mill is in first-class order and is doing good work. Since commencement of the present run we have shipped four bars of bullion valued at $4,900. Will make another shipment of of $5,000 on the 1st of November, and continue to ship at the rate of $6,000 per week for some time to come. Our bullion contains considerable gold now, which helps out considerably. Bullion now running about .950 fine."

LOST HORSE.—A small, dark-brown horse, full mane and tail, star in forehead, vented | on one shoulder, one fore and opposite hind foot white, considerably saddle marked, has gone estray. Any one knowing anything of the whereabouts of the animal will confer quite a favor upon the owner, W. A. Chalfant, by sending or leaving word to that effect at this office.

POLITICAL.—Next Monday evening Mr. S. D. Woods will address the citizens of Independence on the political issues, from the Republican standpoint. His letters to the San Francisco Chronicle, over the nom de plume "Inyo," have attracted much attention in this section, and if he talks as well as he writes, his speech will be very entertaining.

STABBED.—Near Lone Pine, last Friday evening, a Mexican and an Indian became involved in altercation in which the former received seven severe stabs, from the effects of which he will probably die. His name we did not learn.

I. O. O. F.—The Master of the Grand State Lodge has granted a dispensation to institute a lodge at Independence. Following are the charter members: S. D. Thurston, S. P. Moffat, J. D. Blair, A. Parker, J. Alexander, G. L. Cornell and L. Wood.

FOR ROAD OVERSEER.—We are requested to announce that Wm. F. Boyd is the choice of the Democrats of this precinct for Road Overseer of District No. 3.

T. T. COOK, a native of San Francisco, has been nominated for County Clerk by the Republicans of Inyo. Mr. Cook is a son of one of the members of the famous banking house of Palmer, Cook & Co., of early days, and his birth, 32 years ago, was celebrated by the entire Fire Department of San Francisco. He is a young man of fine education and has a host of friends in this city who wish to see him elected.—S. F. Post.

Southern Inyo.

EDITOR INDEPENDENT: I suppose that one of the chief evils of the present age, or at least an evil that editors have most frequently to contend with, is the chronic letter-writer—men who think the most trifling matter, of local interest only, would look well in print, and attach as much importance to some insignificant affair as they would to a subject of national importance; and would waste more ink upon the doings of a drunk, than upon an enterprise where thousands of dollars were at stake and scores of bread-winners ably following various avocations. At the risk of earning such an appellation, I respectfully offer you the following: Much has been written in regard to the injudicious expenditure of capital, and there are in all mining camps men who can tell of mining ventures where thousands of dollars have, as they express it, been thrown away. These are the chronic growlers of the country, who sit idly down waiting for something to turn up. However, thanks to a gracious Providence, at the present time there seems to be but few of these old fossils in Southern Inyo, and she is again making permanent and upward strides. It is true her population is small, compared with the flush times of Darwin and Panamint, but those days of excitement taught the practical miner a lesson, and with that lesson has come experience worth more to him than thousands of capital. The miner of to-day—who has had an experience of eight years, or since the discovery of Panamint—has become thoroughly acquainted with the various qualities of ores in all the camps around, and can tell at a glance by what process they should be worked, what ores will or will not pay, and in what manner he can economize, both in the extraction of the ore from the mine and in the reduction of the ore at the mill or furnace. For examples of this class I would refer to Panamint, under the management of Pheby, where we find the few mines that he is working paying good dividends; at Lookout the Modock property, under the management of Fitzgerald, is paying well; also Snow's Cañon, in the vicinity of Lookout, where several gold ledges supply a small mill with all the ore it can crush, at a good profit; and Darwin, whose furnaces, under the management of Gorman, are made to do duty not only for the Defiance mine but for numerous chloriders throughout the district. These are all old camps, abandoned by large capital, and from which many mining men withdrew to follow the excitements of Bodie, Black Hills and Arizona. Many were the predictions that, with the withdrawal of capital, the camps would die out and the busy hum of mining industry cease. Again has the chronic growler been at fault. Not only have these camps survived, but another has been added to the list.

SHERMAN DISTRICT,

The mines of which were first discovered in 1875, has received the interest of capital, and work is now progressing toward the development of her mines. Work has been in progress since the first of June upon the Bonanza King mine, and enough has been done to prove to the most skeptical that Southern Inyo still takes the lead in valuable mines. This mine has been opened at various points and about 350 tons of ore taken out. A tunnel is being driven to strike the ledge at a depth of 200 feet at the northern end of the mine, and beneath a large ore body, known to exist there, from which a greater portion of the ore taken out has been extracted. On the southern portion of the mine an incline shaft has been sunk to a depth of about 90 feet. On the surface the ledge was only a few inches in width, but gradually widened until it has reached the width of seven feet, and with indications of still widening. The general character of the ore is a sulphuret of silver, carrying oxides, chlorides and horn silver, and is entirely free from copper, consequently can be classed among free milling ores—something very unusual in the silver mines of the County. The country rock or formation is, on the surface, granite, but wherever the mine has been opened the granite has gradually changed to a soft porphyry, the granite disappearing at a depth of from 30 to 40 feet. This property is owned by Eastern capitalists, the principal manager being Mr. E. Reily. * * From present appearances, this mine alone will make the enterprise a paying one and of great permanence. They have several other mines with croppings and surface exposure quite as good as this, and, taken as a whole, it is by far the finest-looking mining property that your correspondent has seen for several years; and if the various bodies of ore now exposed in the Bonanza King continue to hold out, both in size and quality, it will prove to be the banner mine of Inyo.

Use of the Capital "I."

When General Alexander Ogle served Semerset's "frosty sons of thunder" in in the Pennsylvania Legislature, it fell to him to write, in behalf of the Democratic members, a letter to General Jackson, then stepping across the Presdential threshold. Such work of the scribe was a labor of love, and in submitting to the caucus what he had written, General Ogle said: „Gentlemen and members of the Democratic party, I hold in my hand a letter addressed by General Alexander Ogle to General Andrew Jackson, and I have no hesitation in saying that it is a fine paper." The members, gathering around, agreed that the letter was just the thing to make Old Hickory's heart thump with satisfaction, and all except one, a dapper little Philadelphian, spoke words of praise. This dandy of the House, fixing his glasses and scanning the page, with a critic's smirk, ventured to remark: "Pardon me, General, I do not wish to assume to make a suggestion to so distinguished a gentleman as yourself, but I cannot refrain from saying that it is customary in the East, and I may say in all civilized countries in Europe, to write with the capital 'I,' instead of the little 'i,' in using the personal pronoun in epistolary correspondence." General Ogle drew down his heavy brows, piercing the dandy's marrow with the fierce shaft of scorn that shot from his eye. "Sir," he said, beginning with a hiss and ending with a roar, "when I write to such a great man, such a towering man as General Andrew Jackson, Democratic President of the United States, I abase myself, I abase myself, sir. I use as small an 'i' as I can put on paper; but, sir, if I should ever get to such a low down pitch as have to write to such a d—d little snipe as you, I'd use an 'I,' sir, that would fill two sheets of foolscap, so help me—!"—Philadelphia Times.

A HOUSE was burning at Oshkosh, Wis., and a woman was left inside. Her husband cried: "Five thousand dollars to the men who saves her!" A fireman dashed in at great personal risk, and brought her out alive. Although the husband is very wealthy, he refused to give a dollar of the reward; but the Supreme Court decides that the offer of $5,000 was valid, and that the money must be paid.

FOR the 30 years ending 1880, the money invested in mining for the precious metals—buying mines, labor and machinery—is estimated at $700,000,000. For this expenditure we have a return of values—values that can be converted into cash at sight in mines, mills and actual cash received, $2,200,000,000, which is over 300 per cent. on the investment as actual profit.

FRENCH, the Acting Secretary of the Treasury, decides that a Chinaman, having a through ticket from New York to any place in the United States, having passed through Canada on the Grand Trunk Railway, is entitled to admission into the United States without further evidence of his right than a ticket.

MINERS working in a bank at Cassair, British Columbia, found about thirty Chinese coins strung on a wire six feet below the surface. The wire crumbled to pieces on exposure to the air. The coins are said by the Chinese to be over 3,000 years old. The question is now asked: "Were the Chinese the first settlers of this continent?"

LEADVILLE will pay this year to the railroad companies of the United Stetes $1,000,000 for the transportation of bullion to the Eastern markets. She pays as much more for freight on ore, coke, machinery and mining supplies.

DR. BOYNTON'S claim for services during President Garfield's illtess is for $4,500, beiog $5,500 less than any claim for professional services yet received.

THE government's receipts for the capitation tax on immigants, under the Act of August 3d, up to and including September 30, amounted to $37,000.

THERE are 43,000,000 acres of land in California still belonging to the United States, 20,000,000 of which are suitable for agricultural purposes.

A CARD.

The report being circulated, obviously for political purposes, "that I have a large amount of money deposited with banks, while I am paying taxes on a very limited amount of property," has no foundation in truth and I emphatically pronounce it false. I have never, in this County, been so fortunate as to have money to deposit to my credit with any bank.

A Card.

TO THE VOTERS OF INYO COUNTY: It having come to me that reports are being circulated to the effect that I have promised, in the event of my election to the office of Sheriff, the appointment of certain men to the positions of Under Sheriff and Deputies, I desire to say that all such talk is absolutely false and without the shadow of foundation. Although satisfied that my friends do not for a moment credit such statements, I desire to place myself right before the general public in the matter.

Respectfully,

The Beef Supply.

Notwithstanding the enormous advance made in cattle-raising during the past twenty years or so, the increased supply, even in favorable seasons, has not been at all commensurate with the increase in the demand for beef. The ratio of increase in cattle is less than that in population, so that with no change in dietetic habits the demand for beef would tend to steadily to outrun the supply. But our appetite for beef increases much more rapidly than our numbers. The marketman makes his daily rounds with fresh beef in hundreds of communities where salt pork was eaten almost exclusively twenty five years ago; and generally throughout the country beef has largely displaced pork on the tables of farmers, mechanics, and well to do people. This partly because of the universal improvement in the scale of popular living due to general prosperity, but more, perhaps, to the influence of an active school of would be health reformers who have persistently decried pork as an article of food, and created a widespread and unreasonable prejudice against it. Leaving out of consideration any possible increase in the demand for beef for exportation, we may reasonably anticipate that the home demand for beef will continue to increase as fast, if not faster, than the population does; and there can be no marked decline from the present excessive prices until the supply of beef-cattle is brought up to the level of the popular requirements. It is not the prime cost of beef-cattle in the field, or their necessary cost at the shambles after being driven or carried half across the continent, that chiefly determines the price of the meat to the consumer, but the single fact that the supply is relatively so meagre that cattle-raisers can ask and readily get prices which enable them to make 20, 30, even 50 per cent profit per annum on the money invested—selling for six cents a pound, live weight, cattle which cost two cents a pound to raise.—Scientific American.

THE goodness of the times is manifested by the formation of numerous labor organizations, and by the ease with which those organizations enforce their demands for higher scales of wages. The San Francisco mechanic and laboring man is well off to-day; let us hope he knows it and that he also recognizes the fact that he may not always be in a bonanza. He is now rising on the commercial wave; but there is never a wave without its accompanying trough and this commercial wave will have one. All observing visitors have noticed the superior wages our workers earn; but they have also noted the disposition of those workers to live up to their income and to increase their expenses, in proportion, as wages rise. The working man who trusts to a Union makes a mistake. Let him join the Union, pay his dues, and use the Union as a walking stick, if he likes; but he must beware of depending upon it to serve as a crutch. His own savings, under his own control, will be the surest shelter when the rainy days come. We have seen the working men of San Francisco when their faces were pretty long and their spirits pretty low, and when hundreds of them were filing thankfully up to soup-kitchens. We see the same men now, well fed, well dressed and in demeanor even arrogant. we hope thew don't think that it it is always going to be Summer and that they will never again have to hunt work without finding any.—S. F. Report.

A CORRESPONDENT of the American Agriculturist claims that winding a string tightly around the body or limb in June or July, will cause barren fruit trees to yield the following season. Let our readers try it on single limbs and alternate trees next Summer. The string should be cut the following Winter or early Spring.

A SUIT at law is pending in Ohio against a telephone company which removed a telephone from plaintiff's premises "because of the use of profane language."

He Knew His Failing.

I used to often wonder whether the proprietor of a railroad eating house of the third-class order ever racked his brains to imagine what a man thought after having chewed away at a piece of bull beef, broken a tooth on a sandwich, and disgusted his stomach with a cup of slop, at being told that the charge was 75 cents. The wonder ceased last Spring while making a trip through Virginia. The table was covered with flies, the meat and coffee stone cold, the butter was frowsy and the milk sour. Not one of us ate six mouthfuls. I was the first one to pass out, and as I approached the cashier he said:

"Bad dinner—mighty bad?"

"Yes."

"Toughest beef and sloppiest coffee you ever saw?"

"Just so."

"Flies thick enough to disgust a Rhinoceros?"

"Exactly."

"And a perfect imposition on the public to charge 75 cents?"

"You bet it is."

"You'll take care to warn your friends not to stop here?"

"If I dont may I be shot!"

"All of which," cooly continued the man, "is repeated over and over every day in the year, and with all of which I perfectly agree. Seventy-five cents, please."

"For dinner?"

"No sir—for taking up my valuable time and to help pay my rent to the railroad company."

Those who came after him called his place a "hole," and called him a "slouch," and his table a hog-trough, and he agreed with each one, and collected 75 cents just as easy as rolling off a log.—Detroit Free Press.

ONE day, Tad, in search of amusement, loitered into the office of the Secretary of War, and Mr. Stanton, for the fun of the thing, commissioned him a Lieutenant of the United States Volunteers. This elated the boy so much that he went off immediately and ordered a quantity of muskets sent to the White House, and then he organized and drilled the house servants and gardeners, and, without attracting anybody's attention, he actually discharged the regular sentries about the premises and ordered his unwilling recruits on duty as guards. Robert Lincoln soon discovered what had been done, and thinking it a great hardship that men who had been at work all day should be obliged to keep watch during the night to gratify a boyish freak, he remonstrated. But Tad would listen to nothing from his elder brother, and Robert appealed to his father, who only laughed at the matter as a joke. Tad soon tired of his self-imposed duties and went to bed. The drafted men were quietly relieved from duty, and there was no guard at the President's mansion that night, much to Mr. Lincoln's relief. He never approved of the precaution of mounting guard at the White House. While Tad sported his commission as Lieutenant, he cut quite a military figure. From some source he procured a uniform suitable to his supposed rank, and thus proudly attired, he had himself photographed.

THE Paris Figaro publishes an account of a practical joke which, unlike most practical jokes, has the merit of being amusing. An enthusiastic sportsman went to a breakfast given at the commencement of the shooting season. The talk was of game, when suddenly in rushed a servant exclaiming to the host that a hare had been seen moving about on the lawn. Out went the enthusiastic sportsman, gun in hand, fired at the hare and missed him. The hare, scratching its nose, stood up on its hind legs, presented a horse-pistol at the sportsman and fired in return. No one was hurt, but the sportsman was naturally astounded, until it was explained to him that the hare was a performing animal which had been hired from a neighboring show. The sportsman's charge had, of course, been tampered with by the confidential servant.

Colonel Thomas Buford, who killed Judge John Mellot about three years ago and was subsequently sentenced to the insane assylum at Louisville escaped Saturday night and went to Indiana. As there is no criminal charge against him, having been acquitted of murder, it is believed the telegraph says, that he cannot be brought back. This is a good illustration of how the insanity dodge works. We suppose it was all arranged that Buford should get away. He committed a most cowardly murder and should have been hanged; but his friends had money and so he has paid a penalty of only three years imprisonment.

"WHAT a man your father is!" exclaimed Mrs. Homespun, looking up from the letter she held in her hand. "He says he has bought a French clock, and shall bring it home with him. What will it be good for except as an ornament? None of us can tell the time by it unless you can Edith. You know something about French, don't you?" —Boston Transcript.

A BAR of gold, weighing 420 pounds, and valued at about $150,000, was cleaned up in the North Bloomfield hydraulic mine, near Nevada City, Cal., after a run of twenty days. It is the largest bar ever cast in the United States. The bullion was shipped to the Bank of California, San Francisco.

THE governments of England, France, Germany, Austria, Belgium and America have declared their intention to support the proposed International Agricultural Exhibition to be held at Hamburg next Spring.

THE present comet in the Eastern sky, which can be distinctly seen by every one at early morning, is certainly the most remarkable one of all the modern comets. Professor Lewis Swift, director of the Warner Observatory, Rochester, N. Y., states that the comet grazed the sun so closely as to cause great disturbance, so much so that it has divided into no less than eight separate parts, all of which can be distinctly seen by a good telescope. There is only one other instance on record where a comet has divided, that one being Biella's comet of 1846, which separated into two parts. Applications have been made on Mr. H. H. Warner by parties who have noted these cometary offshoots, claiming the $200 prize for each one of them. Whether the great comet will continue to produce a brood of smaller comets remains to be seen.

JAMES E. PARKER.

UNCLE FOLGER'S LIE.

While Parker was a member of the Legislature he represented Nevada State, and devoted his entire attention toward annexing Alpine, Inyo and Mono Counties to the Rotten Borough, and he would like to do it again, says the Bridgeport Union. As Parker nothing for Mono County, our people will not trust him again in the Legislature. He was a valuable member—for himself. The old settlers of Mono County will not vote for Parker. His Legislative record will not pass muster outside the State of Nevada.—Bodie Free Press.

It is but a short time since that the Bodie Free Press republished from this paper a full history of that "annexation" matter. Inclusive was the report of the border delegations on the subject, and the supplemental report made by Mr. Parker. His report closed with a total repudiation of the idea, which killed the proposition. Even as a political trap sprung at the last moment, the Free Press was designedly unfair, because having published the facts it ought to know them—to know them exactly the reverse of what it states. As to the deliberate, cold-blooded lie on the part of the Bridgeport Union, we have only need to state that the hoary headed old Folger himself was hanging about the House all that Winter, and in common with men of the mountain counties he knew that it was only introduced for the purpose of doing good to Mono and Inyo, as affording a leverage and a basis for argument in support of securing a member under the new apportionment for these two isolated mining counties alone. When that was accomplished, the resolution of the Nevada Legislature were disposed of by Mr. Parker as stated. Will the Bodie Free Press look over its files, see the facts and decently apologize? It is welcome to all the political capital made out of it, however.

JOS. E. ANDERSON, editor of the Eureka Leader, last week received a pistol shot at the hands of one Reek, in a difficulty growing out of a political quarrel. Anderson has since died. The story is a pitiable one, as both men were married—the wife of the deceased being bereft of reason by grief and the other crazed with terror at the prospects of stern justice being meted out to her homicidal husband. Thus endeth the career of a man widely known over the world as a member of the Louisianna Returning Board which made Hays President.

THE Kansas newspapers are agitating the subject of tree-planting as a relief from cyclones. It is stated that if ten acres of timber were grown on each quarter section in the land, and a pond constructed on each farm, the evaporation would be so great that the atmosphere would become heavy enough to prevent the wind from dancing so disastrously over the prairie.

MISS EMILY FAITHFULL will lecture in this country this Winter on "Modern Extravagance." In America she will find examples in plenty with to point the moral of her essay.

DAKOTA offers special inducements for tree-planting by exempting forty acres of land, with $1,000 of improvements for every five acres of trees.

EDISON has recently secured a patent for a device for raising or lowering the electric light at will. The new invention is called an "adjustable resistance," and is operated after the manner of a German student lamp. The light can, by a single touch, be raised to its full power or lowered to a mere spark. The cost of the device is $2.50 for each light.

CARSON AND COLORADO RAILROAD.

After an uninterrupted residence of half a dozen years in the interior, where telegraphic communication and railroad transportation are among things unknown, a ride over the incoming narrow gauge railroad is an enjoyable sensation to the average sagebrusher. Its perfect system, solid construction and beautiful appointments will compare most favorably with his recollections of the best of the old broad-gauges.

At present the Belleville and Independence stages leave Benton, pass the summit of the line on the White Mountains about midnight, and reach the junction early in the morning. At the junction the "Conductor Train No. 2" was instructed by a dispatch from Supt, Laws to place the writer on the train where he pleased to go. He went on the engine. It is not our purpose to expatiate upon his enjoyment of the ride down the grade (an average of 125 feet to the mile), at a speed of about 35 miles per hour.

Last Sunday night the heavy work on the summit was pretty much completed by breaking through the long tunnel. Grading is completed to a point this side the State line and must be several miles this side of McBride's now. Chief Engineer Oliver informed us that his surveyors had the grade stakes set in Blind Springs Valley opposite the Moran place. The Company has fifty miles of rails and ties at the front, and the road will be completed to a point near Benton by the middle of December, where freight and passenger depots will be erected. Supt. Laws says that with their present force (from 600 to 700 men) a point opposite Bishop Creek will be reached in January and they will get to the Lake by July. He denied any intention on the part of the Company of stopping at that point, unless delayed by lack of material. We ascertained further that the line of the Carson and Colorado will undoubtedly be run on the east side of Owens River and the Lake.

THE ELECTIONS.

The mails of to-night will probably bring news conclusive in matters political. In our isolation from telegraphic communication we can only make some extracts from city papers received last night, which will go to show the remarkable political revolution which has occurred, and give as well in a condensed form such news as we have: "New York, Pennsylvania, Massachusetts, Indiana and Connecticut have been carried by the Democrats, and New Hampshire is close, but Republican. In New York, Governor Cleveland's majority for Governor is likely to exceed 100,000. The Republicans have lost four and possibly five Congressmen. The new Assembly will be Democratic by a small majority. In New York city Mr. Edson is elected Mayor by about 25,000 majority. The entire Citizens' ticket is defeated, and all city Congressional districts have been carried by the Democrats. In Pennsylvania Senator Cameron's candidate, Beaver, is defeated by an estimated Democratic plurality of 40,000, and the Republicans have lost six Congressmen. Senator Cameron's own home went against him. Massachusetts has elected General Butler Governor by 25,000 plurality, and the Democrats have gained four Congressmen and many members of the Legislature. In Connecticut the Democrats have elected their candidate for Governor by 5,000 plurality, and have gained two Congressmen. The Legislature remains Republican. In New Jersey the Republicans have elected William Walter Phelps to Congress, but Robeson is defeated. In the new Congress the Republicans will probably retain control of the Senate by a small majority. The House will be Democratic by a majority of about thirty. New Hampshire remains Republican by a small majority. Indiana is Democratic by a about 8,000 plurality, with the South Democratic, as usual."

In this State the returns point to the election of Gen. Stoneman by a majority of from 7,000 to 8,000, carrying the entire State ticket with him. Five out of the six Congressmen elected are Democrats, with the contest between Budd and Page in the Second District still doubtful. The Legislature will undoubtedly be Democratic in both branches. The result between the Democratic and Republican candidates for the Assembly for Inyo and Mono can not be determined—it will be so close that there is no chance of deciding it before the official count. For State Senator, Hon. P. Reddy is elected by a majority of from 500 to 600.

In the county the Democrats elect every officer with the exception of County Treasurer, School Superintendent and Surveyor.

Elsewhere will be found a table, prepared this week from no regular system of returns, and probably containing some errors; but in the next issue it will be given corrected in accordance with the findings of the County Board of Canvassers.

To persevere in one's duty and to be silent is the first answer to calumny.

VOTE OF INYO CO., GENERAL ELECTION, NOV. 7, 1882.

[REMARK.—Except when otherwise designated, the candidates first named with reference to each office in the subjoined table are upon the regular Republican ticket, the next following upon the regular Democratic ticket. The returns received to date, other than those under seal, being incomplete this report is necessarily incomplete.]

The Mono Vote.

Our latest election returns from Mono County are thus condensed by the Free Press of the 9th:

The following precincts have now been heard from: Bodie precincts Nos. 1 and 2, Bridgeport, Lundy, Vernon and Mono Mills. These give the following totals: Estee 637, Stoneman 585; Conklin 667, Daggett 554; Edgerton 649, Morrow 635; Sumner 575, Glasscock 585; Woods 650, Tulley 578; Gibson 631, Foot 606; Keeler 651, Parker 583; Showers 553, McKinney 678; Marshall 611, McAlpine 621. The following precincts are yet to be heard from: Benton, Indian District, Bennettville, Clinton and Antelope. The returns at hand show that the Republican State and Congressional ticket will carry the County by about 75 majority. The Republican County ticket is defeated throughout, with the exception of Judge Goodall for District Attorney, who will run ahead of the State ticket, and possibly Joe Marshall for Assessor. The vote between the latter and McAlpin will be very close. J. B. Fort, Republican, is elected Supervisor; John Oakes, Republican, and A. M. Phlegar, Democrat, Justices of the Peace of Bodie Township, and R. A. Douglass, Republican, and John Pattie, Democrat, Constables.

UNITED STATES geologist J. C. Russell and party are at present in the Mono Lake country making Government observations. Mr. Russell is now camped on Lee Vining creek, but will in a few days move to Silver Lake, where he will take observations and then return to Mono Lake, and, it is presumed, will sound its depths and make other important examinations of that water and its vicinity. From Mr. Johnson, a member of the party, who, with a companion, is taking notes on the eastern shore of the lake, it is learned that the only progress so far accomplished has been as to the supposed water marks which exist in Mono valley, and the height of the mountains around it, etc. He confirms the theory that these marks were caused by the lake at one time having occupied their level. Of the much-talked-of cabin, which lies submerged in fifteen feet of water near the small island in the lake, Mr. Johnson could only express an outside opinion, as he had not yet made an examination of the subject, but he believes if it is not the result of a natural process it was put there by some prehistoric individual. This latter theory is highly probable, as from unmistakable appearances the lake has recently risen above its former level.—Free Press.

INDEPENDENCE, CAL.:

SATURDAY, NOVEMBER 11.....1882

OLD INYOITES AT BODIE.—There is quite a host of people hailing from this county to be found at Bodie. Among those encountered during a two-day's stay were Superior Judge R. M. Briggs. He was to return to Bridgeport and the day after election would start for a visit to his home in Jackson....Paul W. Bennett and his most excellent lady are in splendid health. Paul seems to be enjoying the heaviest end of Mono legal business, his fine offices being the resort of principal litigants... R. L. Peterson is doing well in his Notary office—his family is in Mexico....Judge A. M. Phlegar, formerly of Darwin, has his Court room occupied with a case or two every day—John Pattie being in attendance as Constable....Robert W. Woolard was there, but he belongs in Bennettsville, in an impotrant position with the Great Sierra Mining Co.; his wife and child are at Oakland....Jos. McDermott belongs in Bodie, and we presume, from political indications was elected Supervisor last Tuesday; said his new mill at Cloverdale had started up with a splendid prospect ahead.... Si Ryan and Ned Reddy are the principals of two of the finest saloons in the place—the Parole and the Laurel Palace respectively; their bars and the chop-stand attachments vie now with the best in Comstock's most exciting days. ....Charley Mates is there contracting; his estimable better-half contracted to to come down home with the writer, but backed out when the snow-blizzard came on....Jim Wales, from Darwin, is running an engine....Charley Schuman, of Bishop, is mining ...Jack Wilson and Johnny Cullen, well known Panamint and Darwin men, are in Bodie amongst the rest....Charlie Dale, except from the loss of his hand, looks natural as of old; said the mines which he has been superintending were temporarily closed down....Milt. Aldridge runs the Temple saloon; is doing well, but has an eye toward this region again....Ramon Montenegro was slashing around generally, day and night; Mrs. M. is a compositor in the Evening Miner office....Joe Kelley, the well known Cerro Gordo and Darwin miner, holds a foremanship in one of the leading mines....Jimmy McDonald was in from Mill Creek, waiting news of some important mining transfers. By the kind permission of Supt. Wm. Irwin, he accompanied THE INDEPENDENT man through the famous Standard mine. Something of an account of this experience will be given in our next.

GOLD.—The Messrs. Van Epps & Burden have received another chunk or two of gold, valued at $15 per ounce and amouting to $800, from the Sacramento arastras. The mine, which is located in the White Mountains northwest of Bishop, at a depth of 100 feet shows a larger and much richer ledge than nearer the surface. It is only one of a great many equally promising properties which might be profitably worked if the owners would only get to work at them.

MINING TRANSFER.—Mr. Peter Laird has sold the Blue Bells and Old Tom mines to Mr. Wm. A. Bolinger, who represents a company organized at Salt Lake. The properties are extensive and quite well-developed silver mines, located near the summit of the White Mountains, and more generally known as the Reed mine. The consideration was $10,000, some of the cash having already been paid.

AT BENTON.—Dick McNaughton was out on the streets of Benton during the week. His wound was about as close a call as a man ever got, but has not proved serious. The officers have found it impossible to more than guess at which of the Chinese devils infesting that region fired the shot. Dan Ashley was reported to be steadily failing again, after a short period of hope for him the week before.

MEDICAL.—Dr. W. H. George has completed his arrangements for removal to Bishop Creek, for which point he will set out with his family early next week. He will be succeeded here by Dr. H. G. Kernodle, who was recommended by no less high authority than Dr. S. G. George—a brother of our Dr. G., a retired physician of Alameda County.

BOARD OF SUPERVISORS.—The Board of Supervisors, represented by Supervisor Robinson of this District, met last Monday and adjourned over election day. Routine business has been going on since Wednesday morning, which will be closed up to-day. On Monday, or as soon thereafter as all the returns are in, the Board will begin the official count.

QUERY.—What old pioneer of this section can give us the address or whereabouts of Capt. Ropes, of Co. B, 2d Cal. Cavalry, who was in command in 1863 for a time during the Indian war in the Valley? We would be glad of an answer, in order to reply to questions from a member of his Company now residing at Jersey City.

RACES.—Quite a number of noted local "flyers" are in training for the races at Big Pine on the coming 29th and 30th instant. At their close the Big Pine Hotel will give a grand ball and supper for a wind-up.

FOR SAN FRANCISCO.—Colonel J. H. Holt left last night for San Francisco, where he expects to remain until something turns up in relation to his Rex Montis interests.

LOST.—On Edwards street, between the brewery and Main street, a gold ring with two hearts on the back. The finder will please leave the same at this office.

SICK.—Tom Crough arrived home yesterday from Lookout, having suffered a severe attack of "leading." He is now recovering.

The Deep Spring Valley Mining Region.

LONE PINE, Nov. 1.

EDITOR INDEPENDENT: Having spent some time past in examination of various portions of the county, and my attention having been attracted to the Deep Spring Valley region by a kind invitation of the genial Greenly—who is and for some time past has been identified with and interested in mining enterprises there—I recently paid that section a visit and under the kindly guidance of Scott Broder and W. A. Greenly made as careful an examination as time permitted of properties there situated. I cannot refuse myself the pleasure of here publicly expressing my thanks to those gentleman for the many courtesies received at their hands in camp and field, and sincerely hope to have an early opportunity of reciprocating those favors.

As the mountain structure and building is a most important element in the survey and determination of a mineral country, I carefully investigated the mountains of this section as preliminary to the examination of the various, separate, distinct and peculiar ore deposits found there. These mountains are of that massed, solid, compact and even form and structure so much desired by those who are searching for permanent ore deposits. Though not of great height they present but few evidences of those great convulsions which in many other portions of the county, more particularly in the south and southeast, have disturbed the ancient repose of matter, often leaving torn and disjointed and shattered the ore veins and deposits and which present so many distracting and perplexing problems to the geologist, mineralogist and miner. The theory of experience is that permanent veins as a rule live in solid mountains.

Passing from the form and structure of the mountains themselves taken as a whole, we examined their rock formations and found them running through great variety and seeming to divide the country into vast districts or dykes—granite, pure porphyrited and synitic; lime, dolomite and argentine; slate of various grades with strata of trachite, each holding firm possession of their respective districts in places underlaid by a vast substratum of fine-grained porphyry, just the style of country for good mines, whether you find them there or not, which mines of necessity from the nature of the differing formations must present a wide diversity of ore. This region is a most interesting one and presents many propositions in gold, silver, copper, lead, iron and zinc. The gold mines or ledges, purely, so far as examined seemed to follow and cling to a porphyritic granite offshoot or ridge of the whole mountains, reaching from about the summit to near the edge of Fish Lake Valley, which ridge rises between Cottonwood and Wyman creeks and forms the dividing line of Deep Spring and Fish Lake Valleys. Here, grouped within a radius of two miles, are situated the '78, Gold Dollar and California gold mines, each of which so far as developed presents promising prospects of becoming bullion yielders when they shall be carried forward by regular and systematic work. The soft formation and regular walls inclosing them are prophetic of permanency, while the ledge matter itself, soft and beautiful, carries steadily from wall to wall ore of a high grade. The facilities for the reduction of the ores of these several mines are exceedingly good, as wood and water in great abundance is near at hand, while a pleasant situation and a mild climate combine to form what our good friend Greenly calls a "miners' paradise."

Joining this formation of granite and having its initial point but a short distance from the California mine is seen a dyke or belt of limestone, not more than one-fourth of a mile in width, but which from its commencement holds a steady way through the regions to the east of Deep Spring Valley, cleaving the country for miles as distinct as a county road, until in the far south it is lost behind the horizon as it climbs the mountains east of Saline Valley. This forms the copper belt of this section, for at various points are found veins of this metal, all at last culminating in that wonderful group of copper deposits in Ubehebe, to the east of Saline Valley. We examined but a few of these copper mines, but were informed that there are massive deposits of this ore at various points, which information we can readily believe.

The silver mines or ledges of this section, from some of which ores of marvelous richness have in places been extracted, are not confined to any especial point, but are found here and there in the different formations and carry ores as dissimilar as the formations in which they are found—chlorides, sulphides, brittle silver and the other rich-natured silver ores are readily found, Quality is not here the question, but one of quantity, which may be and very possibly will be answered on the right side in time. Some of the richest and most beautiful ores we have seen in the county we saw here. The purely silver propositions here are problems to be worked out with courage and care. Nothing can be said against them from the surface standpoint, but the pick, hammer and drill alone can determine their value in the hidden recesses of lower levels.

The argentiferous galena veins are found in a vast dyke of dolomite extending along the eastern slope of the White Mountains, itself flanked on the east by a remarkably beautiful formation of argentine and trachite.

This lead district is a large and most interesting one, presenting many propositions of great merit, which, despite past failures in the reduction of ores, must have further attention paid to it. I am not at liberty to further discuss its merits.

In closing I desire to mention that strong mineral-bearing fissure which cuts the mountains to the west of Eureka Valley, which I believe belongs to the Deep Spring Mining District. This great fissure is traceable for several miles, and many claims, including the Scout, Greenly, Grizzly, Fortuna and others have been located. Some work done on several of these locations has disclosed value, but so far they do not rise to the dignity of fully-developed mines. I will, however, say that I saw the ear-marks of a great ore-bearing vein, which I believe will at points develop rich chimneys of high-grade ore. It must be so unless Nature has toiled in vain.

My examination of this region was necessarily hasty, and as a matter of justice both to myself and the region, I intend to pay it a more extended visit.

Very truly, S. D. WOODS.

THE FACTS.—The truth of the business is that this was "election week," and that caused at least two days, interruption in our regular printing office labors; then there was a further draft upon our limited force by reason of some job work that wouldn't keep for another week; then things were not advanced in the least by the sickness of the proprietor, who arrived home from Bodie on Tuesday, suffering from a severe cold which has almost entirely incapacitated him in his usual duties—so publication day is here, and this issue goes to press decidedly "short."

MONTEZUMA.—The Montezuma boys, Superintendent, boss smelter, engineer and all the rest, are jubilant over the near completion of the works. The whistle has sounded already, and they expect to fire up for a short trial run within two weeks.

SUPERIOR COURT.—The only business transacted by the Superior Court during the week was on Thursday last, when the case of Gehrig v. Fernbach, on appeal from the Justice's Court, was dismissed.

PREACHING.—There will be preaching by the new pastor, Rev. W. Nims, at Lone Pine on the third Sabbath of this month, Nov. 19th, at 11 o'clock in the morning and at 7 in the evening.

HERE.—U. S. Deputy Mineral Surveyor J. B. Treadwell passed through here for Bodie last Wednesday, after completing official surveys for several properties south of this point.

Kicking Cows.

We see many remedies for curing a cow of kicking while being milked. The best remedy is prevention. This can only be applied by handling the heifer while young, teaching her by gentleness and kindness that man is her friend, and does not wish to harm her; but, as this is not always possible, it is well to know how to prevent kicking after a cow has reached mature years. We have noticed the following remedy several times:

I tied the cow up by the head (not legs), procured a good swich (not club) and proceeded to milk, and for every kick I returned one good smart blow with the switch on the offending leg. A few kicks and blows sufficed for that time. At the next milking only three or four blows were required, and at the third milking one kick and one blow were sufficient, and ever after the cow was as gentle as need be. Three important points are to be observed in the above treatment: first, uniform gentleness and kindness; second, never strike a cow for kicking when loose in the yard, or she will learn to run from you; third, only one blow for one kick.

With the right kind of person and the right kind of cow, we have no doubt that the above remedy will be efficient, but there are few persons that will stand a "few kicks," and still be uniformly kind and gentle.

Others recommend tying the cow's leg. We have seen cows that this latter operation would be much more dangerous than milking her. We can recommend a plan that is sure to be successful, does not hurt the cow, and will soon break her of kicking. The "few kicks and blows" would both be dispensed with. The manner of proceeding is as follows:

Take a piece of rope half an inch in diameter—an old one is better than a new one, as it is not stiff and is easily tied; make a loop in one end of this that will not slip; pass this rope over the loin of the cow in front of her two hip bones; pass the rope around her in front of the bag, and put the other end through the loop, draw it up moderately tight, and tie it; then sit down and milk her, regardless of her movements. This rope prevents her raising her foot high enough to kick, and she will soon give it up as an unprofitable job.

The first time the rope is ever put upon the cow time should be given to her to become accustomed to it, and find that however much she jumps or tries to kick she cannot free herself from it. This simple remedy is worth many dollars to anyone who has cows. —Live-Stock Journal.

THE Central Pacific railroad company's new steam collier is nearly ready for sea, and will sail direct for San Francisco in the course of 10 days. Her sister ship, the San Pedro, will follow in the course of three weeks.

A CITIZEN of St Louis has invented a combination of a letter sheet, evelope and postage stamp, the use of which, it is claimed, will effectually prevent tampering with the mails or the second use of stamps.

Two hares who were looking for a change of abode happened to meet at the entrance of a den which had been deserted by a woodchuck.

"I saw it first," exclaimed one.

"No you didn't. I had my left eye on this place when I saw you with the other."

"Oh! come now—that's too thin. As I am the elder I shall take possession."

"Don't be too sure, as I am the stronger I shall turn you out."

"Come to reflection," said the elder hare, after carefully scratching his ear, "there is no use of a quarrel. Right is right the world over. As we are both sensible hares I think we can come to a perfect understanding."

"No doubt we could," replied the other, "but as here comes the fox we will ask him to decide between us."

"What is all this row about?" inquired the fox as he came up.

"We have a dispute as to which of us is entitled to this vacant burrow."

"Ah! Ah! A case of law! You did well to call me in," grinned the fox. "Let me first inspect the disputed claim."

He disappeared down the hole, and was absent so long that the impatient hares finally called out:

"Hello! you!"

"Hello! yourself!" was the impudent reply.

"Are you down there?"

"You bet I am!"

"Have you decided the case?"

"Long ago. My decision is that when two hares are foolish enough to quarrel over the possession of a burrow large enough for a whole family the fox is entitled to take possession."

MORAL.—Two neighbors who can't settle a question of equity should call in a lawyer.

A LAWYER got mad with his client at Oil City the other day, and in the heat of passion called him a liar.

"What's that?" yelled the client.

"You're a liar," vehemently shouted the lawyer.

"A liar? How do you spell it?"

"Spell it, you idiot. Spell what?"

"Liar. How is it spelled?"

"Why, you double back-actian ignoramus," yelled the lawyer in a rage. I spell it l-i-a-r," and he put ten pounds of emphasis on every letter.

"Oh! that's the way you spell it. I didn't know but 'twas l-a-w-y-e-r liar, and if it had been I'd a knocked you into the second week of May and sot down on you."

AN old miner was brought up before Judge McDowall one morning for being drunk. The Judge gave the old fellow a good, wholesome lecture on the sin of drunkenness.

"Were you ever drunk, Judge?" asked the old veteran.

"No, sir," said his Honor, "I never was."

The old man hung his head for a moment, then ejaculated:

"Well, I'll declare! But it ain't too late yet Judge, there's fun ahead for you—heaps of fun."

The old fellow was discharged amid a roar of laughter.

A MAIDEN lady said to her little nephew: "Now Johnny, you go to bed early, and always do so, and you'll be cosey-cheeked and handsome when you grow up." Johnny thought over this a few minutes and then observed: "Well, aunty, you must have set up a good deal when you were young."

FRED, the prince of wags, was getting home rather late, and a little happy; when, passing by a dark alley, a large, two fisted fellow stepped out, seized him by the collar, and demanded his money. "Money!" said Fred, "money I have none; but if you will hold on a moment, I will give you my note for thirty days."

THERE is a good deal of gush over a driver of one of the street cars in Kansas City, who was formerly a lawyer. This is all wrong. If the man is trying to do right now, why bring his past life against him?

NEWS IN BRIEF.

At Virginia, Nevada, one night recently, the wife of Daniel Glassett, a miner, left her home in a fit of insanity, and taking her three small children, struck out for the mountains north of the city. She wandered back into town at 5 o'clock the next evening, having been out through all the heavy snowstorm. She came back with but two children, boys, seven and eight years of age. At first the woman said her babe had been frozen to death, but finally said it cried and she cut its head off with a hatchet she had carried with her. Officers went in search, and in an old stone quarry north of the city where the woman said she and the children had slept, by the side of a big bowlder, the body of the babe was found. Its head was severed, except a strip of skin back of the neck. Mrs. Glassett says before cutting the child's head off she drew the blankets over the faces of the two little boys so they should not see her do the deed. She says she would have killed the boys, but thought too much of them.

Interesting experiments in the use of the telephone by divers have been made in England. The length of the cable connecting the receiver in the divers' helmet with the transmitter above water was 600 yards. It was found that the diver could converse with ease, and ask for tools in any position which his work might require him to place himself.

In Spain and Italy the vines are expected to yield a return varously estimated at from one-sixth to one-half above the usual average. In Algeria the vintage is abundant beyond all expectation, and we are even told that vessels are not to be had in sufficient number to receive the juice of the grape.

PROF. M. W. HARRINGTON refers to two kinds of changes on the moon's surface which may be regarded as fairly established. The first is the land slides, which may doubtless be caused by the great alterations of temperature to which the moon is subject. Many of these slides may be easily recognized with good telescopes. The second form of change is illustrated by craters, which have been proven to be different in size and shape from what they were recorded by earlier observers. Many other changes have been suspected, but they are of a more uncertain and doubtful character.

A FRENCH chemist has analyzed the juice of the so-called milk tree of Central America, to the nutritive qualities of which attention was first drawn by Humboldt, and has found that the vegetable product really possesses many of the characteristics of cow's milk.

THE stage of a Western theatre took fire the other evening, but a panic and rush for the door was averted by the manager, who, with great presence of mind, slipped to the front and said: "Ladies and gentlemen—we have prepared a little surprise for you. An immense kettle of whisky punch is now being heated, and in a few moments waiters will pass through the audience and distribute it." After that the audience had to be pulled out one by one.

INYO INDEPENDENT.

INDEPENDENCE, CAL.:

JAMES E. PARKER.

THE settlers' boom in Dakota was shown at the opening of the land office at Huron, in that Territory, on October 9th. Over 500 applicants for location gathered about the office before daybreak, and in the wild rush to secure precedence the mob carried away the doors and windows. The day's work comprised locations amounting to over 100,000 acres—in reality a "land-office business," perhaps without parallel in this country. Dakota is becoming a favorite field for the operations of Eastern farmers. Their plan is to take up prairie land and devote it to wheat. All their work is carried on from April to November. They are non-residents during the Winter months, when Dakota is about as cheerful an abiding place as Sitka. Doubtless, in time, the Territory will be filled up with hardy Scandinavians, who look on forty degrees below zero as a pleasant temperature; but at present California and the far Northwest certainly offer a more agreeable prospect to the settler who does not fancy hibernation during the Winter.

HON. JAMES H. BUDD, of Stockton, is the first Democrat ever elected to Congress from the second Congressional District. The District was represented by Hon. Aaron A. Sargent for six years, by Hon. William Higby for six years and by Hon. Horace F. Page for ten years consecutively, all Republicans. Mr. Budd is a native of this State, a graduate of the State University, and is about thirty-two years of age. He is the son of Judge Budd, one of the leading lawyers and politicians of the interior.

THE Republican candidates to whom the cold wave on the 7th instant proved fatal were buried with appropriate pomp and circumstance at Duncan's Mill on Sunday. The hearse, supposed to contain forty corpses, was drawn by twenty yoke of oxen. Buk Sing was chief mourner. E. McCloskey delivered the funeral oration. It was an eloquent and affecting discourse on the text: "And the dead, steered by the dumb, went up Salt River."

THE Nevada Board of Pardons has at last come to the rescue of Alf. Chartz and pardoned him. After liberating Carrick, a defaulter for $21,000, the Board did not have the adamantine gall to keep Chartz locked up. This shows that even Nevada men have some self-respect left. An unprejudiced Board would have let the ex-Eureka editor go free long ago. He should never have been imprisoned.

THE editor of the Russian River Flag has a keen sense of humor. He summed up the election in this pithy style: "We have held our paper over one day in order to secure something definite for our readers. We have succeeded in finding that we are definitely licked."

THE Feather River Transportation Company has been organized at Gridley, Cal. The capital stock is limited to $100,000, divided into 100 shares. Sufficient of the stock has already been disposed of to put a steamer into condition for service and have a barge or two constructed.

IN the little town of Paradise, Butte county, McDonald polled more votes than either Stoneman or Estee. The Good Templar ladies of the place served a fine free lunch on election day, consisting of bread, butter, chicken, cakes, pies, tea and coffee.

A HAND-CAR of the Utah and Northern in passing through Big Horn Cañon, Montana, ran into a herd of seventy-deer. One of the men on board disabled one of the animals with a blow of his fist, but didn't bag the game. It was a surprise all around.

GOVERNOR-ELECT STONEMAN has resigned the office of Railroad Commissioner, and in view of the short time to elapse before his successor takes the place, Governor Perkins declines to appoint anyone to the position.

IN accord with the President's proclamation, Governor Perkins has issued a call for the good people of California to join in general thanks and turkey on Thursday, November 30.

BARON NORDENSKJOLD is getting ready for another Artic expedition, which is to set out from Stockholm next Summer under the patronage of Wilhelm Schonlenck, a Berlin merchant.

THE vote of this County foots up a total of 624, as against 595 at the last general election. In these "dull and piping times," a gain of 29 is worth recording.

THE Emperor of China has asked Victoria to help stop the opium trade. Will she do it, when her subjects in India will lose $40,000,000 a year by it?

THE NEXT LEGISLATURE.

The Legislature will assemble at Sacramento on the first Monday after the 1st day of January, 1883. The date will occur on the 8th of January—the anniversary, by the way, of the battle of New Orleans. The session under the Constitution is limited to sixty days—at least pay is only allowed for that period. There is no limitation if per diem is not considered to be the main factor in law-making. No bill, however, can be introduced fifty days after the commencement without the consent of two-thirds of the members elected to both Houses—that is to say, the consent of 27 Senators and 54 Assemblymen. The latest returns make the Legislature stand as as follows: Senate—Democrats 28, Republicans 12; Democratic majority 16. Assembly—Democrats 54, Republicans 25, Independent, 1; Democratic majority 30—that is to say, the Democrats have a two-thirds majority in both Houses. The Senators from the even districts will hold office for four years and will vote for a Senator to succeed Farley. Of these hold-over Senators the Democrats have 14 and the Republicans 6; so that it may be said the Democrats have taken a long stride toward securing the next Senatorship. But the greatness of their victory largely increases their responsibility. The popularity or odium that may attach to the doings of the next Legislature, will fall exclusively to their lot. In less than two months they will be put on trial before the people of the State. In less than four months the future of the party will be made or marred at Sacramento. If there is no improvement in legislative methods, its doom will be pronounced before the ides of March. The questions to be settled by the next Legislature are neither many nor important.

THE regular quarterly reports of the County Auditor and Treasurer will be noted in this issue. The statement of October 31, 1881, a year ago, showed that the "remaining indebtedness," was $73,945 80. The present showing leaves the amount of floating and bonded debt outstanding $69,503 32—a reduction of $4,442 48 during the year. Of course the bulk of the taxes of the present year is yet to be collected and applied toward paying off the debt, which will reduce the whole to not more than $50,000, all told. Undoubtedly, barring expensive criminal cases, the year following will see all the floating debt paid off. This happy consummation is of course pending the certain advent of the railroad, and the consequent increase of property and property valuations. We can only hope that the incoming Board of Supervisors will be as thoroughly practical and economical in its management of County affairs as its predecessor has been, when taxes may be reduced to something like the rates levied by other Counties of the State. Expense Fund Warrants are now worth 90 cents in the local market, and ought to go at par value during the coming year.

THE result in Nevada is curious, but about right. Lieutenant-Governor Adams, Democrat, is elected to Gubernatorial honors, and Geo. W. Cassidy, also a Democrat, defeats Powning for Congress. The rest of the State ticket, with the exception of Merrill for Attorney General, are all Republicans. It is stated that the Legislature will be a tie on a joint ballot.

ACCORDING to the Bodie Free Press, Capt. J. M. Keeler (Rep.) received a majority of 71 votes in Mono for the Assembly. In this County Mr. Parker received a majority of 53, leaving the Republican candidate elected by a majority of 18 votes. No report has as yet been received here of the official count in Mono.

HON. P. REDDY, State Senator elect for this District, was accorded a fine reception the other day upod his return to Bodie. We understand that he will pay a visit to this section before setting out for his legislative work at Sacramento.

THARE is a gleam of satisfaction in the State political uproar in one thing i. e.: our townsman, Judge A. R. Conklin for Lieutenant-Governor leads Estee by nearly 5,000 votes. Comment, regarding his vote here, is useless.

ONE whose duty it is to examine the periodicals of the world might very readily compile facts for an interesting article on the curiosities of the migration of popular stori s.

A REPORTER of the Kansas City Journal asked Jay Gould if he was going to make a tour of the world, and he replied he had "no time for such foolishness."

KALAKAUA is to be crowned "King" on the 12 h February, and has issued the royal proclamation to that effect.

ILLINOIS went Republican by less than 7,000 majority. In 1880 the State gave Garfield 40,716 over Hancock.

READING, at the recent election, won the County seat away from Shasta, the pioneer old town of the hills.

THE LATEST DEAL IN EGYPT.

Thursday's dispatches stated that the Egyptian Government had abruptly cut the knot of difficulty between England and France by summarily abolishing the joint control of the finances. Gladstone stated in the House of Commons that he did not know whether the press report to this effect was true or not, and therefore if the news is confirmed, the English Government may be expected to disavow all responsibility for the act. It is doubtful whether such a denial will be satisfactory to France, which was anxious to retain the joint control; for although the Khedive may have acted without consulting England, it is pretty certain that he would not have done so without he was sure his decision would not be displeasing to England. The coincidence of this action with the time of Lord Dufferin's visit to Cairo makes it the more embarrassing to the Gladstone Government, and it will need a good a good many diplomatic protestations to smooth the ruffled temper of the French.

WHAT a peaceful and restful calm will settle down upon the State now, after the tension and bitterness consequent upon the late struggle for office.

A NEWLY arrived immigrant who was before a Nev York magistrate for drunkenness, said he had been in the country only twenty-four hours. "What!" said the magistrate, "only forty-eight hours in the country and found drunk in the streets. Six months for getting Americanized so quickly."

THE Times, of New York city, has been investigating some things, and finds that the cost of conducting the government of that city amounts to $30,000,000 per annum; that $20,000,000 more is spent annually for rum, while only $6,500,000 per annum is spent on churches and church charities.

A STUDENT of statistics says: "Evidently population is growing more rapidly in Germany than wealth, in spite of the large emigration that is going on. Evidently, also, the military burdens are too great for the people to bear."

"Up Salt River."

The Cincinnati Commercial gives the following information to a correspondent who asks: "What is the meaning of the term 'Salt River'?" The answer to your question opens up a very interesting bit of Ohio river pioneer history. Professor Schele De Vere gives the origin of the phrase in his book called, "Americanisms. the English of the new world." Before the day of steam the navigation of the Ohio river was carried on by flatboats and keelboats. It was necessary to row the keelboat up stream. The labor was painful and exhausting. There were slaves all along the Kentucky side of the river. When a negro has been refractory or "sassy" it was the custom to punish him by hiring him out to row the keelboats up the river. This punishment was called "rowing up." In time it became the popular slave term for a scolding or a punishment of any sort all over the country. "Salt river" was, and is, a little tributary of the Ohio in Kentucky. It was so crooked and dangerous that rowing a keelboat up its waters was about the hardest labor a man could undertake. Hence to row a man up Salt river was as severe a punishment as could be imposed on him. The expression became proverbial.

THE Bierstadt place at Irvington, on the Hudson, owned by Albert Bierstadt, the artist, was destroyed by fire November 10th. The origin of the fire is unknown, but the theory is that it started in the chimney flues. Henry T. Chapman, Jr., a member of the New York Stock Exchange, occupied the mansion during the past season, and yesterday morning the family returned to their home in Brooklyn. The mansion was erected sixteen years ago, at a cost of $100,000. The studio, 75 by 50 feet, with a ceiling 35 feet high, was situated in the rear of the second story. All the rooms were spacious, the interior being finished in hard woods. Large Turkish rugs took the place of carpets. The furniture was costly, and every room contained from three to ten pictures of famous artists. In the library were two pictures of the famous Yosemite Valley, valued at $10,000 each. The house was filled with many valuable trophies and curiosities, which Bierstadt had collected in the Yosemite valley and elsewhere. As far as known, these valuable relics and furniture were totally destroyed. The furniture itself was probably worth $10,000, and the pictures and curiosities are estimated to be worth nearly $100,000 more.

THERE is nothing in which young men are so thoroughly mistaken as in the low estimation they form of the integrity of women. Not of their own mothers and sisters. As a rule, no person who surrenders to this debasing habit is to be trusted with an enterprise requiring integrity of character. Plain words should be spoken on the subject, for the evil is a general one.

Calico Station.

The Calico Station on the Mojave branch of the Southern Pacific railroad is now destined to become the most important station on the railroad from Mojave to the Needles.

It is located on the Mójave river six miles from Calico near the center of a vast district of agricultural lands which in time will be cultivated extensively for grain, vegetables and fruits.

In addition to being tributary to the mines of Calico it will be the distributing point for all of the Ord mining district, including the great Lava Beds, the extensive borax fields in Death Valley, Holcomb and Bear Valley, Alvord mining district, Camp Cady, Hawley's, Armagosa district gold mines, Resting Springs and the Ibex mines near there, and other sections of country where prospecting has but merely commenced, the development of which indicate that they will rank with the other districts at no distant day. Even without the resources enumerated above, the Calico district alone will supply a trade sufficient to support a village of several hundred inhabitants. The Oriental mill, half a mile distant from the station, and other mills to be erected together with the narrow gauge railroad running to the city of Calico will certainly create a business fulfilling such expectations. —Calico Print.

GRAND JURY.—In the Superior Court, on the 14th instant, a Grand Jury was drawn as follows: Chris. Crohn, Cerro Gordo; G. W. Brady, Independence; Thos. Webb, Independence; F. S. Gunter, Round Valley; Geo. Stevens, Bishop Creek; J. H. Black, Round Valley; A. Parker, Independence; A. A. Cashbaugh, Bishop Creek; J. L. Garrettson, Bishop Creek; W. D. Clark, Black Rock; Jacob Shoemaker, Black Rock; Jas. Shaw, Bishop Creek; A. K. Eugley, Bishop Creek; J. B. Chamberlain, Bishop Creek; Horace Bellows, Haiwai; A. N. Bell, Camp Independence; J. C. McKenzie, Darwin; Thos Boland, Darwin; C. A. Wildasinn, Round Valley; John Willet, Independence; J. J. Steward, Big Pine; Jno. Shepherd, Georges Creek; Wm. O. Harrell, Bishop Creek; H. F. Uhlmeyer, Big Pine; James F. Hutchison, Bishop Creek; I. P. Yaney, Bishop Creek; N. C. Young, Bishop Creek.

NOTARY PUBLIC.—Governor Perkins has appointed Mr. R. J. Neuenschwander Notary Public for Inyo County, Cal., and Mr. N. has filed his bonds, fully qualified, received his commission and is ready for business at his headquarters at Greenland, Death Valley. This will prove a great convenience to people having business in that region.

LEFT US.—Dr. W. H. George has taken his departure for permanent residence and practice at Bishop Creek. While with many others of this place, we deeply regret this step on his part, we can afford to sincerely congratulate the good people of Gospel Swamp upon the social acquisition of the genial doctor and his most estimable helpmeet.

SHERMAN.—It is said a complete outfit, machinery, lumber, etc., for a 10-stamp steam silver mill is now en route from Mojave to the mines at Sherman District in the Slate Range. This is the Reilly-Ely operation, and so close is the corporation that no definite details can be obtained regarding its plans.

THE SHERIFF'S OFFICE.—Sheriff-elect Gregg was in town yesterday, bent on fixing up his official bonds. Among other speculations concerning his office is one that either J. J. Gunn, S. P. Moffat or Daniel Crough will be appointed to the important position of Under Sheriff.

SCHOOL MATTERS.—The Milton school, which has been under the charge of Mr. Charles H. Groves, County Superintendent-elect, will close next Friday evening. During the interval of four months before resuming his school there, Mr. Groves will take a position in the Lone Pine school.

NOTICE.—A brief business notice by the law firm of Messrs. Reddy & Conklin will be found elsewhere this week, to which attention is called.

HON. JOSEPH WASSON was in Santa Ana again last Wednesday. He is working up a scheme whereby a large section of most valuable land in the northern portion of the State can be irrigated. We hope he may succeed in obtaining the required capital. All such schemes should be encouraged; in fact we think material aid should be given by the State, for land that can be watered will soon find purchasers and settlers, and the products of the settler add to the taxable resources of the State. Mr. Wasson has gone to San Francisco to lay his scheme, maps, etc., before capitalists. We have been through the section of country he proposes to irrigate by a canal, and know that the land is excellent, and that his plan of irrigating it is feasible.—Santa Ana Standard.

That Mr. Wasson has arrived in San Francisco is evident. It is generally pretty well known that when "Joe" doesn't like anyone he indulges that feeling with a good deal of intensity. The following card, which was published in the advertising columns of the Daily Report of the 13th, illustrates that fact:

A SOLEMN OCCASION.

The friends of the late Horace F. Page, M. C., are invited to attend his political funeral on Thursday, November 16, 1882. The procession will start from the Palace Hotel at 2 P. M. Music —"Sweet Spirit Chaw My Ear" by "Dot Leetle German Band."

"WASSON OF MONO,"
Chief Mourner.

H. L. CHILDS came very near perishing in a snowstorm a few days ago. He was on his way from Yosemite to Tioga when a snowstorm came up. Mr. Childs was out five days and nights without food or covering. He managed to reach civilization alive. He has been in "poor health" ever since.—Bodie Free Press.

SUSANVILLE is rising from its ashes. The Advocate says that the town is fast assuming its former appearance. The buildings now erected are a great improvement on those burned, and when all the buildings have been completed Susanville will be as pretty a mountain town as can be found in the State.

Hospital Fund—Mrs. M. Lewis, $400; E. Chenot, merchandise, $12 25.

The reports of the several Road Overseers were examined and accepted.

Reports of Auditor and Treasurer received, examined approved and ordered published one week.

MONDAY, November 13.

The Board met and proceeded to canvass the election returns, with results as shown in the table presented elsewhere in this issue.

Several road matters were considered and laid over until the next term.

After directing the Clerk to issue certificates of election to the County officers-elect, the Board allowed their own per diem and mileage and adjourned.

Too Much Pepper.

One of the most prominent preachers tells the following anecdote as a fact whenever he hears a story too incredible for belief: A very wicked man became converted, and in course of time it became his turn to pray in class-meeting. Not being used to public speaking, of course he was very much embarrassed. This is the subject of the prayer: "O, God, thou giver of all good things, look down with pity on poor people. You are rich and can spare them plenty to eat while on earth. Send everyone of them a full barrel of flour, plenty of lard and a side of bacon, a ham or so and a pound of butter. Send each one of your starving, hungry creatures a barrel of sugar, a barrel of salt, a barrel of pepper—oh, hell! that's too much pepper. Amen."

HERSCHELL'S labors showed the Milky Way to be a great nebulæ containing at least 50,000,000 of huge blazing suns, with our sun and its attendant planets near the center of the system. This nebulæ is distributed in two nearly parallel layers having the form of a pair of millstones, being very thin, but extending laterally to distances of which we can form no conception. While with an uninterrupted track a lightning express train might pass around our world—which seems large to us—in less than one short month, it could not at its highest speed accomplish the distance to the sun in 200 years! But a beam of light flashes across that space in eight minutes. And yet this beam of light, which vastly transcends in speed anything we know, requires more than three years to travel from the nearest fixed star to the earth, and to cross the extreme width of the Milky Way itself must occupy nearly 3,000 years! Even this expresses no idea of the limits of the visible universe. Other nebulæ than our own are visible in space, and if as large as our own, must be so distant that the light cannot reach our system in 1,000,000 years.

ONE of the members of the Glasgow School Board having quoted Mr. Buckmarter's saying that very few women could even cook potatoes properly, the remark was resented by another member of the Board as a "slander and a calumny on the women of the second city of the empire and one of the first cities of the world." It was some time before peace could be restored.

ARABI Pasha's tent, which was captured at Tel-el-Kebir, is at present at Portsmouth, England, and is exciting much interest, although of course, the tent and equipage are zealously kept close. It is fitted with true oriental splendor, and is lined with silk fringe and bullion in the most sumptuous style.

AN excellent liniment for neuralgia is made of sassafras, oil of organum, and a half ounce of tincture of capsicum with half a pint of alcohol. Soak nine yards of red flannel in this mixture, wrap it around the head, and then insert the head in a haystack till death comes to your relief.

INDEPENDENCE, CAL.:
SATURDAY, NOVEMBER 18.....1882

THE United States Engineers recently photographed the explosion of a wreck which was blown to pieces by submarine charges of dynamite, to ascertain, among other things, how long the spectacle really lasted. The result was exceedingly interesting. There were six cameras employed, and the instant of the explosion, as also the several instants when the exposures were made by shutter, were electrically timed by a chronograph. A photograph taken one-tenth of a second after the explosion showed the vessel broken and a column of water 70 feet high; a photograph secured 1:5 seconds after the explosion showed a column of water 160 feet high; a third photograph, taken 2:3 seconds after, showed the column at its full height of 180 feet, while fragments of wreckage were in the air, but none had fallen to disturb the surface of the water; a fourth picture, taken 3:3 seconds after, showed the column falling and the surface of the water disturbed; while a fifth photograph, secured 4:3 seconds after, showed that all was over.

THE Eastern papers are taking a hopeful view of legitimate mining industry. A Boston journal states that now an enterprise that has not the very best of management back of it, and that cannot stand the most thorough investigation at the hands of the public, has little chance of success either in New York or Boston markets. The "booming" process is practically a thing of the past; the public want actual facts, and will take nothing else. Duped many times by large promises and small fulfillments, they invest now with great caution in any and everything pertaining to mines, but in this industry, as in all others, the good properties hold their own, while the "wildcat" schemes are daily sinking out of sight in a way that is most gratifying to every honest man.

THE London Spectator believes that the rapidity with which women are engaging in the serious work of the world can hardly fail to work a corresponding change in their relations with men. They must obviously be content to forego the defference, real or assumed, which men have hitherto paid to them. Anyone who has ever served on a mixed committee of men and women knows that the women either completely submit to the men, or that the men press their opinions with quite as much eagerness when their opponents happen to be women as when they are of their own sex.

A BALL-ROOM car is the latest novelty introduced on the Chicago, Milwaukee and St. Paul road, and recently a merry party of St. Louis belles and beaux made an excursion over the road and danced the racquet with the train moving at forty miles an hour. The ball-room was in a large baggage car, sixty feet long by fifteen wide. The floor was elegantly carpeted, the walls beautifully painted, hung with pictures and decorated with bunting, evergreens and garlands of roses. There was an orchestra of eight pieces, and refreshments were passed round every hour.

"EVER kill a man?" they asked of a new arrival at Norwood. "Reckon I have several," he replied. More respectful in manner they asked. "Shot him?" "No." "Poison?" "No, sir." "How then did you kill a man?" "Drove a butcher's cart."

AN exuberent youth hails a supposed acquaintance on the street with "Hello, Joe," but finding his mistake, adds, "Oh, excuse me; I thought you were another man!" Laconic stranger answers, "I am."

"Did you get that girl's picture, Brown? You remember that you said you were bound to have it." "Well not exactly," said Brown, "I asked her for it, and she gave me her negative."

Transmission of Power by Wire Ropes.

According to a recent treatise on the transmission of power by wire ropes, issued by the William Orton Manufacturing Company, of Sterling, Ills., the distance to which wire rope transmissions may be applied ranges from 50 or 60 feet up to several miles. As an example of long transmissions, attention is directed to that of Schaffhausen, Switzerland, at the falls of the Rhine. Here 800 hosre-power is carried diagonally across the line, and extended for a distance of two miles, and there distributed among 50 different manufactories situated in every imaginable position, and embrasing all the varied arrangements of changing directions. Wire rope transmission comes into use at the point where a belt or line of shafting becomes too long to be used profitably. In point of economy it is much cheaper than its equivalent, either in shafting or belting. This method has been extensively introduced in Europe, and with great success for several years past. It is now receiving a rapid development in this country. It has the advantage of transmitting power in any direction, up or down hill, across rivers, around buildings or obstructions of any kind, and thus make available many sources of power which are otherwise useless. The ropes hang free in air, and require no protection from the weather, except an occasional coat of warm coal tar, which may be applied to the rope by pouring from a can into the grooves of the wheel while running. Instead of coal tar, raw linseed oil may be swabbed on the rope to keep it from rusting, and thereby preserve it. The ropes run perfectly smooth and noiseless on vulcanized rubber filling, and are not affected in the least by wet or cold, snow or ice.—Scientific Press.

In a lecture on the use of the microscope at home, by Henry Pocklington, the following directions are given for using the instrument to detect adulterted dry goods. Most people like to be sure that they get what they pay for. The microscope, in many cases, places the possibility of certainty on this point within the reach of its owner. Suppose, for example, that the lady of the house wishes to know whether the piece of silk she has set her heart upon for a dress is all silk, or a mixture with cotton, jute, or China-grass, and, if all silk, whether it has been loaded with dye and dressing. The microscope will set her mind at rest. Take a pattern of the silk, unravel the warp and weft, and examine it under the quarter-inch objective, and you will at any rate see whether all the little fibers of which the weft and warp are comprised look alike. That, of course, will not tell whether the material is all silk; but if you procure a piece of known silk, good raw silk, and study its appearance, and compare it with the suspected specimen, you will soon come to a sound conclusion. Then take a little cotton and examine it to find that it consists of flattened tubes, curiously twisted, quite unlike the long cylindrical tubes of silk, and different again from the long consistent tubes of flax, with their attenuated ends and marked walls. Take wool and hairs of different kinds and examine them carefully, noting their peculiarities, and you will soon be able to tell whether your coat is all wool, or, as is much more probable, not; whether your wife's sable muff or seal jacket is what it professes to be, and will not improbably learn a lesson in the department of trade morality.

The principal cause of the lack of success in building a practical road carriage is the dificulty experienced in the efforts to so "hang" the engine and boiler that the carriage may run in any direction, or over ordinary obstacles, without seriously affecting the joint and machinery connections. So says an eminent mechanical writer. Even the English acknowledge this in their efforts to run steam road carriages over the exceptionally good roads of England.

A Brazilian Mine and its Slaves.

A correspondent of the London Mining Journal contributes the following item: At length the final sentence has been given in this celebrated case—judgment against the St. John del Rey Company on all points—and it is not only the culpability of having kept these blacks in slavery illegally for twenty years, but the manner in which the case has been fought since 1877 to shield individuals from the consequences of their acts done under the name of the company. These blacks, now reduced from 385 to 155, are declared to have been free under the clause to that effect in the contract dated June 27, 1845, and not in the letter of liberty presented, expressed to have emanated from the Brazilian (Catta Branca) Company 30 years after that company had been officially declared to be extinct. A pamphlet has appeared respecting this precious document, and the proceedings of the St. John del Rey Company in in their defense, and asking who manufactured this spurious letter of freedom. The blacks are severally authorized to bring an action against the St. John del Rey Company for their wages from Jan. 1, 1860 to the time a Curador (Guardian) was appointed for them, June 22, 1877—i. e., for 16 years, 5 months, and 22 days. This will carry interest and damages for keeping them in slavery till April, 1872, matriculating or registering them as slaves in that month, and from April till the end of the period; and from June 22, 1877, to Dec. 9, 1879, they are declared to be entitled to be paid their wages by the St. John del Rey Company at once. This part of the judgment the St. John del Rey Company have been endeavoring to compromise by offering the first-class blacks the pitiful sum of about 10*l.* instead of the 90*l.* to 120*l.* to which some are entitled, so that the company are determined, if possible, to the last to get the better of these poor people. The Treasury has its claims allowed for the earnings of those who died in illegal captivity at Morro Velho.

At a recent meeting of ibe Geological section of the New York Academy of Sciences, Mr. F. C. Whitehouse exhibited, by means of the magic lantern, a large number of views of caves on the island of Staffa, the most interesting of which was a view of the famous Fingal's Cave. After fully describing their form, size, etc., Mr. W. surprises his audience by affirming his belief in the theory that they were not, as generally supposed, formed by natural causes, but that they are really artificial caves, made by the hand of man at some very early period. The speaker gave as a reason for his conclusion the shape of the roofs, which, in all known natural caves, are low and flatly arched; but here, in all cases, high, with Gothic arches like a Catholic church. Moreover, the rocks in which these caves are found do not crumble into irregular pieces, but keep their columnar form. If the caves had been excavated by action of the sea waves, their columnar remains would have been much more abundent as debris in the vicinity. They were probably taken out carefully and carried off, probably to Scotland, where many are found. The members were not generally prepared to accept the theory, but were very much interested in the discussion which was raised in regard to it. The subject affords abundant food for research and thought.

The recent reports of the discovery and development of gold and silver mines at various points in Central America continue to excite attention. A late issue of the Panama Star and Herald gives particulars of progress made in gold mining in Antioquia and Tolima. Some valuable mines owned by the Columbian Government are to be sold in December, and other mines are being worked successfully by companies formed in this country and in Europe. Recently a number of companies have been formed for the purpose of prospecting, and indications grow that a swarm of gold-hunters will soon be roving over the rocky backbone of the mountains that run along the narrow strip of territory uniting North and South America. These countries have long lain stagnant under the sway of the mixed people that sprung up after the Spanish conquests, but now money, machinery and enteprise will pour in upon them as long as mining enterprises prove remunerative.

The Duke of Galleria, the only son and heir of a very wealthy father, anonymously sent all his allowance—$80,000 a year—to Paris, to be given to the poor, and went down to Nice and taught school for $200 a year. When the Minister of Education appointed him Officier de l'Academie, he refused it, because he said it was given him as a Duke, and not as a citizen. When his father died and left him $60,000,000, he hastened to Paris and turned the whole income of his property over to his mother during her life, to dispose of as she pleased. The mother, thus made one of the richest women in Europe, is said to be not over wise in the use of her means. The question arises, is he making the best use of his powers and wealth? He is setting a good example of self-sacrifice in living on $200 a year he earns by his teaching, but could he not do much more good by using his $80,000 a year in employing better teachers than he can ever be by the score and hundreds?

The Signal Service Office estimates that ships containing atleast $13,000,000 of property, besides many lives, were saved from running into the disastrous cyclone last month by the warning it gave. The money thus saved in this one storm would pay the expense of the Service for ten yeas.

The railroads carried a million persons into Philadelphia during the week of the Penn celebration, but trade was almost at a standstill, neither visitors nor residents buying much while the show was going on. The hotels and theaters made money out of the crowds, but the merchants lost heavily.

During the past week 854 immigrants arrived in California by overland railroad.

JAMES E. PARKER.

SECRETARY TELLER will not in his annual report recommend a reduction in the cost of obtaining a patent. He is persuaded to this course, it is said, from the fact that the patent laws are now the most liberal of any country in the world. In England it costs $1000 to obtain a fourteen-year patent; in Germany over $600; in Russia about $400 and in Canada about $140; while here it costs but $35 for a seventeen-year patent. It is not thought by the Commissioner of patents, Marble, that a reduction in this would materially increase the number of patents taken out or stimulate invention, as the small fee is now within the reach of all. He thought that the large revenue now derived from this source no argument in favor of reduction. unless it can be deserving inventors.

EDWIN F. SMITH, Secretary of the State Agricultural Society at Sacramento, has a lot of seed to be distributed. The following is a list of the seeds which he proposes to distribute: Acme tomato; collards, creole stock; raddish, French breakfast; parsnips, dry smooth; okra, prolific; turnips, white, strap, leaf and mountain sweet; squash, Summer, golden crook-neck; onion, yellow globe; watermelon, mountain sweet; carrot, long orange; muskmelon, green citron; kale, dwarf German and Fall-curled Scotch; cabbage, premium flat Dutch; lettuce, early curled Simpson; cucumber, long green; spinach, savory leaved; mangel wurzel, nobiton giant; sugar corn, asylum; peas, Daniel O'Rourke; beans, early long yellow; also wheat and tobacco.

RYAN, of Humboldt, Langford, of San Joaquin, Nelson and Kelley, of San Francisco, and Frasier, of El Dorado are the only State Senators reelected. Murphy, of Santa Clara and McCarthy, of San Francisco, have been members of the preceeding Senates. Cross, of Nevada, Steel, of San Luis Obispo, Filcher, of Placer, Reddy, of Inyo, and Johnson, of Sonoma, were members of the Constitutional Convention. Del Valle, of Los Angeles, Spencer, of Stanislaus, McClure, and Keating, of San Francisco, Chandler, of Sutter, Dudley, of Solano,, end Kellog, of Plumas, have each served in the Assembly. The next State Senate will therefore be ripe in legislative experience.

THE rapidity with which railroads are built in the United States has ceased to excite surprise, and is looked upon as something of course. The Railway Age cites the month of October as an instance in point. The length of main track laid amounted to 1,068 miles on seventy-one different lines in thirty States, making the total for the ten months of the present year 9,143 miles, on 293 lines, in 43 States and Territories. The construction for the year is estimated at between 11,000 and 12,000 miles, which far exceeds the construction in any previous year. Dakota leads in the construction during the past month with 131 miles, and Texas comes next with 60 miles.

THE San Francisco Call, a few days since, said that the total vote of the State would fall 40,000 short of that cast at the last Presidential election. The full returns are not yet in, but sufficient have been received to show that the falling off in the vote will not exceed 15,000. The returns already tabulated show that the vote for Governor, of Stoneman and Estee, aggregates 149,000, of which Stoneman gets 83,680, or 3,319 more than Garfield received in 1880. There are yet precincts to hear from that will bring the total vote up to 150,000.

THE New York Witness sounds the alarm of an approaching money panic. It says that so much money has been spent in building railroads and houses and other improvements that it is sure to produce a panic in the money market at an early day. It therefore advises people to be careful and not invest too heavily, or rather not to "bite off more than they can chaw." This advise of the Witness might be stereotyped and kept standing, as it is applicable to all seasons, and every style of business.

THE people of California appear to have been very impartial for the past two decades with their political favors. Haight followed a Republican Governor in 1867. Four years afterwards Newton Booth was elected by the Republicans. In 1875 the Democracy succeeded, with Hon. William Irwin as their standard-bearer. In 1879, the first election under the present Constitution, George C. Perkins carried the State for the Republicans, and he in turn will be succeeded by General Stoneman, Democrat.

REST AND RELAXATION.

Mr. Herbert Spencer, at an after-dinner speech in New York, uttered some very wise things, which the American people would do well to ponder. "It is time to preach the gospel of relaxation," said he. There is nothing more deleterious to the health and happiness of the American people, or more ridiculous in American life, than the unceasing drudgery of men who, although well to do, are less to themselves, their families and their friends than an equal number of respectable day laborers on small pay. What they are working for nobody knows, and the drudges themselves are more ignorant on the subject than anyone else. Between a miser and a forehanded man who is working for money without any idea as to what he will do with it, there may be some difference of heart, but none at all in point of sense. Americans work too fast and too much. There is not enough relaxation. We have too few holidays, too few days of rest. New holidays during the year should be instituted, and business pre- [illegible] those days; if men will not take the relaxation demanded by the laws of Nature, they should be forced to do so.

THE indications now are, that the next United States Senate will stand thirty-eight Republicans, thirty-two Democrats and two Readjusters. Should the two Readjusters, Mahone and Riddleberger from Virginia, align themselves on the Republican side, as will in all probability be the case, the Republicans will organize the Senate.

IT will cost three cents for one of the new postal money orders for a sum less than $5, and the service is so extended as to raise the limit of orders from $50 to $100. Persons will not be required to fill out a blank, but will receive an order payable to the bearer at any desired money office.

COL. J. J. AYERS has withdrawn from the management of the Los Angeles Express, after having made it the best interior paper in the State. It will be remembered that his paper has been a staunch friend of this county all the while, and we are very sorry to learn that he has quit.

THE townships of Benton and Bridgeport, in Mono, are billed for a special election, on account of the candidates for Constable having received a tie vote. The inalienable rights of seekers after high official honors must be protected, cost not counted.

AN Indiana paper, having recently changed hands, the editor's valedictory was simply, "I've quit," and the salutation of the new manager was, "We've commenced."

THE humors of voting was displayed by one man at Sacramento, who cast his ballot for Leland Stanford for Railroad Commisrioner.

THE fleet that sails up Salt River this Fall will float Mr. Arthur's new flag.

THE Visalians are talking of organizing a pork-packing establishment.

A PROSPECTOR informs the Gazette that at a point on the Humboldt river there are hundreds of fossil tracks similar to those at the Nevada State Prison, and in many instances much larger. There are tracks of cloven feet ten or fifteen inches in length, and bird-like tracks without number. Besides these there are large three-cornered impressions in the sandstone, as if made by a web-foot animal of some sort, and numerous smaller tracks—the goslins, probably of some antediluvian goose. The discoverer thinks that at some time there was a zoological garden in that vicinity. or Noah's menagerie was disbanded there.

THE large and handsome building known as the Molinelli House, corner of Main and Mill streets, was sold at public auction at the instance of the owner. Bidding was not active and the property was knocked down to A. Soderling for $625. The building originally cost over $3,000. This is like throwing property away. Real estate and improvements are being knocked down at excursion rates and those who are shrewd are investing.—Free Press.

ONE of the benefits of the Chinese exclusion law is already apparent in the increase of immigration to this State. For a long time before the passage of that law the emigrant trains ran light; for several months past the average daily load has been seventy-five passengers, and for the past thirty days the average has been about 100. The southern countries get the majority of the new comers.

SOME important discoveries in the art of photography have been made by a priest named Luigi Galimberti, a native of Venice, but living at Milan. He is said to have discovered the means of photography in natural colors, being able to enlarge these pictures afterward to life size. Another process, asserted to have been invented by him, gives what he calls photophorescent pictures, visible at night.

IT has been officially decided at Washington that where a settler has failed to comply with the law in making improvements, but has tilled the land, and his failure to build is shown to have been caused by climatic influences, he shall be allowed a further period of six months within which to establish his residence.

A Wild Region in Inyo.

EDITOR INDEPENDENT: As to him who turns the leaves of a rare and ancient book is revealed the mystery of some occult art— the subtle thought of a forgotten wisdom—so unfolds to a stranger day by day the wonders of this country. It is a field for study. The student of geology, if not confused by the wealth of his field, finds here subjects for the profoundest investigation; "hills rocked-ribbed and ancient as the sun;" valleys grey with age and a feature of wierdness which suggests that the solid earth has its metaphysical side. As a lake reflects the cloud that hangs in mid-air over it, so this country is shadowed by the influences of its creation. If a human face could suggest these features as mental often suggest physical things, it must be a face controlled by the vagaries of a maniac, or the memories of him who has been by massacre despoiled of his prattling babes; it must have the deep lines which distracted lives carve upon the forehead of those whose hearts are utterly broken; the dead face of the [illegible]

I write more particularly now of that part of the country which lies east and south of Owens Lake, and separated from it by the Inyo range. From the summit of this range, say the peak of Cerro Gordo, is seen stretching southward towards the Colorado a region unequaled on the continent for its display of the fierce and terrible of nature. It is an empire of dead and desolate things; valleys without verdure; groups of hills—mere volcano puffs—scorched and fire-marked, rising from the level of lofty plateaus; long sweeps of sloping table-lands, around whose borders lift distorted peaks whose riven sides emphasize in severe outlines the terrors of desolation, and clear cut against the rim of cloudless skies rise desperate as the vision of Death and the Judgment. If there is a more fearful landscape on earth than is compassed within this rim—stretching between Gold Mountain and Panamint Valley, and reaching its climax in that dread empire of fear, Death Valley—it lies beyond my imagination. This view is not grand, for grandeur has its lines of beauty. It is not savage, for things savage have their suggestions of life. This dead land, fixed beyond stir and change, lies motionless and desolate. In Death Valley, that awful sink, the view has the outlines which moved the imagination of the ancient bard in his vision of the Valley of the Shadow of Death. Its fearful spaces, its gloomy chasms, its parched mountains, its blasting airs and reaches of solitude are all deepened by the tragic fate of that band of emigrants that in 1852 were here lost, perishing around the ashes of their last campfire. The strong man, the delicate maiden and the artless babe, smitten by its Upas influence, laid them down in despair to death, their bleaching skeletons whitening for years these lonely wastes. From this charnel house—"out of the jaws of death, up from the gates of hell"—but a handful escaped to tell the tale of horror.

The country around Death Valley and lying in the triangle formed by the eastern line of Inyo and the northern line of San Bernardino is perhaps the least explored region of the United States. The intrepid prospector, though suspecting the presence of great mineral wealth and ever eager to open new districts, hesitates to penetrate its centre, for once lost within its embrace, without water, the poise of the mind swerved by fever, phantasy unseating reason, bewildered, he wanders without aim; his blazing eye beholding heaven in the snowy outline of the distant Sierras, in the flame of the desert he falls to die. Thus many in these desperate ranges have laid them down in despair, forever, uncoffined and unknown. It is not a rare event for prospectors to find the bleaching skeletons of those who in early years dared these treacherous solitudes. The whitened bones of the dead seem a natural part of these landscapes—dead men lying on the slopes of dead mountains. Such a skeleton was lately discovered in the Coso range, where it had, by the evidence of papers also found, lain undisturbed for ten long years. What a picture for the imagination is that of the dead lying in these solitudes at the blast of the last trumpet starting again to life—alone!

The most remarkable feature of this country is its extremes of declension and uplift. Starting from the level of Death Valley—which is 200 feet below the level of the sea, and which, though situated in the midst of a high plateau, measured by thousands of square miles, is the lowest point of dry land on the continent—the plane of country ascends until at Saline Valley, lying at the eastern base of the Inyo range and distant eighty miles from Death Valley, it reaches a mean altitude of 1,500 feet, and at Owens Lake 4,000 feet, and climbs to its apex in the pinnacles of Mt. Whitney, which cleaves the sky at an elevation of over 15,000 feet. Of course, this gradual upraise, this mighty stairway extends through too great a distance and territory to be observed by the eye, yet from the peaks of the Inyo range can be taken in the entire scope of country that thus, in a distance of 100 miles, rises from a point 200 feet below the level of the sea to giddy altitudes of 15,000 feet above. A clear and almost telescopic atmosphere aids the eye in catching the distinct and salient features of the country through great distances. The almost total absence of moisture, and the elevation so rarifies the air and clears it of obscuring vapors, that campfires in the night are visible over thirty miles, and distant mountains seem just at hand, though really lying a hundred miles away. The tint and hue given to the Sierras by the atmosphere as seen from the west are here entirely absent, but these ranges have been most grotesquely painted by the chemical action of mineral deposits and volcanic heat, in many localities presenting the gaudy hues of calico, in others the solid tones of purple, yellow, white or red. This variety of color relieves the eye, which would be indeed wearied if monotonous hues should be added to the other unforbidding aspects of the country.

Strange atmospheric disturbances frequently occur in this country, always in the heated term of Summer and Fall. Whirlwinds of great radius, ending at last in water spouts, are swept along over the mesas and slopes, to break against projecting peaks and with roar of thunder precipitate their waters, an irresistible flood, upon the lowlands, ripping up the face of the country, gradually weakening as they are drank up by the thirsty lands, and losing themselvs at last in the bosom of some desert valley. The trails of these water spouts are visible on every hand. They are objects of wonder and are fraught with danger, for property and lives have been lost when caught within their influence. Nothing can resist their oversweeping, relentless overflow.

Here is the arena of some of the most intense mining excitements and miserable fiascos of California. Here Breyfogle flourished with his Gunsight mine. * * * Yonder in the East, just over the Nevada line but a part of this region, rises Gold Mountain, fabled seat of buried millions, in whose search money was poured out like water in the desert to [illegible] no avail, the brilliant dreams of its projectors ending in the bankrupt court; the lesson of these failures being that the deposits here, though on the surface showing ores yielding thousands of dollars per ton, lacked extent, size and continuity. Panamint, under more careful processes, is slowly recovering some of her former prestige, but Gold Mountain is likely to remain ever a monument of misguided judgment and prodigality in mining affairs. Notwithstanding these failures this is a great mineral field and will in time, by patient and intelligent development, afford profitable employment to thousands of men and millions of capital. The deposits of this district are varied, though copper, salt, soda and borax are at present the best known. The borax field in the neighborhood of Death Valley, which has recently passed into the hands of capitalists, is considered of great value and gives promise of becoming the center of a vast industry, and is at present of sufficient importance to claim the attention of the Carson and Colorado Railroad, which company is now surveying a route through this country, having for one of its objective points these fields. The copper mines are known to be rich and extensive, but are mostly held by the locating prospector, whose estimates of value deter development at the hands of capital. The scarcity of water is a great drawback to mining here; large expenditures of money have to be made for its supply before anything can be done in the reduction of ores. At Gold Mountain fifteen miles of iron pipe was necessary, and the Emigrant mine had a similar line nine miles in length, carrying water over ranges which necessitated an elevation by machinery of over 500 feet at the water-head. Courage and money are necessary forces, and ores have to be of a very high grade to pay for their extraction and reduction. The most valuable mines of the Sierras would not here receive the honor of a location, for almost countless ledges are found that in more favored places would become producers of boundless wealth. Time bringing better devices may utilize what are now regarded as worthless veins. This country has been, as compared with other portions of the State, but little prospected, for in addition to the dangers and drawbacks heretofore spoken of, the cost of a prospecting tour and outfit is beyond the means of the average prospector, who, though a man of splendid powers, heroic, untiring and of accurate learning in his line, is as a rule, by habit and instinct, improvident. In the Sierras, with a pack animal upon which he moves his outfit, he can spend an entire Summer roving at will, always certain of water grass and game—a small sum of money sufficient for his wants. Here the scarcity of water, the entire absence of grass, the country making strong demands upon the system of both man and animal requires a pack train to convey supplies of water and food from point to point, and a trip easily made into the Sierras for $50 cannot be made here for less than $500. Almost any prospector can command $50 by a promise to "divide," but $500—ah! that sum stretches almost beyond his imagination as a thing to be held in the hand and expended in the uses of life. He may dream of millions, but the possession of hundreds is a thing to him almost unknown.

Capital, reclining on her downy couch of repose, does not regard it as one of her offices to aid her sister Toil as she drags her weary feet over dreary, desolate places, patiently searching out the riches of the world, but waits, sure that at last all shall, by the mysterious attraction of abundance for things abundant, be emptied out of tired hands into her royal lap. The history of fortune building on the Pacific Coast contains but few names of those whose toil, exposure, danger and discomfort opened the fields whose harvest has been brilliant as the Arabian tales. A fascination, deep-abiding and ever present, alone can explain the moods of him who devotes energies that might move the world in wider planes of action, pioneering for those whose hand doles out so grudgingly the pitiful pittance which falls to the prospector as his share of the world's wealth. As illustrative of the mental temper of this order of men, I need only mention that in a miner's cabin, where I am domiciled at this moment, stands a table, scattered over which, as left by daily use, I see "Pope's Essay on Man," "Shakespeare," "Works of Thomas Moore," "Lowell's Poems," "Dana's Minerology and Lithology," with piles of magazines and journals, all bearing the trace of constant use. The study of Latin and Greek and the modern languages is not an unusual pastime, while the mysteries of minerology and geology are subjects of daily and passionate study. INYO.

Old Galliardo Again.

The San Francisco Chronicle of the 18th contained this item, which brings to mind a once noted character of this section. The article is headed "A Legal Gem," etc.:

The following is a verbatim copy of a complaint presented to Prosecuting Attorney Swain of the Police Court for indorsement yesterday, the person presenting it at the same time declaring that he drew it up, and that he was a regularly admitted attorney:

The People of the State of California against Juan Mensia, Defendant: Personally appears on the 15th day of November, 1882, F. F. G—, who deposes and says that on or about the day of December 1877, in the town of Lone Pine, State of California, the crime of embezzlement, a felony, was committed, to wit, by one J. Mensta, who did willfully and feloniously take, still and carry away the sum of ($90) ninety dollars in gold notes, of the value of ($90) ninety dollars in United States gold coin, together with a trunk of the just value of ($55) fifty-five dollars in United States gold coin and other personal property of the just value of about ($1100) eleven hundred dollars in United States gold coin, in charge of said defendant aforesaid of this complaining witness undersigned, who was the lawful owner of said property at the time it was embezzeled by said Mensa, who was not arrested in the commission of the offence, because he left the State.

F. F. G.

Mr. Swain stated to the lawyer that an offence committed in 1877 was beyond the reach of the Courts, because of the statute of limitation, at which the would-be prosecutor departed, highly indignant.

SATURDAY, NOVEMBER 25.....1882

BONDS FILED.—The County Clerk has filed in his office approved official bonds as follows: E. Robinson, Supervisor 2d District, $2,000, with L. Wood, John Broder and John Baxter as sureties. J. W. P. Laird, as District Attorney, $2,000, with T. K. Hutchison, W. J. Phillippay and J. H. Stoutenborough as sureties. Jos. Seeley, County Surveyor, $2,000; Nathan Rhine and Isaac Harris, sureties. G. W. Brady, Public Administrator, $10,000; sureties, A. W. Eibeshutz, L. Wood, Nathan Rhine, Isaac Harris, O. I. Mairs, Jos. Fernbach, A. Stecker, Wm. Barrows, H. P. Cartier, J. A. Lank and John Shepherd. G. W. Brady, as Coroner, $1,000; sureties, John Shepherd and O. I. Mairs. J. C. Irwin, County Assessor, $3,000; sureties, Jos. Fernbach, A. W. Eibeshutz, H. Levy and John Shepherd. G. Farnham, Road Overseer District No. 1, $1,000; A. K. Briggg and J. H. Bulpitt, sureties. S. G. Gregg, Sheriff and Tax Collector, $40,000; sureties, Peter Laird, Fred. Uhlmeyer, N. Peterson, John Mullane, Albert Halverson, F. M. Turner, J. W. McMurry, J. J. Moore, Richard Hessian, R. A. Russell, John Clarke, W. B. Hutchings, G. M. Clarke, W. J. Phillippay, L. Munzinger, John S. McGee, Wm. O. Harrell, Barna Peeler and Henry Evans. A. Spencer, Supervisor 1st District, $2,000; sureties, Thos. Williams and S. G. Sneden. John Crough, as County Clerk, $5,000; sureties, J. H. Stoutenborough, John Clarke and G. M. Clarke. George H. Hardy, as County Treasurer, $60,000; sureties, Isaac Harris, Nathan Rhine, H. Levy, A. Parker, Wm. Barrows, Jacob Vagt, S. A. Densmore, A. R. Conklin, Geo. E. Shedd, O. I. Mairs, C. M. Joslyn, John Kispert, W. K. Miller, A. H. Johnson, L. Lasky, Elienne Chabrie, C. D. Pegole, R. Van Dyke, Henry Fehrman, W. D. Clark, W. R. Tibbetts, J. B. Steward, J. W. McMurry, W. C. Watson, F. S. Gunter, H. J. Evans, Schuyler Williams, John Clarke, J. H. Bulpitt, J. H. Stoutenborough, A. K. Briggs, R. W. Ford, J. L. Bourland, Thos. E. Jones, John E. Jones, J. G. Birchim, Richard Hilton, T. K. Hutchison, Frank Hutchison and Andrew Clark.

A GENERAL FIRING UP.—The three most important smelting furnaces of Inyo will be in full blast by the time this issue reaches most of our readers. Supt. Fitzgerald, of the Lookout, will fire up the works next Monday or Tuesday, with ample supplies of ore, coal and wood for at least a month's run. The Defiance furnace at Darwin, according to our best and latest information, was to start up to-day, on a general clean-up of ores, slag, flue-dust, etc. We are not informed as to how long the run will be continued, but according to a promise from Supt. Gorman, will have something more definite in time for next week's issue. Lastly, and of more immediate interest locally, the new furnace at Montezuma was to be turned loose to-day. Supt. Griswold says that it is not intended to be made much more than a trial run—the only matter being that if the success is made expected of it there will be no need of putting up a different or larger water-jacket. In these matters, the events of the next week or two will cut no unimportant figure in the immediate future welfare of this county.

FROM SOUTHERN MONO.—Frank Alman dropped in to-day, having arrived last night from Benton on a business trip here. He says that the town of Benton is quiet as usual in business matters. The Diana mill, which is being run by John Millner, is being fitted up with a new battery for working ores for the Wild Rose mine. The Wild Rose is situated in Clover District, and belongs to Archie Barrington, formerly of Candelaria, and is spoken of as being a fine property. The mine, above the water level, will yield sufficient $75 ore to keep the mill going. The railroad grade has been completed over the summit and is within three or four miles of Benton, its nearest point to that place. The track is now laid to McBride's. In Clover District, Joe McDermott's new 5-stamp gold mill has been running steadily since October 20th on ore worth about $40 per ton, working nine tons per day. The dump at the mine—the "Banner"—contains some 600 tons ore already out, and "plenty more in sight."

A FUTURE NECESSITY.—During the Summer it will behoove our townspeople to organize a local telephone or telegraph company to put up a line between the town and the nearest railroad station across the river. The Board of Supervisors will also, doubtless, be called upon to establish a new county road directly across the valley. It would be a good idea for our citizens to commence investigating the telegraph question at once, as to distance, cost, etc.

MAKE A NOTE OF IT.—The time for doing assessment work for 1882 will soon be at an end, and that to avoid litigation those who intend holding their claims will act wisely and see that this important work is done. If such work is not attended to in time it is no more than right that more energetic workers should exercise their legal right to gobble up such unworked claims. And there are thousands of just such properties in this county which will be valuable within the coming year.

QUERY.—For about the twenty-seventh time, more or less, we would rise to inquire why it is that whenever any important public news is expected in the Bodie Free Press, that paper invariably fails to get here? Either its mail monkey or some Postmaster on the route ought to be periodically killed.

COURT.—The Superior Court will meet the Grand Jury December 4th next. As it is not apparent that there is much for such a body to do, its session will probably be a short one.

MINING TRANSFERS.—Deeds transferring mining properties as follows have been placed on the County records during the week: Wm. B. Robertson to R. Glenn and J. W. Murphy, mineral spring in Coso Mountains, $1 consideration; Daniel Probst and Jos. Hanger to E. H. Edwards, 750 feet in Mountain Sheep, Enterprise and other mines situated in Beveridge District, for $500.

AN INTEREST SOLD.—It is stated that during their visit last week to Bishop Creek Messrs. Jas. Crossman and John Wheeler, the well-known mining men, purchased a one-half interest in the Sacramento gold mine. The ledge has been opened 100 feet deep, and judging from the amount of gold already taken from it by the arastra process, it must be a good property.

SOUTHERN STAGES.—The southern stages, since the change of route to Mojave, show up a decided improvement. Stage leaves here at 7 o'clock in the morning, while it arrives at 7 in the evening, the time en route being 36 hours, which will soon be cut down to 33. The southern mail will then get here in the afternoon, which will be still more convenient for business men.

LUMBER.—A load of heavy mill timber passed through town yesterday for the new $50,000 silver mill at Slate Range District. The new settlement there is to be called "Reilly," and according to all reports the mines are developing immensely well. Several new sales are unofficially reported. Please save us from the name of "Reilly," however, if convenient.

I. O. O. F.—Inyo Lodge I. O. O. F. will be formerly instituted at Masonic Hall next Wednesday evening, by S. D. Thurston, who has been specially deputized by the Grand Master of the State for that purpose. Mr. Thurston is Past Grand of Havilah Lodge, and it has been mainly through his efforts that that the members of the order here have finally organized, after so long a time talking about it.

CARD.—The professional card of Dr. W. H. George will be noted among the new advertisements this week. The Doctor and family are plesantly located in the Wainright buildings, near the Bishop Creek Hotel. He seems well pleased with his change of location except that that region is most too distressingly healthy.

THANKSGIVING.—The Lone Pine Hose boys have under way arrangements for a grand ball and supper at that place Thanksgiving Day, next Thursday. See notice elsewhere, and make your calculations upon going, as it is a certainty that they will spare no possible effort to make the affair a complete success.

THE '78.—W. A. Greenly writes from Deep Springs that he and J. S. Broder are in high spirits over the new developments in their '78 mine, on Cottonwood Creek. They think the same as everyone else who has seen the property, that when their little mill is started up, they will have all they want of this world's goods.

FAVORABLY.—We learn that Mr. Jas. Jones, who has been working the old Fish Springs gold mine under lease, is opening out a fine body of the rich sulphuret gold ore, which has yielded so much money in years gone by. Mr. Cornell, John Welsh and others have been employed there for some months.

MINES BONDED.—The people of Bishop are jubilant over the reported bonding of the big Reed mine, forty days' time, for the sum of $60,000. It is said that the mine is really immense, and that J. B. Haggin will be one of the purchasers. A force of miners are at work opening it out still further.

LAUNCHED OUT.—The new town or mining center of Montezuma may be said now to be fairly launched out, established or set right up on its pins, as it were. They enjoyed a big ball and supper there last night, preparatory to the first firing up of the furnace to-day.

STOCK SALES.—Speculators have lately been actively engaged in buying up some of the best bands of horses in the upper part of the valley, including some notably fine buggy teams. They are intended for Los Angeles and other southern markets.

NOTE IT.—It may be as well noted now as any time that about fifty "subscribers" to THE INDEPENDENT won't get their papers this week nor thereafter, unless in cases where arrearages may be paid up pretty soon.

RETIRING FROM BUSINESS.—See an important notice this week by A. Spencer, one of the leading and old-time merchants of Bishop Creek. His stock is one of the largest in the county, and now will be a good time to buy from him.

SETTING THE STAKES.—The C. & C. railroad managers are reported to be locating the lines this side of old Owensville. Their white tents will soon be visible across the valley from here.

GOOD.—J. T. Thompon and Reub Speer are said to have made a sale of some mining interests at Slate Range, receiving $3,000 each therefor.

IN OPERATION.—The Panamint mill is engaged upon another big run. We are expecting official reports in time for the next issue.

DON'T.—Don't forget the grand Thanksgiving ball, supper and races to come off at Big Pine next Thursday.

MR. A. CALDWELL, for two years Superintendent of the Gunsight mine, has just come in here from Calico. He speaks very highly of that district, and mentions as particularly promising the Bismarck, the King and the Houston No. 2 mines. He showed us a fine specimen from the first-named mine. Walsh has commenced to to put up his mill, and the King is grading for a dump.—Los Angeles Express.

Mussel Slough.

The U. S. Marshal ejected J. B. Fretwell recently, and put Philips in possession of a quarter section near Hanford. Phillips tore down and removed Fretwell's house and barn. Two days later Fretwell had Phillips arrested, and while they were both in Hanford some neighbors put up a new house on the place for Fretwell, and restored all his property. Phillips has had five men arrested charged with misdemeanor. This is the beginning of another war at Mussle Slough, which it is hoped will not reach the bloody dimensions of the other. There ought to be a peaceable and equitable way out of the difficulty. The resort to violence or unlawlul means will work disaster in the end, and if the settlers are wise, they will avoid a conflict with the United States Marshal.

In his report upon the Linares mining district, Vice-Consul Sopwith states that the world's production of lead is described: Great Britain, 50,000 tons; [illegible] tons; America, 100,000 tons; and other countries 3,500 tons=413,500 tons. Spain thus holds the first place in the list of producers. Of her total production of 120,000 tons 67,000 tons are derived from the Linares district, in which no less than 805 mines are registered. Of this number, however, comparatively few are actually worked on a large scale, there being only 53 in which steam power is used. The total number of steam engines employed is 130, and the fact that 57 of these belong to English companies will give some idea of the extent to which the lead mining industry is carried on by British capital. Even in the Spanish mines, too, English foremen and engineers are largely employed, and most of the machinery and pumping engines in use are of English make.

The sweeping fire that occurred at Wilmington last night will prove a severe blow to that flourishing town. Nearly the whole of its principal business block was destroyed. The losses as given in the dispatch foot up $36,500, but there were other business houses on that block that are not named and which could hardly have escaped. The report is that the property destroyed was covered with insurance to the extent of $30,000. If that is the case, the disaster will not be as bad as it might have been. But we fear the losses are much greater than stated, for it is incredible that the insurance should so nearly approximate the losses, especially in a town like Wilmington where the rate must have been very high.—Los Angeles Express.

Washington Territory is looming up into commercial prominence. A telegram dated at Seattle on the 10th states that the cargo shipped on that day by steamer was valued at half a million dollars, and was composed of oats, salmon and hops—of the latter there being nearly 1,500 bales. For a comparatively new country, whose resources have hardly begun to be developed, the shipment of a cargo of produce of that value a few times a year shows that the Territory has a great future in store.

The running of a railroad train on Sunday is not a violation against the law of doing business on the Sabbath day in the opinion of the Court of Appeals in the Commonwealth of Kentucky vs. the Louisville & Nashville Railroad Co. The Court said that the running of the train was a work of necessity.

How We Digest.

To make the process of digestion simple, let me say that it begins in the mouth and ends in the lungs. A man swallows a mouthful of bread. We follow it from his mouth down through the œsophagus to his stomach. It now, by a peculiar motion of the stomach, is moved about in the stomach, and as it touches here and there, gastric juices start out, like sweat upon the forehead, and wets the bread. After a couple of hours of revolving about within the stomach the bread is changed into something that looks like buttermilk. This is chyme. Now the gate at the right end of the stomach opens and lets this chyme pass through the first parts of the intestine. There two liquids are poured in, one from the liver—the bile—the other from the pancreas—the pancreatic juice. These induce certain changes in the liquid bread which makes it resemble milk. Now it is now known as chyle. Innumerable little mouths which open within the intestine suck up the milk, or chyle, carrying it to a small canal, the thoracic duct, which lies upon the backbone, and through this it runs up to the upper part of the chest and is poured into a large vein just under the left collar bone. Through this vein it reaches the right side of the heart, and is then forced into the lungs, when it comes into contact with the air. Now a wonderful change comes over it. This is produced by the mixture of oxygen to the milk-like fluid. For a given quantity of this chyle a still larger quantity of oxygen is added, and the compound which comes of this union between the bread and oxygen is the nutriment which supplies the wants of the system. What takes place in the lungs is more important than anything that precedes it in the process of digestion. For example, a man may live on fried salt pork, hot saleratus biscuit and strong green tea (I don't know a worse dose); if he lives on the Western plains and breathes pure air he will have a purer blood, healthier skin, and will be freer from humors than another man who lives upon the choicest grains and fruits, but who constantly breathes the air of a close, furnace-heated house. In other words, we may truly say that, in considering the great function of digestion, the lungs really play a more important part than the stomach itself. It is really vital that the first and last step in digestion should be well done. First, chew well, and last, breathe well. If those two duties are well performed, a substantial contribution will be made to our welfare.—Dr. Dio Lewis.

The Comet.

An observation, unprecedented in the history of comets, was made at the Cape Town Observatory, on Sept. 17. at 4 h. 50 min. 58 sec., Cape mean time, corresponding to 3 h. 37 min. 3 sec., Greenwich time. "The comet was followed," writes Mr. Gill, "by two observers with separate instruments, right up to the sun's limb, where it suddenly disappeared," at the hour named. To be seen under these conditions the comet at the time must have been intensely brilliant—partly, no doubt, the effect of solar heat and light, but partly also, we conceive, on account of the resistance it experienced in its onward rush at the rate of certainly not less than 340 miles per second! The time when Mr. Gill's assistants saw the comet reach the sun's limb, preceded by 1 h. 35 min. the perihelion passage as given below.

The Emperor of Brazil telegraphs to the Academy of Sciences that the comet was visible in full daylight on the 18th, 19th and 20th of September. The spectroscope showed the presence of sodium and carbon. On the 26th, from 4 h. 10 to 5 h. 40 min. in the morning it was a splendid object.

Mr. R. A. Proctor has made calculations which satisfy him that the period of the comet and the length of the greater axis of its orbit are rapidly diminishing, that it will return to us in a few months, and that it will soon be destroyed by being absorbed into the sun.—Scientific American, Nov. 18.

The Mud Lake Fight.

On Monday our interpreter held an interview with Captain Aleck, sojourning here from the Walker River Reservation on a short furlough. Mr. Aleck, upon being approached regarding the battle last week near Wadsworth between war parties of the Piutes and Washoes, looked out toward Castle Peak and said the row occurred according to telegraphic advices from Reno. Sugar-foot McPherson, a reliable and good Indian who did the United States government scout act during she White Pine war, accompanied by two runners from the Sink of the Humboldt, carried the news. After the result of the afternoon's work had been determined Mc and his colleagues lighted a signal fire on the peak of Battle Mountain and immediately struck out for the West. The following particulars were gathered: At big sun on the tabina of the fight a destitute band of Washoes who was pretty well drowned out with Wadsworth whisky sat on the shore of Mud "lake" angling for his supper. It was near sunset, and a hunting party of Piutes returning from the quest for meat stopped to drink from the spring of the Como Siami and wash its feet in the limpid Mud lake. To this latter affair the fishing party objected, and shot off his bazoo saying that the smell of Piute was driving all the fishing out onto the bank. A yell of defiance was the only reply. This the Washoes answered and hanging his medicine club on a sage-brush, uttered the war-cry of his people, and menacing with look and gesture bore down on the foe, yet ringing his yells of hell out upon the quiet November afternoon. The enemy awaited the onslaught, and when he got on a bee line fired, the shot striking the attacking force on the nose, tapping his nose-bleed. The Washoes retired for consultation, but shortly swooped to the contest once more, this time parrying the blow with his eyebrow. After vainly trying to rally the courage of his tribe the vanquished Washoes went over and sat down on the stormless shore of Mud lake with a dull thud that made his teeth get loose. When the fading twilight had died away into the far, and dim, and distant plain, the lonesome warrior picked himself up from the deserted battle-field and packed the battle's wreck out into the dark night. Over in the confines of his nubee he loaded up with a four-finger load of Wadsworth tangle-leg, hammered his magnuitna till she couldn't see, and kicked his papoose over in o next week. The brave then went away among the sage-drush and went to sleep; into his slumbers there stole a dream, and on the silent prairie he had broken open the back door of an emigrant train and stolen an old hammerless six-shooter and enough whisky to keep him drunk for six months without laying off to get sober. The moon dropped into the Pacific Ocean, and the last remnant of the terrible fight was dead drunk.—Bodie Free Press.

Extension of the California Southern R. R.

It is reported that a subscription of $30,000 has been raised in San Bernardino for the California Southern Railroad and a right of way also given that company on condition that they pass through San Bernardino. It is stated that the road will be built to the Needles to connect with the Atlantic & Pacific. It is also stated that some car loads of railroad material have been shipped from National City to Colton for the purpose of extending the California Southern from that point. We are of the opinion that few persons have reliable knowledge of the future movements of the railroad companies. There may be some foundation to the above rumors, but we are of the opinion that the California Southern will not be built to the Needles, for then there would be two roads running almost parallel to each other through the desert, while one will be sufficient for all purposes. It is more likely that the road will connect at Calico Station, six miles south of here, as there would be more reason in it than to extend the road to the Needles. We think that the Southern Pacific will have considerable to say whether the California Southern shall be extended to the Needles. We hope that road will be continued and that San Bernardino will receive much benefit from it. It seems she is beginning to realize that there are great benefits to be reaped from railroad communication with the rest of the world.—Calico Print.

THE Board of Supervisors of Mono county assessed Mr. Louis McLane and others on $850,000 railroad mortgages. Last week those gentlemen filed their petitions in the Supreme Court of this State, asking for a writ of certiorari to review the action of the Board of Supervisors of Mono county in making such an assessment and to cancel the same. A dispatch was received Monday at Bridgeport from the Clerk of the Supreme Court that the petition for the writ had been denied.—Free Press, November 28.

IN an Oregon city, retail liquor licenses have been increased from $200 to $1,000 per year. The movement is not a strictly temperance one, but is intended to work the suppression of a low class of saloons where the vilest liquors are sold.

JAMES E. PARKER.

It is reported in New Orleans that old Commodore Vanderbilt's widow is soon to be married to Gen. Beauregard, the ex-rebel engineer. Mrs. Vanderbilt was the belle of Mobile before the war. There she married Wm. H. Elliot, a New Orleans lawyer, but was soon divorced from him. She came North after the war and taught music to support her aged mother. There the old Commodore, who had long been her admirer, made her his wife, and at his death, years after, left her a legacy of $800,000, with entire freedom to marry again. As she is fair and forty, this report is no surprise. Beauregard is rather an old man, but he is in good preservation and manages to live on $10,000 a year, furnished by a lottery company of which he is President. The popularity with women of the leaders of the Lost Cause Is something as marked as their failure in business enterprises. Jefferson Davis seems to have been a hero in the eyes of the lady of Beuvoir, although he has done nothing since the collapse of the Confederacy except to write a poor history of it. Beauregard failed completely as President of a Southern railroad, which since his retirement from it has got out of debt and made money: yet here he comes as the favored suitor of an heiress twenty years his junior. Evidently those whom the gods doom to disaster in war receive their compensation in the lists of love.

THE Denver and Rio Grande Railroad is now within 167 miles of Salt Lake City. This means competition with the Union Pacific to all points west of Denver, for these two roads are naturally antagonistic. The periodical wars between the Western railroads always result in some good to the farmer and traveling public. The three lines between Chicago and Omaha keep rates down to a respectable level, and the same may be said of the rivalry between roads further east. But when one gets west of the Missouri, competition practically ceases and the reign of monopoly is ushered in. It will be a big thing for Salt Lake when this gap in the Denver road is bridged, as it will witness the downfall of the Union Pacific monopoly.

IT will be remembered by many of our readers that the Legislature of Texas some time since fixed the maximum rate of fares at three cents per mile throughout that State. It appears to work well. There has been so large an increase of travel that the receipts of the railroads from this source have been very liberal. Some of the local press are now suggesting that a further reduction might be made without injustice to the railroad companies. But this is perhaps a little precipitate. The people can well afford to be satisfied with the present rates for a while.

A VICKSBURG dispatch, November 22, says: The Commission to-day examined the extraordinary change in the course of the river, which leaves Vicksburg practically three miles inland. Opposite the delta the river has washed out the mattress work and piling put down by the city in an attempt to control the river and prevent a cut-off. The sum of $250,000 was expended in this work. At least $1,000,000 have been expended at other points on the river with a view of narrowing and deepening the channel to improve navigation.

IN spite of his repeated pronunciamentos, it now looks as though John I. Davenport has discovered no real clue to the Morey letter forgers. This is what might have been expected from Davenport's general reputation. His still hunt was made for money, and was not due to any desire to bring the criminals to justice. In fact, men shrewd enough to devise this campaign forgery were not the kind to leave their tracks uncovered. The Morey letter bids fair to go into history as one of the political mysteries of our time.

HOYT, the late Governor of Wyoming Territory, where woman suffrage has been in operation for some years, speaks favorably of its influence and effect. He says that no one wants it abolished, and that it is considered definitely established. "Perhaps the highest good has not been accomplished," he adds, "but there has been much good and no evil." These will be cheering words to the more ambitious of the gentle sex everywhere.

A YREKA dispatch says that "a disease known as 'blackleg' made its appearance on the Fairchild ranch, in Butte Creek valley, three weeks ago. Seventy-five calves have died since then. It has also made its appearance on the Dorris ranch. It is fatal. None of the animals attacked recover. The ranchmen are resorting to systems of vaccination with garlic applied in the brisket as a preventative."

THE MOREY LETTER.

Dispatches say that it is probable nothing more will be heard of the celebrated Morey letter or the report which Johnny Davenport has been two years preparing in New York. There was a story sent out from New York ten days before the late elections that a pamphlet would be ready for publication soon in which the entire conspiracy would be laid bare, but the report did not appear. It is said that Davenport got at different times sums which amounted to $25,000 from Marshall, Jewel and others of the National Republican Committee to aid him in the investigation he claimed to be making, under his promise of getting the bottom facts in regard to the letter, which would show that certain prominent Democrats had a criminal bonnection with the conspiracy. Finally, Jewell refused to pay any more. Davenport then appealed to Jay Hubbell for assistance, his idea being that his report would make a good campaign document. Hubbell asked for the report before he would advance any money for its publication. Davenport, it is said, sent it to him. Hubbell, Chandler and others of the Committee read it carefully, and decided that its conclusions were libellous, having little or no foundation in fact. Davenport then offered it to the New York State Campaign Committee. They also declined to touch it. Several New York papers were next given a chance to handle it, but they declined, for the reason that it contained nothing that was new or that had not already been better written.

This accounts for its non-appearance. The report will now never see daylight unless some one advanees the money to print it as a private enterprise.

THE Grand Trunk Railway of Canada is invaded by the Vanderbilt roads on one side, and is about to be invaded by the Canadian Pacific on the other. It is, therefore, according to report trying to unite with the new West Shore four-track railroad, which is in view of the Hudson River and New York Central Railroad from New York to Buffalo. It is also pushing out to the Northwest by connections with existing roads and projected new roads. Thus there will be a brisk competition for Western and Northwestern business between trunk lines—the Baltimore & Ohio, the Pennsylvania, the Erie, the New York Central, the Northern Pacific, the Grand Trunk, and the Canadian Pacific. Two of these will extend to the Pacific Ocean, and the others will connect with them and with the Union Pacific, or Jay Gould's Southern Pacific. These lines, with their almost numberless connections, may be relied upon to keep up a sharp competition. And the three great waterways from the Western States and Territories to the sea, viz the Mississippi, the St. Lawrence, and the Erie canal, will greatly increase that competition.

THE New York Sun urges upon the Democratic Congressmen the importance of electing Samuel J. Randall as Speaker of the next House. The claims of Mr. Randall are based upon the following "platform," which is said to be an epitome of a recent speech made by the great Pennsylvanian:

1. A radical reduction in the expenses of the Government.
2. Return every superfluous office-holder to private usefulness.
3. Abolition of the internal revenue system.
4. Radical reform and simplification of the tariff.
5. No subsidies; no jobbery; no stealing; no waste.

In the main, this is pretty sound doctrine.

SENATOR EDMUNDS and ex-Senator Conkling have been retained to assist ex-Judge Sanderson in the conduct of the case of San Mateo county vs. the Central Pacific Railroad Company (a tax case), which will come before the United States Supreme Court on appeal on the 19th of December. The plaintiff will be represented by ex-Chief Justice Rhodes of this State.

RHODE ISLAND adopted her present Constitution in 1843. It requires voters to be natives, property holders and taxpayers. Whether this be "republican" in the liberal sense, is doubtful. Still, Rhode Island is satisfied with her organic law as it exists, as was manifest by her voting down a proposition for a Constitutional Convention at the late election.

THE Central Pacific Company is having several engines built, which, it is said, will weigh sixty-three tons each, and are called "mastodons." They have eight driving wheels under the forward truck, and the cylinders measure 20x30 inches.

A NEVADA paper states that an immense quantity of freight is passing over the Central Pacific Railroad at the present time. The company find it difficult to procure the cars necessary to move it.

GOV. STONEMAN has tendered the position of Private Secretary to ex-Senator Moreland, and that of Executive Secretary to H. J. W. Dam. Both gentlemen have accepted.

How to Get Homesteads.

More than common interest is being manifested of late among the people of this and other Pacific States to secure homesteads on the public lands. How to secure these is a question that is often asked, and we shall answer it as briefly as possible. A homestead entry must not exceed 160 acres. It may be for 80, or 40, or a smaller number of acres; but one homestead is all that any one person is entitled to. Women as well as men are entitled to homesteads, by compliance with the law.

The first step is a written application to the Land Office in the district where the land to be entered is located. It must state the full name of the applicant; the section, township and range where the land lies, and the number of acres applied for; and the land must have been surveyed by the United States; and there must be no prior, adverse, valid right to the land. On this application—and none but citizens of the United States, or those who have filed to become such, are legally entitled to a homestead entry—the Register of the Land Office issues a certificate to the applicant. This states that the person is legally entitled to the entry, the class of the land, and that it is surveyed. The applicant then makes affidavit: That he has filed his application; that he or she is the head of a family or not, as the case may be; that he is a citizen, or has filed his declaration of intention to become such; that he or she is 21 years of age; or, if a soldier, that he has served not less than fourteen days in the army of the United States or in the navy in time of actual war; that the application is made for his or her exclusive benefit, and for the purpose of actual settlement, and not for the benefit of any other person; and finally, that he or she has not before had the benefit of the Homestead law. This is sworn to before the Register or the Receiver. The next step is to pay the Land Office fee and commission, and to take possession of the land entered. The fees and commissions for homesteaders are: For 160 acres of land within the belt of any railroad grant on the even-numbered sections, fee $10, to be paid at the time of making the entry, and commission $12, to be paid at the same time. When the certificate of title issues, $12 more must be paid—a total of $34. The fees and commissions for 80 acres are just half as much; and for 40 acres, $11 in all. If the land is not within any land-grant belt the fees and commissions, payable as above stated, amount to $22 for 160 acres, half as much for 80 acres, and $8 for 40 acres. The resident owner of a farm of 80 acres may enter as a part of his homestead 80 adjoining acres on the same terms as above and the same forms. Or, if he owns 40 acres, he may enter 120 acres additional of adjoining public lands. This is by the Act of March 3, 1879.

To perfect title to a homestead entry five years' continuous residence is required. A single woman who has homesteaded land does not lose her right by marriage, but she must settle on and cultivate the land. Married women are entitled to homesteads. An abandoned wife, if she continue to live on a homestead entered by her husband, is entitled to a certificate of title in her own name. Minors under 21 years of age are not entitled to homestead entry. The application, to be legal, must be made at the office of the Receiver, in office hours, and accompanied by the legal fees and commission. After continuous residence and cultivation for five years the homesteader receives his patent of perfect title to the land. The law as to residence does not prohibit him from working off the land for others for two or three weeks at a time. If he dies before the end of five years his widow or heirs may reside on the land for the remainder of the time and get the title. Where a man and a woman have made separate homestead entry on lands that join, they may marry and complete title to both by building and living in a house on the line of the two tracts. A husband loses none of his rights by the refusal of his wife to reside on the land.—S. F. Chronicle.

IT seems to be a settled fact that the California Southern Railroad will be extended to San Bernardino, without delay. This extension depends upon a donation of $20,000 from San Bernarnardino to the Railroad Company. We are told that up to last Friday noon $17,000 had been raised, and there was a fair prospect of securing the remaining $3,000. The Riverside Press thinks this movement sets at rest all reports of the sale of the California Southern to the Southern Pacific people. It appears to us our neighbor of Riverside is a little unsophisticated. Nothing is ever definitely settled as to what railroad companies will do. The writer spent about a year on the anxious seat, speculating as to what would be the ultimate fate of the Santa Monica Railroad. It was a game of "now you see it, and now you don't." We all see it now. So we might say about the California Southern Railroad. It is by no means certain that the Southern Pacific people want the Colton and San Diego road. Whenever they do, it will be like a big fish preparing to swallow a little one—a mere question of opening the mouth. —Los Angeles Express.

THE Triennial Committee of the Grand Commandary of California, Knights Templar, is actively preparing for the Triennial Conclave of the Order in the United States, which will be held in San Francisco the coming Summer. Circulars containing information of great benefit to those contemplating a trip to this coast have been issued, and inquiries have been made of the various Commandaries regarding the number of Knights and ladies who may be expected to visit the coast during July and August.

HONEY, according to A. Vogel, contains on an average one per cent. of formic acid. Observing that crude honey keeps better than that which has been clarified, E. Mylius has tried the addition of formic acid, and found that it prevents fermentation without impairing the flavor of the honey.

COPAL varnish applied to the soles of shoes, and repeated as it dries until the pores are filled and the surface shines like polished mahogany, will make the soles water proof and last as long as the uppers.

THE OSTRICH WALTZ.

An Odd Sight in the Central Park—How to Pluck an Ostrich.

Mr. J. Protheroe, the young Englishman who has in Central Park a herd of twenty-two ostriches, recently imported from Buenos Ayres for breeding in America, went yesterday morning with his herdsman, an ebony Cape Towner, named Johnson, and a Sun reporter, to the deer hut in which the birds are confined. When Johnson opened the door he was greeted by a series of sounds suggestive of the noise made by a fog horn.

"That's what the Dutch natives of Cape Town call 'bromming,'" said Mr. Protheroe. "It expresses the same feeling with an ostrich that cooing does with a dove. I'll show you how we pluck an ostrich. Johnson, bring the stocking."

The dark herder, whom the birds regarded with mild-eyed affection, produced a long, white stocking. He caught one of the birds by the neck and inserted the head and neck in the stocking. The result irresistably recalled the pictures of Bernhardt in Bernhardt gloves. The blinded bird exhibited some nervousness.

"This herd have been so long in confinement," said Mr. Protheroe, "that they are comparatively gentle when the stocking is pulled over their necks. They fight and kick vigorously sometimes when they have been accustomed to the liberty of a large farm."

Johnson led the bird up to a side of the hut, against which with one hand he held its neck. He held up a wing with the other hand, while Mr. Protheroe held the other wing and with a pair of shears clipped off a white feather one inch from the flesh under the wing. "It would not do," continued Mr. Protheroe, "to pull these feathers out. Inflamation might set in. We pull out the tail feathers and those on the outside of the wings. One month after we cut off the large feathers under the wings new feathers push out the old quills."

While Mr. Protheroe was speaking the long necked birds were making friends with the reporter. One of them seized his shirt collar, but was frustrated by Johnson in his attempt to swallow it. Another tried to gulp down the reporter's cane, but finding a stiff neck the result, desisted.

"If you will stand behind me," said the young Englishman, "we will open the door, and let the birds out for their morning airing. They are dangerous when at liberty."

Johnson pushed back the sliding door of the hut. "Now," continued Mr. Protheroe, "you will see something you have not had the privilege of seeing in America before." Johnson gave a low, peculiar whistle, resembling somewhat the "bromming" of the birds, as he walked out of the door into the grassy enclosure. The ungainly birds rushed after him pell-mell. Their necks were craned out and their mouths wide open. They ran about the enclosure in a break-neck fashion for several minutes, occasionally bumping against one another. Then they began flapping their wings and waltzing. It was a veritable waltz, and so termed by ostrich farmers. The birds turn rapidly round, dipping their necks and swaying their bodies at each turn. A rythm that could be set to music pervaded their motions.

"It would be unsafe to go among them now, unless, like Johnson, you were familiar with them," said Mr. Protheroe. Two of the male ostriches began to fight at this point. They faced each other with distended mouths, flapping wings, and glaring eyes. Then they began a pecking match, which was followed by some kicking, forward, backward and sidewise. "While they are too tough to be much hurt by their own kicks, they have been known to break the arms and legs of men by them," said Mr. Protheroe.

The birds will be taken to California soon. Mr. Protheroe thinks his ostrich farming in America will be entirely successful.—N. Y. Sun.

A RICH STRIKE.—Through letters from W. A. Greenly, of Deep Spring Valley, we learn that as work goes on their mine there is constantly improving. Mr. Greenly, who is as reliable man as this country can boast of, reports a new gold discovery in the White Mountains, about three miles north of his place and between there and Fish Lake Valley, to the west of Cottonwood Creek. It was made by Piper & Co., last week. The ledge is said to be immensely rich, showing nuggets of gold and the richest description of quartz. From personal examination of that country we believe it is destined to become one of the greatest mining districts in this county, if not in the State. The particulars concerning the strike are not at hand, but it is a little notable that this discovery should just now be made within a few miles of the first mine ever located within the present limits of this county —the old "Hardscrabble."

I. O. O. F.—Inyo Lodge, No.—, was organized last Wednesday evening, at Masonic Hall, Independence, by S. D. Thurston, P. G. (acting under special commission and dispensation of the Grand Lodge of the State of California), assisted by A. Parker, P. G.; J. D. Blair, P. G.; S. P. Moffatt, P. G., and others. The following members, having been duly elected, were installed into office, viz: S. D. Thurston, N. G.; A. Parker, V. G.; S. P. Moffatt, R. S.; J. Alexander, P. S.; J. D. Blair, S. The Lodge will meet on Thursday evening of each week.

THANKSGIVING SURPRISE.—The way the day was observed at Bishop is set forth in the following note from Rev. Mr. Nims: "Thanksgiving Day was an enjoyable presence by us at Bishop Creek. A goodly representative union Thanksgiving service was held in the Baptist church, and in the evening an impromptu gathering of a few friends at the parsonage of the Methodist church—led by Rev. Bro. Clark and his good wife—took Mrs. Nims and myself wholly by surprise; and, after a very pleasant time together, left us bettered in heart and life, and with twenty dollars in cash, and other valuables."

THE RACES.—There was quite a large crowd assembled at the Big Pine track last Wednesday and Thursday; the Bishop Creek turfites were out in force, and the pool-box was plethoric with "yaller money." For the first race for untried horses three horses contested, Jack "Nob," a two year old, took the purse and pools. On the day following the race between "Steel Dust" and "Belle" was first decided in favor of the former by one foot, but it was afterwards considered a tie and was to have been run over again yesterday. We have not heard the result.

SCARCE.—In the entire absence this week of favors from correspondents relative to Thanksgiving proceedings a Lone Pine and Big Pine, and—what is worse—no reports from the several furnaces and mills through the county, local items are decidedly scarce—few and far between. When we get a flying machine, railroad or at least a telegraph line through the country our Lokleitems may become sufficiently ubiquitous to find out what is going on.

CURE FOR BLACKLEG.—Mr. W. O. Meroney, writing from Bishop Creek, recommends the following remedy for the treatment of cattle attacked by blackleg: "First, bleed the foot of the leg affected. Then cut a hole through the skin above the soreness and insert a strong solution of saltpetre. Work the solution down over the soreness with the hand. Cut a hole below for the discharge of the saltpetre water and corruption."

HURT.—Sheriff-elect Steve Gregg has a very badly sprained wrist, but he knows more about fooling with a colt than he did. Finding one of his lying down, the other day, he slipped up to it and undertook to hold it there by the neck. The animal threw him a few yards more or less and Steve get up with an injured wrist. Dr. George was sent for to repair damages.

LODGINGS.—Mr. and Mrs. Charles Keppler, of Bishop Creek, announce in their advertisement this week that they have fitted up a lodging house in connection with the Victoria Restaurant. We will guarantee that every one who may patronize the deserving old couple will be well pleased.

ON MONDAY.—The Grand Jury will meet Monday next. All those drawn have been duly summoned, notwithstanding our publication of the names in advance. Tom Webb says he was caught between here and the Fort, of course, and that the officers got Brady without exceeding great effort.

CALLED MEETING.—The P. P. P. institution is called to meet next Tuesday night, at the Masonic Hall. Regular annual business will be transacted, amongst the rest being preparations for a grand ball and supper in commemoration of St. John's Day—December 27th.

RETURNED.—Dan Williams and Bill Johnson have returned to Lone Pine from their prospecting tour through Death Valley. They came back loaded with specimens of copper and silver ores, iron, tin and chuckwallas.

PERSONAL.—Ex-Supervisor J. L. Garretson, of Bishop Creek, has started to New York for medical treatment. Mrs. S. A. Densmore, of Camp Independence, has gone to Los Angeles, to remain several months.

SABBATH SCHOOL.—The little folks, and all others interested, are hereby requested to attend the reopening of the Sabbath School at the school house at 2 o'clock in the afternoon to-morrow.

LOST.—See notice of a valuable animal lost or stolen.

About Another Railroad.

Last Monday Mr. J. Fewson Smith, civil engineer, surveyor and advance railroad agent, arrived in town with his outfit. In search of general information regarding the topography of the country south, east and west of this point, he called at THE INDEPENDENT office. With regard to these points, he was brought in contact with Surveyors Seeley and Alexander, and furnished with a letter to Wm. L. Hunter, of Lone Pine, as these three gentlemen are probably better acquainted with the geography and natural features of Inyo than any others. From this office he was supplied with a series of statistics and facts concerning the mines, bullion product of the past and present, agricultural interests, etc. After spending a day or two here, Mr. Smith moved on to Lone Pine and we understand will make Olancha headquarters during the two or three weeks which he may be engaged in making his preliminary exploration of the country east of the Inyos and south of Owens Lake.

Although not ostensibly so, this projected new through trans-continental railroad belongs undoubtedly to Jay Gould's great scheme of forming an independent western line to the Pacific Ocean from the terminus of the Union Pacific at Ogden. From that point one of his roads runs southward to Salt Lake City. Under practically the same management is the Salt Lake and Western line—a standard broad gauge which is now completed 85 miles southwesterly to Tintic Valley. From that point on the present engineer has explored the country for a route so far as here, having carefully examined the country for a distance of more than 1,100 miles. Abandoning the general surveys made by Col. Bridges last year, the terrific engineering difficulties of which render the work almost impossible, Mr. Smith has endeavored to find a southerly route through the various north and south ranges of mountains which lie between Utah and Pacific tide water. The company require a road built with no grade greater than ninety feet to the mile and no curve of more than six degrees. In crossing the Sierras a great many miles of tunnelling, with approaches below the snow line, will be worked out in preference to anything like the engineering of the Union and Southern Pacific roads.

The country explored so far has presented no insurmountable difficulties. Its main features are its incalculable mineral interests—coal in the Utah fields in quantities sufficient to supply the world, iron, lead, copper and numberless mines of the precious metals. The road will open out a new empire in the Great American basin or desert country.

As to whether the road will ever come into this valley is of course mere conjecture now. In the stupendous work of crossing the Sierra the great principle is to attain the greatest elevation on either side of them. This valley is too low and the eastern slope of the mountains too precipitous. From the northern arm of Death Valley the road might cross to the western slope of the range lying east of Saline Valley. From thence, constantly climbing, it would pass southwest across the plateau known as "Randolph's Race Track" to the divide between Cerro Gordo and Lee District. Then, by skirting round the Coso mountains, the highest ground between the Big Lake and Indian Wells could be crossed, and then the work of getting over or through Walker's Pass would commence. Such, very briefly stated, are Mr. Seeley's ideas about it. We are promised some data from Mr. Smith on this important subject which will be interesting reading in the near future.

RELIGIOUS SERVICES.—Rev. W. Nims will preach in this place to-morrow at 11 A. M., and also at 7 o'clock in the evening.

NEAR Paterson, N. J., the other day, a farmer named Lyons was in his field when a stranger came up and suddenly stuck a bottle under the farmer's nose. He went off into a faint or dazed condition, while the stranger relieved him of a watch worth twenty dollars. An officer of the peace had witnessed the scene from a distance, and coming up, he arrested the thief. Upon inspecting the bottle, which Lyons thought contained chloroform, it was found to be filled with nothing but hair-oil. It was a singular proof of the power of imagination and the thief's knowledge of human nature.

IN the third trial of Clarence Gray for the murder of Theodore Glancey, late editor of the Santa Barbara Press, the jury found a verdict of not guilty.

THE Dairyman of the State propose to meet in San Francisco on the 12th of this month to organize a State Association.

THE daily output of ores from the principal mines of Leadville now under operation averages 14,100 tons, which exceeds the tonnage of any former period. If this rate of increse is continued until the close of the year we may look for a gross output of between 16,000,000 and 17,000,000 from Leadville alone. Assuming that the other districts will return about the same as last year, the gross product of Colorado for 1882 should not be less than 25,000,000.

THE newly elected State and County officers will commence their terms of office on Monday, the 8th day of January next, the Constitution and laws providing that the terms of office shall begin the first Monday after the first day of January succeeding the election. It will be a good day to commemorate the famous battle of New Orleans.

SEVENTY-SIX courses of stone, making 152 vertical feet, have been laid since work recommenced in earnest upon the Washington monument. Its hight is now 302 feet.

Resolutions of Condolence.

The Bishop Creek organization of the Knights of Pythias, at a meeting held November 29, 1882, adopted the following:

WHEREAS: It has been the will of Divine Providence to lay his afflicting hand on our dear Brother, W. C. Brierly, by the sudden death of his infant son, and

Whereas, it is but just that a fitting recognition be had, therefore be it

Resolved by Bishop Creek Organization, Knights of Pythias, that the heartfelt sympathy of the Organization be extended to our Brother in his sorrow and affliction, through which he has been called on to pass.

Resolved, that this testimonial of our sympathy and sorrow be spread upon the records of our Order, a copy of which be transmitted to our afflicted Brother, and the same be published in THE INYO INDEPENDENT.

R. FRED. BROOKS,
J. F. HUTCHISON, President.
Sec. pro tem.

THE Bodie and Benton Railway and Commercial Company will discontinue running trains over their narrow gauge railroad after Saturday of this week. The company has done a vast amount of business during the past season, and has a sufficient quantity of wood and lumber in its yards to last through the Winter. The last lot brought in was about 3,500 cords of wood for the Noonday Companies. The company now has a planer on the hill, and furnishes rustic, flooring and other styles of dressed lumber. The rolling stock and engines will all be put in repair at once, and will be ready for service at a day's notice. It is not probable that work will be resumed before the 1st of April. Supt. Thomas Holt will leave for San Francisco shortly to remain during the Winter. In his absence, Mr. Hay, who has heretofore been stationed at the other end of the line, will have charge of the company's business in Bodie.—Free Press, Nov. 18.

A SARCASTIC correspondent speaks as follows concerning the Cabinet since the election: Said I to a Washington friend: "How is the Cabinet?" "They are a badly scared set," he answered, "from old Timothy Howe down to the aged dandy, Ben Brewster, who, having gone out in Pennsylvania, is still among his wax candles, ruffled and ringed, like a wax figure in a side show. Frelinghuysen carries his head mysteriously, like St. Denis, who wore his under his arm to his place of interment. Chandler is chewing up invisible millions of enemies with his teeth, as if he was secretary of a rat pit, and Teller, of Colorado, says he will tell Mr. Conkling of this behavior of an unregulated people and see if there is no punishment for it. Master Lincoln reflecteth much, but does not see how this brings him nearer the Presidency."

THE importance of one vote should never be lost sight of under any circumstances. At the late election the two candidates for Assessor in Calaveras county each received 1,130 votes. In Placer county each candidate for Treasurer received 1,448. No person being elected in either case, the Supervisors of each county have directed another election to be held, which must be paid for by the tax-payers.

CHEAP brandy and absinthe are the cause of a large proportion of cases of insanity in parts of France. The United States Consul at La Rochelle, in his report on French brandies, points out the fact that no pure brandy is now made in Cognac and the district adjacent. He says that German alcohol, distilled from potatoes, is imported, doctored, and sold for brandy, and that the French artisans and peasants, who formerly used light wines, have of late years used much of this so-called brandy. He says: "Its characteristic effect is to produce an intoxication in which the patient is especially inclined to rage and physical violence, while hopeless insanity is the inevitable consequence of persisting in its use, even for a relatively short period of time." "It is," remarks the Scientific American, "at least worth the physician's while to know that there is no such thing as pure Cognac now."

THE Northern Pacific Express Company will soon begin operations on the railway and steamboat lines in Oregon, Washington, Idaho and Montano, supplanting Wells, Fargo & Co.

A STATUTE of 1874, in relation to the observance of Sunday, has been revived in Connecticut and enforced.

He Quit the Cattle Business.

"I shall never handle cattle any more," said Patrick Healey the other day while talking with a Wyoming stock man. "I got discouraged many years ago. I heard that cattle would yield all the way from 75 to 90 per cent. profit, so I got 500 and let Nature take her course. The following Spring I started to brand my calves and count up my profits. My style of branding was laborious and unsatisfactory. I would catch a calf, throw him down, build a sagebrush fire, heat my branding iron, brand him and start for another. This consumed half an hour to the animal, the best that I could do, and it looked as if it would take till about Christmas to brand my calves. However, the number didn't hold out by one-half, and as I was just closing the branding, meanwhile cussing my luck in the stock business, I one day noticed with my field-glass, several miles on the plains, a cowboy who acted so strangely that I resolved to get behind a little knoll and watch him. As he got nearer I discovered that he had a charcoal stove attached to his saddle behind, and also that he had a branding-iron secured to a 200 foot lariat, which he threw with wonderful accuracy. The cowboy was an employee of Mr. Tinnin, a neighbor of mine who had a very large herd of cattle and made the raising of cattle a very prosperous business. Instead of building a sagebrush fire and going through the tedious process of throwing down an animal to brand him, he just heated the branding-iron in the little tinner's stove as he rode along and when within 100 feet or so of a calf, just threw it with that deadly aim of his and Mr. Tinnin was ahead a $15 animal. I decided right there that I would not raise any more cattle. Science had the bulge on Nature. Natural increase is all right where it does not have to compete with science. I just went to Mr. Tinnin and said: 'Look here, Mr. Tinnin, I want to sell you my little bunch of cattle at a fair figure. I want to see you have them because you deserve them. A man who can bring science to his aid as you can ought to have this herd, and I believe you will ultimately have the whole outfit anyhow. Things seem to point that way now and I want to facilitate matters by selling you the bunch before it is everlastingly too late. My cows feel just the same as I do about it. They are willing to do everything they can that is honorable to order to forward the cattle interests of the country, but they can't compete with your statesmanship. They feel hurt and very much depressed by it, and so do I. I just want to hasten the result by letting you have the cattle before they get too much reduced.' He saw that I was feeling very unhappy over my cattle deal, and he kindly took them off my hands. I have never owned any cattle since that. I have seen many of my neighbors accumulate large herds and big fortunes, but it had no temptations for me. I knew that with nothing to start with but the wreck of a bull team and one of those self-registering branding-irons, men who don't know the difference between a maverick and the Venus of Milo have become millionaires, but that don't affect me any. I just squeeze along the best I can and raise sheep at a profit of 35 or 40 per cent. It is not so rapid, of course, as the cattle business under careful management, but a man feels better when he meets the vigilance committee."—Detroit Free Press.

"I HATE to see a woman with rings in her ears," exclaimed the good deacon, "they ain't natural; if it was intended for women to wear them she would have been born with holes in her ears. The first woman didn't wear earrings, I'll be bound." "No," remarked the quiet little man in the corner, "nor nothing else." The discussion was brought to a sudden close, and the house adjourned without delay.

"YES," said the farmer, "barbed wire fences are expensive, but the hired man doesn't stop to rest every time he has to climb it."

Assessment Work on Mining Claims.

The first of January will soon be here, and negligent miners are again reminded that they must do the work required by the laws of the United States on or before that date, or they will be liable to lose their claims. Plenty of time and warning has been given, and claim-owners will have no one but themselves to blame if they forfeit their rights by not attending to their property in time.

If certain claims are of any value they will not be abandoned by the locators and it will probably happen that some of the "jumpers" will get fooled in some cases, supposing that work is not done because it has been neglected until late. As a general thing, however, none but claims of some value will be liable to be jumped, and many of these have no doubt been "spotted" by this time by parties on the lookout for just such chances. A good many miners will, of course, put off doing the necessary work until the last minute, intending to commence on the first day of January. Those who are left out in the cold by procrastinating can blame only themselves.

The best way, no doubt, for bona fide locators to do, is to patent their claims at once. This will save annual expenditure and give a good title at the same time. A patent is a very good thing to hold in case of a sale. The English purchaser of mining property will not look at anything which is not covered by a United States patent, and it is an incentive to any purchaser to know that he is sure of a good title.

In this connection it is proper to suggest to locators the propriety of having the original location properly surveyed by a competent surveyor, so as to have a perfect record to proceed upon when making application for a patent. The careless way in which measurements are usually made in original locations makes it difficult to get the official surveys for patents in accordance with the legal regulations. A lawyer in this city told us not long since that in more than half the cases where patents were wanted it was impossible to get the surveys to correspond with the original record of location. In many cases the ground was formally relocated to save trouble. It is always best to have preliminary surveys made before taking steps toward applying for a patent.—S. F. Scientific Press.

Curious Patents.

Some investigating person has furnished the New York Times with a brief list of patents on small things which in many instances have proved great mines of wealth to the lucky discoverer. The list might be extended to a much larger number, but we only state those given in the Times. Among these trifles is the favorite toy—the "return ball"—a wooden ball with an elastic string attached, selling for ten cents each, but yielding to its patentee an income equal to $50,000 a year. The rubber tip on the end of lead pencils affords the owner of the royalty an independent fortune. The inventor of the gummed newspaper wrapper is also a rich man. The gimlet-pointed screw has evolved more wealth than most silver mines, and the man who first thought of putting copper tips to children's shoes shoes is as well off as if his father had left him $2,000,000 in United States bonds. Although roller skates are not so much used in countries where ice is abundant, in South America, especially in Brazil, they are very highly esteemed, and have yielded over $1,000,000 to their inventor. But he had to spend fully $125,000 in England alone fighting infringements. The "dancing jim crow," a toy, provides an annual income of $75,000 to its inventor, and the common needle-threader is worth $10,000 a year to the man who thought of it. The "drive well" was an idea of Colonel Green, whose troops, during the war, were in want of water. He conceived the notion of driving a two-inch tube into the ground until water was reached and then attaching a pump. This simple contrivance was patented after the war, and the tens of thousands of farmers who have adopted it have been obliged to pay him a royalty, a moderate estimate of which is placed at $3,000,000. The spring window shade yields an income of $100,000 a year; the stylographic pen also brings in $100,000 yearly; the marking pen for shading in different colors, $100,000; rubber stamps the same. A very large fortune has been reaped by a Western miner, who, ten years since, invented a metal rivet or eyelet at each end of the mouth of coat and pants pockets to resist the strain caused by the carriage of pieces of ore and heavy tools.

Preserving Hides.

If the hides are not freshly taken off, soak them in water with a little salt until they are as soft as when green. Then scrape the flesh off with a fleshing knife, or with a butcher's knife with a smooth, round edge, and with sheepskins the wool should be washed clean with soft-soap and water and the suds thoroughly rinsed out. For each skin, take four ounces of alum and one-half ounce of borax. Dissolve these in one quart of hot water, and when cool enough to bear the hand, stir in sufficient rye meal to make a thick paste, with half an ounce of Spanish whiting. This paste is to be thoroughly spread over every part of the flesh side of the skin, which should be folded together lengthwise, wool side out, and left for two weeks in an airy place. Then remove the paste, wash and dry the skin. When not quite dry it must be worked and pulled and scraped with a knife made for the purpose, shaped like a chopping knife, or with a piece of hard wood made with a sharp edge. The more the skin is worked and scraped, as it dries, the more pliable will it be.

R. C. HUMESTON, a house contractor, informed us this morning that he had built thirty-three houses since last April in this city and vicinity, costing a total value of nearly $50,000. The houses ranged in price from $1,000 to $5,000, and were from four-room cottages to ten-chamber mansions.—Los Angeles Express.

INDEPENDENCE, CAL.:

JAMES E. PARKER.

It is now estimated that the Government will need $150,000,000 for the pension list the coming year. The estimate is probably based on the amount of arrearages which will fall due, with the annual pensions added. This is an item in our expenditures that cannot be reduced, except as here and there a fraudulent case may be detected. Under the present law it is impossible to place a limit on the demands which may be made on the Pension Fund. As age creeps upon old soldiers, they will be liable to ailments which physicians will attrtbute to the exposure incurred in the army. If nearly all the two millions of men who served more or less time during the civil war apply for pensions, and date the commencement back to the time when the supposed injuries were received, the nation is yet only in the early and comparatively light stages of payment. The large sums which will certainly be required for pensions during the next three or four years will prevent the total abolition of the internal revenue tax, which is advocated. If $150,000,000 is wanted for pensions and $68,000,000 for interest on the public debt, the revenue from customs will be inadequate. The country will not be content, either, without some material reductions in the tariff. The cheapening of certain articles, whose prices are determined by the cost of the foreign product, will afford more relief to the people than the abolition of the tax on whisky and tobacco.

The great expense of the multitude of expeditions fitted out to observe the transit of Venus across the sun's face last Wednesday was incurred simply to reduce an uncertainty in the sun's parallax of one-tenth of a second. Although more than a hundredth part of the whole, Professor Young finds this tenth of a second to be no more than the angle substended by a single hair at a distance of 800 feet. The more probable parallax may be taken to be 8.80 seconds, which signifies that the sun is 92,885,000 miles from us. The best authorities admit that this estimate of the parallex, made from observations thus far worked out, may be inaccurate within the limit of one twentieth of a second either way. This apparently slight uncertainty, however, is not to be overlooked, as the one-twentieth of a second corresponds to about half a million miles. As the sun's distance from the earth is the unit adopted for measurements among the stars, its accurate determination is a matter of great value to astronomy, and the importance of transits of Venus and Mercury rests upon the fact that they afford a means of finding the solar parallax.

The Los Angeles Times recently gave some account of a projected ostrich-growing enterprise in Southern California, and another in Arizona, near Yuma. There is no doubt about California and Arizona being suited to the rearing of this profitable bird. A gentleman who has resided at Cape Town, Africa, in the vicinity of the famous ostrich farms of the Cape of Good Hope, where he made himself acquainted with the nature, habits, constitution and culture of the ostrich, expresses his confident belief that the bird would do well in the latitude of Los Angeles and Santa Barbara, where the climate is not essentially different from that of South Africa. It is a common mistake to suppose that the ostrich requires a hot, sandy plain to live upon. The old bird will stand a reasonable degree of cold and dampness; it is the young that are especially tender.

E. H. Fontecilla, who was publisher of the late Bishop Creek Times, will establish a daily newspaper at Tuscarora, Nevada, the first number of which will appear on the 22d instant. Harry is possessed of an indomitable will and good business qualifications, and if the people of Elko county will "stand in" in a proper manner, their efforts will be be rewarded with a first-class paper.

The November elections have gradually become national by being held in no less than thirty-three American States. Only five of the States of the Union do not appear in this list, and no doubt in a few years the change will embrace the whole Republic, so that all the members of the Lower House of Congress will be elected simultaneously.

The Oakland Tribune blows the Oakland trumpet loudly and well, and prophesies that in twenty years the city by the bay mud-flats will take its place among the great business cities of the continent.

An actress was killed on the stage at Cincinnati lately by Frank Frayne, who endeavored to shoot an apple off her head.

An ordinary express train on the Central Pacific costs about $112,000.

THE PRESIDENTIAL MESSAGE.

There are a few salient points in the message which President Arthur has just submitted to Congress. It is a common-sense paper, conservative in general tone, suggesting a line of legislation between the two extremes. On the important question of the tariff the President suggests modifications and a general reduction in rates. He recommends that articles from which little revenue is collected should be placed on the free list, with some other articles which enter largely into our manufactures. In suggesting these changes he distinctly states that the principle of a protective tariff should be maintained. He favors large reductions in the internal revenue, but not the entire abolition of the internal tax system. The revenue derived from customs would hardly be sufficient for the current expenses of the Government, and the abolition of the internal revenue tax would render impossible any considerable reductions in the tariff. Our foreign relations are declared to be substantially free from any serious apprehension of danger. A brief reference is made to the refusal of Chili to conduct negotiations with Peru and Bolivia in accordance with the suggestion made by the United States, but no serious consequences resulted from that refusal. An enforcement of our suggestions could only have been made by the employment of our army and navy, and, if successful, could have no other result than the establishment of a protectorate over the two countries. This would have been contrary to the spirit of our institutions and to the wishes of the people. Chili, therefore, has been permitted without remonstrance to use her own judgment in dealing with the two nations her arms have conquered. The Peace Congress, or the conference of independent American States, which at one time was fixed for November, 1882, did not take place, for various reasons. Congress had taken no steps in the matter, and the President, in effect, withdrew the invitation which had already been extended. The Executive is willing, however, to act upon any suggestion by Congress tending to promote the settlement of controversies by peaceful means. On the question of silver coinage, the President re-states his former recommendations. He sees no reason why silver should be coined in excess of the demand for it. The vaults are full and the supply from the mints is greater than the demand from the people. He does not discuss the future of silver if the United States should stop making it into money, nor the future of business generally if gold should be made the sole measure of value. The reports of the departments are briefly referred to, and the recommendations therein contained endorsed and brought to the notice of Congress.

Secretary Folger will recommend a reduction of the internal revenue taxation of from $60,000,000 to $20,000,000 by the abolition of all internal revenue taxes, excepting the tax on distilled spirits, malt liquors, tobacco and cigars. It is proposed to make a reduction of taxes on these articles to a figure which will bring the revenue down to $95,000,000 per annum. The proposition is to lower the tax on whisky to 50 cents, and on cigars to $4 per thousand. The Secretary will also advise a revision of the tariff at the earliest possible moment, reducing the duties on such articles as can bear a reduction without interfering with the just protection of American industries. He will specify a number of articles upon which, in his judgment, the rates of duties can be safely reduced. Steel rails, sugar and woollen goods are understood to be three articles that the Secretary believes are protected to an unnecessary extent. The abolition of special taxes will also be recommended.

Arabi Pasha's case is disposed of. He has, doubtless by arrangement, pleaded guilty to the crime of rebellion, been sentenced to death, had his sentence commuted to perpetual exile, and will be banished to the Cape of Good Hope, or some other out-of-the-way place, and there will probably spend his life in comfort.

The comet is behaving very unexpectedly and rather badly. Seems to be trying to mark out a figure 8 in space, and carom on the earth in so doing. It is necessary that the astronomical world begins to pay careful attention to these cavortings.

It is proposed to designate a communication by telephone by the word "telepheme" in the same manner that a message by telegraph is styled telegram.

A list of 500 females who have been victims of malpractice, has been discovered by the police of Essex county, Massachusetts.

The corn crop of the United States is estimated this year at 1,680,000,000 bushels, and the wheat crop $500,000,000 bushels.

The North Side Rolling Mills at Chicago have shut down, throwing 1,800 to 2,000 men out of employment.

Congress met last Monday and began the work of disposing of a greater amount of unfinished business than ever before confronted the national legislature of this country. At the first session of the Forty-seventh Congress there were introduced in the House of Representatives 7,182 bills and joint resolutions, and in the Senate, at the same time, 2,283 bills and joint resolutions were presented, making a total of 9,465 measures. It is probable that at the approaching session at least 3,000 bills and resolutions will be presented, of which hardly a score will receive the approval of both Houses. Six weeks at least of the pending session will be occupied in the passage of the appropriation bills, and as an earnest attempt to reduce taxation will be made, very little outside legislation will be expected. The lobby will undoubtedly rally there in full force, and despite the fact that every moment of time should be devoted to public business, urge the passage of schemes of a private and personal character.

There is no power in Europe that spends more money in keeping up her navy than England. Since the "drum-beat of her navy is heard all round the globe," she must have effective warships to protect her foreign interests, and this she does promptly and successfully. She has at present on the stocks a couple of ships which, if completed according to design, will be entitled to the appellation of "monarchs of the seas." The first is the Bonbow, being built by the Thames Iron Company at Blackwall. She will be a twin-screw steel armor-plated barbette ship, of 10,000 tons, and is to have engines of 7,500 horse-power, working up to, under forced blast, 9,500 horse-power. She is intended to mount four 60-ton guns. The cost of the vessel, hull and engines, will amount, before she leaves the contractors' premises, to nearly £600,000—$3,000,000. The other ship, the Camperdown, was begun a short time ago at the Royal Dockyard, Portsmouth. She will be of like dimensions.

Quite a number of Presidential candidates have loomed up recently, among whom Allen G. Thurman and Grover Cleveland are prominent. An exchange disposes of considerable Presidential timber in this wise: "Judge Davis expects to spend the rest of his days, after March 4th, in peaceful Bloomington: Blaine will have none of the Presidential nonsense in his hereafter; Tilden and Seymour are thoroughly retired from politics; Conkling is devoting himself to the law assiduously; Ben Butler is satisfied to be Governor, and will not be a candidate for the Presidency; Sam Randall is ready to step down and out if Carlisle persists."

Speaking of large landed possessions, and the desirability of small farms, the Fresno Republican says: "It has been demonstrated in Fresno county that from twenty to forty acres under a high state of cultivation is an abundance of land for the maintenance of a family in comfort and even affluence. Twenty acres of land in this county properly cultivated is a royal heritage to any man who earns his bread by the sweat of his brow."

The Congressional Board of Audit, on what are called the "doctors' claims," has got through with its labors, and every one will be satisfied with its awards excepting only the parties immediately interested. Doubtless they will be displeased, especially the physicians, who, demanding as high as $25,000 and $30,000 for their services, have had their bills cut down, two of them to $5,000 and two to $4,000 each.

Major McQuiddy, of Mussel Slough notoriety, was before the United States Circuit Court on Monday, and plead not guilty to a charge of conspiracy in resisting Marshal Poole, while the latter was attempting to serve writs of ejectment upon the Mussel Slough settlers. The case was set for hearing on January 23d.

One of the very best suggestions of the country press is just now making in its free advice to people, is to plant trees. This is the planting season, and every owner of land, large or small in area, is urged by the interior press to plant trees, plant trees, and keep on planting trees.

The Standard Con. Mining Company employed the following men during the past week: Ninety-two miners, 18 carmen, 2 skipmen, 3 tramwaymen, 3 firemen, 4 laborers, 4 watchmen, 3 blacksmith helpers and 3 station-tenders at $4 per day; 3 ore-sorters and 2 woodmen at $3 50 per day; 5 carpenters, 2 blacksmiths, 7 engineers, 3 brakemen, 1 ropeman and 2 shift-bosses at $5 per day; 1 chief engineer, 1 carpenter, 1 blacksmith and one pumpman at $6 per day; 1 foreman at $250 per month and 1 clerk.—Bodie Free Press, Dec. 5.

The revised edition of the Old Testament is promised for the New Year of 1884. Rev. Dr. Schaff, who is the head of the American revisers, expresses the belief that the new revision of both the Old and New Testaments will ultimately supplant the King James edition.

At the zenith of her grandeur, Rome had 11 aqueducts, whose aggregate discharge was equivalent to a stream 20 feet wide by 6 feet deep.

The quicksilver mines of California have made an appeal to the Tariff Commission for a protection of twenty cents per pound. They urge with much force that the Eastern market, owing to the high rates of transportation from California, is entirely in the hands of their foreign competitors, and that they are discriminated against, even in the matter of duty on flasks. While the European quicksilver is imported in new flasks duty free, California producers must pay thirty-five per cent. ad valorem over and over again on the second-hand flasks returned from China. They very properly call attention to the fact that, while they must pay a high duty on many supplies and are giving high wages, their competitors are in reality the two foreign governments, Austria and Spain, which are able, by low cost of production and special advantages, to force down, and do force down, the prices to such an extent that only eight out of the thirty mines in California are now working. Those which have survived the long period of depression have during the past three years been unable to earn a fair return on the capital, after making allowance for depreciation in works and the exhaustion of the mines. There is no doubt that quicksilver is, by the present tariff permitting its entrance free of duty, placed in an anomalous position when compared with all the other metals which have for many years enjoyed ample protection.

The San Francisco Post, with a disposition to be both facetious and sarcastic, thus discourses on Thanksgiving: "'Let all our people,' says the Examiner, 'give hearty thanks to-morrow to the kind Providence that has shown us such especial favor this year.' Of course, every reader will understand what our contemporary means by the 'especial favor' that Providence has shown this year. It means that for the first time in over twenty years the Lord—or somebody else—has vouchsafed a fat turkey for the Democratic Thanksgiving table. For all these years the Democratic party has put in its time on Thanksgiving in licking its chops and snuffing the savors wafted from the Republican kitchen; but this time the tables are turned, and the party founded by Thomas Jefferson and now exemplified by Ben Butler will sit down to the feast with hearts overflowing with joy and gratitude, and appetites whetted by a fast of two decades."

MARRIED.

At Bishop Creek, Inyo County, Cal., December 4, 1882, by Rev. A. Clark, Mr. James Mitchell and Miss Jennie McDonald, both of Big Pine, Cal.

DIED.

At Bishop Creek, Inyo County, Cal., December 1, 1882, the infant daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Charles McKay.

At Independence, Inyo County, California, December, 3rd, 1882, Miss Josephine Hughes, aged eighteen years, nine months and four days.

Josie was a long, terrible, but patient sufferer from a complication of afflictions. Her disease was acute metro-peritonitis of the puerperal state, with abdominal pain and attacks of colic. The serous membrane and the lining of the cavity and viscera were involved, which was caused from cold with a high state of inflamation producing constitutional disturbance, like various other inflamations, inevitably terminating in effusion and death. She was skillfully treated by H. G. Kernodle, M. D., but all human efforts were powerless to save her.

The deceased possessed everything to make life attractive—save health. She was followed to her early grave by as large a concourse as ever assembled in our county. Numerous friends gathered round her coffin and gazed upon that which seemed more like a beautiful statue carved from the finest Parian marble, than the cold and inanimate form of one whose bright young life had gone out into the dull—sombre shadows of death. She, who was the smile and sunshine unto sunless hearts, now beams forth as a radiant jewel in the coronet of Immortality, and may the remembrance of her become as one of God's smiles, shedding peace, joy and love wherever it is cast.

INDEPENDENCE, CAL.:

THE MONTEZUMA.—Mr. S. D. Woodhull, the metallurgist in charge of the smelting works at the Montezuma mine, was here last Thursday en route to San Francisco. He goes with a commission and instructions to purchase and ship up a complete new water-jacket for the works, to replace the old one, which has proven about as bad a failure as was predicted of it by those best acquainted with the business. After completion of the works, they were started up November 25th, and run off and on up to the 3d instant, when from inherent defects in the jacket it was closed down and is to be thrown out. Twenty-five bars of bullion were produced, which assays $193 silver and $28 gold per ton. It has been clearly demonstrated that it is perfectly practicable to profitably melt the ore with something like modern appliances, which are to be put in at once.

INCORPORATED.—The Ibex Mining Company—by G. K. Dias, J. B. McClure and R. S. Rhodes—has filed in the Clerk's office its certificate of incorporation. Principal office, Chicago, Illinois; capital stock, $1,000,000, divided into $100,000 shares. There are nineteen subscribers to the stock, from 1,250 shares up to 25,000, which is held by C. A. Poage, of San Francisco; all the rest are residents of Chicago. The Company's property is situated in Saratoga District, in this county near the San Bernardino line, and about two miles from Resting Springs. It is about 175 miles by the roads and trail from this place.

SCHOOL REPORT.—Following is the report of the Round Valley school for the month ending November 24, Hattie M. Montrose, teacher: Martha Evans, 96 per cent.; Debbie Jones, 96; Janey Shipley, 95; Vinton Gunter, 94; Olive Dickinson, 94; Mary Swan, 93; Jessie Parsons, 91; Ettie Horton, 90; Nellie Gordon, 89; Birkett Sherwin, 88; Nettie Olds, 87; Kathie Sherwin, 87; Allie Gunter, 86; Maggie Evans, 79; Charley Hilton, 78; John Shipley, 76; Henry Evans, 73; Willie Birchim, 69. Attendance—Frank Shipley, 100 per cent.; Roy Shipley, 95; Eva Gunter, 85.

THE "REED MINE."—Referring to our item of a few weeks ago, there seems necessary to make some corrections of the statement then made. Mr. J. F. Hutchison says that the present owners—R. C. Chambers, W. A. Bolinger and himself—have bonded the mine for forty days to a New York company, for $300,000, reserving a one-tenth interest. Seven miners are now employed at the mine. A mining expert will shortly make a thorough examination of the property in the interest of the new company.

CHRYSOPOLIS.—Mr. A. McKellips has been doing the annual assessment work on the old gold mines at Chrysopolis, with most favorable results, in one instance at least. A new cut of 25 feet in length on the old Chase mine shows a fine two-foot ledge of gold ore, the quartz being stained with iron and black and gray copper. The property is now owned mainly by J. T. Barlie, of New York, to whom it has been deeded by the Index Company, Mr. B. is expected here shortly.

THE SURVEYORS.—The Carson and Colorado Railroad surveying party, consisting of Chief Engineer Oliver and five assistants, have set their grade stakes down past the Chrysopolis mill. The track will pass between the mill and the house, and within half a mile of the principal mines of that—the Union—District. Independence is now their nearest Postoffice, and our town will doubtless receive a visit from Mr. Oliver during the week.

AN ARISTOCRAT.—Aleck Clark has abandoned type-setting, presswork and sich and has become a bloated landholder. Out of the proceeds of long labor at the case, he has filed on a piece of land southeast of town, where he has erected a palatial mansion about ten by twelve feet out of old shakes and tin cans. He fares sumptuously every day on rabbit meat and water. Being strictly temperate, as long as the water holds out he is all right.

RAISE 'EM.—The Grand Jury report contains the succinctly expressed idea that the Board of Supervisors should "raise" sufficient means to send a county pauper back to Colorado. Whether it is to be "raised" by a common derrick, general subscription or giant powder is not intimated. Or the Board might simply order a warrant drawn upon the Hospital Fund, when the money could be easily "raised."

ST. JOHN'S DAY.—Due announcement elsewhere is given of a grand ball and supper, to be given by the P. P. P. on the evening of the 27th instant. These annual affairs are destined to become the best recognized and popular social events of the recurring years. Fix up with your wife a programme for attending it, or otherwise, make arrangements with your girl before some other fellow gets around.

MINING SALE.—A deed was placed upon the county records to-day, at request of the Secretary, A. Straus, of New York. Edward Reilly sells and transfers to the Argus Range Silver Mining Company the "Bonanza King," the "Natola" and the "Star" mines, the water rights and the mill, all situated in Sherman District, in this county. The consideration named is $500,000.

OFFICERS ELECTED.—At a meeting of P. P. P. Lodge, No. 299, December 5, the following officers were elected and duly installed for the ensuing P. P. P. 12 months: A. R. Conklin, M. E. Z.; Jas. E. Parker, Sir Knight Con.; P. A. Chalfant, Secretary; O. I. Mairs, Treasurer; G. W. Brady, 1st G. K.; H. P. Cartier, 2d G. K.; J. C. Irwin, 3d G. K.

Letter From Big Pine.

BIG PINE, December 6.

This town is quiet and can well enjoy a rest after the excitement of the past week. The preparation and competition for these races might well remind one of the Olympic days of old. By a slight stretch of imagination, even the blanketed race-horse brings before our eyes the sterner vision of the ancient iron-clad steed.

THE FIRST RACE

Was exciting and closely contested. The following entries were made: "Whackup," "Nobb" and "Bay Billie." "Nobb" came out ahead. Money changed hands—the winners satisfied, the losers consoling themselves by resolving to "get even" on

THE SECOND RACE.

This was the most interesting, as the following well-known animals were named: "Belle," by J. Ross; "Steel Dust," by Uncle Pete Laird; "Coal-burner," by John Counts. The race proved dissatisfactory, for various reasons, and the judges decided to run the race "over again" the next day. "Steel Dust" won the race easily. "Coal-burner" "flew the track" both times and then ran handsomely. Big Pine claims the victory, for, we are glad to say, "Steel Dust" is now and has been for some time owned by a Big Piner. May he find Big Pine oats agreeable, and enjoy future victories.

TERPSICHOREAN.

The dance at Wemple's hotel was a success complimentary to that gentleman's management. The only disadvantage was the want of room sufficient to accommodate the large number of dancers.

Quite a large number of our Bishop Creek neighbors were with us. Would that we could say as much for Independence.

ABOUT TOWN.

A social dance was given last evening in honor of Mr. and Mrs. Piper, of Deep Springs....We have imported from Independence a man who can cap anybody in telling "whoppers"—go-as-you-please....Steve Gregg's colt can sleep in peace and dream of happiness unmolested. Seems to be waiting for another circus. WADE.

Grand Jury Report.

INDEPENDENCE, INYO CO., CAL., December 5, 1882.

In the Superior Court of the County of Inyo, State of California.

To the Honorable Judge of the Superior Court of said County:

We, the Grand Jury, respectfully submit the following report:

There were two cases presented for our consideration and action, which were ignored.

We examined the County buildings and found them in good condition and under good management in every department.

We recommend that the Board of Supervisors build a fire-proof vault for the protection of the county records, and that book cases be extended so as to contain all the county books.

We also recommend that the Board of Supervisors raise sufficient means to send Mrs. Odis to her son in Colorado.

All of which is respectfully submitted.

A. N. BELL, Foreman.

A. K. EUGLEY, Clerk.

Bishop Creek Items.

BISHOP CREEK, December 7.

This week has been an exceedingly quiet one in our so-called "Gospel Swamp," the boys having about exhausted themselves on their trip to Big Pine.

Through the efforts of Sam Spratt and others, a purse of $150 has been raised for a horse race here on Christmas. Messrs. Burden, Van Eps, Hutchings, Blazer and Forbes constitute the committee on arrangements.

Mr. C. L. Van Eps is again in our midst, having returned from his trip to New Mexico and Arizona.

Tuesday morning W. O. Merithew and wife and F. B. Merithew departed for Los Angeles, intending to make that city their future place of residence.

Messrs. Burden & Van Eps have received another consignment of bullion from the Sacramento mine.

MAS.

NEW.—The holiday advertisement of Messrs. J. S. Rothschild & Co. will be noted this week. They have a splendid stock of ready-made dresses and garments for ladies and children, and a host of most desirable novelties. Santa Claus should look out for things useful and lasting this year.

MODOCK.—The Modock furnace at Lookout is running steadily, but we will have no reports as to the output until the run closes. Supt. Fitzgerald is again prostrated with an attack of the rheumatism, which is probably aggravated by the lead fumes with which he is surrounded.

GUARDIAN APPOINTED.—In the Superior Court, on Wednesday last, upon petition of S. D. Thurston and John Alexander, Mr. Richard Hessian, of Big Pine, was appointed guardian of little Mattie Wallace, with the consent of her mother.

A "RECOMMEND."—The report of the late Grand Jury contains the annual recommendation that the Board of Supervisors "build a fire-proof vault." This part of the Grand Jury report has been stereotyped for regular use.

COMING.—Dr. M. W. Parsons writes that he will be through Independence, Lone Pine and Darwin between the 13th and 20th of this month, when he will be prepared to attend to all matters in dentistry.

SEE the new advertisement of Wood's bazaar of holiday goods.

"JOHNNY," said the teacher, "a lie can be acted as well as told. Now, if your father was to put sand in his sugar and sell it, he would be acting a lie and doing very wrong." "That's what mother told him," said Johnny, impetuously, "and he said he didn't care."

Comstock Lying on Its Ores.

Virginia has grown to be a very lazy town. There being no inducement to enterprise in business while the mines remain unproductive, the business men lie abed late. So does everybody else. At 8 o'clock in the morning the streets are as deserted as they used to be in the old bustling times at 3 o'clock A. M.—indeed more so, for then fellows who had more money than virtue were wont to see the sun rise and greet its advent with whoops. The business of the town does not begin until about 10 o'clock in the forenoon. Before all is languid. Shop boys sweep the sidewalks as early as ever—as do also wrecks earning their morning cocktail by attention to broom and spittoon—but nobody enters the stores before the day is well advanced, and the army which used to besiege the whisky resorts for the early nip has all but disappeared. One good result of the hard times is the freezing out of the legion of dead beats and vagrants which infested the Comstock in its more prosperous days. It has for three years past been very cold weather for check guerrillas and saloon-stove huggers. The faro games have dwindled from dozens to two or three, and the outcasts who picked up a living from "sleepers" and by striking drunken winners for a "piece" have had to emigrate to Bodie, Eureka, Candelaria and Tombstone. Once one could not walk a block in the evening without being tackled by some stout ruffian, who darted out of a dark doorway, with a request for "four bits to assist me to a meal." Now beggars are very scarce. The fame of the Comstock as a "rocky layout" has gone abroad among the tramps of the land, and they steer wide of it. A strike in the mines would bring a surging torrent of hard-ups to us, as well as a multitude of better men. A bonanza, indeed, would be to the town what the transfusion of a gallon of new blood would be to a man pegging out because of general debility.—Virginia Chronicle.

Lead Poison.

Of all the metallic poisons, lead is perhaps the one most often taken into the human body. It is eliminated from the body with more difficulty than the other poisons, and excepting those which directly kill, its effects are the severest and most varied.

Lead may enter the human system through the mouth, in water from lead pipes, or from type held in the mouth by compositors. It may be taken in through the lungs by breathing in lead factories of various kinds, be absorbed by the mucuous membrane of the nose from snuff containing it. It may be taken in even through the unbroken skin from hair dyes and rouges, and through both skin and nostrils by painters.

Some persons are much more susceptible to it than are others.

Among the symptoms that show that it has been taken into the body are colic, great muscular weakness, constipation, female disorders, blindness, complete or partial, neuralgias of the head, face, joints, in the small of the back, between the ribs or in the upper or lower limbs, loss of sensibility in the skin alternating with over-sensibility, muscular spasms, and finally and more frequently, paralysis, which may affect almost all the muscles of the body. One of the most constant signs of the presence of the poison is a blue line along the gums.

As the system, left to itself, gets rid of the lead very slowly, the lead accumulates in it until what was for awhile harmless may become a fatal poison.

The treatment should aim to palliate the pains and to quicken the eliminating organs. But the fundamental thing is to invigorate and improve the general health by pure air, nutritious diet and warm baths. Cold baths injure.

There is good authority for the statement that workers in lead factories who drink milk several times a day are unaffected by the lead.

H. C. WINSLOW has had an experience which he will not be likely to forget very soon. His situation at Junction station, on the line of the Carson and Colorado Railroad, is a lonesome one, and a point to which aid cannot be readily sent. About 2 o'clock on Sunday morning a highwayman entered the building, and at the muzzle of a revolver demanded what valuables Charley had. No time was lost in delivering $80 in money, all he possessed, and the robber departed. Occurring at the time and place it did, and under circumstances very favorable for the usual manner of being "stood up," Charley could but succumb, and has had an experience in common with those who have been similarly cared for when traveling by stage coach.—Candelaria True Fissure.

"ALL our party wants," says a Republican organ, "is unity of purpose and harmony of action." Which recalls a small story pertaining to the late Senator Wade. Some years ago he paid a semi-official visit to the wilds of Western Kansas, and was asked by one of the inhabitants what he thought of the country. "It seems to be a pretty nice sort of a country— of its kind," was the reply. "Yes," said the inhabitant, "it is a mighty fine country; all we want here is water and good society." "Well," said bluff and burly Benjamin, "for that matter, my friend, that is all hell wants."

FRESNO county is fast gaining the reputation that Kern had a few years ago. At the time that Kern county had such a reputation, murders were of frequent occurrence, and the papers of different portions of the State seemed to take a delight in speaking of "bloody Kern," "the battle ground," etc., but we are glad that the spell has been broken and that the plague is moving down the valley. It struck Tulare after leaving here, and then went to Fresno. Murders there are of frequent occurrence, and we regret to witness Fresno's troubles, but we are glad to see that the disease is moving from us all the time.—Kern Co. Gazette.

THE closing down of the south-end mines is the subject of discussion by all classes of our citizens. It is a very severe blow to the camp and business will be dull here during the coming Winter. But matters may come around all right, and there is good reason for hoping that they will. It will not do to get panic-stricken. A dispatch says that an assessment of two dollars per share has been levied on the Red Cloud and one dollar per share on the Noonday and North Noonday. This has been done to wipe out the existing indebtedness on these three companies.—Bodie Free Press.

Fruit Tree Culture.

1. Instead of "trimming up" trees according to the old fashion, to make them long-legged and long-armed, trim them down, so as to make them even, snug and symmetrical.

2. Instead of manuring heavily in a small circle at the foot of the tree, spread the manure, if needed at all, broadcast over the whole surface, especially where the ends of the roots can get it.

3. Instead of spading a small circle about the stem, cultivate the whole surface broadcast.

4. Prefer a well-pulverized, clean surface in an orchard, with a moderately rich soil, to heavy manuring and a surface covered with a hard crust and weeds and grass.

5. Remember that it is better to set out ten trees with all the necessary care to make them live and flourish, than to set out a hundred trees and have them all die from carelessness.

6. Remember that tobacco is a poison, and will kill insects rapidly if properly applied to them, and is one of the best drugs for freeing fruit trees rapidly of small vermin.

How Cable Messages Are Received.

Until the fore part of November the French cable, having its terminus at North Eastham, Mass., employed the flash system of signaling. Now the cable is worked duplex on the Sterns system, using an automatic recorder by which the messages are received in ink on a narrow strip of paper.

By the system which has been displaced the messages were spelled out by flashing a ray of light back and forth across a standard line, the right and left flashes corresponding with the dots and dashes of the ordinary telegraphic alphabet.

In this system the light is flashed by reflection from an extremely light mirror which is turned from right to left by the opposing influences of positive and negative impulses. This system has the advantage of being operated with very slight electric impulses, but also the disadvantage of leaving no permanent record.

To secure the latter very important end the recording instrument has been adopted. The press dispatch announcing the change states that in the new recorder the ink is discharged by the agency of electricity and "not by capillary attraction as in other cable recorders." This statement is incorrect, electricity being now similarly employed in the recording instruments used at Heart's Content, the Newfoundland station of the Anglo-American Company's cables.

A recent visitor to Heart's Content describes as follows the method of receiving messages at that point: The recorder is a horseshoe magnet, electrified by the usual circles of fine wire, and attracting a small metallic coil. The coil is hung between the magnetic poles, and by a light lever and a thread almost as fine as the strand of a cobweb, is connected with a delicate siphon hung in a little reservoir of ink. The ink is electrified, so as to produce a repulsion of the particles, making it flow more readily through the siphon, which outside is about the size of a darning needle, and the interior tube scarcely larger than a hair. The lower end of the siphon rests against a paper tape playing perpendicularly through rollers. The whole machine is almost of gossamer fineness and flexibility, so as to minimize the electric strain necessary for working the cable.

Let us imagine now that a coming message has been signaled from far across the ocean at Valentia. The operator at first opens the simple machinery that works the brass rollers. On the center of the tape, as it passes between the rollers, the siphon at first marks only a straight line. Suddenly the line swerves to the right or left. The message has started, and the end of the siphon has begun its record. Worked by two keys, and positively or negatively electrified, the coil swings the siphon point now to one side, now to the other, along the tape. Responsive to the trained hand of the operator, the filament of ink marks out one notch, two notches, three notches; then suddenly it may be a high elevation or depression until the delicate line traced on the tape looks like the tiny outline of a mountain range. But it is a range whose every hilltop, peak and valley means an alphabetical symbol to the telegrapher's eye. The recorder is the invention of the famous electrician Sir William Thomson. How delicate an interpreter it is may be inferred from the fact that ten jars work 1,800 miles of cable between Valentia and Heart's Content, while twenty-five jars of the same electric power would be needed to work 350 miles of land wire; in other words, the recorder is more than twelve times as efficient for its purpose as the ordinary Morse instrument. The recorder traces its characters on the tape about as fast as a slow penman copies a letter. Besides its delicacy of work, the recorder, as its name imports, has the merit of leaving the record of the message.—Scientific American.

THE year's embezzlements and robberies in Russia, private and official, amount to 26,000,000 roubles.

Tapping a Subterranean Heat.

Several schemes have been proposed for utilizing the internal heat of the earth; and seeing that as we descend the temperature increases at the rate of about one degree Fahr. for every 60 feet or thereabout (this rate varies greatly at different places), the possibility of doing so is evident enough. The practical question is, whether it is cheaper to bring this into our houses from under our feet, or obtain our supply by disinterring and liberating the fossil sunbeams entombed in deposits of coal. What I have read, remarks a writer in an exchange, concerning these projects, leads me to the conclusion that the cost of sinking deep enough to boil water, and then to convey the steam, or otherwise the directly heated air, to our houses will cost far more than the same amount of heat from coal; but as our thickest, best and most accessible coal seams proceed further towards exhaustion, and coal becomes constantly much dearer, the case may be different. The Americans generally take the lead in these very tall and extremely novel schemes, but in this particular effort they are likely to be forestalled by the Japanese, who are seriously contemplating the availability of the hot springs around Tokio as a source of heat and power, and also of using the heat obtainable by sinking. The subject was introduced at a meeting of the Seismological Society of Japan—a society which in its own department (earthquake study) is doing good scientific service. Mr. Milne, who read the paper, proposes to convert some of the heat into an electric current, and transmit the energy to the town. This, in a region where the hot springs and earthquake disturbances indicate a much more rapid increase of heat than that above named, is of course more likely to be within practical reach. Besides this, the tapping of subterranean heat in districts liable to earthquakes will probably have some slight effect in moderating those convulsions.

Timber for Railroad Uses.

The moisture of the soils in the South, says an Eastern exchange, is very destructive to woods employed as the bed for railway track, and managers have been troubled to know what is the most economical method for obviating loss resulting from this cause. Creosoting has been resorted to. Several works with large capital have been established in St. Louis for the treatment of wood by the creosote process, and in Texas the treatment has been applied along the lines as construction was pushed forward. This method, however, is considered rather too expensive. Some railway men have concluded that the ailantus and catalpa will prove to be the cheapest and most durable wood for tie and bridge timbers. One company, whose road extends chiefly over prairie lands, is having a large plantation seeded for these trees in equal proportions. Both the catalpa and ailantus are readily propagated from the seed, and bear seed pods abundantly. Another company, whose road enters Texas, is arranging to plant several hundred acres of these trees in that State. Even the Iron Mountain Company, that probably owns more heavily-timbered land than any other in the country, has contracted for the cultivation of a catalpa farm near one of its stations in Missouri. On this road are catalpa ties that were laid nearly fifteen years ago and are apparently as sound as ever. It is authenticated that in Southern Ohio, where one species of catalpa is indigenous, there are posts and timbers of this wood that have been in the ground a full century and yet show no signs of decay. Although the ailantus is an importation from China, still it and the catalpa seem to find in soils of Missouri, Arkansas and Texas just what they require to thrive upon.

NOVEL BLASTING MATERIAL.—The following is from the Virginia (Nev.) Enterprise, and no doubt "Dan De Quille," of that paper, has a patent on it: "It is well known that in many of the coal mines coal is now being broken down by means of the expansive force exerted when quicklime is firmly tamped into the drill holes. Having heard of the success of this experiment, a German brewer of this city is anxious to make an experiment in some one of the Comstock mines. He says he will prepare a yeast which, being securely confined in a drill hole, will rend apart the hardest rock. He says the mines of the Comstock afford peculiar advantages for the use of his explosive. Owing to the heat of the rock, fermentation will begin the moment the charge is tamped and will soon become so active and fierce that nothing can resist it. He has already blown up a dozen or more strongly-hooped beer kegs, has blown one end out of his brewery, has been severely wounded in the leg by a flying splinter, and has not yet used his explosive in half as strong a form as he can make it by putting in a few more hops."

"PRESENT evidence," says Professor Owen, "concurs in concluding that the modes of life and grades of thought of the men who have left evidences of their existence at the earliest periods, hitherto discovered and determined, were such as are now observable in 'savages,' or the human races which are commonly so-called."

THE internal revenue collections in California District during the fiscal year ending June 30, 1882, were: First District, Chancellor Hartson, Collector, $3,814,692; Second District, Amos L. Frost, Collector, $3,122,840.

TO THE reckless custom of climbing on and off cars while in motion, so common in Chicago, is due most of the accidents which have occurred on the cable roads.

WHEN TO STOP ADVERTISING.

When every man has become so thoroughly a creature of habit that he will certainly buy this year where he bought last year. When younger, fresher and spunkier concerns in your line cease starting up and using the newspapers in telling the people how much better they can do for them than you can. When nobody else thinks it pays to advertise. When population ceases to multiply, and the generations that crowd on after you stop coming on. When you have convinced everybody whose life will touch yours that you have better goods and lower prices than they can ever get any place outside of your store. When you perceive it to be a rule that men who never do and never did advertise are outstripping their neighbors in the same line of business. When men stop making fortunes right in your sight solely by a discreet use of this mighty agent. When you can forget the words of the shrewdest and most successful business men concerning the main cause of their prosperity. When you would rather have your own way and fail than take advice and win.

THE new law making it a penal offense to keep places of business open on Sunday in New York went into effect on the 3d instant. Quite a lengthy report has been made of its workings, all of which goes to show that it is as non-effective as it has proved in California. Many arrests were made, but neither liquor selling nor drunkenness appeared to decrease to any extent. Cigar stores were generally closed, and many proprietors hung out placards ridiculing the new law. Much of their business went to the drug stores. The business of barbers was limited to the hotels, where customers uniformly claimed that they were guests. Eighteen out of nineteen drivers sent out by the Adams Express Company during the morning were arrested. The law has been enforced in such a way as to make it odious, with a view of securing its early repeal. About 500 arrests were made on charges of desecrating the Sabbath. Comparatively few liquor dealers were secured. After witnessing the operations of this Sunday law nearly all the papers of New York ridicule it.

THERE were some ludicrous performances in New York tast Sunday by persons wishing to avoid arrest. The newsdealers posted up a sign announcing the loan of Sunday papers, and regular customers borrowed them, for which they paid the dealer next day, perhaps. One gentleman, anxious to enjoy a drive without rendering himself liable to the new code, borrowed a medicine chest, so that if interfered with he might say that he was a physician on his way to visit a patient.

THE beef boom continues to boom on this Coast as well as in the East. The San Francisco papers state that within the past week choice cuts have retailed at from 20 to 25 cents per pound. The price of beef need not cause much discomfort to any class of citizens, however. The rich may indulge it and the poor can get along without it. Possibly with the improvement of the pasturage there may come a fall in the price of beef, however, before the end of Winter.

THE Call's biographer has found that ex-Governor Fenton of New York, Governor-elect George Stoneman of this State, Hon. Morris M. Estee, late Republican candidate for Governor, and Hon. John Bidwell, nominated for Governor in 1875, were all born within ten miles of each other and in an agricultural community of sparse population. They were all farmers' boys.

JUST now free trade and protection are themes for extended discussion. The Washington Post evolves the following on the subject: "Theoretically almost every educated gentleman is a free trader. Practically almost every theoretical free trader is, to a greater or less extent, a protectionist."

THE spirit of reform seems to have broken out with great virulence among the members of the present Congress, if we accept the expressions of determination to do better. Both parties are now on their good behavior—one desiring to hold to the advantage gained, and the other to retain its lost ground.

A CONVICT in the Nevada Penitentiary says he was sent there for being dishonest, and yet he is compelled every day to cut out pieces of pasteboard, which are put between the soles of the cheap shoes made there, and palmed off on the innocent public for leather.

THE Republican National Committee is called to meet in Washington, December 17th, to consider the plan of call for the next National Convention.

PROPOSED REDUCTION OF POSTAGE.

It is to be hoped that Congress will adopt the recommendations of the President and Postmaster General as to the reduction of domestic postage. As a mere matter of business there seems to be no doubt as to its advisability. By placing the domestic postage at two cents, it is certain that the revenues of the Postal Department would be very largely increased after the first few months. There might be a slight falling off at first, but it would be more than made up in the second year, and it would pay well. It is, no doubt, also true that this measure would tend to induce people to employ letters in the place of postal cards, which after all are too much exposed for anything but the most common and matter-of-fact correspondence. A two-cent postage rate, moreover, is quite high enough for the people to pay, and seeing that the department is presumably run for their benefit, it may be worth while to make their interests paramount once in awhile.

MONS. TOUSSAINT has shown experimentally the serious danger of eating meat nearly raw, as is now so generally done. If the meat is unsound, the germs of disease must pass into the system unless they are destroyed by heat before the meat is eaten. The most frequent and dangerous malady with which animals slaughtered for food are affected is consumption, and even if the animal is only slightly diseased the persons eating the uncooked meat are liable to infection. The raw juice pressed from a slightly affected cow's lung was used to inoculate healthy rabbits and young pigs, and all the subjects died in a short time from the disease. The experiment was repeated with a portion of the juice which had been partially cooked, and the result was the same. Thorough cooking of meat to be used for food is recommended as a precaution unsafe to neglect, as only this ensures the entire destruction of the disease germs.

NEWS was received at Albuquerque, N. M., on the 7th instant, of a terrible massacre of a party of Americans and Mexicans by Ju, of Casa Grande, in Chihuahua. The Indians have been very active of late in predatory excursions, stealing and raiding, and the settlers formed a party of about twenty men and started in pursuit. They were surprised near Casa Grande by Ju and his band, numbering 200, and completely surrounded. One of the party escaped through the lines and went to the settlement for aid, soon returning with a band of thirty men. The Indians, however, held the succoring party at bay, and meanwhile massacred the entire party which had been surprised, and then retreated to the mountains.

IT is quite probable that a couple of new States may be admitted, perhaps three. Wbshington, Dakota and New Mexico will make very vigorous efforts for admission. Already favorable reports have been made upon Washington and Dakota. Their admission would give the Republicans increased strength in the Senate, where the majority is so small as to be quite a serious matter. Representative men from New Mexico are urging the admission of that Territory, but as its politics are a little uncertain it will not probably be successful in its efforts.

THERE are in San Francisco four private residences, worth together more than $3,000,000. They belong severally to ex-Governor Stanford, Charles Crocker, Mrs. Mark Hopkins and Mr. Clinton, who represent about $130,000,000 of wealth. These magnificent structures stand unoccupied about ten months of each year.

THE news reflected in the State press shows that scarcely any place in the central, northern and coast regions of this State is free from severe forms of fever, mainly of typhoid character. This is not the case so far as Inyo County is concerned, and we doubt if there is a more salubrious and health-giving climate on the globe than that of this valley.

FRIDAY, the 8th instant, as a day for hanging was a success. No less than five men "stepped down and out"—a Chinaman in this State, two negroes in Georgia, another in South Carolina, and a white man in Louisiana.

STONEMAN'S majority over Estee is 23,474 with Plumas and Modoc counties unreported. The total vote cast was equal to that for President in 1880.

A SOLID piece of gold weighing 152 ounces was found in a placer claim in Del Norte county last week.

THE late fire in London destroyed property to the amount of $15,000,000.

THE whole State of Chihuahua, Mexico, is in arms against the Apaches.

THE issue of standard silver dollars from the San Francisco Mint for the week ending December 2, was 802,000, against 536,500 for the corresponding period last year.

Dispelling Illusions.

In the Toledo Blade, that well-known humorist, D. R. Locke, writes with becoming gravity on the above topic, in its application to a very common experience in our fast American life: What Western man is there who, after a stay in the New West of ten or a dozen years, did not go back to his old home in Massachusetts or New York with great anticipations of pleasure? He dreamed of it for months before starting, and he made careful preparations to make the stay at "the old place" a long one. He called to mind the Jims and Toms and Susies and Marys of his boyhood, and thought how delightful it would be to meet them. He remembered Sloan's pond, where he fished when a boy, the mill on the creek from the pond of which he had pulled so many bull-heads, the hill which every Winter of his boyhood had been his resort with his sled, the old red schoolhouse, every orchard and watermelon patch he had robbed came freshly before him. His blood coursed quicker as the train moved into the station (it was a stage-coach in his day), and he was in the seventh heaven of expected pleasure by the time he had got to his mother's house.

Disappointment of a most sickening kind followed. One Jim was in Wisconsin, another was lying in the graveyard. The village itself had changed so that he could not recognize it. The old Eagle Tavern was gone, and in its place was the Union Hotel. Peck's store, with the village doctor and Justice of the Peace sitting in front, was not there, but in its stead a huge block of brick buildings. The railroad had given the village a start, and it was about the same as the one he had left in the West. The woods had all been cut off the hills and Sloan's pond in consequence had dried up, the mill had been torn down long ago, and the very river had shrunk. Possibly it was as large as ever, but men's eyes were different from boys' eyes. Round hill wasn't exactly the shape of a sugar loaf, as he had always had it in his mind, and the laughing, romping, red-cheeked Susies and Marys of his boyhood he found staid, sober, worn matrons, with other Susies and Marys to care for. And when Tom came to him he found him not a rosy-cheeked boy with his trowsers hanging by one suspender, but a tall, bearded man, who had but a minute to give him. Jim, the most promising boy in the village school, and the prize scholar in the Sabbath school, who was intended for the ministry, he found a blear-eyed loafer, hanging about the gin mills (in his day root beer was the only beverage sold in the village), and Sam, the stupidest boy in school, was the principal lawyer in the county and was being talked of for Congress.

And to add to his trouble, the dishes cooked by his mother, of which he had been so fond when a boy, tasted entirely different, and so he told the good old lady, and she replied, with a sigh: "I cook it just as I used to, but you must remember there is a difference between a boy of 14, who can relish anything, and a man of 30. You have changed—not I."

And so instead of making a long stay, he found the place unendurable, and packed his valise and went home at the end of the third day."

THE Government engineers engaged upon the ship canal around the rapids where the Columbia river cuts through the Cascade Mountains, and the engineers of the Oregon Railway and Navigation Company, whose railroad runs beside the Government canal, have discovered that a point of the mountains, a tremendous height and three miles in extent, is moving down an incline into the river. The fact of a moving mountain is strange, but not incomprehensible. One-half of Bodie Bluff is slowly moving toward the east. There is a crevice now a foot in width extending across the middle of the mountain. This work of Nature has thrown the Standard Con. shaft out of plumb and the work of "sliding" is still in progress.—Bodie Free Press.

THE reduction of the public debt for November was $5,534,142.

INYO INDEPENDENT.

FROM BENTON.—From "Dick" McNaughton, just down from Benton, we get the following news items: Superintendents Yerington and Laws, of the Carson and Colorado Railroad, paid that place a visit a few days ago. They promise to run passenger trains to the station near Benton by the first of January next; Mr. McNaughton thinks, however, that that event will not occur before February 1st. His stages still run through to the Junction. The Indian Queen is only working a small force on the new 1,500-foot tunnel, of which about 800 feet is completed. Joe McDermott's new mill at Clover Patch is working well and running on rich ore. Ore from the Wild Rose mine is being delivered at the Diana mill, in Benton.

STAGE MEN.—S. L. McNaughton, of the Northern Line, came down from the upper country last Thursday. He reports himself entirely recovered from his wound. He says, further, that travel is good on the line now and he expects it to be better soon. Phil. Keough passed through town, also, and went to Darwin on Friday, where he expects to let a contract with the Kern & Inyo Company for carrying the Darwin and Panamint mail. Mr. W. T. Field was in town about the first of the week. His family arrived at Lone Pine yesterday.

THE KEYNOT.—Supt. McEvoy was in from Beveridge during the week. The Keynot owners had made a clean-up of their ores worked in the mill on the last run, but we could get no particulars as to the amount of gold yielded. The mill will reduce a lot of ore from the Lapwing mine, and then resume work on the Keynot output. It is rumored that Mr. Lasky and others of Lone Pine are about putting up a mill in the cañon just below the Keynot, for working its ores.

CHRISTMAS TREE.—A committee of ladies are making the preliminary arrangements for a grand gathering of the little folks at the Court House on Christmas Eve. A goodly tree will be provided, and old Santa Claus is expected to be around in propria personâ. Our business men and everybody generally should take an interest in the matter, and doubtless all will be called upon and interviewed on the subject.

SCHOOL MONEY.—The following apportionment of school money was made by County Sup't Symmes last Monday: Bishop Creek, $91 96; Irving, $45 97; Big Pine, $45 98; Darwin, $45 98; Independence, $45 97; Milton, $45 97; Round Valley, $45 97; Union, $45 98; Lone Pine, $91 94; total, $505 72.

NOTE.—In sending orders for advertising or job work to this office, parties unknown should do the business through the local agents of the concern. This will always insure prompt attention to the work, and give the printer some assurance of the reliability of the party ordering.

THE BALL.—The coming social event is the grand ball and supper now being arranged for by the P. P. P. As it does not conflict as to time with any other Christmas or New Year arrangements in other parts of the valley, everybody and his wife will be there.

THE WEATHER.—The Winter, so far as it has passed, has been unusually dry, warm and clear. Unless there is an early change in the weather clerk's programme, water for irrigating will be mostly remarkable on account of its "scaceness" next season.

THE DATE.—Taxes will become delinquent one week from next Monday, after which time five per cent. will be added. A great number of subscriptions to THE INYO INDEPENDENT are delinquent now.

SICK.—County Clerk Crough is reported on the sick list, having had a serious seige with the rheumatism. He is getting about again now, and in the meanwhile Tom slings the pen and ink in the office.

F. & A. M.—A stated meeting of Inyo Lodge, No. 221, F. & A. M., will be held at the Masonic Hall next Saturday evening, at which the annual election of officers will take place.

AT BISHOP.—John Wheeler, the well-known mining operator, is at Bishop Creek intent on purchasing the Sacramento mine. George Storey, of the Poleta, is also there.

AT WORK.—W. L. Fuller, with a small force, is doing the assessment work on some of the principal Waucoba mines, for Bierstadt and other owners in New York.

HYMENIAL.—Rumor hath it that a couple of weddings have been agreed on by the parties most interested, to come off during the holidays.

GEOLOGICAL investigations made by Baron Von Richtofen in China show the existence of vast coal districts in the west and northwest. The whole surface of Northern China is covered by rich yellow earth to a depth of 1,000 and 2,000 feet, which overlies all the coal fields; and the great plain of China is bordered on the west by a vast limestone wall, 2,000 to 3,000 feet high, on the top of which extends a plateau of coal, in a superior state of preservation, owing to its capping of hard limestone, which has resisted denudation. There are here 30,000 square miles of coal-bearing ground of the best quality, in which the coal beds lie perfectly horizontal, 30 feet thick, for a length of 200 miles. According to this authority, these coal beds were deposited primarily around mountains of metamorphic and primary rocks, which then constituted the land, and have lain horizontally and undisturbed ever since.

ITEMS FROM NORTHERN INYO.

BISHOP CREEK, Dec. 11.

EDITOR INDEPENDENT: Returning here after an absence of some six months, the writer finds a material and noticeable change in the appearance of things generally; and as the whole attention of the people of the county, and more especially that of your readers, seems to be directed towards this place, I will give the result of my observations during the past eight or ten days:

Mining matters are on an ascending scale. The near approach of the railroad is already effecting a rapid change, and an excitement is slowly rising that is wide-spread and bids fair to become permanent.

The Sacramento mine and the various mines adjacent are now claiming the most attention. There are parties—one of whom arrived on to-day's stage—now negotiating for its purchase. That it will be sold in a few days is beyond doubt.

This has had a tendency to cause the prospectors throughout Pinte and Bishop Creek Districts to rush their annual work upon various other good properties. Hence, upon the streets we hear renewed the well-known cry of "Feet!" Again visions of wealth loom up before the miner and prospector, and again are they happy. Among them can be found men of almost all countries, and as they have come with the intention to "stay with it," at least until the railroad arrives and thereby reduces expenses, they will succeed. So numerous are the mines, there is scarcely a man who makes the attempt to explore the White Mountain range, but that secures one or more favorable-looking claims.

The Poleta mine is still in charge of Mr. Ford, and it is predicted by those who claim to know, that a mill will be erected and work resumed on the mine within the next six months.

Thus three properties will be brought forward nearly at the same time, viz: Sacramento, Poleta and Reed mines. Who will then say that the railroad is not of benefit to all? It would be useless to designate all the promising-looking mines, both developed and undeveloped, that lay along this mineral belt for a distance of over twenty miles. There are scores of them, and the average assays of all would far exceed $50 per ton, a figure that will in a few months rate as exceedingly profitable ore. The prospect is, indeed, a bright one, not only for the miner, but for the farmer, the merchant and tradesman, and for all classes.

Although the early frost destroyed almost the entire corn crop, the farmers have done comparatively well. There is a lively demand for barley and oats, and ranchers will be able to dispose of their entire crop before a new one comes on; the same can be said of the hay crop. The Railroad Company consumes forty tons per month, and the demand for grain for the southern portion of the county is already felt. The prices, however, are from one-fourth to one-half cent lower than formerly. The farmers are busily engaged in repairing and enlarging their ditches, and a new ditch is being taken out of the river, to run down the east side. This means an additional amount of land of large area to be added to the cultivated portions of the valley.

The cattle disease, which is said to be the "blackleg," is at present working a great injury, although scarcely a thousand head have, up to the present time, been lost. This number even is a serious loss to the valley, as the stock of horned cattle was none too great throughout the valley. The disease first broke out near to and south of Bishop Creek, and has worked north as far as Fish Slough. It does not appear to have entered Round Valley, and probably will not, if proper precautions are taken. Mr. Frank Shaw is the heaviest loser, and the disease is fast thinning out his herd.

Work horses are in demand for the lower country, and large numbers have been sent away and others going.

Two purses have been made up for horse races at Bishop Creek on the 25th and 26th instants—the first purse $100, the second $50, with ten per cent. entrance fee, to be added to the purse. "Conburner," "Steel Dust" and "Belle" are spoken of for the first race, and "Nobb" and "Blazer" for the second. A dance will be given, and all will be made happy.

All the schools at Bishop, Avena and Round Valley are now running, with good attendance. The Bishop Creek school has 90 scholars, with Dr. Howell as Principal, and Geo. Willis, assistant. The Avena school has 50 scholars, with a Miss Baker, of San Francisco, as teacher. TRANSIENT.

THE Eureka Sentinel tells this sad story: A botanical and geological curiosity exists on the 550-foot level of the Phœnix mine. A miner informs us that among a pile of loose rocks on that level a beautiful flower has sprung into existence, which is now some four inches high and in full bloom. The peculiarity of this singular visitor, which appears to greet the miners on their passage to and from work with a perfumed smile, is, that four tiny stems support it, which come together directly under the flower, which is of a grayish blue and in the shape of a buttercup. It has been fresh and vigorous for a week past, and from appearances will soon have some others to keep it company, as several green blades are peeping up through the crevices.

THERE is considerable bustle and confusion in an around the stage office these mornings. A great many people are going away. Some are taking a permanent leave of Bodie, while others are going to be absent only during the holidays. It is quite noticeable that the trunks to be shipped are of unusual size. In the early excitement of this camp a majority of the people coming here had no trunks at all. They were not troubled with a wealth of clothing or an abundance of coin. If it is an indication of wealth to own a big trunk, then there are a great many wealthy people in Bodie.—Free Press.

THE Czar of Russia has assumed the title of Lord of Turkestan.

LIQUOR LAWS in Germany are very stringent. Permission to retail liquors or to open beer and wine houses are only granted when the proper officials are convinced of the necessity and usefulness of such business. The petitioner must show a good character, and if the intended place of business is so located and arranged as not to comply with police regulations, permission is refused. The place where the retail business is located must be within easy supervision of the police. The main entrance must lead directly to the place of business, and not through rooms or chambers which are not appropriate. Wine, beer or liquor stores must not be located in the immediate neighborhood of a school, church or cemetery. All such places must be closed on or before midnight, and whoever remains in a wine or beer saloon after the prescribed hour of closing is liable to a fine of five thalers, and the landlord may be fined twenty thalers, or imprisoned fourteen days. The regulation, however, is not stringently enfored, for the reason that the policeman on the beat is generally satisfied when the doors and shutters are closed and all noises refrained from. It is the business of the police to warn saloonkeepers against selling liquors to a person designated as a drunkard, or to even permit such individuals to remain in the saloon, and a failure to comply with the warning makes the offender liable to a fine of from two to five thalers, and on repetition the license is withdrawn. The number of saloons in any town or village is regulated by the burgomaster or magistrate, and no city official, turnpike-keeper, railroad official, railroad employe in any capacity, proprietors of factories, mechanics or master workmen, clerks or any other persons connected with factories, are permitted to engage in the saloon business. No retail store of the above description is permitted within one mile of a factory.

WHEN an editor makes a mistake in his paper, all the world sees it, and calls him a liar. When a private citizen makes a mistake, nobody knows it except a few friends, and they come around and ask the editor to keep it out of the paper. When the private citizen dies, the editor is asked to write of all his good qualities and leave out the bad. When the editor dies the private citizen says: "Now that old liar will get his deserts."

How to Melt Babbitt Metal.

L. Y. Lyne, in American Machinist, says: "I wish to say a few words in reference to the treatment of babbitt and other similar anti-friction metals. Workmen who are accustomed to mixing or treating metals while in liquid state will generally melt such metal upon a blacksmith's forge by applying heat so rapidly that the ladle will become red hot before the metal within begins to melt. When it has melted a dross rises to the surface and is skimmed off by the workman and thrown away. The skimming process is kept up as long as the ladle is kept on the fire. Now such a course is all wrong, because, by applying heat too suddenly, the metals which fuse at lower degrees sweat out and are burned before those which melt at higher temperatures become fluid. The dross, as it is commonly called, which rises to the surface is in many cases the antimony or hardening property of the alloy and should not be thrown away. The surface of the metal should be kept covered with fine charcoal, which will prevent oxidation. A small lump of sal-ammoniac should also be kept on the surface of the metal. The metal should always be stirred before pouring, otherwise the heaviest metals will separate and sink to the bottom of the ladle, and a constant varying quality of the metal will be the result. By melting the metal slowly and keeping it properly fluxed as described, it will run sharp, each casting will be uniform throughout and the metal be of equal hardness. In observing these simple precautions, much of the dissatisfaction now experienced in using babbitt and other anti-friction metals will disappear, and the metal not be condemned because it simply obeys the laws of Nature and separates when improperly treated."

The Utilization of Smoke.

A company at Elk Rapids, Mich., which manufactures fifty tons of charcoal iron a day, formerly allowed the smoke made in burning the coal to go to waste. Now the smoke as it is formed is delivered into stills charged with lime and surrounded by cold water, the result of the condensation being, first, acetate of lime; second, alcohol; third, tar; the fourth part produces gas, which is consumed under the boilers. A thousand cords of wood are converted into charcoal daily, yielding 2,800,000 cubic feet of smoke, from which are obtained 12,000 pounds of acetate of lime, 200 gallons of alcohol, and 25 pounds of tar. The alcohol has been contracted to a firm in Buffalo, New York, for five years, they furnishing the packages and receiving it at the works at 80 cents per gallon.

The gases usually wasted when iron is produced with stone coal or coke are now, in some European establishments, made to give up the tar, ammonia, etc., which they contain. This is effected at the Gartsherrie works without disturbing the smelting process and without materially lessening the value of the gases for heating boilers and similar work. A similar process has lately been introduced in the coke trade of South Durham, and at some of the coking collieries of France, the waste gases are being used in the production of commercial ammonia.

A CURIOUS project in the way of scientific recreation, by M. Joyeux, is published in La Nature: Suppose a large circular wooden chamber, lit from above, but giving no view of the outer objects from within, and rotated smoothly and rapidly on a vertical axis. A person standing in it would have to bend his body toward the center, by reason of centrifugal force, and the more so the further he might be from the center and the higher the speed. M. Joyeux supposes he would be subject to the illusion that the floor was inclined upward from his position to the center; if he had to place himself at an angle of 45 deg. the floor would seem inclined at this angle, and a person standing in the corresponding place on the opposite side would seem horizontal, for he, too, would have to make an angle of 45 deg. Only at the center would the floor seem horizontal; and if a number of persons were in the chamber, it is only there one would see them in their real positions. A person walking round the circumference would seem to be at the outside of the base of a code which turned under him. To facilitate the position of persons, M. Joyeux would make the floor not horizontal but inclining upward at a certain distance from the center. M. Tissondier does not feel certain that the illusions described would actually occur, but regards the scheme as an attractive curiosity. The apparatus is named a plagioscope.

THE Sultan of Turkey is in great terror of assassination, and hardly dares show himself outside his harem.

APPLICATION FOR A PATENT

....TO THE....

MARIPOSA QUARTZ MINE.

Notice No. 232.
U. S. Survey No. 1952.
Lots "37," "37 A" and "37 B."

UNITED STATES LAND OFFICE, Bodie, Cal., November 13, 1882.

NOTICE IS HEREBY GIVEN THAT J. B. Haggin, a resident of San Francisco, Cal., through A. W. Eibeshutz his attorney in fact, whose Postoffice address is Independence, Inyo County, Cal., has this day filed his application for a patent for Fifteen Hundred linear feet of the Mariposa quartz mine or vein bearing gold and silver, with surface ground Six Hundred feet in width, together with J. B. Haggin mill sites, all of which are situated in Coso Mining District, Inyo County, State of California, and designated by the field notes and official plat on file in this office and posted on the said mining claim and mill sites, to-wit:

Lot 37,

Mariposa quartz mine, commencing at a stone monument in center of the location, whence bears an old incline shaft, S 57½° E 30 links distant; thence run along the supposed lode line S 54° E 2 chains, descend and enter ravine 3.09 chains, along and down ravine pass an old shaft 15 links to left 3.75 chains; leave ravine 6 chains, cross Coso wagon road 10.50 chains, cross ravine course south 730 feet or 11.06 chains; ascend to post 4x4x4 set in stone mound marked "M. No. 1" for south center lode line, U. S. Mineral Monument No. 16; bears S 47° 49′ 12″ E 37.89 chains distant, calculated from traverse; returning to stone monument in center of claim and run N 54° 2.50 chains, cross ravine, course SE 5.10 chains, pass 15 links to left of incline 6.50 chains, pass 10 links to left of incline 7 chains, pass 12 links to left of incline 7.50 chains, to dump of main incline 8 chains, to center of main incline 8.30 chains; pass 10 links to right of blacksmith shop 770 feet or 11 67 chains to north center post 4x4x4 in stone mound marked "M. No. 2." Thence

EXTERIOR BOUNDARY.

Commencing at post "M. No. 2," the north center lode line post, and run

1st course—North 36° east 300 feet or 4 54½ chains level to post 4x4x4 set in stone mound marked "M. No. 3." Thence

2d course—South 54° east 11 chains gradual descent, cross Coso road, 19 chains, cross road, 1500 feet or 22.73 chains to post 4x4x4 set in stone mound marked "M. No. 4." Thence Shook Him for 'Em.

"We have had a sweeping victory," said a slow-movement man to the bartender; "Democrats have carried everything."

"Yes, sir."

"But what is it to me?"

"I don't know."

"You don't know? An American citizen, with bottles all around him, don't know. Don't you know, sir, that I want to drink to the success of the Democratic party——"

"But I am a Republican."

"And hope that the Republicans will do better next time?"

"But I don't hope that they'll do better. I've fallen out with the party."

"Got no political enthusiasm?"

"No."

"No chance to get a drink here?"

"None that I can see."

"I was merely jesting, my friend. Have a drink with me."

The saloon man complied.

"Here, give me twenty-five cents."

"The slow-movement man began to quietly withdraw, when the bartender seized him and shook him until his teeth chattered. When he went out he was asked by his companion, who had gone to "skirmish" at another place, if he was successful.

"Oh, yes," he replied; "the bartender shook me for the drinks and lost."

A Speech of the Day.

"My son," said an Ontario-street mother, "go down to the grocery and get me a can of green peas."

"I should squirm to wiggle," replied the boy.

"Go on, I tell you."

"I should limp to jump."

"If you don't go this instant I will tell your father when he comes home."

"I should blow to tattle."

"Never mind, sir."

"I should whoop to squeal."

When the father came the mother said:

"I wish that you'd whip Tom. He positively refused to go down to the grocery, and told me that I was a tattler, and that he would jump on me if I didn't mind."

"Tom."

"Yes, sir."

"What was that you said to your mother to-day?"

"Never said nothing."

"Then I am a story-teller and you are a pretty boy," said the mother.

"Look here, young man, if you don't behave yourself, I'll thrash you; do you hear sir?"

"I should titter to snort."

"Come here to me, sir."

And the young man squirmed to wiggle, limped to jump, blew to tattle, whooped to squeal and tittered to snort.

It requires fifteen cubic feet of the Ruby Hill ores to make a ton. A furnace of forty tons capacity will smelt 600 cubic feet of ore per day. In the best ore bodies on Ruby Hill about one-third is waste, or too low grade to pay for smelting. It therefore takes 900 cubic feet of ore, before assorting, to make 600 feet of assorted ore of a grade sufficiently high for smelting. Multiply 900 by 30 and we have 27,000 cubic feet as the quantity of Ruby Hill ore necessary to run a 40-ton furnace one month, or a body of ore 270 feet long, 10 feet thick and 10 feet wide. Multiply 27,000 by 12 and you can form a faint idea of the kind of hole in the ground a 40-ton furnace will make in a year. Mine owners are apt to make extravagant estimates of the quantity of ore in sight in their mines. Careful measurement of ore bodies "in sight," and calculations based thereon, generally reduce conjectural quantities immensely.—Eureka Leader.

In the ten years from 1870 to 1880 the value of the silk production of the United States rose from $12,210,662 to $34,410,463.

Prof. Boss sends word from Santiago that the American observation of the transit of Venus was completely successful there.

Great Gold Bars.

We saw this week at the Bank of California, says the Mining and Scientific Press, the largest gold bar ever cast in the United States. It was shipped to the bank by the North Bloomfield (hydraulic) Mining Company, of Smartsville, Nevada county, Cal. The value of the bar is $114,000, and weight 511½ pounds troy. Its length is 15 inches, width 6 inches, and depth 7 inches. It contains 630 cubic inches of gold, and is worth about $19 per ounce.

The mould for this bar was cast at the Nevada Foundry of George G. Allan, Nevada City. The entire dimensions of the mould are as follows: On top, 17 inches long and 7 inches wide; on bottom, 16 inches long and 6 inches wide. It contains 715.20 cubic inches. The thickness of the sides is ¾ inch and bottom 1 inch. The mould weighs 138 pounds, and was cast expressly for making this bar. The castings were from iron produced at Clipper Gap, in this State.

The North Bloomfield mine, from which the gold came, is one of the most prominent hydraulic mines in California. The run is not an exceptional one, though the bar is. The line of the tunnel is cleaned up about twice a year, and this time they thought they would see what they could do in the way of casting a big bar. The bar is said to have been the result of a twenty days' run.

It was in 1873, if we remember aright, that the Spring Valley Mining Company sent down to this city a bar weighing 141 pounds, worth $41,000. At the time they thought this the largest bar ever made, but at their request we made inquiries and found that Seligman & Co., bankers, of this city, had received one from Helena, Montana, worth an even $50,000; the London and San Francisco Bank had one worth $35,000, and the Mint and Bank of California had each had one one worth $40,000. The San Francisco Assaying and Refining Company had also had one worth $41,000.

The Spring Valley people then went to work, and after thirty-five days' run, with 1,000 inches of water, with a partial clean-up of 800 feet of head flume and 14 undercurrents, produced a bar worth $71,273 15, weighing 299 pounds.

Since then, however, the Spring Valley mine, Cherokee Flat, Butte county, shipped to this city a gold bar valued at about $90,000, and that was considered an exceptionally large one. The North Bloomfield Company, considering it owned the biggest hydraulic mine in the State, thought it would make the biggest bar, with the result noted.

There is no especial advantage in making bars so large, except in happening to have the gold to do it with. Smaller bars are more convenient to handle and some people even prefer the metal in small circular shape, such as we are accustomed to see on bankers' trays. The big bar we refer to is on the way to the Mint, out on Fifth street, where it will soon be transferred into coin. The North Bloomfield and the Milton hydraulic mines, both under the same management, have produced this season about $1,000,000 in gold, and the ground they are in is increasing in richness right along. This doesn't look much as though hydraulic mining was a dead industry.

Serious Hurts that Fail to Kill.

A short time ago a shoemaker of Astoria, New York, shot himself twice with a heavy pistol, once in the ear and once in the mouth. He was brought to the Roosevelt Hospital, in this city, where it was discovered that the first ball glanced from the skull. The other is thought to be somewhere in the head, perhaps in the brain. Speedy death was expected; but the next day the patient walked away from the hospital, saying that he was sorry for the attempt on his life, but appeared to be in no immediate danger of dying.

With this case as a text, a writer in a morning paper reviews a large number of more or less marvelous cases of recovery from grievous hurts, showing that serious injuries to the main organs of the body are not always followed by death. Men persist in living, not only with bullets in their brain, holes in their stomach, dislocated vertebræ, and wounds in the heart, but even with open wounds clear through the body. During the civil war, General H. A. Barnum, of Brooklyn, received in battle a wound which still remains an open passage through the body. For years the treatment of this wound has been simply to wear in it a roll of prepared lint, which is renewed daily. The suppuration of the wound is constant though variable.

General Shields, of Missouri, had a similar wound extending through his body, and open in front and behind. His wound, it is said, was received in the Mexican war, and he wore, not lint, but a silk handkerchief in it. This he could draw directly through his body.—Scientific American.

Some of our people are already desirous of knowing the results of the observation of the transit of Venus. They want to know just how far we are away from the sun. Having observed that the weather grew suddenly cold the next day after the transit they are of the opinion that we have been set back from the sun 5,000,000 to 8,000,000 miles. If no more celerity shall be shown in working up the present calculations than has been done in the case of those of the transit of 1874, we are not likely to know exactly where we stand until about the year 2004, when we shall have a fresh hold on the business. Thus far no complete report of the observation of the transit eight years ago by American astronomers has been published, and it seems doubtful whether the Naval Department will ever work out said observations.

JAMES E. PARKER.

SILVER MINING can be traced as far back into antiquity as written history. In the time of Abraham, Moses and Solomon, silver was used, and the same may be said of the Egyptians, the Greeks and the Romans. There were silver coins 895 B. C. The Romans employed 25,000 men in a single mine; the Carthagenians 40,000 men in the mines of Spain. Hannibal took from one mine £500,000 a year; Cato as much from mines, and Helvetius twice as much. Herodotus says: "The nations subdued by the Persians, except the Indies and Antioch, paid a yearly tribute of £3,000,000 in silver. Pliny says that in his time silver mines in Spain were penetrated a mile and a half. According to Prescott, the historian, Prince Atahulpa, made prisoner, had gathered to pay for his liberty the value of £3,500,000 gold, and 51,610 marks, or about 25,805 pounds of silver. From 1784 to 1827 the great silver mines of Pasco, in South America, smelted 4,967,710 pounds troy silver. The silver mines of Bolivia and Peru yielded, from their discovery by the Spaniards to 1845, a quantity of silver equal in value to £506,220,000. The Grand Potosi, of Bolivia, was discovered in 1545. Since then it has produced £240,000,000 in silver. Humbolt's Essai Politiqué states that the mines of Mexico, of only a few central spots yielded between the conquest and 1805, $2,027,952,000. The great mining regions of the United States have produced of the precious metals since the first discoveries in California, a little over thirty years ago, the enormous sum of not less than $2,000,000,000, of which a large proportion is silver.

TWELVE HUNDRED people witnessed a "bull fight" at Tucson, Arizona, last Sunday. The local of the Star says the first bull was a steer, and wouldn't "show fight;" the second animal also proved to be a non-combatant, and employed his energies in trying to get away from his pursuers; but the third and last was a plucky little fellow and made lots of fun for the large crowd of spectators. The reporter closes with a mild defense of the beastly exhibition, and says there was no more cruelty than when a driver beats his willing horse, and much less than when when boys stone a dog or drown a cat. The editor of the Star, however, views the matter from a different standpoint, and berates the Tucson people for their continuance of such degrading sports, at which a sense of private and public decency alike revolts. This is only one of the many phases of Tucson life which go to show that that city needs reconstructing badly.

BEECHER finally accepts the doctrine of evolution, and denies the fall of Adam and imputed sin to all his descendants; but he hesitates about accepting logical consequence, the doing away with the divine scheme of salvation. But if there was no fall there was no need of a scheme of redemption that involved the sacrifice upon the cross of the incarnated Divinity. There is no escape from this conclusion. Either man fell from a state of perfection and "brought sin into the world and all our woe," or the doctrine of the atonement is a surplusage of theology that should be abandoned. It is in vain to attempt to harmonize the scientific theory of creation with the theological tenet of the special creation and fall of man. The labors of all the ministers in the world cannot harmonize the relations between them. Either the scientific theory is erroneous or the dogmatist is.

THE Immigration Association of California reports 590 immigrant arrivals by the overland railroads for the week ending December 16th. Cold weather East has had the effect to reduce the arrivals somewhat, but correspondence has largely multiplied. A Mr. Eaton of Arkansas has called upon the Association and has now gone to Los Angeles county to look up a location for forty or fifty well-to-do families of that State, who will move to California the coming Spring. A company of five Germans went to the Eel River country, Mendocino county, on Wednesday last.

THE prospects are favorable for grand Senatorial fight in Colorado. There are three or four millionaires in that State who want to go to the United States Senate, and they are willing to put up money for a seat. This will be good news for the members of the Legislature. Coin talks in the golden West. In a few years the United States Senate will be composed only of men worth from $5,000,000 to $50,000,000.

THE Teachers' Association of California holds its sixteenth annual session in the Y. M. C. A. Hall, San Francisco, on December 27-30, 1882. Railroads will carry those attending at one and one-fifth fare to and from the meeting.

THE CARSON AND COLORADO.

Monday last our section was visited by the local managers and heavy owners of the Carson and Colorado Narrow Gauge Railroad—H. M. Yerington, General Superintendent of the Virginia and Truckee and the Carson and Colorado roads, and R. G. Laws, Assistant Superintendent of the latter. From an extended interview with these gentlemen we reproduce some interesting facts and statements, intending to supplement the article by one next week involving some general and particular information concerning the country which their road is now fast opening up. They report their surveys now completed to Owens Lake, and the actual grading done to about four miles this side of Benton. They expect to run trains to the Benton station on February 1st, and to have the regular passenger and freight depots opposite Bishop Creek by the middle of March, leaving themselves until June 1st to make the fsrty miles down to near Independence, or about the central part of the valley. The route, skirting along the base of the Inyo Range on the east side of the river, is almost level, and why so much time is required for constructing the road is not explained, except that they are waiting for engines and other rolling stock.

The material progress and development of the country traversed by the 200 miles of road already constructed is almost marvelous. Old mining districts which have since the days of the first silver discoveries lain idle and abandoned to the aboriginees and coyotes, have sprung into life. New and costly roads have been built in all directions from the various stations, enabling the prospector to bring in, sell and realize on his ore, in lots large or small, and obtain the necessary outfit of grub and tools for the development of future bonanzas. The Company of course encourage the ore-buyers, who accumulate quantities and take advantage of car-load rates on their shipments to the several reduction works. These are located at points on the line, in Dayton, Oakland and San Francisco. Mr. Yerington, who, by the way, is one of the best practical millmen in the country, suggests the necessity and the probable early establishment in this valley, of a sampling mill, where ores of all kinds may be broken, sampled, assayed, paid for and shipped.

The Company's general policy will be to take to the outside market at the lowest possible freight tariff everything that the country can produce—ores, bullion, salt, soda, etc.—to create business for itself. As to how their management will immediately affect the producers of grain, stock and general farm products we will not discuss, except to endorse the expressed opinion of some progressive ranchers hereabouts--that the increased local demand will overtax all present supply and stimulate the production of vastly more.

As to their incoming freight: Bliss & Yerington own the great timber tracts surrounding Lake Bigler, the Bodie and Benton Railroad, and much of the vast forrests surrounding Mammoth. Consequently, they will use their own railroad ties, timber and lumber for buildings, and will have supplies for this entire region--mining timber and lumber at about $40 per M., cord-wood at $10 and fencing at proportionate rates. Coke, all the way from England, is to be got here for smelting purposes at a much less cost, all things considered, than our nut-pine charcoal can be economically utilized.

Mr. Yerington stated, also, that his Company has at Carson one of the best outfitted machine shops and iron foundries on the coast, with men in charge whose business it is to build reduction works of any and all kinds anywhere on the line.

The gentlemen express the highest satisfaction with what they learned about the mineral and agricultural resources of this county, and propose to advertise it considerably.

Two funny old fellows are keeping hotel at Thompson's Falls, on Pend d'Oreille Lake in Idaho. They have two structures, one a canvas tent and the other a cabin covered with poles and dirt, with neither floor nor windows. The following is their inviting advertisement in the Missoula paper: "Canned goods, cigars and liquors, good trout fishing, unrivaled scenery, splendid oil paintings, body Brussels carpet on the floor, solid black walnut furniture, four fire escapes, elevators and free lodging. A Webster Dictionary given away with every drink."

THE regulations governing the Mints and assay offices, says the Carson Appeal, have been amended so that on and after January 1st no charge at the assay office will be collected from depositors of gold for the transportation of their bullion to the Mint, for the coinage cost of which, under the provisions of the existing law as construed by the Director of the Mint and Secretary of the Treasury, is required to be paid from the appropriation for freight on bullion and coin between the Mints and assay offices.

Metallurgy.

The largely-increasing interest in whatever pertains to mining and metallurgy, is shown by the efforts being made by different countries to bring their mineral resources to the attention of the public.

Mexico, keenly alive to the advantages to be derived from the influx of enterprise and capital, and the development of mining, has made changes in her laws favorable to the miner and taken steps to exhibit her minerals in the different cities of Europe.

The Government of Spain has just made an announcement of a National Exhibition of mining and metallurgy, at which all products, tools and processes will be shown and investigated.

Our own Government, with vastly greater interests in the direction of mineral resources than all other countries combined, is strangely indifferent to what can and will be made one of the most important and valuable industries of the nation. Generous to railroads, fish commissions, astronomical expeditions and harbor improvements, our Congress not only neglects and ignores the claims of the only industry which can, under all circumstances, furnish a steady and indestructible volume of ready wealth to supply the necessities of business, but it endeavors by special legislation to retard the development of that industry and depreciate its product.

Public money could be well expended in establishing and maintaining a metallurgical institute, where the best methods of treatment and the most complete processes of reduction might be most thoroughly tested and proven. There is no question of greater importance to the mining industry and to the permanent prosperity of the country than an economical and satisfactory solution of the problem of ore treatment. Between the miner and the consumer there is a chasm in which waste and loss run riot, and a large proportion of the results of energy and industry are here destroyed, and the aggregate paid as tribute to these destructive forces is terrible to behold.

Considered in the light of public good or consistency, there is no reason for neglecting productive industries and making bountiful provisions for seabug commissions and star-gazing expeditions.

Our Government is founded upon industry, and its permanence depends upon the strong arm of active enterprise. Production is our shield and safeguard, Peace is our victory, and Prosperity our strength. Industry stands first in its claims for recognition, and the instinct of self-preservation demands that these activities, large in their scope and important in their product, must be furnished with every needed facility to produce the best development and greatest results.

Our metallurgical processes are crude, imperfect and costly. The ores that are put into the furnaces are rich in a variety of valuable products, a large proportion of which is wasted and lost in the methods at present most in use. The school of experience is slow and costly, and the whole country suffers, while step by step uncertain knowledge is gained by accident and isolated experiments. A great and important part of our country has suddenly been opened up to the influx of civilization. Scores of other industries and permanent improvements wait for the successful establishment of mining, which suffer from loss and failure resulting from inexperience and obstacles to be overcome by private enterprise and effort, perhaps after years of delay.

The chief obstacle in the pathway of successful and profitable mining can be removed by scientific research and investigation in the direction of smelting and refining and treating ores, and the solution of this important problem a wise and paternal Government certainly owes to an industry which, unaided and alone, has done so much to extend the bounds of empire and add so largely to the extent and prosperity of the whole nation.—Chicago Mining Review.

IN these days of general abuse of railways, the following utterances from the Albuquerque Review are decidedly refreshing: "The Atchison, Topeka and Santa Fe Railroad Company have made reductions in fares. Nobody is talking of legislation to make this company do the fair thing. They have always done so."

IRISH affairs are about as bad as possible. Great suffering prevails in certain parts. The people are living on meal and very little of that.

THE railroad tax case was to come up before the United Supreme Court at Washington on the 10th instant.

WE quote the following interesting locals from the Los Angeles Express:

We can count $150,000 worth of improvements going on anywhere within a five-minutes' walk of the Express office.

The Los Angeles Presbytery have decided to erect in this vicinity a $200,000 seminary, similar to the Mills Seminary in Oakland.

Six houses for residence are being built in the neighborhood of St. Vincent's College.

A WRITER in the Popular Science Monthly says that everybody has always thought that the eccentric rings of a tree are a record of its age, each ring representing the growth of a year, but that everybody has always been mistaken. A series of experiments effectually explodes the delusion. So it goes in these degenerate days; one after another the "arrested conceptions" of the myth-makers are dispelled.

THE German Government will oppose the bill taxing bourse transactions. A large number of the bankers will transfer their business to foreign places if the bill becomes a law.

THE New York brokers have appointed a committee to consider a plan for a clearing-house in connection with the Stock Exchange.

SUMMONS.

IN THE SUPERIOR COURT OF THE COUNTY of Inyo, State of California.—Charlotte Kimler, plaintiff, versus John A. Kimler, defendant.—Action brought in the Superior Court, in and for the County of Inyo, State of California, and the complaint filed in the office of the Clerk of said Superior Court.—The People of the State of California send greeting to John A. Kimler, defendant. You are hereby required to appear in an action brought against you by the above-named plaintiff, in the Superior Court, in and for the County of Inyo, State of California, and to answer the complaint filed therein within ten days (exclusive of the day of service) after the service on you of this summons—if served within this county; or, if served out of this county, but in this district, within twenty days; otherwise, within forty days—or judgment by default will be taken against you according to the prayer of said complaint. The said action is brought to recover judgment and decree of divorce dissolving the bonds of matrimony between plaintiff and defendant, on the grounds of willful desertion for the period of one year, of plaintiff by defendant, and that the custody of the minor child be awarded to the plaintiff, and for costs of suit and for general relief, all of which will more fully appear by the complaint filed herein, to which reference is hereby made. And you are hereby notified that if you fail to appear and answer the said complaint, as above required, the said plaintiff will take judgment against you for the decree prayed for in the complaint and for costs of suit.

Given under my hand and the Seal of the Superior Court, in and for the County of Inyo, State of California, this 23d day of December, in the year of our Lord one thousand eight hundred and eighty two.

INDEPENDENCE, CAL.:

SATURDAY, DECEMBER 23.... ..1882

PERSONAL.—Ex-County Assessor Dillon has left for a new business location at Mojave, where he joins Capt. H. H. Buckles, formerly of Bishop... Milo Page passed through from Bishop Creek on the road to the Argus Range, where he will open out some new mining locations....Mr. J. T. Thompson is in town from the Slate Range country, and is in high spirits over the prospects of that section.....Jas. Oliver, Chief Engineer of the C. & C. road, accompanied by County Surveyor Seeley, called to-day. Mr. Oliver proposes getting back to Carson for a month's rest, combined with the routine duties of his office. Joe Seeley is bent upon getting a correct map made of this county, in which project we most heartily concur.

THE SACRAMENTO.—From Mr. C. L. Van Epps, who was in town yesterday, we attained the latest facts concerning the Sacramento gold mine, in Piute District, about 15 miles northeast of Bishop Creek, about which so much has been said lately. Mr. Van Epps is the purchaser of a one-third interest, and has leased the balance of the mine for four years. He is getting machinery from Mammoth for a five-stamp mill, which he will as soon as possible put up at Rocker cañon, about two miles south of the old Piute mill. The mine has been opened to a depth of nearly 100 feet, and shows a solid vein five feet in width of $100-per-ton free gold ore.

MODOCK.—Supt. Fitgerald in a private letter conveys information as to Modock workings as follows: "I closed furnace down after losing two water-jackets. I came to the conclusion that I would not have anything more to do with old jackets, and so I have sent for two of the latest-improved style. I run through about 75 tons ore and shipped 16 tons of bullion—the ore turning out splendidly. Am now getting in more coal, wood and iron, and while waiting for the jackets will take out at least 100 tons of ore from my own mines. Will have the jackets here about Christmas, and will start up on or before the 1st of January."

SOME CORRECTIONS.—The report about town during the week that Charley Begole, of Lone Pine, was dead—or dying—of hemhorrage of the bowels—may be corrected by stating the fact that he had an attack of the nose-bleed. The positive statement that one of Rittger's boys had his eye put out by a pistol shot at the hands of his little brother, is resolved into the fact that an arrow from a bow wounded his eye slightly. It is an old proposition, but quite true, that this world is given to lying—somewhat.

MINING BLANKS.—THE INDEPENDENT job office has on hand subject to order blanks for regular location notices, with sufficient space therein for proper description of claim, whether properly outlined according to survey or not. Also, regular forms for certificates of annual assessment work done. Send in your orders for he aforesaid blanks, which only cost, per mail and express, $6 per 100, or else 10 cents each.

THE P. P. P. BALL.—From information received, it appears that the general invitation extended to everybody, by the O. R. V. Council P. P. P., to attend the ball and supper on the evening of the 27th, will be accepted by a great many from all points in the valley. The indications are favorable for a regular "crush."

LOST.—Dr. Kernodle the other day lost somewhere in the streets a small black rubber case containing a little thermometer. While of great value to him it is of no earthly use to anyone else, and the finder should return it—for which the Doctor will pay a suitable reward.

CLEAN-UP.—The proceeds of working seventeen tons of ore from the Lapwing mine, in the McEvoy mill at Beveridge, was brought in Monday. It amounted to sixty-one ounces of gold, worth $915. We understand that work will be resumed on the mine.

RELIGIOUS SERVICE.—Rev. W. Nims will preach to-morrow at Bishop Creek. There will also be a night-watch service the December 31st, as a part of the closing Sabbath service of the present year.

WHO FOUND IT?—Lost, on Saturday evening last, a small gold bar or cross-piece of a vest chain. Must have been somewhere between this office and the Postoffice. Who found it?

CHRISTMAS TREE.—The Court House will be illuminated to-morrow night with the fanciful lights and good things on the trees, together with the glad faces of the little ones.

NOTARY.—C. D. Begole, of Lone Pine, has filed his official bond as Notary Public, under appointment by Gov. Perkins dated December 7th.

ASSESSMENT.—The New Coso has levied an assessment of 15 cents per share; delinquent January 19; day of sale February 7.

AT LONE PINE.—The Lone Piners are arranging for a concert, ball and supper during the holiday week.

OUR railway engineers will have to crowd on more steam and pull the throttle open a little wider. An account is given in English journals of the performance of a locomotive on the Great Northern Railroad, which recently carried the Duke of Edinburgh from Leeds to London—186¾ miles—in three hours, or at the rate of 82¼ miles per hour. This speed has frequently been equaled and sometimes surpassed for short distances. The engine had driving-wheels eight feet in diameter, or two feet larger than the wheels of American engines.

BLUE BLAZES!

An Inyo Monument Gone.

A note from Darwin, under date December 20th, received at this office on Thursday night, contained the following terse but momentous information: "The big mill at Panamint was discovered to be on fire at 6 o'clock last night and was burned to the ground." We have but few particulars. Another letter states that the fire originated from a retort bursting. This authority states that the works were insured for $40,000. Supt. Pheby had about completed a run of 700 tons of ore, which he calculated would gain for him the credit of the greatest amount of bullion yielded during any one run of the works. It was his plan to keep some fifteen men at work in the mines during the Winter, getting out ore for the coming Spring. How far this disaster will affect that arrangement is not known.

THE BIG MILL

Was by far the most important and pretentious structure in this county, if not in these two mining counties. It was erected in 1874 5, by the Surprise Valley Water, Mining and Milling Co., which was led by Senators John P. Jones and Wm. M. Stewart. The Stedtefelt furnace alone cost $75,000, and the entire plant the sum of $385,000, which came out of nearly $2,000,000 expended by the Company in buying mines, great buildings, roads and general improvements. To give some conception of its great extent we may state the dimensions of the several divisions, as follows: Ore house, 40x40 ft. square; dry-kiln, 40x16 ft.; battery floor, 40x18 ft.; the floor below, 40x20 ft; pan floor, 90x40 ft.; concentrator floor, 100x20 ft.; melting, retort room and assay offices, 80x20 ft.; furnace room, 80x80 ft.; the engine room 60x20, and the boiler room 60x60 feet. It contained a crusher, a 20-stamp battery, ten pans, five settlers and ten concentrators; four boilers and a splendid 240-horse power Corliss engine. All the foundations were solid, cut granite and brick-work. The engine room was built of granite, and it is probable that it and the boilers will come out not materially injured. Doubtless the lofty brick smoke-stacks and the massive work of the Stedtefelt furnace are still standing, but from the heavy timbering over the main machinery all that will prove a total loss.

We believe the mill and outside Company buildings cost the present owners—the Inyo Con. Company—some $50,000, which was fully paid over to the original owners in June last. Geo. M. Pinney was, as is well known, the General Manager, and Thos. B. Pheby, Superintendent. Since their management began seven dividends of five cents per share, on a capital stock of $500,000, have been declared. Recent most important developments in the mines—notably in the old Hemlock and Wyoming—gave the best possible assurance of long-continued dividends.

The works consumed fifteen cords of but pine daily, burned under the boilers, in the furnace, under the drying floor, and in the retorts, melting room and assay office. The whole thing was always dry as an immense timber-box, and never had been provided with anything like adequate facilities for extinguishing fire. In many cases of carelessness occurring around such a concern the disastrous result is not much to be wondered at. It is a dire misfortune for the owners, and another bad black eye for Inyo, anyway it is put up. Developments will be awaited with the keenest interest.

THE Rev. Joseph J. Jessop tells the following anecdote: The late Mr. Alexander, the eminent architect, was under cross-examination at Maidstone, by Sergeant, afterward Baron, Garrow, who wished to detract from the weight of his testimony, and, after asking him what was his name, proceeded: "You are a builder, I believe?" "No, sir; I am not a builder; I am an architect." "They are much the same, I suppose?" "I beg your pardon, sir, I cannot admit that; I consider them to be totally different." "Oh, indeed! perhaps you will state wherein this great difference exists?" "An architect, sir," replied Mr. Alexander, "conceives the design, prepares the plan, draws out the specifications—in short, supplies the mind; the builder is merely the bricklayer or the carpenter. The builder, in fact, is the machine, the architect the power that puts the machine together and sets it going." "Oh, very well, Mr. Architect, that will do. And now, after your very ingenious distinction without a difference, perhaps you can inform the Court who was the architect of the Tower of Babel?" The reply, for promptness and wit, is not to be rivaled in the whole history of rejoinder: "There was no architect, sir, and hence the confusion."

THE Brooklyn Eagle lays its unhallowed claws upon "The people-be damned" Vanderbilt in this relentless manner: "Mr. Vanderbilt, poor man, has been forced by stress of circumstances to sell $10,000,000 worth of United States bonds. This he has been pressed to do by hard-hearted and nefarious persons who are striving to break down the value of certain stocks in which Mr. Vanderbilt has an affectionate and philanthropic interest. When one reflects that Mr. Vanderbilt has not more than $30,000,000 of United States bonds left, fears may well be indulged that his kindly and useful life will end in the poorhouse. It is a sad reflection that a citizen who has so long lived by the sweat of his coupons may be compelled to eke out a miserable existence on three or four hundred dollars a day. We are bound, for humanity's sake, to believe that had the bloated freight-handlers known the actual condition of Mr. Vanderbilt's fortune they would not have had the heart to embarrass him as they did a few months ago with their strike."

MR. W. D. CLARK, of Inyo County, is now at the Hudnut farm with about fifty head of horses. Parties desiring to purchase can get almost any kind of animal they may wish, all broke to harness and saddle.—Kern Co. Record.

Down in a Coal Mine.

The deepest coal mine in America is the Pottsville, in Pennsylvania. The shaft is 1,576 feet deep. From its bottom, almost a third of a mile down, 200 cars, holding 400 pounds each, are lifted every day. They are run upon a platform, and the whole weight of six tons is hoisted at a speed that makes the head swim, the time occupied in lifting a full car being only a little more than a minute. The hoisting and lowering of men into coal mines is regulated by law in that State, and only ten can stand on a platform at once, under penalty of a heavy fine. However, carelessness cannot be prevented, and unaccustomed visitors are appalled by it. "A person of weak nerves," says a correspondent, "should not brave the ordeal by descending the Pottsville shaft. The machinery works as smoothly as a hotel elevator, but the speed is so terrific that one seems falling through the air. The knees after a few seconds become weak and tremulous, the ears ring as the drums of these organs are forced inward by the air pressure, and the eyes are shut involuntarily as the beams of the shaft seem to dash upward only a foot or two away. As one leaves the light of the upper day the transition to darkness is fantastic. The light does not pass into gloom in the same fashion as our day merges into night, but there is a kind of phosphorescent glow, gradually becoming dimmer and dimmer. Half way down you pass, with a roar and sudden crash, the ascending car; and at last, after what seemed several minutes but is only a fraction of that time, the platform begins to slow up, halts at a gate, and through it you step into a crowd of creatures with the shapes of men, but with the blackened faces, the glaring eyes and wild physiognomies of fiends."

ON Saturday afternoon a complaint was filed in the Superior Court at Bridgeport in a suit of John W. Stewar against Jesse N. Summers for the sum of $14,000, and Mr. Summers' property in the Big Meadows was attached. Subsequently other suits were commenced and attachments levied aggregating in the neighborhood of $40,000. So far as could be learned the Summers mine at Sweetwater was not included in the levy. A good deal of excitement was occasioned by the placing of these attachments, as until recently Mr. Summers has been considered the wealthiest man in Mono county. Considerable sympathy is felt for him at the unfortunate turn in his affairs.—Bodie Free Press.

A PHILADELPHIA paper says that the Keely motor will be heard from on December 10th, that being the date mutually agreed upon for the presentation of all patentable points to the stockholders. We suppose, adds Iron, that the fluctuation in the price of stock will go on as it usually does just before any promised revelations on the part of the inventor, but we can only repeat to would-be buyers the well-known advice given by Punch to those about to marry. That Mr. Keely has developed a remarkable force is evident, but that he knows what to do with it is quite another matter. We shall be pleased to hail Mr. Keely as a benefactor to the world of mechanics, but we prefer his proving his title before we pay respects.

MRS. LANGTRY was conversing the other day about American affairs, including politics, when she remarked, with the most charming naiveté, "Oh, yes, I am interested in politics, but I must confess I don't half understand about it; it all seems so mixed up." There are many people who profess to know all about politics, who are almost as badly "muddled" on the subject as the famous English beauty. The fact is, the present attitude of the parties is not as susceptible of demonstration as a mathematical problem. The data are somewhat fluctuating, as it were. Those who are the best posted men seem to touch the political situation most gingerly.

THE junction between the two lines of railroad that are to form a through line across Texas to New Orleans is not yet effected. A recent accident, caused by the giving way of the false work of a large bridge across a precipitous cañon, has delayed the work. This accident occurred on the division coming north from San Antonio. It is presumed that through trains will go over the track by the middle of January. On the Atlantic and Pacific road the track is laid 123 miles east of Mojave and about 43 miles beyond Calico. No construction is going on at present on the proposed extension of the Oregon road.

CONGRESSMAN PAGE appears to have been unfortunate in his remarks since he returned to Washington. In referring to the River and Harbor bill, he said it was "a good thing, despite the fact that howling demagogues had cried it down. President Arthur is one of these howling demagogues, as he vetoed the bill." The disappointed member from California, by his acrimonious remarks, also drew "Sunset" Cox to his feet who remarked that the "howling demagogues" seemed to have been in a majority in Mr. Page's district, as well as in other parts of the country.

THE German Government persists in its determination to prohibit the importation of American pork.

The Inyo Range.

CERRO GORDO, December 1, 1882.

The mountains of Inyo are greatly diversified, upheaved in mass, unfolded in rolling hills, outlined in ranges. Mass or range, they are of the same formation, built at the same periods by the same forces, except always the Sierra, which do not belong to this region other than to form the western boundary of it, a mighty wall separating it from the great inland valleys. Great height, features of power and majesty, elements of splendid mountain architecture, are often present, making them the grand framework of bold and picturesque scenery. The volcanic origin of these mountains is evidenced by craters whose scarred rims are yet white with the ashes of dead fires. The Armagosa, Argus and Telescope ranges are the most imposing of these mountains. The Inyos extend along the Owens Lake Valley, from its eastern rim and the White Mountains in Nevada southward, for a distance of 150 miles, parallel with the Sierra, from which they maintain an average distance of about twelve miles. They rise and fall in waving lines, gradually ascending until the loftiest summit is reached, opposite Mount Whitney, where they tower 10,000 feet above the sea and over 4,000 feet above the valley.

CHARACTERISTICS OF THE RANGE.

Though seeming to scorn connection with the Sierra they have sent out to their base an offshoot of low hills called the "Alabamas," a line of skirmishers thrown across the river and set as a defense challenging the encroachment of the Sierra upon the lowlands below—a curious group of hills rising like volcanic bubbles along the Sierra's sloping base. The rock formations of the Inyo range having for their fundamental bed the eternal granite are divided into slate, limestone and porphyry—strata of which cut the surface in great parallels or hold undisputed possession of vast districts. The warp and woof of the Inyo range is mineral; veins of silver and gold pure or mixed with other metals are woven into its formations like threads into a fabric. Its deposits run through all characters and grades from the native metals to the purely chemical deposits. These are distributed with wonderful prodigality. Like all mining regions the range has been divided into districts, which, though bounded by imaginary lines, have a character and nature peculiar to themselves. Following the range northward these districts are divided as follows: Cerro Gordo, Russ, Beveridge, Union, Waucoba, Big Pine, Deep Springs, Bishop Creek, Piute, Sylvania, Montgomery and Indian Queen, or Oneota.

CERRO GORDO.

In Cerro Gordo, the southernmost district, lying abreast of the lake, vast dikes of limestone, slate and syenite cleave the rolling hills, into which the lower mountains unfold, alternating as they ascend towards the central mass, until the upper altitude is held by a vast limestone formation. In this, at the town of Cerro Gordo, 8,000 feet above the sea and 4,000 feet above the lake, and lying at the base of the Cerro Gordo peak, was found the most extensive lead and silver deposits yet developed in the entire range, or in the State of California. From them have been extracted $15,000,000. The extraction of ore from these deposits is at the present time suspended, though undoubtedly millions yet remain still to be uncovered, as the development of these deposits are of the most superficial character.

A SINGULAR DISTRICT.

The district lying to the north, and known as Beveridge, is one of the most remarkable mining regions in the world. It has features common to no other part of the range. The varicolored limestones which enter so largely into the structure of the range in Cerro Gordo, and which there tower in cliff, precipice and summit, are here beaten down from the occupation of upper slopes, and give place to granite. The limestones in this district form the flanks of the mountains, and do not, except in rare instances, rise in height above 4,000 feet, while the granite towers to over 10,000 feet, and forms the body and breadth of the higher altitudes and slopes. It does so, however, not without contest, for at several points are seen mighty peaks of lime that lift themselves toward the sun. Piled in rugged masses, heaped in wild confusion, building mighty ridges of solid rock, and descending into deep cañons, this granite formation makes the most precipitous and rugged mining country ever discovered. The mineral of this district is gold. The lead, silver, copper and the varions rare and peculiar metals found in other parts of the range are entirely absent in this granite formation, though they are met with in the bordering limestone. The ledges of quartz are exceedingly numerous, each ridge and cañon side being pierced by them. In many instances, though not of great size, they are of exceeding richness. The number of such already discovered exceeds those of perhaps any other district on the coast.

WORK IN BEVERIDGE.

If future operations shall trace these gold veins to the mountain's heart, giving them scope and permanency, this district will become one of the most wonderful gold-producing regions ever known. Although sufficient has been discovered to attract interest and attention, the roughness of the country has retarded development and prevented extensive operations. No part of the district is penetrated by wagon roads. Rocky trails alone, clinging in places to the face of tremendous cliffs, and overhanging giddy depths barely wide enough to receive the feet of the patient mule and burro, lead into this mountain fastness. As a result but a single five-stamp mill has been erected in the entire district, and that with infinite toil was packed in sections by mules over the lofty summit and down into the depths of a terrible cañon, and was planted between frowning battlements of overhanging rock, where it stands to-day a monument of rare faith and energy. An entire year was exhausted in severe and steady labor before the stamps were ready for crushing. This mill, though running for a part of the time only for the last two years, has produced several hundred thousand dollars, and this almost wholly from a single mine still in operation.

OTHER DISTRICTS.

The mining ventures at Chrysopolis, San Carlos and Mazourka Cañon are historical and woven into the early history of this section. Northward the Inyos spread into a mass of milder forms and open into a region less marked with the aspect of desert mountains. The savage ruggedness of Beveridge softens into broad and rolling uplands redeemed by forests of pine. Here, and reaching to the White Mountains, are situated the remaining districts heretofore mentioned where the base and precious ores are found in sufficient quantities to make these districts the arena of considerable mining enterprise. In Waucoba, the first district north of Beveridge, the high-grade silver-bearing lead ores predominate and in instances give promise of permanency and richness. Streams of water, forests of pine, deposits of soda, salt, iron and lime are near at hand for the process of reduction, which will reduce the cost of mining to the lowest figures.

SALINE VALLEY.

Standing upon the summit of the eastern slope and looking toward the east, but down, down, until the senses swim with the awful depth and distance, is seen Saline Valley, stretching along the base of these mountains, a great basin, a desert valley, rimmed by volcanic hills, its wastes of billowy sand, its sloping dry wastes of rock and bowlder, its shining patches of soda and salt blazing under the burning sky. It is a desolate, dreary region, its face of barrenness relieved only by the clusters of mesquit seen here and there. As viewed from these mountains it presents as clear a vision of desolation as could be well conceived. It covers nearly 200,000 acres of sterile land. I mention it in this connection because it is related to the mineral deposits of the Inyo range, in that its level, where not buried under sand and rocks washed and shaken into it by generations of earthquakes and water-sponts, are vast deposits of almost pure soda and salt many feet in depth, the product of the lime formations of the Inyos.

VALUABLE DEPOSITS.

Thousands of acres of soda have been located, and in one place a mine of the purest salt, covering over a thousand acres of unknown depth, has been located. As seen from the adjacent mountains it shines in the sun with a fierce glare, and is clearly visible for over fifty miles. Enough salt is here already prepared for the markets of the world, and each year adds to the already wonderful accumulation. The only question of its utility is one of cheap transportation. The soda fields here will also be of great value, as they can furnish fertilizing material to redeem a State from sterility. Much attention is now given by farmers in the East to soda as a fertilizer. Something will be needed in the future to redeem our lands from the burdens now imposed by our prodigality. The field for investment of capital in this region is vast and the purely commercial interests will keep pace with, if they do not exceed, the product of the precious metals. The future of this country must be brilliant.—"Inyo," in San Francisco Chronicle.

EVERY twenty-four hours the people pay into the vaults of the Government on account of federal taxes the enormous sum of $1,000,000. For the last fiscal year the average was considerably in excess of that sum.

ONCE upon a time two very hungry Dogs found the door of a small Pantry invitingly open, and the Bigger Dog, prevailing in the struggle for entrance, gorged himself with Broiled Chicken, Citron Cake and Mince Pie till the Mouth of the Outside Dog ran with Water. By and by, as the Viands disappeared in an Alarming manner, the Outside Dog began to remonstrate very earnestly and with increasing loudness, so loudly, in fact, that the Lady of the House heard the noise, and cried as she ran overhead to the top of the Kitchen Stairs and began to descend: "Hurry up, Uncle Sam, get me a club; there are some Dogs in the Pantry." Then the Bigger Dog prepared to decamp, saying to the Smaller Animal: "Now you go in and get what you can. But it looks to me that a Civil Service Reform wave is about to sweep over the Country."—*S. AN IMMEDIATE NECESSITY.

For over twenty years Inyo County has been regarded as a remote region. In a recent number of the San Francisco Chronicle, in an article on the "Inyo Range," it is mentioned that this county is still a remote region. This is true, so far as the outside world is concerned. We who live and have lived here these many years are aware of the wonderful mineral deposits that lie hidden in our mountain ranges. With an almost divine patience we have sat in our quiet homes awaiting our hour of deliverance, knowing that the day must come when these deposits should and must be developed. That day is near at hand. The incoming of the C. & C. R. R., surveys for which have been recently made along and through Owens River Valley, gives stir to impulses which must result in great good to us. "Coming events cast their shadows before"—and we now see the shadow of a great future looming on our horizon. If we hope to prosper by the incoming tide of events, we must be on the alert, ready to take advantage of and to foster the influences which are now operating as a lever to lift us into wealth, influence and power. We have offices to perform, work to do. In this connection we will state that the one great necessity is that we have an accurate map made of the entire county—a map which, laid upon the table of capitalists of London, Berlin or Paris, shall indicate and disclose to a mathematical certainty the exact position of every mineral district within our boundaries. No such map is in existence. A large, a very large portion of our county has been to us for these many years an unknown land. Experts who have been from time to time sent to this county to make examinations of and reports on our mineral resources have lamented the want of a definite map. This complaint has been recently made and by parties whose influence is and will be of incalculable value to this section. In a portion of the county where are situated and held some of the most valuable mineral deposits yet developed within it, there exists not a single accurate line or survey to indicate their position. The regions lying to the south and east of the Owens Lake Valley hold within their stretches mineral and commercial deposits unequaled in the world. If we fail to see new results which must flow from them and to gather the harvest now offered, we will in the very near future have on our lips the cry of the Scriptures: "The harvest is ended and we are not saved." We should take immediate advantage of opportunities offered—have a map prepared which will show to our prospectors and miners the various deposits, mining districts, springs of water and other valuable data so necessary to them.

The Board of Supervisors have sole and absolute control of the matter. We believe they are alive to the necessity of the hour, and our County Surveyor stands ready and more than willing to perform the work. It should be done at once, and we believe that no appropriation of the public moneys could be made for a wiser purpose.

PROFESSOR LANGLEY, of Alleghany Observatory, and his assistant, Mr. Keeler, formerly of John Hopkins' University—who were out here on the Mount Whitney observations—seem both, when watching the transit of Venus, to have noted a phenomenon which will add to the mystery already surrounding the planet. "There was first noted a brilliant point of light upon the edge of Venus furthest from the sun. At the same time a silvery, gleaming thread of light played about the unimmersed edge of Venus. As the planet cut deeper into the huge golden ball the spot of light swelled toward the center of the planet until it became an object surprisingly beautiful and conspicuous." Professor Langley offers no theory in explanation of this luminosity.

THE daily Territorial Enterprise, of Virginia City, Nevada, comes to hand crossed for an exchange. After a series of efforts on our part to accomplish this thing the Enterprise seems to have finally "tumbled," as it were; and its familiar old face is welcomed muchly. In the last issue is a three-column article descriptive of this county, but which comes too late for comment upon in this issue.

THE case of Woodruff against the Bloomfield and other hydraulic mines has been before the United States Circuit Court at San Francisco for two full weeks, and the attorneys are still blowing off.

JAMES CLARKE, of San Bernardino, was accidentally shot and killed by his brother on Christmas Eve.

SOUTHERN INYO

[Special Correspondence of THE INDEPENDENT.]

DARWIN, December 26.

The burning of the Panamint mill on the evening of the 19th was a serious disaster to this section. The mill had just completed a most successful run of about six weeks, the result of which had been estimated at nearly $30,000, all denoting the prosperity of the camp, when fortune, turning at its flood-tide, destroys the mill and for a time checks the progress of a company who were aiding much towards the prosperity of Inyo. However, as one camp meets with a reverse, others are coming forward to sustain the business of the county.

SHERMAN DISTRICT

Is still moving ahead, and the camp—now called Reilly—presents a lively appearance. Some sixty men are employed in and about the mines, grading for the mill and erecting buildings. A store, 36x54 feet and one and a half stories high, is being erected. Two inclines are being run on the Bonanza King, and below the mine a working tunnel. The lowest depth reached by the main incline is about 130 feet. The Company have several men at work upon three other mines—the Natolia, South Point and North Star—with the object of putting them in working order.

The history of these mines, although brief, by no means lacks interest. They were located in 1875 by the Wibbett brothers, who held possession of them and did sufficient work upon the various mines to show that they possessed the merit of having a rich class of ores. At various times they had ore worked that yielded some 250 ounces or more per ton. This, after a time, attracted the attention of Mr. John Ely, who placed them, undeveloped as they were, before the Eastern market. In the early part of last Spring, Mr. Edward Reilly, of New York, made an examination of the mines, and undeveloped as they were, concluded to take them, some six in number. As soon as the transfer was made—about the 1st of June last—he placed a small force of men at work on the Bonanza King, that being the most convenient to work upon, and in a few months has opened up as fine and extensive a mine as the most sanguine could wish or expect to see. Mr. Reilly visited the mine in October and immediately ordered the erection of a ten-stamp mill, and upon his return to New York took steps leading to the organization of a company. A few months more and the sound of stamps, now hushed at Panamint, will be awakened across the valley, and in time others will be added thereto. It does the heart of the prospector good to see, once more, a camp in Southern Inyo where all is life and prosperity. That this Company will meet with great success, is beyond the shadow of a doubt.

DOINGS AT OTHER CAMPS.

At Snow's Cañon Hunter's pack train is delivering wood to the mill. As soon as enough is accumulated, the mill will start on a run of some 250 tons of gold ore.

At Lookout, Fitzgerald started up his furnace on a run of some 250 tons of ore, and meeting with an accident, was compelled to close down and order some new water-jackets, which will soon arrive, when he will resume smelting.

Chloriders and miners about Darwin are actively at work, and the approaching year bids fair for a season of prosperity. TRANSIENT.

THE Carson Appeal says Senator John P. Jones thinks that the bill to restrict the coinage of silver is certain of defeat. The friends of silver are growing stronger all the time in Congress. The President's message speaks of $92,000,000 of silver in the vaults, but it neglects to state that $68,000,000 of this is represented by silver certificates floating about the country. There are about $27,000 of gold in the Treasury, and not as much in gold certificates are out as silver. Silver being a legal tender for all debts, a silver certificate is as good as a gold one. The idea that there ever can be too much money in the country is a fallacy. As the country grows and increases, in proportion the circulating medium must keep pace with the development. Times are hard and real estate and commodities go down as gold and silver go up. The Secretary of the Treasury allows only the minimum amount of silver to be coined, $2,000,000, instead of the maximum, $4,000,000. Senator Jones holds that were the maximum rate coined the country would immediately enter upon an era of unprecedented prosperity, and it is the intention of the silver men to press this matter in the present Congress.

TRENOR W. PARKE died of paralysis on the 15th instant on board the steamer City of Paris bound for Aspinwall. Mr. Parke achieved a national reputation by his connection with the Little Emma mine in Utah. A few days ago he paid several million dollars purchase money for his interest in the Panama Inter-Ocean Ship Canal Company, of which corporation he was President. He died possessed of about $5,000,000. He was associated with Senators Jones and Stewart in the Panamint operations years ago.

THAT must be a nice kind of policeman they've got down in San Francisco. He robs freight cars of valuable silks, burglarizes stores which he is paid to protect, and makes of his residence a "fence" for other burglars' convenience. He is probably the only man in the United States of whose talents ex-Secretary Robeson would be envious.

THE Governor of Kansas told the young men of Chicago that twenty-five years ago he drove oxen and drove them well. An exchange says the present Governor of Texas started life as a hostler at $8 per month, and did his work well. The financial magnate, Rufus Hatch, began life as a chain-carrier in surveying a Wisconsin railroad, and afterwards was a locomotive engineer. There are multitudes of idle young men because they cannot find "honorable work." They would do well to remember that all honest labor is honorable, and that idleness is a vice.

THERE is more going on in this county just now in the way of relocating mines and claims than ever before, several parties being out from this point alone. The general indications of this activity may be accepted as good, although it were much better had the bona fide owners performed their work according to law.

SERGEANT SOMERBY, of the Sixth United States Cavalry, committed suicide at Globe, A. T., last Tuesday.

LAST Tuesday Thomas Kerr, a desperado, was lynched at Globe, A. T., for murdering a man.

THE loss by the Los Angeles fire will aggregate $33,500; insurance, $17,600.

SUMMONS.

IN THE SUPERIOR COURT OF THE COUNTY of Inyo, State of California.—Charlotte Kimler, plaintiff, versus John A. Kimler, defendant.—Action brought in the Superior Court, in and for the County of Inyo, State of California, and the complaint filed in the office of the Clerk of said Superior Court.—The People of the State of California send greeting to John A. Kimler, defendant. You are hereby required to appear in an action brought against you by the above-named plaintiff, in the Superior Court, in and for the County of Inyo, State of California, and to answer the complaint filed therein within ten days (exclusive of the day of service) after the service on you of this summons—if served within this county, or if served elsewhere within thirty days. The said action is brought to recover judgment and decree of divorce dissolving the bonds of matrimony between plaintiff and defendant, on the grounds of willful desertion for the period of one year, of plaintiff by defendant, and that the custody of the minor child be awarded to the plaintiff, and for costs of suit and for general relief, all of which will more fully appear by the complaint filed herein, to which reference is hereby made. And you are hereby notified that if you fail to appear and answer the said complaint, as above required, the said plaintiff will take judgment against you for the decree prayed for in the complaint and for costs of suit.

Given under my hand and the Seal of the Superior Court, in and for the County of Inyo, State of California, this 23d day of December, in the year of our Lord one thousand eight hundred and eighty-two.

THE CHRISTMAS TREE.—About every person in this place—old, young and middle-aged—was on hands Sunday evening last to see what old Santa Claus was going to do for the occasion. It was found that that mythical personage had caused two beautiful trees to be erected in the Court-room, and that these two trees were weighted down on every branch from bottom to top with a most varied assortment of packages, comprising apparently every article usually embraced in Santa's line of business, besides some few side and "bottom" ventures considerably out of his usual line—but we shall not particularize as to them. In due time, to wit: about 7:30 P. M., Santa himself appeared upon the scene, being arrayed in his conventional superfluity of flowing gray beard and hair, smiling face and rotund stomach, being greeted by a stirring Christmas song and music by a choir, cheers and fun, and yet with dread by the little ones who had never seen his like before, and, for the moment, felt as if they wanted never to see him more. But he soon made it all right with all classes and sizes and, in short, acquitted himself in a manner that was universally commended. The whole affair was exceedingly well managed in every detail. The managing committee—consisting of Mrs. S. D. Thurston, Mrs. A. R. Conklin, Mrs. G. H. Hardy, Mrs. Dr. Blair and Mrs. Isaac Harris—deserve high credit for what they accomplished, and particularly for the sensible investment of the general fund collected for the occasion. This fund, we understand, amounted to $53. Save a small portion, of course, this was expended for articles of some tangible value rather than for gew-gaws. Further, the committee made it a point to see that no one, properly entitled to a remembrance in this manner, should be overlooked, and, so far as yet appears, none such were overlooked. Old Santa's aids in the distribution were capable and energetic and did well. And, altogether, this was the pleasantest affair we have had these many Christmases.

PERSONAL MENTION.—Among the many "personals" which might be mentioned this week are the following, with the chances of our unintentionally omitting some of the well-known citizens who visited Independence during the week: Sheriff Gregg and family are domiciled at P. Reddy's beautiful place for the next term of office....Mr. S. D. Woodhull is at his old place in the assay office, just from San Francisco ...Phil. Cartier has returned from Calico....A. K. Briggs, J. H. Stoutenborough, Wils. Yandell, Johnny Williams and others from Bishop Creek were here ...N. T. Piper, from Fish Lake, also put in an appearance.... "Pap" Walker, Webb and Ed., and Billy Grant, from Olancha, were on hand....Wm. McDonald, J. H. Smith, Taylor Aistrop, R. Hessian, Jr., and Vernon Smith were from Big Pine.... John R. Hughes, J. R. Moffitt, and others whose names escape our memory, were slashing about this locality in the meanwhile.

MASONIC ELECTION.—On Christmas night, Inyo Lodge, No. 221, F. & A. M., duly installed into office for the ensuing Masonic year the following elected and appointed officers, Past Master John Henry Stoutenborough, Pacific Lodge, No. 136, being the installing officer: Alvah Russell Conklin, W. M.; Andrew Neel Bell, S. W.; Omie Isaac Mairs, J. W.; John Clemence Irwin, Treasurer; Pleasant Arthur Chalfant, Secretary; Stephen Gregg Gregg, Chaplain; John Washington Pierce Laird, S. D.; George Washington Brady, J. D.; James Edwin Parker, Marshal; Helaire Philibert Cartier and Webster Hilton Walker, Stewards; Thomas Parker, Tyler. The election of the five elective officers took place at the stated meeting December 23d.

THE P. P. P. BALL.—The attendance on this occasion was, perhaps, somewhat less than was generally anticipated; nevertheless the large Court-room was fairly crowded, there being at times no less than eight quadrille sets on the floor. All present seemed to be in the right spirits to make the most of it, and did so. An excellent supper was served at the Blaney House, and everything passed off in a manner to reflect credit on the management and the order they represented. The P. P. P. institution never does things half way, and their annual balls—this being the second in course—are designed to be the grandest of the year; and such was this of Wednesday evening—St. John's Day.

GONE EAST.—Col. Sherman Stevens left Lone Pine last Monday for the East. He goes to take charge of a gold mine in the State of Virginia. The mine is both quartz and placer, and in times past has turned out a great deal of money. We understand that a nephew of the Colonel is one of the principal owners, and he sent for him on account of his experience in placer mining in old California days, and also understanding quartz mining. He was, by the way, the first projector of the original smelting furnace in this county. May complete success attend him.

COUNTY SCRIP.—County Warrants call for cash at Harris & Rhine's bank nowadays at the increased rate of 90 cents on the dollar. Thus our county finances are slowly making up to a point where they should be—on a cash basis. If no great expenses are incurred on account of criminal matters, warrants will be worth par value in two years at the outside.

NEW YEAR BALL.—The Lone Piners are leading off in the matter of New Year festivities and observances, as will be noted by the advertisement. The weather being favorable the affair will be well attended from this place, as the Lone Pine entertainments are always unexceptionably successful.

HOMICIDE.

A. W. Robinson Killed by John Baxter.

Late Christmas revelers were rudely shocked by the arrival from Darwin of John Wilson, who had in custody John Baxter, an old and well-known resident of Independence. A profound sensation was created when it was learned that Baxter had on Christmas morning shot and instantly killed A. W. Robinson, an equally well-known old-timer.

Both were men of families and lived close neighbors, on adjoining farms on the north side of the town of Independence. Baxter enjoyed a good reputation as a law-abiding citizen, inoffensive to the last degree. Robinson was a man with many friends, and well liked for his generous traits, and except when under the influence of drink, was equally disposed to support law and order. Some six or eight months ago they had trouble about the water right, the result being the obtaining of a perpetual injunction against Robinson using any of the stream which supplied the two places. Robinson was much incensed at the time, but appeared to have accepted the situation. Probably the matter would ultimately have been amicably arranged; at least, nothing more was thought of it by outsiders.

On the evening before the fatal morning, Baxter entered the town of Darwin with a load of produce for sale. Before reaching the town he inquired if Robinson was there, doubtless with the intention of avoiding him, as it appears that he put up at a different place from usual, where he knew Robinson would not be.

Christmas morning Robinson mounted his horse with the avowed intention of coming home, as it was Christmas and that that was where he ought to be. But he got off several times to join in the drinks. When starting out at last, we have been informed, his hat blew off and he fired two or three shots at it, hitting it twice. His weapon was a new self-cocking Colt's revolver, of the largest size. We will conclude our account of the events which followed by giving in full

THE TESTIMONY:

H G. Kernodle, sworn: Am a practicing physician; made an examination upon the body of A. W. Robinson; I found upon his body one wound upon the left side about four inches below and a little to the back of the axillary, and the wound ranged upward and came out above the clavicle of the neck; the other wound entered at at the right side, under the right arm, ranged through the body and came out by the left scapula, in the shoulder; those were all the wounds that I discovered; either one of those wounds would prove fatal.

Recalled—I would not say positively whether the wounds went in from above and came out below, or whether they went in from below and came out above; but I would say from the looks of the wounds that they entered below and ranged upward; a man could have fired a shot after receiving one of the wounds.

John Wilson, sworn: I reside at Darwin, Inyo County, California; A. W. Robinson was killed on the 25th day of December, about 10:30 o'clock A. M; Robinson came to my house while I was at breakfast; came on horseback; he called to me, "Oh, Jack!" and called me out of the house; he said, "Where's Baxter?" or "Have you seen him?" I don't know exactly his words; I told him that Baxter was up at Gorman's, I thought, as his wagon was up there; I asked him, "What's the matter?" "Oh," says he, "I want to see him;" he turned his horse and rode up towards Gorman's; I went back to breakfast; the next thing I heard someone halloo for Gorman, three or four times, loud as he could; then I heard four shots, or more; four anyway, at least, in rapid succession; I turned around, looked up; was sitting with my back to the window; turned half way round and just as Robinson was pulling his horse like that (illustrating); saw him fall; I then ran immediately to where Robinson was lying; found him on his back, stretched flat out, apparently dead; his pistol was lying within 15 or 16 inches of his head, with his glove lying on top; this is the pistol I found there; three shots are gone from it; when Robinson came up to me he was sober as usual; he was drunk the night before; had no idea of his being much excited or that there was any trouble on hand; he made no threats of any kind that I heard; I saw Baxter close to my house; saw him first time at Conner's house, about 300 feet from Gorman's house, and then at Gorman's; when I heard the shots, and as I turned around, Baxter was just getting out of his seat in the wagon; I heard Baxter calling Gorman—recognized his voice; Baxter was at the places about an hour; when I reached Robinson there was no sign of life in his body; I saw no shots fired; Baxter acknowledged to me right there that he shot Robinson; he claimed that he did it in self-defense; it was less than a minute after I heard the shots when I got there; I saw Robinson strike the ground, and saw them both about the same time; Robinson's gloves were off; Baxter gave himself up to me; I came to Independence with him; I saw Baxter's pistol; there were three shots out of it; told me that one barrel would not work.

John Baxter, sworn: My team was standing at the back door of Gorman's house in the town of Darwin; I saw Robinson coming up to my wagon, on horseback; I was standing at my wagon, on the ground: I felt as if there was trouble afoot; I thought that Robinson meant business when I saw him coming towards my wagon; thought so from his appearance, and from what I saw hanging at the horn of his saddle; to avoid having trouble with Robinson I went up to Conner's house, a distance of about 30 yards; I stopped there about 15 minutes, to see if Robinson wouldn't leave my wagon; I was ashamed to stop there any longer, and knew that I had to face the man sometime or other; I started down to my wagon, and I said, "How do you do, Mr. Robinson;" Robinson said: "How do you do, you ——— ———; pull and defend yourself; I'm going to kill you or you'll kill me right here;" with that I sprang on to the seat of my wagon; he spurred his horse up to the wheel; I said: "For God Almighty's sake, Robinson, don't shoot;" he went to take hold of his revolver, and I said: "Don't you touch that revolver;" he answered: "You ——— ———, you insulted me in the water racket, and I will show you whether I will touch my revolver or not;" he drew his revolver on me, and while he was doing so I had time to halloo out to Mr. Gorman three times; then the firing commenced; he was the first man who drew his revolver; he had it in sight all the time; I could not say how many shots Robinson fired; he drew his revolver, when I commenced hallooing for Gorman; I could see nobody around me at all, and I wanted somebody for an eye-witness; nobody responded to my call; there was no one present; the first man I saw was Wilson; at the time I drew my revolver, Robinson had his drawn and was on an elevated piece of ground above me; he was on his horse; I hallooed for Gorman before I drew my revolver; I should naturally suppose that Robinson's death was the result of shots that I fired at him; when I was satisfied that he was going to kill me, I fired at him, and not before; I never heard any threats from him before the shooting; no threats had been communicated to me before, but I heard of several afterwards; when he came up to me his appearance was like a man who meant business and trouble; I did not seek him, but avoided him in every respect; this occurred on Christmas Day, about 11 o'clock A. M., at Darwin, Inyo Co., California; my wagon was headed toward toward the east, within about 15 feet of Gorman's back door; Robinson stood on the south side of my wagon; he was on his horse; his horse was standing with his rump toward my wagon; when I came from Conner's house he turned his horse with head towards me; Conner's house was in about an easterly direction; my wagon was partially between Robinson and myself at the time I came from Conner's house; at the time I first fired he was right at the fore wheel, his horse's head being right over the wheel; the horse was facing me when I fired the first shot; Robinson was facing me, too; at that time I saw a revolver in Robinson's hand; that is the weapon (identifying it); held it in front of him, someplace, in his hand; at the time he was on horseback and above me; the ground was very sideling; at the time I fired, Robinson's horse's head was right at the fore wheels of the wagon; I was sitting with my side towards him; Robinson's face was toward me; when I fired the first shot, Robinson's horse gave a jump, which brought Robinson's side to me; we were then standing sideways to each other; that is the time I fired the second shot; when I fired the third shot he was right at the head of my horses; I could not tell the position exactly that the man was in; Robinson fell righ at the head of my horses.

VERDICT OF THE CORONER'S JURY.

STATE OF CALIFORNIA, }
County of Inyo. }

In the matter of the inquisition upon the body of Alphens W. Robinson, before Thomas Parker, Acting Coroner, we, the undersigned, the jurors summoned to appear before said Thomas Parker, Acting Coroner, at Independence, County of Inyo, State of California, on the 26th day of December, A. D. 1882, to inquire into the cause of the death of said party, having been duly sworn according to law, and having made such inquisition, after inspecting the body and hearing the testimony adduced, upon our oaths each and all do say that we find that the deceased was named Alphens W. Robinson; was a native of Canada, and aged about 44 years; that he came to his death on the 25th day of December, A. D. 1882, at the town of Darwin, said County and State, by gunshot wounds at the hands of John Baxter; and we believe that it was done in self-defense.

(Signed) John Alexander, Foreman; F. Schabbell, L. Wood, William F. Matlack, Joseph Fernbach, Abraham Parker, H. P. Cartier, James Malone, A. Stecker.

The mortal remains of A. W. Robinson were buried at Camp Independence Cemetery on the 28th instant, attended by a large concourse. Hon. S. P. Moffat read, very impressively, the funeral services.

CARP.—On Christmas day Thos. E. Jones, the well-known rancher and fish-raiser of Round Valley, favored THE INDEPENDENT gang with a box-full of German carp—fellows of all sizes, ranging from big fat ones down to small frys and minnows. It was a splendid display, well illustrating what a little enterprise can accomplish. Beside that they were good.

FLOUR.—The best article of flour which, according to our knowledge, has ever yet been produced in this valley was a lot received from the Bishop Creek Mills. The complete new machinery which the proprietors—Messrs. Dugan & Blair—put in last season seems to be working to perfection.

WANTED.—To know the exact whereabouts of an old volume of Shakespeare's complete works, which belongs to this office. Also, a copy of Cowdery's law and form book. Borrowed books should be returned sometime or other.

NEW OFFICERS.—All the county officers-elect will be duly sworn in one week from next Monday, for the ensuing two-year term. There will be no changes of course, except in the offices of Sheriff and the Coroner.

LODGE DIRECTORY.—The directory of the Masonic lodge for the ensuing year will be found elsewhere, and will be kept standing as a matter of convenient reference.

BEVERIDGE.—John Welch and Chas. Houle started out to-day for a few month's work on the Mariposa mine—formerly the "Lapwing"—in Beveridge District.

THE TAX.—In round figures about $27,000 of county taxes were collected before the date of delinquency, leaving $8,000 yet to be paid in.

Holiday Sport at Bishop Creek.

BISHOP CREEK, December 29.

EDITOR INDEPENDENT: Our holiday sport commenced last Saturday with a grand shooting tournament, given by the O. R. V. Shooting Club, and in default ot the traditional pigeon, myriads of glass balls were demolished by our crack shots, in return for which were received turkeys of all ages and descriptions.

HORSE RACES.

On Christmas Day all adjourned to Horton's race track to witness the free-for-all, 600 yards and repeat race between P. Laird's "Steel Dust," Jim Ross' "Belle" and Mr. Nickerson's "Coalburner." The committee of arrangements had spared no time or trouble in selecting the various judges, and after a short delay at the start, the horses were tapped off, with "Steel Dust" a little in the rear. As the horses came down the home-stretch, "Coalburner" was in the lead, with "Belle" and "Steel Dust" running side by side, about a length in the rear. As they passed under the wire, "Coalburner" was in advance, with "Steel Dust" second and "Belle" third. The judges—Messrs. Olds, Harniss and Hollenback—gave their decision to that effect. After the usual allowance of time between heats the horses were again called up and tapped off, but through some misunderstanding, "Belle" did not pass the line, thus leaving the other two to contest for the heat. As they passed under the wire "Steel Dust" was about a length ahead, but a complaint was entered with the judges, accusing the rider of "Steel Dust" with foul riding, which charge was afterwards substantiated by the patrol judges. The heat was thereupon declared a foul one, and the horses called up to repeat it. Only "Belle" and "Coalburner" started, and the latter came in an easy winner of heat, race and money. But few pools were sold on the race, although considerable outside betting was indulged in.

The second day's programme commenced with a 600 yards and repeat race, for second-class horses, for which the following were named: "Nobbs," by J. M. Horton; "Blazer," by James Ross; "Jack," by Mr. Nickerson. When the horses were called for the first heat, "Nobbs" was decidedly the favorite in the pools, and as shown by the result, his backers knew what they were doing. He won the first heat, with "Blazer" and "Jack" a close second. The second heat was a repetition of the first, only "Blazer" was second and "Jack" last. To "Nobbs" was, therefore, given race and money.

To wind up the day's sport a saddle-race was run between Horton's "Gray Eagle," Brierly's "Jeff," and Young's "Champion"—400 yards and repeat—which was won by "Gray Eagle." Mr. Young's horse got the best of the rider on the first heat and ran for home about five miles, and did not get back to the track in time to run in the second heat. Thus ended the races.

BALLS.

As the ball on Christmas night was a success in every way, we have no reason to complain of our festivities. Another ball will be given on New Year's night, after which we propose to drop down to the toils and troubles of every-day life.

The Digestibility of Oysters.

Why oysters should be eaten raw is explained by Dr. William Roberts in his lecture on "Digestion." He says that the general practice of eating the oyster raw is evidence that the popular judgment upon matters of diet is usually trustworthy. The fawn-colored mass, which is the delicious portion of the fish, is its liver, and is simply a mass of glycogen. Associated with the glycogen, but withheld from actual contact with it during life, is its appropriate digestive ferment—hepatic diastase. The mere crushing of the oyster between the teeth brings these two bodies together, and the glycogen is at once digested without any other help than the diastase. The raw or merely warmed oyster is self-digestive. But the advantage of this provision is wholly lost by cooking, for the heat immediately destroys the associated ferment, and a cooked oyster has to be digested like any other food by the eater's own digestive powers.

"My dear sir, do you want to ruin your digestion?" asked Prof. Houghton of Trinity College one day of a friend who had ordered brandy and water with his oysters in a Dublin restaurant.

Then he sent for a glass of brandy and a glass of Guinness' XX and put an oyster in each. In a very short time there lay in the bottom of the glass of brandy a tough, leathery substance resembling the finger of a kid glove. while in the porter there was hardly a trace of the oyster to be found.

THERE was recently felled in Sonoma county, California, a tree which cut up as follows: The standing height of the tree was 347 feet, and its diameter near the ground was 14 feet. In falling, the top was broken off 200 feet distant from the stump, and up to the point of breaking the tree was perfectly sound. From the tree sawlogs were cut of the following lengths and diameters: 1st, 14 feet long, 9 feet diameter; 2d, 12 feet long, 8 feet diameter; 3d, 12 feet long, 7 feet 7 inches diameter; 4th, 14 feet long, 7 feet 6 inches diameter; 5th, 16 feet long, 7 feet diameter; 6th, 16 feet long, 6 feet 10 inches diameter; 7th, 16 feet long, 6 feet 6 inches diameter; 8th, 16 feet long, 6 feet 4 inches diameter; 9th, 16 feet long, 6 feet 3 inches diameter; 10th, 18 feet long, 6 feet diameter; 11th, 12 feet long, 5 feet 10 inches diameter; 12th, 18 feet long, 5 feet 6 inches diameter. It will thus be seen that 180 feet of this remarkable tree was converted into sawlogs.

IF the country is in a fair way to reduce the national taxation some $80,000,000 per annum, and can afford to pay more than $100,000,000 annually for pensions, it certainly ought to be able to stand without a strain the reduction of the rate of letter postage to two cents. And yet in some quarters the movement is regarded as one of rather doubtful expediency. There is every reason to believe that the revenue would rise with elasticity under the increased use of the letter mails.

SOMETHING over a year ago Hon. Joseph Wasson went to Sinaloa, Mexico, in connection with a mining enterprise, afterwards visiting New York, where he sold the property, subject to a lawsuit. By the steamer Granada, on Monday, he got news that the Supreme Court of Sinaloa had decided the suit his way, and that the military had gone to put his party in final possession.—S. F. Stock Report.
